

HSCI 150: INTRO TO HEALTH PROFESSIONS

Intended primarily for first-year students, this course provides students planning a career in health care or in a health-related field information necessary for identification of career direction as well as an overview of the various health professions and an introduction to the concepts of professionalism, cultural competence, interdisciplinary health care teams, and health care policies.

Credits: 2

Department: Health Sciences