

PTH 702: ANATOMY AND PHYSIOLOGY OF ORGAN SYSTEMS

This course provides in-depth study of human organ systems through lecture and lab activities. The goal of this course is to prepare students to discuss how organ systems interact with each other to maintain homeostasis by studying the structure and function of the body's systems at the molecular, cellular, tissue, and organ levels.

Credits: 2

Department: Physical Therapy