

PTH 804: FOUND OF MOTOR CONTROL & LEARNING

This course provides students with didactic information about the theoretical and physiological principles that govern motor control and motor learning and motor relearning. Factors that influence postural control throughout the lifespan are addressed. Particular emphasis is placed upon intervention and feedback variables that impact the learning process and guide the examination, evaluation, and treatment of individuals with neurologic dysfunction.

Credits: 2

Department: Physical Therapy