REN 552: TECHNOLOGY AND DISTANCE LEARNING

This course addresses the possibilities of distance teaching. The course will be designed to put technology at the service of future teachers, who will learn how to construct projects and curricula in Shakespeare that engage a student in the computer, and how best to work video versions of the plays and the period into a lesson plan.

Credits: 1
Department: Shakespeare and Performance