

ECON 150: EXPERIMENTAL ECONOMICS (S)

Through highly interactive games and experiments, students participate in market decision-making, bargaining, and auctions, analyze experimental results, and determine whether models predict actual behavior. Students learn models of supply and demand, market structure, public goods, and basic techniques of game theory.

Credits: 3

Department: Economics