

NUR 869: REGIONAL ANESTHESIA & PAIN MGMT

In this course the students will examine the fundamental concepts of acute and chronic pain management. The anatomy, technique, physiologic alterations, and complications of local and regional anesthetics will be examined to include spinal, epidural, peripheral, airway and other nerve blocks.

Credits: 2

Prerequisites:

NUR 700 Advanced Physiology and Pathophysiology I; NUR 705 Advanced Physiology and Pathophysiology II; NUR 874 Pharmacology in Anesthesiology Practice I; NUR 875 Pharmacology in Anesthesiology Practice II; NUR 867 Chemistry and Physics for Nurse Anesthesiology; NUR 886 Basic Principles of Nurse Anesthesiology

Department: Nursing