

REL 130: ENCOUNTERING RELIGIOUS DIVERSITY (CO)

Focuses on Pluralism as an ethic for encountering religious diversity. Students examine the interactions between American culture and religion. Through reading, discussion, and excursions, they gain an appreciation for America's interfaith infrastructure and develop a professional skillset for interfaith cooperation.

Credits: 3

Department: Philosophy and Religious Studies