CJ 270: INTRODUCTION TO TERRORISM

This course provides students with a foundational understanding of Terrorism in the context of armed conflict and develops the ability to define terrorist acts and categorize organizations by their organizational properties. By defining terrorist acts and classifying terrorist organizations, students will be more prepared to investigate such organizations and acts as members of the criminal justice system.

Credits: 3
Department: Criminal Justice