

PSYC 245: INDUSTRIAL & ORGANIZATIONAL PSY (S)

Students survey topics related to industrial and organizational psychology, including motivation, job satisfaction and values, groups in organizations, decision-making, leadership, job analysis and evaluation, and models and methods of employee selection. The requirements cover theory and conceptual information as well as practical applications

Credits: 3

Department: Psychology