

CJ 235: LAW ENFORCEMENT AND THE COMMUNITY

This course on Community Policing focuses on problem solving and the strategies and skills necessary to build community/police partnerships. Students will examine traditional policing techniques and lessons learned through trial and error and will address the pitfalls encountered, and the citizens' concerns and criticisms of Community Policing. The class will explore how these obstacles are resolved and discuss untried methods to gain community commitment.

Credits: 3

Department: Criminal Justice