

OTH 711: TEACHING AND LEARNING I

This course provides an overview of current perspectives on teaching and learning with an emphasis on constructing a foundation for successful lifelong learning. The course emphasizes the importance of reflection in the learning process. Additionally, students begin to consider the role of the clinician as educator.

Credits: 1

Department: Occupational Therapy