

BIOL 257: BOTANY

Lecture and lab. A study of how different groups of plants have solved common environmental challenges including support, transport, defenses, reproductive strategies, and modes of speciation. Laboratory work includes plant physiology experiments, preserved material, and field identification of local species and families.

Credits: 4

Prerequisites:

BIOL 112. Alternate years. Lab fee.

Department: Biology