

NUR 875: ADVANCED PHARMACOLOGY IN ANESTHESIOLOGY PRACTICE II

In this course students will examine the pharmacokinetics, pharmacodynamics, corresponding physiology, and anesthetic considerations of drugs that are administered or encountered during perioperative care. Drugs used in the promotion and maintenance of health in physiologic systems and their effects on anesthetic delivery will be examined.

Credits: 4

Prerequisites:

NUR 704 Advanced Pharmacology and Therapeutics, NUR 874 Pharmacology in Anesthesiology Practice I

Department: Nursing