OUR COMMITMENT TO INCLUSIVE COMMUNITY

We, the community of Mary Baldwin College, strive to celebrate humanity in all its wondrous and complex variation. Because we value diversity, it is our mission to sustain a community where all may flourish. We are safe to embrace our shared experiences and our differences. To this end, we treat all with respect and compassion.

THE HONOR CODE

Mary Baldwin College’s Honor System is based on three principles: integrity of one’s word, respect for the property of others, and honesty in academic work. These standards are an integral part of life at Mary Baldwin; in becoming part of the Mary Baldwin community, each student and faculty member willingly assumes an obligation and a responsibility to uphold them.

The Honor Pledge: Believing in the principles of student government, I pledge myself to uphold the ideals and regulations of the Mary Baldwin College community. I recognize the principles of honor and cooperation as the basis of our life together. I shall endeavor faithfully to order my life accordingly. I will not lie, cheat, steal, plagiarize, or violate my pledge of confidentiality. I will encourage others to fulfill the ideals of the honor system and will meet my responsibility to the community by reporting incidents of honor offenses.
“Boldly Baldwin” has become more than a passing phrase at Mary Baldwin College; it is a lifestyle. Being bold means empowering each other with the confidence to lead, the compassion to serve, and the courage to change the world. It is the innovative spirit that creates new majors, minors, and courses and each year enlivens those classes that have a long history at MBC. It is the desire to look through these pages to find studies that ignite your passion and bring out your best possible self.

Coursework, campus events, and activities are guided by this year’s college-wide theme, Wisdom, which relates to two lines in the college’s alma mater, A Hymn for Mary Baldwin. Beginning with the phrase “To these halls where Wisdom reckons,” and, later, reflecting that learning is a journey that includes “knowledge first, then wisdom after,” the song reminds us that education is even more powerful when reflected through experience and translated into action.

For 169 years this college has demonstrated the courage and will to innovate as the world changes around it and the wisdom to stay true to its mission of enriching lives through the transforming power of personalized liberal education. The 2011–12 academic year offers many opportunities to explore new subjects and to deepen your understanding in areas that truly enrich your mind, body, and spirit.

May our paths cross frequently this year. Know that I hold in my heart all best wishes for your happiness and success as you undertake this part of your lifelong pursuit of wisdom.

Dr. Pamela Fox
President
GENERAL INFORMATION

Boldly Baldwin
For nearly 170 years, Mary Baldwin College (MBC) has enriched women’s lives through the transforming power of personalized, liberal education. Mary Baldwin has demonstrated since its founding in 1842 the courage and the will to innovate as the world changes around it, and the wisdom to stay true to its mission as a college devoted to empowering women at all stages of life.

The enduring strengths of a Mary Baldwin education add up to excellence for every student, every day. These strengths are demonstrated through rigorous academic programs, an inviting co-curriculum, dedicated faculty who engage one-on-one with students, an inclusive and welcoming community, and commitment to civic engagement and global citizenship. Like the college itself, its graduates are confident, compassionate changemakers.

The Residential College for Women serves approximately 800 students on the college’s historic campus in downtown Staunton, Virginia. The Residential College includes two unique programs: the Program for the Exceptionally Gifted, for very young women of exceptional ability, and the Virginia Women’s Institute for Leadership. The co-educational Adult Degree Program extends undergraduate study to regional centers across the state. The college is a top-ranked co-educational master’s level university and is among the top producers of outstanding classroom teachers in the Commonwealth of Virginia. Mary Baldwin’s unique graduate program in Shakespeare and Performance, offered in partnership with the American Shakespeare Center, draws students and visiting faculty from all over the world.

Mary Baldwin College is governed by a self-perpetuating board of trustees. It holds membership in the United Chapters of Phi Beta Kappa through the Lambda of Virginia Chapter. The college is the first women’s college in the nation to be granted a circle of Omicron Delta Kappa, a society honoring leadership, service and scholarship. Other national honorary societies at MBC include Alpha Kappa Delta (sociology), Alpha Lambda Delta (freshmen), Alpha Sigma Lambda (adult students), Beta Beta Beta (biology), Iota Sigma Pi (chemistry), Kappa Delta Pi (education), Lambda Pi Eta (communication), Omicron Delta Epsilon (economics), Phi Alpha Theta (history), Psi Chi (psychology), Sigma Beta Delta (business, management, and administration), Sigma Pi Sigma (physics), and Sigma Tau Delta (English).

In addition to its educational programs, the college takes pride in its honor system, its exceptionally diverse student body, and its small classes. The honor system reinforces commitment to integrity and ethical behavior and makes possible a student-governed community. New undergraduates pledge their honor at the annual Charter Day, when the Student Government Association’s charter is passed from the Board of Trustees to the college president and on to the student president of the SGA. Adult and graduate students make their pledges at orientation. A student-faculty ratio of 10.6:1 and average class size of 17 not only ensures that students get the most out of college, but also that they learn to participate effectively in the group settings that prevail in contemporary business. MBC’s student body is exceptionally diverse, with students from across the U.S. and around the globe, who range from age 13 to over 80 years. More than 40% of students in the Residential College for Women are members of ethnic minorities. Evidence of MBC’s commitment to a diverse community is the pledge of inclusive community renewed every year by new and returning students, faculty, and administration.

Mission
The mission of Mary Baldwin College is to provide undergraduate and graduate education consistent with the institution’s rich heritage as a private liberal arts college primarily for women, which affirms its Christian roots while welcoming a broad diversity of views. This mission is implemented in the residential programs for women and the nonresidential programs for men and women over 21 through focus on teaching and learning; concern for the individual; commitment to the liberal arts as preparation for life, for careers, for graduate and professional studies, and for leadership; and emphasis on high ethical standards.

Curriculum and College Learning Outcomes
The curriculum at Mary Baldwin College expresses the College’s commitment to providing a personalized, transforming liberal-arts education as the foundation for life-long learning, global citizenship, and the holistic integration of mind, body, and character.

The faculty of Mary Baldwin College believes that an education grounded in the liberal arts and sciences develops an informed and critical awareness of an open-ended dialogue spanning both centuries and civilizations in the pursuit of knowledge; provides the background necessary for enduring intellectual engagement and creative expression; prepares students for responsible citizenship — both in their own society and among other peoples around the world; liberates students from prejudice, intolerance, and ignorance; and at its very best informs the heart, enlightens the conscience, and disciplines the intellect.

Mary Baldwin College is committed to providing an education that enables all graduates to demonstrate achievement of the following three College Learning Outcomes.

College Learning Outcome One
Demonstrate an understanding of the liberal arts and sciences through:
- Knowledge of the methods and theoretical approaches of the
  - Humanities
  - Arts
  - Social sciences
  - Natural sciences
- Recognition of themes of enduring importance to humanity

Statement of Rationale for Learning Outcome One
A liberal arts education provides students with the knowledge, context, and critical thinking abilities necessary for personal fulfillment and professional success in the twenty-first century. Students learn to weigh evidence, assess multiple perspectives and interpretations, and approach new ideas analytically. Students learn how different disciplines address common issues and they become better equipped for participation in civic life. Liberal arts and sciences coursework consists of both a broad sampling of different disciplines and opportunities for cross-disciplinary exploration of important questions, problems, and challenges.

College Learning Outcome Two
Demonstrate an understanding of the self in relationship to the broader community through:
- Engagement with diverse cultures in a global context
- Recognition of the importance of race and ethnicity in the United States
- Recognition of the role of gender in shaping identity and culture
- Community involvement
- Knowledge and practice of physical fitness and health

Statement of Rationale for College Learning Outcome Two
A strong sense of identity and self-efficacy combined with an understanding of others serve as a prelude for positive contribution to society as well as ethical and effective leadership. College coursework and co-curricular activities provide students with opportunities to engage with human diversity. Areas of diversity include but are not limited to: gender, race and ethnicity, socio-economic status, religion, education, sexual orientation, and cultural and linguistic heritage. Students learn to encounter the diversity of human experience with respect and open-mindedness, while also gaining the ability to express themselves and their own values and beliefs creatively and with civility and clarity.

College Learning Outcome Three
Demonstrate the capacity to make a positive impact on the world by:
- Acquiring effective skills in
  - Written communication
  - Oral communication
  - Quantitative reasoning
  - Research and information literacy
- Addressing authentic issues and problems by applying theory, using evidence, and considering ethical implications

Statement of Rationale for College Learning Outcome Three
Mary Baldwin College enables graduates to be “confident, compassionate changemakers” through the power of communication, investigation, and rational thought. Graduates use words and numbers fluently and accurately to communicate. They are able to access information and evaluate the credibility of sources. They construct solutions to challenges through the application of rational methods of analysis and give judicious consideration to the ethical dimensions of their actions.

Schools of Excellence
The academic program at Mary Baldwin College is organized into four Schools of Excellence. The Schools of Excellence create synergy between and among the disciplines comprising each school. The school structure affirms the college’s long-term commitment to the liberal arts, collaborative research, women’s education, diversity, international connectivity, and civic engagement. The Schools of Excellence add not only depth of knowledge and intellectual growth within majors and minors, but also experiential elements blending classroom work and real-world practice that prepare students for success in life and in their careers. Each school includes undergraduate and graduate programs, residential and non-residential students. Each faculty member has a primary association with a school, but the schools are “permeable hubs” that encourage both disciplinary and interdisciplinary collaboration on the part of faculty and students.
Elements of Schools

- Undergraduate majors and minors
- Graduate and/or post-baccalaureate programs
- Non-degree certificate programs (where appropriate)
- Experiential components blending theory with practice
- Civic engagement in a global context, with one Spencer Center Fellow representing each school
- One or more regional or national programmatic partners (e.g. the American Shakespeare Center for the School of Arts, Humanities and Renaissance Studies and local schools and hospitals for the School of Education, Health and Social Work)
- One or more partnerships with national and international organizations
- Changemaker jobs and internships
- Career planning services
- Partnerships with alumnae/i and other volunteer leaders

Chairs of the Schools of Excellence

School of Arts, Humanities, and Renaissance Studies – Dr. Martha Walker (French)
School of Education, Health, and Social Work – Dr. Lowell Lemons (Education)
School of Science – Dr. Paul Deble (Biology)
School of Social Sciences, Business, and International Studies – Dr. Daniel Stuhlsatz (Sociology)

School of Arts, Humanities and Renaissance Studies

The graduate program in Shakespeare and Performance, affiliated with the American Shakespeare Center, is one of MBC’s signature programs in this school, which also is home to history; art history; studio art; English; and French and Spanish language, culture, and literature. Within this school, students have the opportunity to work side-by-side with acclaimed artists; study Shakespeare’s plays with literary experts and see them performed professionally at the Blackfriars Playhouse; explore the dynamic history of the region and conduct research at the neighboring Woodrow Wilson Presidential Library; learn languages and take advantage of the many academic opportunities abroad such as theatre in London or Paris, community mural painting in El Salvador, or Renaissance art in Italy.

Virginia Program at Oxford

School of Education, Health and Social Work

Programs in this school build professional competence upon a liberal arts foundation and include MBC’s excellent pre-professional programs in education, which annually prepares a greater number of new certified new teachers than the total number of students graduating in any individual major at the college; Health Care Administration (HCA), one of only two fully-certified HCA programs in Virginia; and Social Work, established in 2008. Students in the School of Education, Health, and Social Work join a community of people who are committed to leading change. They learn how knowledge informs practice through intensive experience in the field — student teaching, health care administration internships, or social work practicum – and take advantage of MBC’s longstanding partnerships with service organizations, schools, and agencies.

Undergraduate majors and minors:
Clinical Laboratory Science
Coaching and Exercise Management Education
Health Care Administration
Public Health
Social Work
Special Education

Non-degree certificates:
Health Care Management
Long-Term Care Administration
Post-Baccalaureate Teacher Licensure

Graduate programs:
Master of Arts in Teaching
Master of Education

Five-year program:
BA/MAT: combines BA with Master of Arts in Teaching

Endowed program:
Carpenter Health Care Administration Program

Partnerships and affiliations:
Augusta Medical Center
Staunton City Schools
Augusta County Schools

Accreditations/certifications:
Teacher Education Accreditation Council (TEAC)
Virginia Department of Education
Association of University Programs in Health Administration Council on Social Work Education (CSWE) (in candidacy)

School of Science
This school maintains the long-term association between disciplines with a common emphasis on quantitative and experimental inquiry, such as biology, chemistry, and physics. Students are also prepared well for post-graduate study. Psychology shares this orientation toward research and preparation for graduate study, and plays a significant role as the college’s second largest major. Students in the School of Science work on research projects in collaboration with faculty members. The Shenandoah Valley and the Blue Ridge Mountains provide the laboratory for environmental science exploration. Students produce original research, and present it on campus and at professional conferences.

Undergraduate majors and minors:
Applied Mathematics
Biology Chemistry
Computer Science/Mathematics
Environmental Policy Analysis
Mathematics

Physics
Psychology

Partnerships and affiliations:
Washington & Lee University (physics)
University of Virginia (engineering and computer science)
Vanderbilt University (master’s degree — nursing)

School of Social Sciences, Business, and Global Studies
This school brings together programs in business, economics, political science, sociology, and international relations to accentuate the college’s commitment to educating students for leadership and civic engagement in a global context. Students in the School of Social Sciences, Business, and Global Studies have the opportunity to consider human societies from multiple perspectives; participate in an exchange program in Japan, Korea, or India; examine the distribution of resources, diversity of cultures, and stewardship of the environment; learn how to manage conflict and promote peace; and prepare to be leaders in the complex 21st-century world.

Degrees Offered by Mary Baldwin College
Bachelor of Arts in 46 majors, 47 minors, and Independent (interdisciplinary) majors
Bachelor of Science in eight majors
Bachelor of Social Work
Master of Arts in Teaching
Master of Education in four emphases
Master of Letters in Shakespeare and Performance
Bachelor of Fine Arts in Shakespeare and Performance
Certificates in seven concentrations

Certificate Programs
Mary Baldwin College adult education certificate programs prepare and educate students in several relevant and in-demand fields. Coursework can be completed through online classes, at MBC regional centers, on campus in Staunton, or by independent tutorial. Certificates are 21 to 24 credit hours of coursework, which can be completed in one academic year.

Cooperative Programs
Mary Baldwin College and University of Virginia Dual Degree Program in Engineering or Computer Science
Mary Baldwin College students may elect to participate in a dual degree program in the various branches of engineering or in computer science, offered by the School of Engineering and Applied Science at the University of Virginia. Under this program, qualified students attend Mary Baldwin for three years and then, based on their academic performance, are accepted into the University of Virginia for two or more years of study, leading to a bachelor’s degree in applied mathematics from MBC and a master’s degree in engineering or computer science from UVA. Students who are interested in exploring this option should contact the coordinator, Dr. John Ong, associate professor of mathematics, during their first semester at Mary Baldwin. To enroll, they must maintain an overall (as well as a math and science) GPA of B+ at the college, and must complete the calculus and physics sequences during their freshman year. Students who are accepted into the program generally have a 1700 SAT or 25 ACT score.

Vanderbilt University — Nursing
Students may complete three years at Mary Baldwin and transfer to Vanderbilt University in Tennessee for two additional years of study, at the end of which they will receive the bachelor’s degree in their field from Mary Baldwin and the Master of Science in nursing degree from Vanderbilt.

The MSN degree opens many opportunities for students in specialty medical fields and is an attractive option for students who wish to be involved in the various emerging aspects of professional medical practice that are not based in the traditional medical degree or in custodial hospital care. Students considering this program should consult with Dr. Paul Deeble, assistant professor of biology.

Washington and Lee University — Physics
Students may receive their bachelor’s degree in physics by designing a major drawn from the appropriate courses at both Mary Baldwin and our consortium partner, Washington and Lee University in Lexington, Virginia.

Consortium Exchange
Mary Baldwin and six other private colleges in Virginia (Hampden-Sydney, Hollins, Randolph-Macon, Randolph-Macon Woman’s College, Sweet Briar, and Washington and Lee University) have joined in a consortium exchange through which students in the Residential College for Women may attend another of the participating colleges for a year or part of a year while remaining on the MBC roll. Application should be made to the exchange officer in the registrar’s office. Priority is given to juniors. Mary Baldwin students must maintain a cumulative GPA of 3.3 to participate.
Pre-Professional Programs

Pre-Law
Gordon Bowen, Robert Klonoski, Sarah Ludwig, Steven Mosher, Laura van Assendelft, advisors

Mary Baldwin College is committed to ensuring that students are prepared for the rigors of law school and have the skills needed to conduct a successful professional career.

MBC Pre-Law advisors suggest that students gain first-hand experience in one or more legal environments—though summer jobs and internships at private firms, a circuit court clerk office, or in a juvenile and domestic relations court. They also recommend talking with and shadowing knowledgeable attorneys to get a feel for the job. Many students benefit from full-time employment as a paralegal after completing their bachelor’s degree, this way they can ensure it’s what they really want to pursue before undertaking the large expense of going to law school.

According to the Association of American Law Schools, there is no specific pre-law major or curriculum. MBC recommends a strong liberal arts foundation, with an emphasis on courses and majors that require writing essays that are evaluated on the basis of reasoning and supporting evidence, as the best undergraduate preparation. Students should also consider taking courses that will help them develop their ability to work with and motivate others, two very important qualities in an attorney. Suggested courses include those with an emphasis in psychology, social processes, business, accounting, writing, research, communication, and public speaking.

For more detailed information and recommended courses, visit the Pre-Law page at www.mbc.edu/studies/prelaw.

Pre-Med and Allied Health
Paul Deeble, advisor

Medical schools have varying admission requirements, but most are more concerned that applicants have a strong liberal-arts background and have demonstrated an ability to excel, than with the major itself. Most medical schools want entrants to have two years each of biology and chemistry and one year each of physics, mathematics, and English.

Achievement on the entrance examination—Graduate Record Examination (GRE) or Medical College Admission Test (MCAT)—is a nearly universal requirement of medical schools. The MCAT covers four major areas: verbal reasoning, biological sciences, physical sciences (physics and chemistry), and a writing sample. A substantial program of courses in science is necessary to perform well on the MCAT, and, therefore, the majority of medical students major in biology, biochemistry, or chemistry. Students who choose to major in biology may further designate an emphasis in biomedical science designed to provide broad-based scientific knowledge and skills in that area from classroom and laboratory experiences while fulfilling prerequisites for admission to medical school. Students usually take the MCAT in the spring of their junior year and apply for admission the following summer/fall. Unusually able students may apply for early decision in the summer.

No college can guarantee admission to medical school; however, at Mary Baldwin we have found that capable students who successfully complete the pre-med courses and apply themselves can gain admission to a good medical school. We recommend that pre-med students participate in an internship in a hospital setting early in their careers at MBC, as a valuable addition to their academic records and to evaluate their interest in the medical profession.

A Mary Baldwin student who has been accepted into a school of medicine, dentistry, or veterinary medicine after the junior year may apply to the dean of the college to receive a Mary Baldwin degree following the first year of professional school, thereby waiving the senior year at Mary Baldwin. To get the pre-professional bachelor’s degree, the student must have completed 99 semester hours (66 at MBC), completed the general education and major requirements for the major, and fulfilled the sophomore and junior residency requirements. In addition, she must submit a transcript after one year at the professional school showing at least 33 semester hours of credit with no grade below a “C.”

For more detailed information and recommended courses, visit the Pre-Medical and Allied Health Fields page at www.mbc.edu/studies/premed.

Study Abroad

Any student can go on the short-term trips organized and led by full-time Mary Baldwin faculty during May Term. Or, students can study or volunteer abroad for a summer, semester, or year, either at one of Mary Baldwin’s partner colleges or through other institutions.

Mary Baldwin College has a longstanding partnership with several colleges in England, India, Japan, Peru, and South Korea. For more information about these programs, see the descriptions listed below.

To find out more about study and service abroad opportunities at Mary Baldwin College, visit the Spencer Center for Civic and Global Engagement, contact the director of international programs at globalengagement@mbc.edu, or visit the study abroad page at www.mbc.edu/spencer_center/study_abroad.
England

Oxford University (summer): The Virginia Program at Oxford is a six-week summer session at St. Anne’s College of the University of Oxford. Six Virginia colleges, including Mary Baldwin, combine to offer a select group of students the opportunity to study the literature, history, and society of late 16th and early 17th century England. Lectures and tutorials are conducted by British faculty. Students may earn six semester hours of English and history credit. Students from all majors at Mary Baldwin may apply to the program. For more information and application, contact Dr. Mary Hill Cole.

India

Lady Doak College: Spend a semester or year in Madurai, India at Lady Doak College, the first women’s college in Madurai. Since it was established in 1948 by American missionary Katie Wilcox, the college has grown from 81 students to over 3,000. Offering undergraduate courses in 21 disciplines, Lady Doak is committed to the empowerment and academic development of women.

Japan

Applicants for the programs in Japan must have at least a “B” average and should contact Dr. Daniel Métraux, professor of Asian Studies, to apply. Acceptance at the following institutions is automatic upon the recommendation of Mary Baldwin College.

Doshisha Women’s College of Liberal Arts: Spend a semester or year at Doshisha Women’s College of Liberal Arts in Kyoto, which has been a “sister school” to Mary Baldwin for more than 20 years. The college is located across the street from the legendary Emperor’s Palace in one of Japan’s most beautiful and historic cities. While attending Doshisha, students immerse themselves in Japanese language and culture as they live with the family of a current student or graduate of the college. The Doshisha program in Japanese Studies features an intensive language and cultural studies program. Students can also arrange independent studies and internships to further their experience.

Tokyo Jogakkan: Spend a semester or year at Tokyo Jogakkan a small (480 students), four-year women’s college located in Machida, a rapidly growing suburb of Tokyo, on the banks of the Sakai River. Classes are taught by international faculty in English and Japanese and are limited to 20 students.

Perú

University of Virginia Program in Perú: Students do not need to speak Spanish to study in Perú for a summer, semester, or full academic year at the Universidad Católica in Lima. Courses in anthropology, history, literature, philosophy, and sociology are taught in English. Students can also take courses taught in Spanish with Peruvian students in arts and sciences, law, education, engineering, or any of the disciplines taught at Católica. All courses are taught by regular members of the University of Virginia or Universidad Católica faculty. Participants visit museums, archaeological sites, sites of interest in and around Lima, and attend plays. Students stay with families in safe neighborhoods. The University of Virginia operates this program in partnership with Mary Baldwin College, and it is directed by MBC faculty member Ivy Arbulú, a native of Perú and graduate of the Universidad Católica. For more information or to apply, contact Dr. Arbulú.

South Korea

Sungshin Women’s University: Spend a semester or year at Sungshin Women’s University, in Seoul, South Korea. Founded in 1936 by Dr. Lee Sook-chong, Sungshin University currently enrolls around 13,000 students. Staying true to its educational motto “Embrace sincerity and faith; Strive for new knowledge; Act independently,” the university strives to foster an active, independent, practical spirit willing to serve society and humanity.

ADMISSIONS AND THE FIRST-YEAR EXPERIENCE

Admissions

Mary Baldwin offers many undergraduate programs, through the Residential College for Women (RCW) including the Virginia Women’s Institute for Leadership, the Program for Exceptionally Gifted, as well as other Leadership Gateways. Mary Baldwin also has undergraduate programs designed specifically for adults and two graduate programs.

If you are applying for an undergraduate program, you can apply for admission after your junior year in high school, for admission to the fall or spring semesters, or as a transfer student. You may enter with advanced placement, dual enrollment credit, or credit for advanced work by the International Baccalaureate or by tests of the College Entrance Examination Board. You may attend full-time or, if you live in the area, part-time. As an especially gifted student, you may enter well before completing high school. If you are 21 years or older, or have earned an associate’s degree, you may enter the Adult Degree Program, with its special provisions for adult learners who have many demands on their schedules and energies. Please see the Mary Baldwin College website or the Contact Information at the beginning of this Catalog for more information on admission to each MBC program.

First-Year Admissions

Admission to Mary Baldwin is based on a student’s academic potential; achievement in secondary school, when applicable; strength and maturity of character; and any special talents and abilities. In judging academic ability, the secondary school record, when applicable, is the primary factor considered.

Candidates for admission should have completed at least 16 college preparatory courses. The college recommends that candidates include four or five academic subjects in their course loads each year in meeting the following recommended school program: English, four units; foreign language, two units; mathematics, three units; history and social studies, three units; and lab science, one unit.

Scores considered in the admissions process are those on the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT), the American College Test (ACT), or the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL).

All students who enroll at Mary Baldwin College agree to abide by the rules, regulations, and standards set and established by the college. The college in turn will offer a bachelor of arts, bachelor of science, bachelor of social work, master of letters or master of fine arts in Shakespeare and performance, or a master of education or master of arts in teaching to those who meet the established standards, and will attempt during a student’s tenure to lend advice and support as solicited and/or needed.

The Declarations section of this catalog states Mary Baldwin’s policies on nondiscrimination, student privacy rights, and other important provisions.

Personal Interviews

A personal interview on campus with an admissions counselor is suggested for students seeking admission. Appointments for an interview and tour of the campus should be made in advance. Refer to the college calendar in this catalog for the dates when the college is in session. The Office of Admissions is open Monday through Friday all year, except for short periods during the Independence Day, Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays. During academic sessions, the Admissions Office is open on Saturday mornings. During the summer months, it is not open on Saturday. Visit the website (www.mbc.edu) or call (1-800-468-2262 or 540-887-7019) to schedule an appointment.

Transfer Students

Mary Baldwin will consider students for admission to the freshman, sophomore, or junior class by way of transfer from colleges and universities accredited by regional accrediting agencies or the American Association for Liberal Education. A transfer application must include transcripts of all college work taken and a transcript from the secondary school.

Applications for the fall semester should be filed with the Office of Admissions during the prior winter or spring, and notification will be made when the file of credentials is complete. For entrance in the spring semester, applications should arrive before December 1. An evaluation of credits will be made after the final transcript arrives from the institution from which the student is transferring. A non-refundable advance deposit of $300 must be received by December 30 for students entering in January.

In evaluating transfer applications, emphasis is placed on the previous college record. As a general guideline, transfer students should have an average of 2.0 or better in their college work in order to be approved for transfer to Mary Baldwin. Only courses with grades of “C-” or higher, or “passing” grades in acceptable internships, will be accepted for transfer credit, and each course will be considered separately.

Transfer students coming into the Residential College for Women must earn a minimum of 63 semester hours at Mary Baldwin and spend two years in full-time attendance. For more information, see Academic Policies; Academic Requirements for the Bachelor’s Degree.
Part-Time Degree-Seeking Students

Students who live close to the college and wish to complete their bachelor’s degree requirements by class attendance on the Mary Baldwin College campus may do so on a part-time basis. They are subject to the same admissions requirements as other entering students.

Leadership Gateways and the First-Year Experience

All new students have the benefit of membership in a gateway program offering support, direction, and connection. The Adult Degree Program functions as a Gateway for non-traditional students. International students also have their own Gateway which includes intentional cultural, academic, and social immersion. Residential College for Women students may choose one of eight Leadership Gateways.

For first-year students, Gateways are a critical component of MBC’s unique first-year experience. Our first-year curriculum includes an orientation to college course and specially designed first-year courses which assist in the transition to college. Throughout the first year, students work closely with an advising team made up of faculty, staff, and peer advisors. Each team is tied to a Leadership Gateway which integrates co-curricular interests and activities into the academic curriculum. The purposes of the first-year experience are to inspire in students an interest in and enthusiasm for active learning, and to provide support in building successful studentship. Additional supports are available through our Learning Skills Center with peer-led tutoring and mentoring resources, and through residential programming.

First-Year Students in the Residential College for Women enter through the following Gateways with individualized orientation programs which introduce them to the college and local communities, their advising teams, and their peers. These Gateways provide students with a learning community based upon co-curricular interests. Gateway Orientation is followed by an Academic Orientation and a full Weekend of Welcome for all students.

National data and MBC’s experience demonstrate that pursuits and global perspectives, this gateway offers a challenging and engaging path to achievement through a rich array of classes; experiential learning; and connections on campus, in the local community, and beyond our borders.

Career Academy Gateway

Director, Julie Chappell, director of career development services

MBC’s innovative liberal arts education for the 21st century is the perfect preparation for satisfying careers in almost every field imaginable. This gateway helps students focus on their talents, interests, and abilities; find the right major; and translate their education into a lifetime of work that is inspiring.

Students in this gateway will participate in a variety of extra-curricular activities and opportunities related to personal and career development, including the Successful Women Series and Picture-It Photo journaling project. After the first year, students may serve as peer mentors and many choose to continue in the program until graduation.

- MBC 101: Orientation to College and the Career Academy
- Interdisciplinary 177: Taking the Liberal Arts to Work
- One of the following courses is recommended: Interdisciplinary 118: Managing Life’s Challenges; Philosophy 140: Community and Service Learning; or Sociology 282: Community Service and Society

Healthy Lifestyles Gateway

Director, Mary VanNortwick, assistant director of dining services and MBC resident dietitian

This gateway is designed for young women who want practice and promote healthy and active lifestyles as the foundation of their college life and studies. Gateway experiences are designed to provide exposure to all facets of the wellness spectrum.

Students will have the opportunity to help plan community-based activities such as the Girls and Women’s Health Fair and Wellness Walk, in conjunction with Women’s Health Virginia; volunteer with the Women’s Health Initiative; and work with Physical Education, Dining Services, the Health Center, and other campus life offices to help learn and promote healthy lifestyle practices. Each student also completes a personalized fitness and wellness assessment leading to an individualized wellness plan. After their first year, students may work as wellness mentor and assist with programming for new freshmen entering the program.

- MBC 101: Orientation to College and the Healthy Lifestyles program
- Phys Ed 102: Wellness — A Comprehensive Approach

Note: Additional application required

Honors Gateway

Director, Carol Creager, director of Grafton Library

For high-achieving students who are passionate about intellectual pursuits and global perspectives, this gateway offers a challenging and engaging path to achievement through a rich array of classes; experiential learning; and connections on campus, in the local community, and beyond our borders.

- Honors MBC 101: Orientation to College and to Research and Scholarship Opportunities
- MBC 102: An Investigation of the Arts, which includes participation with the American Shakespeare Center actors and scholars at the Blackfriars Playhouse or MBC
103: An Investigation of the Sciences, which focuses on how science is integrated across disciplines and explores opportunities to engage in research and projects beginning in the first year.

Note: By invitation only

Ida B. Wells Gateway
Director, The Rev. Andrea Cornett-Scott, associate vice president for student affairs and inclusive excellence
Named for the noted civil rights activist, suffragist, and journalist, the Ida B. Wells Program is a gateway for women of African descent who want to explore culture, identity, and civic engagement as the foundation for their active participation in the college community.

Students in this gateway will participate in civic engagement projects and complete 15 hours of community service during their first semester. They will also plan and participate in the annual Kwanzaa celebration, the Sista Friends Mentoring Program, and other cultural activities. After their first year, students who maintain a GPA of 3.0 or higher are invited to become members of the Ida B. Wells Society.

- MBC 101: Orientation to College and Ida B. Wells program
- Interdisciplinary 177: Legacy and Tradition
- Students in the Living Learning Community take Philosophy 140: Community and Service Learning
- Non-Living Learning Community students take either Philosophy 232: African-American Thought or History 264: Introduction to the African Diaspora
- Amy Tillerson, Edward Scott and Andrea Cornett-Scott serve as academic advisors

Note: Additional application and interview are required

Latino Culture Gateway
Director, Ivy Arbulú, associate professor of Spanish
Designed for students who are interested in exploring the history and heritage of Latino cultures around the world, the Latino Culture Gateway enhances one of Mary Baldwin’s greatest strengths: diversity.

Music, art, food, dance, and literature help shape Gateway activities. Students will assist in planning events for Hispanic History Month and work with upper-class students involved in the on-campus group, Latinas Unidas. Resources will be provided in Spanish and English.

- A section of MBC 101 specifically designed students in the Latino Culture Gateway
- Recommended courses: Spanish language courses and Spanish 227 U.S. Latino Literature and Culture.

Program for the Exceptionally Gifted (PEG) Gateway
Director, Stephanie Ferguson, executive director of early college and director of PEG
PEG is the only radical acceleration program that allows students as young as 13 to skip high school and dive right into college, living within a community of their intellectual and social peers.

Students in this gateway are invited to attend PEG only weekend as well as participate in other age-appropriate co-curricular and extra-curricular activities that are social, cultural, or just for fun. PEG students live in the PEG Center, a living-learning community with adult advisors in the building 24 hours a day.

- MBC 101: Introduction to College
- MBC 102: An Investigation of the Arts, which includes participation with the American Shakespeare Center actors and scholars at the Blackfriars Playhouse or MBC 103: An Investigation of the Sciences, which focuses on how science is integrated across disciplines and explores opportunities to engage in research and projects beginning in your First Year.
- ENG 101: Intermediate Composition: PEG

Note: Additional application and interview are required.

Spencer Citizens Gateway
Director, Steve Grande, director of civic engagement
Spencer Citizens have a passion for service whether it’s in the local or global arena. Multi-cultural experiences and travel opportunities enable participants to become agents of change, understanding that at the heart of leadership is service to others.

Students in this gateway take part in community service projects and assist with Spencer Center for Civic and Global Engagement activities throughout the year, such as Hunger and Homelessness Awareness Week and the International Café Series. After their first year, Spencer Citizens can become Citizen Fellows.

- MBC 101: Orientation to College and the Spencer Citizens Program
- CE 102: The Reflective Self in Community
- Recommended courses: Philosophy 140: Community and Service Learning or Sociology 282: Community Service and Society

Virginia Women’s Institute for Leadership (VWIL) Gateway
Directors, AveMaria Griffin, director for student development, and Karen Parker, director of admissions for VWIL and athletics
Through rigor, intense challenge, and mutual support, VWIL is a four-year program that prepares women for leadership in the military, public service, and private sectors in the United States and around the world. It combines military leadership development training (through ROTC as well as the VWIL Corps) with civilian approaches. The VWIL Corps is the only all-female corps of cadets in the nation.

Students in this leadership program live and learn together as sister nULLs, participating in formations, parades, strength and endurance training, and seminars oriented toward career interests and leadership development. Drill team, marching band, and Honor Guard are other available opportunities. Beginning in their sophomore year, students will assume leadership positions in the Corps, continuing to live together and holding to a code of professional standards. By the end of their four years at the college, VWIL cadets will have earned a minor and a certificate in leadership studies.

- MBC 101: Orientation to College and VWIL
- ROTC: Army, Air Force, Navy/Marines (commissioning optional)
- Physical Education: Leadership Challenge, Wilderness Adventure, Advanced Fitness

Note: Additional application and interview is required.
TUITION AND FINANCIAL AID

Tuition and Fee Information

RCW Tuition and Fees
The comprehensive fee for students at Mary Baldwin in the Residential College for Women during the 2011-2012 academic year is $34,750 ($26,610 for tuition, $250 student organization fee, $100 technology fee, and $7,790 for room and board). The PEG Housing fee is $1,000. Financial aid packages based on both merit and need can substantially reduce the actual out-of-pocket cost. The college offers a variety of services to assist students and families in financing a private college education.

There are no laboratory, lecture, or practice teaching fees. Some classes have fees for private music lessons, art materials, field trips, use of facilities not belonging to the college, or other extraordinary expenses. For details, see the course descriptions in this catalog.

Annual Deposit
All students in the RCW who intend to return to Mary Baldwin for the succeeding academic year, including those participating in overseas programs and/or the consortium program, must make a deposit of $300 by March 1st, which is credited to payment of fees for the next session. This deposit will be returned only if the student is advised to withdraw or is prevented by causes beyond her control from returning to college. Students who plan to return the following fall and who have made their deposits are given choice of rooms according to their class membership. Rising seniors thus have priority. Assignments of rooms for upperclassmen are made shortly after spring vacation. Because it is impossible to judge the year’s work until after the end of the second semester, no applications for the following year can be confirmed or rejected before June 1.

Monthly Payment Plan
Fees that are normally due in one large lump sum at the beginning of each semester may be paid in 10 equal monthly installments. There are no interest or finance charges — only an administration fee of $60. For additional information, please contact the Mary Baldwin College Student Accounts Office.

Half-Price Tuition Plan
Students who have completed eight semesters of full time work in classes on the MBC campus may enroll in additional on-campus classes for half of the usual applicable per-hour tuition charge if approved by the registrar. Students must be eligible for readmission to MBC. They may live off campus. On-campus housing is subject to availability and will be charged at full price. To take advantage of the half-price tuition, no more than 12 months may have elapsed since the date of last enrollment. ADP tutorials, graduate courses and summer directed inquiries are not available at half-price. MBC will help the student get external grants and loans, but no institutional aid will be available to students under this plan.

Schedule of Payments 2011–2012

Resident Students
Direct Cost (tuition and fees, room and board) $34,750
(Fees include: Student Organization Fee $250, Technology Fee of $100)
Payable as follows:
Advance Deposit (nonrefundable) due:
March 1 from returning students $300
May 1 from new students $300

August 1 from all students (less Advance Deposit payment) $13,605
December 1 from all students $13,355

Part-Time Students
Fewer than 12 semester hours during fall or spring semesters: $415 per semester hour. Students in the Residential College for Women attempting 12 semester hours or more are considered commuter students and are charged accordingly. The internship fee for part-time students is $207.50 per semester hour and is charged for any 287 or 387 course. The audit fee is $207.50 per semester hour.

Individual Instruction (Summer Term)
Individual course credits taken during the summer
• Summer Directed Inquiry (2011–12) $415 per s.h.
• Internship Fee (2011–12) $207.50 per s.h.

Note: Advance Deposit payments are nonrefundable for first-year and transfer students after May 1. Advance Deposit payments for all returning students are nonrefundable.
Partial-Year Students
Full-time students residing at MBC for the fall or spring term will be charged $17,500. Commuter students enrolling for either period will be charged $13,605. There will be no additional charge for attending the May Term (for currently enrolled students). For student-teaching, social work and internships being done off-campus during fall or spring semesters under faculty supervision, students will be charged as half-year commuter students. If a student wishes room and board on campus while performing an internship off campus, student is charged as a boarding student.

Special Costs

Administrative Fees
A student, who is enrolled but is off-campus for an entire year on an approved program not under faculty supervision (i.e., clinical laboratory science and studies abroad), will be charged a per-semester fee of $75. A student who is granted a leave of absence or withdraws from the college and is issued a credit will be assessed an administrative fee of $75.

Transcript of Record
Transcripts are issued upon request. A student’s financial record must be cleared of all charges before a transcript of record is issued.
- Transcripts ..............................................$4 per copy
- Graduation Fee (seniors only) .........................$100

Special Course Fees
Music Lessons: Individual Applied Music Lessons will be charged on a per-semester basis. Pre-approved music majors and minors take Primary Applied Lessons (200-level, two credits/60-minute lessons). Most other students take Elective Applied Lessons (100-level, one credit/30-minute lessons). Students with questions about their status should consult the music department. Fees: 12 30-minute lessons: $230; 12 60-minute lessons: $450. Approved music majors or minors receive reduced fee: 12 30- minute lessons: $130; 12 60-minute lessons: $175. Reduced fees are based on certification by the music department at the beginning of each semester. A student who drops applied music lessons after the second lesson, whether taking a W/F or W/P, will be billed for the full lesson fee for a given term.

Fine Arts: A number of studio art courses require a student to pay for expendable materials. ENG/THEA 216 and THEA 101 require students to pay for theatre tickets. For specific fees, consult course section of this catalog or the instructor in charge of the course.

Physical and Health Education: Some physical and health education courses require special fees. See course descriptions in this catalog for more information.

Special Housing Fees
A charge is added to room cost on a semester basis for the following locations:
- Single room residence halls..............$900 per semester
- Carriage House, Coalter Street House, Hawpe House, King, Scott House, and Woodrow Terrace Apartments ..............................................$150 per semester

Lost Dorm Keys
- Fine for replacement of lost room keys ..............$25
- Fine for the replacement of lost keys to outside doors ......................................................$50
Note: Students are strongly encouraged to obtain a key to their individual rooms at the beginning of the school year.

Damage or Loss of Personal Possessions
Damage to or of personal property is not covered by the college’s insurance. MBC assumes no responsibility for damage or loss of any article left on its premises at any time.

Cars
Students must register their cars with the campus security office and pay the following fees each year:
- Residential students ..............................................$50
- Commuter students ..............................................$20

Conditions of Payment
Charges are listed for the college year. Fifty percent of the comprehensive fee is due by August 1. The balance for all students is due by December 1. Payments must be made before students can register for classes.

Deadlines for Payment
Students will not be permitted to begin classes until all tuition and fee payments for the first semester have been paid, and will not be permitted to begin second semester classes until all tuition and fee payments have been paid. In order for seniors to participate in Commencement activities, all financial obligations must have been paid two weeks before graduation day. In order for juniors, sophomores and first-year students to participate in Room Draw, all financial obligations must be paid. The college policy for all students is that past and current obligations must be paid in full as a precondition to register or reside on campus.
Note: The college will not issue transcripts or diplomas if any outstanding balances are due to the MBC business office or bookstore.
Finance Charges
An interest charge of 15% a year may be applied to outstanding balances owed after October 15 for the fall semester and February 15 for the spring semester.

Collection Procedures
Active collection efforts are made by MBC personnel to collect delinquent payments from current students. When a student who has withdrawn from the college has a delinquent account, MBC pursues legal means to collect balances due. If the college must refer unpaid obligations to a collection agency, the college includes the full cost of collection and/or attorney fees as part of the outstanding obligation.

Credit and Refund Policy
MBC arranges for instruction and services in advance on an annual basis. Therefore, charges for students in the Residential College for Women are listed for the entire year with billings and payments based on first and second semesters. Charges for the year may be paid in two installments: August 1 for the first semester, and December 1 for the second semester. Credits and refunds are based on first and second semester. Credits outstanding at the end of first semester are applied to second semester of the same academic year. Credits outstanding at the end of second semester are applied to charges for first semester of the following academic year. No student will be permitted to register or reside on campus until applicable charges for the current semester have been paid in full. The Student Accounts Office assumes responsibility for the administration of college policy related to payment of fees.

Application for Credits and Refunds
The date on which written notice is received by the college is considered the date of withdrawal. Refunds are made only to the guarantor of the student’s financial obligation. If there is a prepaid deposit, it is applied to bills due at time of re-entry; such deposits are nonrefundable.

Returned Check Policy
Students will be charged a $28 fee for any check received in payment of any obligation that is returned by the bank.

Counseled Withdrawal
In the event a counseled withdrawal is granted, a refund is issued based on the pro rata portion of the prepaid tuition and room and board, less a $75 administrative fee. Students approved for counseled withdrawal will not be charged for second semester if withdrawal occurs prior to registration day for second semester. If a counseled withdrawal is granted subsequent to registration day for second semester, a refund will be issued based on the pro rata portion of the prepaid tuition, room and board, less a $75 administrative fee. Adult students who formally “stop out” during a semester in which they have enrolled in new coursework are eligible for a pro rata refund if their financial aid status allows it.

Disciplinary Withdrawal
Students who withdraw for disciplinary reasons receive a refund in accordance with the pro rata schedule for the semester in which the penalty is determined. If withdrawal occurs prior to registration day for the second semester, students are not charged for second semester.

Academic Withdrawal
Students required to withdraw for academic reasons at the end of the first semester are not charged for the second semester. Students required to withdraw for academic reasons at the end of the second semester receive a refund for the $300 advance deposit they paid for the upcoming academic year.

Authorized Leave of Absence
When an authorized leave is granted, a credit is issued based on the pro rata portion of prepaid tuition and room and board applicable to first semester and/or second semester less a $75 administrative fee. When an authorized leave of absence is granted prior to second semester registration day, the student is not charged for the second semester.

Medical Leave
When a medical leave is granted, credit is issued based on the pro rata portion of the prepaid tuition and room and board fees, less a $75 administrative fee. If the leave occurs prior to second semester registration day, students are not charged for the second semester.

Board Refunds
Board refund may be granted only on a semester basis in rare cases when, in the judgment of the college physician, there are medical conditions warranting exemption from the meal plan. A student requesting exemption must first schedule an appointment to see the college physician through the MBC Health Services Center. The student will be referred to an appropriate medical specialist for an evaluation of her condition. All off campus medical evaluations will be at a student’s expense. The college physician will make a final recommendation to the vice president for business and finance based on documentation from the medical specialist.
Pro Rata Refund Procedures

What is a Pro Rata Refund?
The Higher Education Amendments of 1992 define a pro rata refund as a refund to a student of not less than that portion of the tuition, fees, room, board, and other charges assessed the student equal to the portion of the enrollment period for which the student has been charged that remains on the last day of attendance rounded down to the nearest ten percent of that period, minus any unpaid student charges, and minus a reasonable administrative fee.

When and How are Pro Rata Refunds Applied?
The pro rata refund is applicable to students who withdraw from the institution within 60 percent or less of the enrollment period (beginning of classes to the end of exam period). After the 60% mark, refunds are not granted.

For students subject to the institutional refund policy, the MBC Student Accounts Office calculates a federal refund amount according to regulatory requirements.

Federal law requires refunds to be returned in the following order: Direct Stafford Loans, PLUS Loans, Perkins Loans, Pell Grants, SEOG Grants, Institutional Aid.

Financial Aid

Student Financial Aid

The Office of Financial Aid and Student Campus Employment at Mary Baldwin College is committed to making a private education available to as many well qualified students as possible. In fact, over 97% of our traditional-age students rely on some form of merit or need-based financial aid to help meet the cost of a college education. The college participates in a wide range of federal, state and institutional aid programs. Each program has its own regulatory demands and requirements. The exact amount of an aid award can be determined only after completion of the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA).

The Office of Financial Aid and Student Campus Employment strives to make the aid process as uncomplicated as possible. We understand, however, that families and students are faced with questions and concerns regarding financial aid. The professional staff is available Monday through Friday 8:30-4:30 at 540-887-7022 and by e-mail at finaid@mbc.edu to offer assistance.

Eligibility Requirements for Aid

Since Mary Baldwin actively participates in a number of federal aid programs, the requirements for federal aid are used as the core requirements for all need-based aid and include, but are not limited to, students who:
- have a high school diploma or the equivalent (Exceptions are made for students in the Program for the Exceptionally Gifted and Early College Academy.);
- are accepted or enrolled as full-time, regular students (NOTE: A few federal programs can provide some assistance to students who are less than full-time.);
- are degree candidates;
- are U.S. citizens or eligible non-citizens;
- maintain satisfactory academic progress toward a degree at Mary Baldwin.

Applying for Aid

There are three general types of financial aid awards that students and families receive: grants/scholarships, loans, and jobs. Grants/scholarships represent any form of financial aid that can be used to meet the cost of education without future obligations to repay. For more information on outside scholarships, go to www.fastweb.com Loans are money that either students or parents can borrow to cover educational expenses.
Loans must be repaid with interest in the future. Jobs allow students to work, giving them the opportunity to gain both valuable experience and money to help pay for education-related expenses. Each of these three general types of aid — grants/scholarships, loans, and jobs — can be awarded based on either a family’s financial need or some type of non-need criteria, such as a student’s educational accomplishments or state of residence.

To apply for need-based aid at Mary Baldwin College, a family must submit a “Free Application for Federal Student Aid” (FAFSA) to the federal government for processing each academic year (www.fafsa.ed.gov). The FAFSA is the only form the college requires for students applying for aid based on a family’s need. If Mary Baldwin College is listed on a student’s FAFSA (School Code 003723), the aid office will receive the results of processing directly from the government in electronic form (ISIR). The student will receive a Student Aid Report (SAR). It is suggested that the SAR be reviewed carefully to check for errors or requests for clarification. Corrections can be made electronically by the students and parents at the FAFSA website, www.fafsa.ed.gov.

For more information on federal aid, access www.studentaid.ed.gov. It is strongly recommended that Virginia residents complete the Tuition Assistance Grant (TAG) application shortly after the student applies to the college. The TAG application must be returned to the aid office before July 31 preceding enrollment. The original application is valid, in most cases, to cover the four years a student is enrolled continuously at the college.

Receiving Aid
Aid not based on need is credited to a student’s financial aid record as soon as the aid office becomes aware of such aid. Aid based on need will only be awarded after a student’s FAFSA is successfully processed by the government and the results (ISIR) are received by the aid office. The processing of the data the family and student supplied on the FAFSA will result in an Expected Family Contribution (EFC). The EFC is an amount the government determines a student and her family can contribute toward her education. A student’s need is the difference between the cost of attendance at Mary Baldwin and the student’s EFC.

\text{Total Cost of Attendance} - \text{EFC} = \text{Financial Need}

The cost of attendance is prescribed by federal regulations and includes:
- the tuition and fees the student owes directly to the college;
- the room and board at the college or an allowance for room and board for a commuting student;
- a standard allowance for books;
- a standard allowance for miscellaneous expenses;
- an allowance for transportation;
- an allowance for loan fees (if applicable).

The Office of Financial Aid and Student Campus Employment will prepare an aid package and mail this information to the student’s home address as soon as possible. All non-need-based aid will be considered as part of a need-based aid package first along with eligibility for Pell Grants and other federal grants. If there is need remaining after these forms of aid are considered, the aid office will award loans, jobs, and grants to fill as much of the remaining need as funding and institutional awarding policy will allow.

When the student receives an award letter, she will be asked to make decisions on which types of aid she will accept. The student may also need to complete further paper work depending on individual aid situations. Explanations of what is needed by the aid office to complete a student’s aid package will be included with the award letter. Students are asked to read all information carefully and respond promptly to any requests by the aid office.

A student must take 12 semester hours in any given semester to be considered full time and eligible for full-time aid. (Note: May Term hours cannot be included in spring semester totals to achieve full-time status.) Students enrolled at least half time (six semester hours) remain eligible for continuation of some federal aid and loan deferment benefits. If a student receives any aid from outside sources (e.g., ROTC scholarships, outside agency scholarships, etc.), federal rules require that this aid be reported to the aid office as soon as the student becomes aware of eligibility. Rules further indicate that, in some cases adjustments to other aid may be required.

Disbursing Aid
Once a student receives an award package and complies with all the regulatory requirements, her aid package is set. Aid will only be disbursed to a student’s business office account once she has enrolled in course work and that enrollment can be verified at the end of “add/drop” each semester. In the meantime, aid will appear on any early billing as “unapplied.” It is hoped this will assist parents when planning for expenses. Again, how aid is disbursed or credited to the student account depends on the form it takes: grants/scholarships, job, or loan. Grants/scholarships given as aid through the college are credited directly to the student’s account. This disbursement only occurs after all regulatory obligations on the part of the student are met to the satisfaction of the Office of Financial Aid and Student Campus Employment. Jobs are offered through the Federal Work-Study Program and through the college. The student is paid by the hour, and a paycheck is issued each month to the student. The student may turn earnings over to the business office to pay tuition for the next semester, or may use the earnings to pay for books and personal expenses.
Loans

All loans taken through the Office of Financial Aid and Student Campus Employment at Mary Baldwin should be considered by students and parents as a serious commitment that must be met in the future. MBC will award, depending on financial need and borrowing eligibility, three types of loans: Perkins, Direct Stafford, and PLUS. Perkins Loans are awarded to the students with the most need, usually Pell recipients. Repayment will not begin until the student leaves the college or falls below half time. Interest is covered while the student is in college and only begins to accrue once the repayment period starts. There is a grace period after leaving the college or falling below half time. Students will be counseled on their rights and responsibilities at the time the student is asked to sign her promissory note. Direct Stafford Loans are student loans with two separate and distinct awards based on a family’s need. Loans awarded to cover need are Subsidized Direct Stafford Loans. Students will not be charged interest before they begin repayment on Subsidized Direct Stafford Loans. Students not eligible for Subsidized Direct Stafford Loans may be eligible for an Unsubsidized Direct Stafford Loan. Payment of interest is the responsibility of the student from the time the loan is disbursed; however, principal is deferred until a student leaves, graduates or drops below half time. Each student’s yearly eligibility for Direct Stafford Loans has been established by the federal government as follows:

- Freshman $5,500
- Sophomore $6,500
- Junior/Senior $7,500
- Graduate $20,500

Students who are independent by federal definition and dependent students whose parents are denied a PLUS may borrow additional Unsubsidized Direct Stafford funds. If eligible, a student may borrow up to $4,000 as a freshman or sophomore, up to $5,000 as a junior or senior. Undergraduate dependent students may borrow up to $23,000 in Direct Stafford Loans during a college career. Independent undergraduates may borrow up to $46,000 in Direct Stafford but only $23,000 of the total can be subsidized. Graduate students can borrow up to $138,500, and only $65,500 of this may be subsidized over a student’s entire graduate and undergraduate career. All Direct Stafford Loan borrowers are required to complete entrance and exit counseling sessions detailing loan obligations and the repayment process. Any student with questions on loans is encouraged to contact the aid office at any time before, during, and after her enrollment at Mary Baldwin. Finally, PLUS may be taken by parents of dependent undergraduate students up to the cost of attendance minus other financial aid. This is a credit-based loan for which repayment is the responsibility of the parent. Interest will be charged on the loan from the date of the first disbursement, and repayment generally begins 60 days after the final disbursement of the loan each year. Therefore, parents will begin repayment while the student is in school. Deferment options are available. Detailed information accompanies all Direct Stafford Loans and PLUS applications and promissory notes and may also be found at www.studentaid.ed.gov. Please read this information carefully.

Reapplying for Aid

It is necessary to reapply for all financial aid based on family need. Students are required to submit updated family financial information each year. Most returning students will receive a FAFSA renewal reminder in January from the federal processor that they may complete a renewal FAFSA online at www.fafsa.ed.gov. The reminder will be sent to either the student’s e-mail as reported on the FAFSA or to the home address reported on the FAFSA. If a student does not receive a reminder, she may still be able to complete a renewal FAFSA online. If she is unable to complete a renewal FAFSA, she may complete a new FAFSA. In either case, for a dependent undergraduate student (under the age of 24), both the student and a parent must submit personal identification numbers or signatures for the FAFSA to be processed. The college will try to keep a student’s need based aid package as constant as possible through the undergraduate career. Balances between grants and loans within an individual student’s aid package will change as loan eligibility is increased due to academic progress. Students who reapply for aid must continue to meet all the eligibility requirements listed above. Satisfactory academic progress is also required for renewal of aid. Students receiving financial assistance must make at least minimum satisfactory progress during their years of study at Mary Baldwin. The college offers a four-year program for a bachelor’s degree. However, we acknowledge that occurrences such as illness, change of major, and disruption of the program by unexpected events or some period of academic difficulty could extend the program to a fifth year. Therefore, the minimum quantitative and qualitative standards of satisfactory academic progress (SAP) are required by the federal government and Mary Baldwin in order to continue to receive aid. Graduate students must have at least a 3.0 GPA and must successfully complete a minimum of 67% of attempted work within an academic year. One semester of satisfactory academic progress probation will be permitted after a student falls below minimum SAP the first time. If, after the period of probation, a student does not return to the standard minimum progress for that year, aid will not be offered again until minimum standards are achieved. Appeals concerning progress may be addressed to the MBC Office of Financial Aid and Student Campus Employment. Students should bear in mind that these minimum standards are not recommended progress. A student should consult with her academic advisor to develop a program that permits graduation in four years and work toward that goal.

Semester hours: This number of earned credit hours determines your class level.

Minimum GPA/Class level: This is the minimum cumulative GPA you must maintain while classified at the specified class level.

Completion Rate and Maximum Time Frame: You must maintain a 67% cumulative completion rate of the courses in which you enroll. You may not receive financial aid for coursework in excess of 150% of the required hours for your degree. You must also have achieved at least the minimum grade point average at each class level.
ACADEMIC POLICIES

Academic Requirements for the Bachelor’s Degree
Each student must complete all three of the following: (1) General requirements for the bachelor’s degree, described below; (2) Requirements for one major, found in the Undergraduate Course Descriptions section, or an Independent Major found under Academic Rules for Student-Designed Coursework the following section; (3) Electives to complete the 126 semester hours required for the degree, chosen from all courses offered, within the limits stated below.

Required Credit Hours and Grade Point Average
The following are the requirements for all bachelor’s degrees:
- a minimum of 126 semester hours
- a maximum of 7 semester hours in physical and health education and a maximum of 15 semester hours in internships
- Cumulative, un-rounded GPA of at least 2.0 overall
- Cumulative, un-rounded GPA of at least 2.0 in the major
- A minimum of 18 semester hours in the major, including the senior project, taken at Mary Baldwin College
- A minimum of 66 total semester hours taken at MBC for students in the RCW; a minimum of 36 total semester hours taken at MBC for students in the ADP

Program Evaluation
Students are required to participate in official activities designed to assess the effectiveness of the academic program as a condition for graduation. These activities are required by government and accrediting organizations.

Common Curriculum Requirements
All students must complete the requirements of the Common Curriculum. For a list of courses that meet the Common Curriculum requirements, see the Common Curriculum Courses section of this catalog.

Note: The following Common Curriculum requirements apply to all matriculates from fall 2010 onward and replace the previous General Education and Core requirements. Students who matriculated prior to fall 2010, should consult their advisors, the Adult Degree Program, or the office of the registrar with questions.

Learning Outcome One
Demonstrate an understanding of the liberal arts and sciences through:
- Six or more hours (from two disciplines) of the humanities and history from the list of courses designated ‘H’
- Six or more hours (from two disciplines) of the arts from the list of courses designated ‘A’
- Six or more hours (from two disciplines) of the social sciences from the list of courses designated ‘S’
- Six or more hours (from two disciplines) of the natural sciences from the list of courses designated ‘N’
- Completion of at least one course with a thematic emphasis from the list of courses designated ‘T’

Learning Outcome Two
Demonstrate an understanding of the self in relationship to the broader community through:
- Six or more hours of coursework emphasizing engagement with diverse cultures in a global context. Either six hours of a single modern foreign language or six hours of coursework designated “International” in two different disciplines or a combination of “International” courses and qualifying study abroad adding to six hours.
- Three or more hours of coursework emphasizing the role of race and ethnicity in America from the list of courses designated ‘D’ (for ‘diversity)
- Three or more hours of coursework emphasizing the role of gender in shaping identity and culture from the list of courses designated ‘G’
- One or more credit hour of community involvement credit from the list of courses designated ‘C’ (ADP students may meet this requirement through a portfolio – please see your advisor)
- Two or more credit hours of coursework emphasizing knowledge and practice of physical fitness and health from the list of courses designated ‘P’

Learning Outcome Three
Demonstrate the capacity to make a positive impact on the world by acquiring effective skills and addressing authentic issues and problems through:
- Completion of ENG 102 or equivalent
- Completion of six or more credit hours of writing emphasis coursework beyond ENG 102 or its equivalent from the list of courses designated ‘W’
- Completion of three or more credit hours of oral communication emphasis coursework from the list of courses designated ‘O’
- Completion of six or more credit hours of quantitative reasoning coursework from the list of courses designated ‘Q’
- Completion of INT 103 or equivalent
- Completion of three hours or more credit hours of coursework focused on research and information literacy from the list of courses designated ‘R’
- Completion of three or more credit hours of coursework addressing authentic problems and issues in one’s area of academic emphasis (met through the senior requirement)
Note: Common Curriculum courses may also count toward majors, minors, or certificates, when appropriate. For more information on rules and applicable courses, see the MBC website or contact your advisor, the office of the registrar, or the ADP office (for ADP students).

Senior Requirement
All graduates must complete a senior requirement for a minimum of three and a maximum of six semester hours of credit. It will carry a letter grade. The senior requirement must be supervised and evaluated by full-time faculty in the discipline unless they approve some other method of supervision and evaluation. The purpose of the senior requirement is to serve as a context within which students may establish themselves as persons capable of independent scholarship on a significant level. Disciplines choose among the following options:
• Write and defend (orally or in writing) a thesis reflecting scholarship and originality appropriate to the baccalaureate level of study.
• Complete and report on a project that synthesizes learning and entails an application of that learning to a task or problem of major academic significance.
• Produce and present a creative work or body of work, demonstrating mastery of a medium and an understanding of the creative problems and potential inherent in that work.
• Participate in a special course designed to make the student synthesize and draw conclusions from the various methods and materials in the student’s field.
• Develop an alternate method for the consideration and approval of faculty in the discipline.

Students must have a grade point average in the major equal to or greater than 2.0, or approval of major faculty, to register for the senior requirement. Except in the case of special courses that fulfill the senior requirement, the student should file and get approval of her senior requirement by faculty in the discipline by the end of the fall of her senior year. In the absence of special permission to the contrary, all senior requirements are supervised and evaluated by ranked teaching faculty at MBC. Senior requirements are listed on the student’s transcript as Senior Requirement: (title) with grade. Senior requirements that, according to their majors’ guidelines, are deemed particularly meritorious are designated “With Distinction,” and this achievement is noted on the transcript and diploma.

Bachelor of Science Degree — Additional Requirements
Each discipline may elect to offer the Bachelor of Science. At a minimum, each discipline will require:
• Six semester hours in mathematics at the 200-level or above

Note: Precise requirements will vary according to each major that has chosen to offer the BS and are noted in the Undergraduate Offerings section of this catalog.

Participation in Commencement Ceremony
Mary Baldwin College holds a formal commencement ceremony once a year, in May (see the MBC website for more information). In order to participate in commencement, students must have completed all requirements for the degree, without exception. Mary Baldwin College does not allow students to “walk” at graduation if they are not receiving a diploma during the ceremony.

Modification of Requirement
A student who, in unusual circumstances, wishes to petition for an exception to the requirements listed above must submit a request, in writing, to the dean of the college no later than February 1 of the year in which the student expects to graduate. All waivers must be approved by the full faculty.

Academic Credit and Grading
Academic credit is expressed in semester hours (s.h.). A semester hour of credit is equivalent to one 50-minute period of class per week or one 150-minute laboratory session per week, for one semester.

Course Numbering
The following conventions apply to MBC’s course numbering system:
100-level – introductory, generally no prerequisites
200-level – intermediate, may have prerequisites
300-level – major courses, generally have prerequisites
400-level – senior projects
500-level and above – graduate courses

Course Numerical Suffixes
These two-digit suffixes have specialized meaning beyond the course level:
77 colloquium offered on a one-time basis
80 teaching assistantship
87 internship
90 directed inquiry
97 CLEP credit in the ADP only
98 portfolio credit in ADP only
99 independent tutorial or learning contract in the ADP only
Grades
The grading symbols used by the college are as follows:
A excellent
B very good
C competent
D minimum passing
F failing
NC no credit
P pass
EC credit by examination
I incomplete (temporary)
NR no grade reported (temporary)
ET extended time (temporary-ADP only)
AU audit (satisfactory)
W withdrawn

Grade Point Equivalents
Grade point equivalents are as follows (there are no grades of A+ or D-):
A 4.0
A- 3.7
B+ 3.3
B 3.0
B- 2.7
C+ 2.3
C 2.0
C- 1.7
D+ 1.3
D 1.0

Grade point average is determined by dividing total grade points earned by the total semester hours credit attempted for a regular grade.

Grade Reports and Official Grading Periods
Official grade reports, including cumulative averages, are available electronically after the conclusion of the fall semester and the May Term. The report distributed following the May Term includes work completed during the spring semester and the May Term.

Grade Changes
(Provisions in parentheses apply to ADP students.)
Requests for a grade changes will not be considered if initiated by students later than the first week of classes in the calendar term following distribution of the official grade report which is being contested. (ADP students must file grade appeals by the following deadlines: October 1 for summer courses, February 1 for fall courses, and July 1 for spring courses.)

A student with questions about a grade should first contact the course instructor to determine if there is an error. If so, the instructor must report the correct grade to the registrar (or to ADP) immediately. If there is no error, and the student desires to contest the grade, the student must submit written reason(s) for the appeal to the dean of the college (or the dean of adult and graduate studies). The dean forms a hearing committee consisting of the dean, the registrar (or the student’s ADP advisor), and two faculty members. The committee reviews the written appeal, hears statements from both the student and the instructor involved, and approves or disallows a change.

Repetition of Courses
Students may repeat a course in which a grade of D or NC or F was earned. Original grades are not removed from the permanent record, but in the case of D or F grades, the lower grade is removed from calculation of a cumulative grade point average. The original grade cannot be replaced by an NC. Repeat work can be done at MBC or at another institution, subject to the guidelines for transfer of credit, and only if appropriate MBC faculty certify that the transfer course is sufficiently similar to the MBC course being repeated. Students will receive only credit for transfer work, not grade points. However, the D or F grade earned in the MBC course will be removed from calculation of the MBC cumulative grade point average.

Rules for Pass/No Credit (P/NC)
- Courses taken P/NC are not included in the computation of grade point average.
- A student may choose the Pass/No Credit option for up to five semester hours of credit during each of her first three academic years.
- During the senior year a student may elect to take up to seven semester hours of credit on a P/NC basis, but the seven semester hours may not all be taken during the same semester.
- Grades of A through D are designated as Pass.
- Students may change from the regular graded basis to P/NC or vice versa through the end of the withdrawal period, eight weeks for a two-term course.
- Students may change a class from P/NC to regular grade through the last day of scheduled classes.
- No more than five semester hours taken on a P/NC basis may be counted toward the completion of a major. No more than one course comprising the minor can be taken on a P/NC basis.
- A course taken P/NC specifically to qualify for the BS is excluded from the five semester hour limit on P/NC courses in the major or minor.
- All courses required by the instructor to be taken P/NC, including internships, are excluded from the above limits. All such courses are designated in the course description in the catalog.
- All physical education classes may be taken for a grade or P/NC and are excluded from the above limits.
Rules for Grades of Incomplete and Extended Time

- The temporary symbol of I may be given at the end of a course if, for reasons beyond her control, a RCW student is unable to complete the course work. This policy also applies to ADP students who are taking on-campus coursework.
- An Incomplete may be given only with the approval of the dean or associate dean of the college and of the course instructor.
- Incomplete work must be completed by the end of the next calendar term, that is, by the end of Term 3 for fall semester courses, and by the end of Term 1 for spring courses. In unusual circumstances, such as prolonged illness, with the approval of the instructor, the dean or associate dean of the college may extend the time.
- If the work is not completed within the time specified, the registrar’s office will assign the grade awarded by the instructor based on the work completed to date.
- Adult Degree Program students are eligible for the temporary symbol of ET (extended time) for ADP coursework only, upon permission of their instructor, their academic advisor, and the dean of adult and graduate studies and upon payment of an ET fee. ET work must be completed by the end of the following semester or a grade of F is assigned.

Rules for Examinations and Make-Up Exams

To receive credit for a course, a student must take the examination or its equivalent as prescribed for the course by the instructor. A scheduled examination may be postponed for reasons beyond the student’s control such as death in the family or illness. Approval for such postponement must be obtained from the instructor and the dean or associate dean of the college. Students who, for other than unavoidable reasons, miss an examination receive a grade of F or No Credit (NC) for the course unless, because of extenuating circumstances, they are given permission by the dean or associate dean of the college to make up the examination. All postponed examinations must be rescheduled and taken at the earliest practical date. Students involved must make these arrangements with the dean or associate dean of the college and the course instructor. Failure to make such arrangements will be considered grounds for a grade of F or NC for the course.

Auditing Courses

Students may audit courses; neither grade nor credit is awarded. Auditors should observe the following standards:
- Permission of the registrar and the instructor of the course must be secured before the end of the first week of class.
- Minimum attendance of approximately 75 percent of class meetings;
- Reading assignments and class participation to the satisfaction of the instructor; exemption from papers, tests, examinations, or other written work.
- Students who audit courses are, with the consent of the instructor and registrar, free to drop out at any time without penalty.

Academic Procedures

Add-Drop Procedure

- To add or drop a course after initial registration, or to change a grading option, use an Add-Drop form, available from the registrar or ADP Offices. A student may not add a course after the first week of classes. The student’s faculty advisor must sign the form.
- To register for ADP courses during fall or spring terms, RCW students must have junior status and a cumulative GPA of 2.5 or better. The student must secure the approval of the advisor and the dean or associate dean of the college on the appropriate form, available in the registrar’s office.
- Drops completed during the first week of each term do not appear on a student’s record.
- A student may drop a course at any time through the eighth week of a two-term course and the third week of a one-term course. Drops completed after the first week, but before the end of the drop period, are designated by the instructor as Withdrawals and the designation W appears on the grade reports and permanent transcript. Marks of W do not affect grade point average.
- For any course dropped after the end of the drop period, the student will receive a grade of F, which affects grade point average, or NC, which does not affect grade point average.
- Residential College for Women students may drop courses for documented medical or providential reasons at any time upon approval by the dean or associate dean of the college. They will be awarded grades of W.
- ADP students may drop courses or tutorials, and receive grades of W, upon approval of the director or dean of adult and graduate studies.
- During May Term, a student may add classes only through the first day of classes. Courses dropped on the first day will not appear on the transcript. Students may withdraw from a May Term course through the sixth day of classes in May Term, receiving a mark of W. The student may change grading option up through the sixth class day.

Declaration of Majors and Minors

Students are allowed to declare a major at the end of their freshman year. They are expected to do so by the beginning of the junior year. The Major/Minor Declaration form, obtainable from the office of the registrar, is used for this purpose. Appropriate faculty signatures are required. Faculty approval is not needed to declare a major; the signatures are required to encourage students to learn all they can about their prospective majors before declaring. A minor may be declared only after the student has declared a major. The Major/Minor Declaration form is used for this purpose and filed in the office of the registrar.

Defined Majors are listed at the end of the General Information Section. They have required courses of study, found in this catalog in the Undergraduate Course Descriptions. Defined majors must consist of at least 33 semester hours. For Independent Majors see Academic Policies for Student-Designed Coursework.

Double Majors: Students declaring a double major must fulfill all the requirements of each major separately, including separate senior requirements. Double majors may be any combination of defined and independent majors.

Minors: Each minor must require at least 18 semester hours. No more than six semester hours may be applied to both a major and a minor (extended to eight semester hours if there are only two courses) or to two or more minors. To earn a minor, the student must have a 2.0 GPA in the minor course of study. At least nine hours applicable to the minor must be earned in work completed at MBC.

Changing Majors and Minors may be done by completing the appropriate section of the Major/Minor Declaration Form and filing it in the Office of the Registrar.

Overloads and Credit Load Limits
- Academic load limits for full-time students are shown in the chart below.
- Enrollment in more than 18 semester hours per semester (unless the enrollment is for only five courses) or four semester hours during the May Term constitutes an overload. Overload fees will apply above 20 hours to all courses except fee-based applied music.
- No student may enroll for more than 24 semester hours in a semester, or in one academic course during May Term except in the case of certain May-term study abroad courses.
- Overloads must be approved by the student’s advisor and the dean or associate dean of the college using forms available in the registrar’s office.
- Students with cumulative GPA above 3.5 can register during the regular registration period.

Transfer of Credit
Credit may be transferred for courses completed at other institutions that are accredited by regional accrediting agencies or the American Association for Liberal Education. The course must be identifiable with MBC’s liberal arts curriculum. The college considers the transfer of credit for military training based on official American Council on Education transcripts on a case by case basis. Courses with grades below C- are not accepted. Course work done under Pass/No Credit and similar options is not accepted. Grade points or their equivalent will not be transferred.

If a transferable course taken at another institution is deemed to be equivalent to an MBC course in which the student previously earned a D or F, the effect of the MBC grade will be removed from the student’s cumulative GPA. Appropriate MBC faculty must certify the general equivalence of the transfer course. It is the student’s responsibility to furnish whatever evidence the certifying faculty may find sufficient.

No more than 66 semester hours of transfer credit (90 for ADP students) can be counted toward the graduation requirement. No more than 10 semester hours may be transferred during any one summer program without the approval of the dean or associate dean of the college.

Credit earned at other institutions in programs sponsored or cosponsored by MBC is not transfer credit — e.g., Seven College Consortium, Oxford Program, etc.

Withdrawals
Voluntary Withdrawal: RCW students who withdraw from the college must reapply through the Office of Admissions. Adult students “stop-out” and “re-activate” through the Adult Degree Program office. In either case, students are subject to the catalog and college requirements applicable to the student’s class at the time of re-entry. In all cases of withdrawals, please refer to the Credit and Refund Policy listing in the Tuition section this academic catalog for information regarding financial arrangements. Students withdrawing from the college must depart the Mary Baldwin campus within 48 hours of the official date of withdrawal.

Financial or Personal Withdrawals: Students may voluntarily withdraw for financial, medical, or personal reasons. The student should complete a Withdrawal Form, an exit interview, and an appointment with the financial aid and business offices.

Counseled Withdrawal: A student may request and be granted a counseled withdrawal from the college. If, in the judgment of both the dean of the college and the dean of students or designee, it is either in the student’s best interest or the best interest of the college, a student will be granted a counseled withdrawal. A Withdrawal Form should be completed and an exit interview held. In addition, an appointment must be held with the financial aid and the business offices of the college.

Disciplinary Withdrawal: Students may be required to withdraw from the college for disciplinary reasons, having been served a major penalty by the Honor Council, Judicial Board, or administration. With the approval of the dean of the college, an instructor may require that a disruptive student withdraw from an individual class.

Academic Withdrawal: Students may be required to withdraw from the college for academic reasons under the requirements for suspension or dismissal. If a student is on academic deficiency status at the time of withdrawal, that status will apply if the student should subsequently return to the college.

Effect of Withdrawal, Suspension, or Dismissal: When students withdraw or are suspended or dismissed, all outstanding temporary grades (NR or I) will be converted to permanent grades based on the instructors’ assessments of work completed as of the date of withdrawal. Current work in progress will be dropped or changed to W (withdrawal), depending on the effective date of withdrawal. Students who are completing off-campus will be withdrawn after their Mary Baldwin academic record has been inactive for one calendar year from the last additions to the academic record.

Leaves of Absence
Students may arrange a Leave of Absence by applying to the Student Affairs Office. A student on leave may return to Mary Baldwin College at the end of the stated period without reapplying through Admissions. Upon re-entry, the student continues under the graduation requirements in effect at the time of original entry. Only one leave of up to two consecutive semesters will be granted. Leaves of absence are not normally granted in the last two weeks of the semester. A student who does not return at the end of the agreed leave period must reapply through Admissions. Such a student must meet the criteria of the Office of Admissions and is subject to the catalog and college requirements in effect at time of re-entry. At the time the leave of absence is granted, all academic work in progress is given a final grade, including W (withdrawal), as appropriate. The student is not allowed to finish “Incompletes” while on leave of absence nor to enroll in new Mary Baldwin credit work. In all cases of leaves of absence, please refer to the Credit and Refund Policy section of this academic catalog for information regarding financial arrangements. Students leaving the college must depart the Mary Baldwin campus within 48 hours of the official date of leave.

Counseled Leave: In certain circumstances, the Student Affairs Office may set conditions that must be met during the leave of absence in order for the student to return. In such a case, the student may be required to furnish information concerning those conditions for review by the Office of Student Affairs prior to her reentry to the college.

Medical Leave: A student may be granted a leave of absence for medical reasons. In order to obtain such a leave, the student must get certification from an attending physician and present it and the request for leave to the Student Affairs Office for evaluation by the college physician. In order for a student to return from medical leave, the attending physician must submit to the Student Affairs Office a statement certifying that the student is mentally and/or physically able to resume classes at the college. A student who is on academic deficiency status at the time she begins a leave of absence will continue on that status upon her return. A student who does not return at the end of the agreed leave period must reapply through Admissions. Such a student must meet the criteria of the Office of Admissions and will be subject to the catalog and college requirements in effect at time of re-entry.

Academic Policies for Student-Designed Coursework
Students have many options for tailoring their study to fit their needs. Among them are independent majors; minors, particularly interdisciplinary minors; pre-professional preparation through internships and community-based learning; directed inquiries (independent study); teaching assistantships; consortium exchange with other colleges; and cooperative programs that offer dual degrees (bachelor’s and master’s) and majors not offered at Mary Baldwin. For more information not detailed below or in the General Information section of this catalog, please see your academic advisor or contact the Registrar’s Office.

Independent Majors

Students, in consultation with their advisors, may design their own majors. Independent majors are formed by combining courses from two or more disciplines to meet a student’s academic interests or to provide preparation for a career. The following general rules apply to all independent majors:

- The independent major must consist of at least 36 semester hours.
- The senior academic requirement consists of the writing and defense of a thesis or the completion of a project, study, or experiment. This work must demonstrate an integration of the bodies of knowledge and approaches the independent major combines.
- Independent majors must be approved by the coordinator for interdisciplinary studies or the dean of adult and graduate studies in the case of ADP students.
- In the case of independent majors, the senior requirement approval and evaluation process will include appropriate representation from faculty in the relevant areas.
- The proposal for an independent major must have a coherent plan and must be accompanied by a written statement of purpose. The appropriate form may be obtained in the registrar’s or ADP office and must be filed with appropriate signatures at time of declaration of major.
- The Major/Minor Declaration form, with the completed independent major form, should be filed in the registrar’s or ADP office at the close of the student’s sophomore year, but it must be filed no later than the first day of classes of the student’s final semester.
- A maximum of 24 semester hours in one discipline can be counted toward the independent major.
- At least one of the disciplines involved must offer a major.
- The independent major cannot be a variation of an existing major.

Directed Inquiries/Learning Contracts

Students are encouraged to work with faculty to design individual, nontraditional courses of study. To this end, most disciplines offer directed inquiries (learning contracts for ADP students) and, to advanced students, teaching assistantships. For Residential College for Women students, directed inquiries can be supervised only by full-time faculty and can be taken only by full-time students. To register, the student must submit special forms to the Office of the Registrar or the ADP Office. Forms are available in the registrar’s office. Students do not normally take more than one directed inquiry per semester. They should have a C average. Freshmen do not take directed inquiries except in special cases. If a directed inquiry substitutes for an existing course below the 300-level, the DI is designated 290; if it substitutes for a 300-level course, it is designated 390. If a directed inquiry does not substitute for an existing course, the instructor determines the appropriate level based on content. Any exceptions to those policies must be approved by the dean of the college.

Internships and Experiential Learning

Internships and other forms of experiential learning provide students with practical experiences in working with professionals in various career fields, and therefore are valuable testing grounds for possible future careers. Faculty may suggest opportunities; students may discover possibilities themselves; and the Rosemarie Sena Center also can help. Normally students must be in good academic standing in order to engage in an internship. A student must complete the internship application prior to beginning the internship, including all necessary approvals. Failure to follow this process may result in not receiving credit for the experience.

Internship credit is added to a student’s record the semester in which it is completed. In all cases, academic credit is awarded for experiential learning only if the experience produces work that can be evaluated by the supervising professor. Unless otherwise specified by the discipline, all internships are taken on a Pass/No Credit basis. Students must do a minimum of 50 clock hours of work on-site to earn one semester hour of academic credit. No more than 15 semester hours of internship credit may be applied toward the graduation requirement of 126.

The student may register for experiential work as either a pre-professional experience or as a general career exploratory experience. A pre-professional level internship is designated EXPL 387, where EXPL is the acronym for the discipline (e.g., BIOL 387). A career exploratory internship is designated EXPL 287. Internships at the 387 level count toward the major requirements. Internships at the 287 level may apply to the major at the discretion of the faculty in the major discipline.

Students who are off-campus due to participation in experiential learning must assume responsibility for any additional costs of housing, meals, and transportation. Further information about internships may be obtained from the Rosemarie Sena Center.

Summer Study

During the summer break, students in the Residential College for Women may enroll in courses offered online, during ADP Summer Week on campus, in MBC Regional Centers, and in directed inquiries and internships that require direct supervision by Mary Baldwin on-campus faculty. Students are billed separately for summer courses. and must abide by the policies and deadlines of the Adult Degree Program.

Teaching Assistantships

During any term, qualified students may assist in the instruction of courses with the approval of the professor in charge. Tasks involve preparation of class materials, tutoring, teaching, and/or research. To register for Teaching Assistantship 380, students must submit an application form, available from the registrar’s office. Credit for teaching assistantships is based on a minimum of 39 clock hours of work for each hour of credit. Students must have taken the course in which they are assisting or its equivalent.

Academic Standards

Academic Classification Standards/Satisfactory Progress

Academic classification after the freshman year is defined as a level of academic accomplishment in terms of semester hours earned.

<table>

<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Sophomore</td>
<td>27</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Junior</td>
<td>58</td>
</tr>
<tr>

Academic Honors

Honors and Dean’s Lists: To be eligible for the honors or Dean’s List — which are compiled at the end of each official grading period — a student must be a degree candidate and must have earned a minimum of 12 semester hours of credit for the preceding grading period. Of that total, at least nine semester hours must have been on a regular-graded basis. There can be no grades below C. Only work done with Mary Baldwin faculty is applicable. In addition to meeting the above requirements, the following grade point averages must have been attained during the preceding grading period: Honors List: 3.75 or better, Dean’s List: 3.50–3.74

Global Honors Scholars: A student who has achieved a cumulative GPA of 3.5 or higher in at least 24 semester hours of graded work at Mary Baldwin College will be invited to apply to the Global Honors Scholars Program. Students accepted into the honors program are expected to pursue an Honors Degree (requirements listed below). Students may also enter the honors program as freshmen on the basis of SAT scores, overall high school records, written applications, and interviews. To continue in the program, all Global Honors Scholars are required to sustain their academic excellence. Freshmen must achieve a minimum 3.25 in the first semester, a 3.3 cumulative GPA after the second semester, a 3.4 after the third semester, and 3.5 cumulative GPA in subsequent semesters. All other Global Honors Scholars must maintain a 3.5 cumulative GPA.

Honors Degree: The Honors Degree is awarded to a Global Honor Scholar upon successful completion of all phases of the Honors Program. Applications for candidacy for the Honors Degree must be submitted to the Honor Scholars Committee by November 1 of the student’s senior year (March 1 for January graduates). To be eligible as a candidate for the Honors Degree, a student must be designated as an Honor Scholar for at least three semesters, complete at least one year of foreign language courses and at least one lab science, currently hold a cumulative GPA of 3.5 or higher, and must have earned nine semester hours of Honors credit through Honors courses and/or Honors contracts. Upon application, the student must submit a proposal for an independent honors project or thesis. The project or thesis must be subject to close supervision of a faculty member and must be approved by an interdisciplinary examining committee. Final approval for award of the Honors Degree is made by the dean of the college on the recommendation of the Global Honors Scholars Committee. Students who complete an Honors Degree will have the citation “Honors Degree” inscribed on their diplomas.

Rank in Class is determined by grade point average. Grade points are given only for work done on the regular graded basis. The college does not officially rank students.

Senior Requirement with Distinction: Students whose work for the senior requirement shows exceptional merit as judged by the members of discipline(s) involved will have the citation “With Distinction” inscribed on their transcripts and diplomas.

Graduation with Latin Honors: The honors designations of summa cum laude, magna cum laude, and cum laude will be inscribed on the diplomas of students of outstanding achievement in accordance with criteria established by the faculty.

Students who have earned greater than or equal to 50 credit hours but less than 66 credit hours at MBC:
- Summa cum laude. Cumulative GPA greater than or equal to 3.94.
- Magna cum laude. Cumulative GPA greater than or equal to 3.88 but less than 3.94.
• Cum laude. Cumulative GPA greater than or equal to 3.7 but less than 3.88.

Students who have earned 66 or more credit hours at MBC:
• Summa cum laude. Cumulative GPA greater than or equal to 3.9
• Magna cum laude. Cumulative GPA greater than or equal to 3.8 but less than 3.9.
• Cum laude: Cumulative GPA greater than or equal to 3.6 but less than 3.8.

Academic Probation
Students may be placed on academic probation if their GPA falls below the levels outlined below:

<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>

<td>1.95</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Senior standing</td>
<td>2.00</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Probation Procedures and Rules:
• A student on probation (and dependent student’s parents, where applicable) is notified in writing of the improvements necessary.
• RCW students on academic probation may take no more than 13 semester hours of credit in a semester, excluding May Term. Physical education is excluded from these limits.
• ADP students on academic probation may take no more than seven semester hours of credit in a semester, excluding physical education courses.
• RCW students on probation are required to meet with the dean of the college (or his/her designee) periodically to review progress and may be required to meet other special provisions.
• ADP students on probation may be required to consult with their advisor or meet other special provisions.

Academic Suspension and Dismissal
Students may be suspended if their GPAs fall below the standards specified below. Residential College for Women students must also have been on probation for one term immediately preceding suspension and have failed to meet the requirements outlined during the term of probation. ADP students must have been on academic probation for one full year without showing significant improvement. A student who is suspended may not re-enroll before a year has elapsed. After one year the student desiring to re-enroll must apply through the Admissions or ADP office and must provide evidence that the problems that led to suspension have been mastered. Readmission is not automatic. Students may appeal a suspension decision and subsequent to a student’s appeal the college may, at its sole discretion, allow the student to return on probation.

Suspension Below Cumulative GPA:

</tr>
</tbody>

Suspension for Other Academic Deficiencies: If at the end of the junior year the student has not satisfied the math competency requirement, the Scholastic Standing Committee may recommend to the dean of the college that she be suspended. Transfer students may be suspended at the end of two semesters of full-time study if they fall below suspension GPA level for their class and were warned following the first semester of study. Provisionally accepted freshmen may be suspended on the recommendation of the student’s advisor and the Scholastic Standing Committee if the GPA falls below 2.0 at the end of the freshman year.

Summary Suspension: Pending action of the Judicial Board, Honor Council, other administrative body, or civil courts, the status of a student should not be altered or her right to be present on campus and to attend classes suspended except for reasons relating to the safety and well-being of students, faculty or college property. If such a threat to safety and well-being exists, the dean of students may summarily suspend the student until resolution by the appropriate body is achieved.

Dismissal: A student readmitted following a suspension will be dismissed if the student’s work requires academic probation and the student has made unacceptable progress toward raising her GPA to the required levels. Dismissal means that Mary Baldwin College will not consider the student for readmission.

American Studies
Edmund Potter, program director
Gordon Bowen, Kristen Egan, Catharine O’Connell, Susan Stearns, Amy Tillerson, Laura Van Assendelft, Abigail Wightman

American Studies is an interdisciplinary field that focuses on the study of the cultures of the United States, including transnational, global, and comparative perspectives. Through requirements that span history, the social sciences, literature, art, and music, the American Studies program encourages students to cross disciplinary boundaries, thus exposing them to differing perspectives on American culture. Students majoring in American Studies choose one of the concentrations. Their academic work culminates in an interdisciplinary thesis tied to their chosen concentration. Students can earn a major, minor, or certificate in American Studies.

Requirements for the Major in American Studies
39 semester hours (18 s.h. of required courses and 21 s.h. in a concentration)

One of the following: HIST 265, HIST 266, or ENG 264
One of the following: POLS 100, POLS 101, or POLS 200

Note: Students interested in American Studies must meet with the director to plan and organize a focused program of study within any concentration.

Concentrations
Courses in a concentration may not double count with those selected for the requirements. For any concentration, a student may, with the written permission of the director, substitute an appropriate course not on the approved list for one of the courses in the concentration.

One of the following: HIST 111, HIST 112, or POLS 100
One of the following: ENG 264, HIST 265, HIST 266, or SPAN 227

Civic Engagement Opportunities
Students in American Studies have multiple opportunities to be involved in their communities. Students in the education concentration work on projects in local schools; students interested in race and ethnicity partner with community organizations serving diverse populations; and the proximity of the Woodrow Wilson Presidential Library and the Frontier Culture Museum provide opportunities to students in all concentrations within American Studies.

American Studies Course Descriptions
230 Introduction to American Studies: “The Land of the Free”
(3 s.h.)
American Studies 230 introduces students to the interdisciplinary field of American Studies by focusing on one central and important question in American cultural history: the idea and ideal of freedom. In exploring this topic, the course examines the paradox and tragedy of race slavery in the United States, among other subjects. Readings include a variety of primary sources such as novels, sermons, political tracts, letters, speeches, autobiography, film, and works of art.

400 Senior Thesis (3 s.h.)
An examination of the research methods used in American Studies and their specific application to a research problem. Students prepare and defend a seminar paper or unit of study during the course. Research theme varies from year to year.

Anthropology
Abigail Wightman, coordinator

Anthropology is the study of the human experience, divided into four main subfields — cultural anthropology, linguistic anthropology, physical anthropology, and archaeology. The anthropology program at Mary Baldwin College provides an introduction to all four subfields but focuses most extensively on cultural anthropology. As the study of contemporary human societies, cultural anthropology attempts to describe, understand, and explain cultural practices in all human communities, including our own.

One of the following: AS/REL 212, AS 242, AS 244, AS 246, AS 247, AS 248, AS 251, AS 253, AS 257, AS 270, FREN 262, FREN 255, POLS 249

Civic Engagement Opportunities
ANTH/SOC majors will find civic engagement opportunities within Sociology, especially SOC 282. Majors are particularly encouraged to seek out global engagement opportunities, particularly study abroad and anthropological field schools. Along with ANTH/SOC faculty, the Spencer Center can help students find appropriate opportunities.

Anthropology Course Descriptions

120 Cultural Anthropology (3 s.h.)
An introduction to the study of humans as culture-bearing beings. Through readings, films, lectures, and discussions students come to an understanding of the extent of human cultural diversity. Using societies from around the world as examples, students will study cultural practices and beliefs regarding marriage, kinship, family life, uses of technology, religion, political organization and social stratification.

121 Physical Anthropology and Archaeology (3 s.h.)
An introduction to the physical history of the human species by studying our closest living primate relatives and analyzing fossil remains of early hominids. Students then study the evolution of human culture from the origins of humankind to the beginnings of the first literate civilizations in the Old and New Worlds. The course concludes by looking at physical variation, including the concept of race, in contemporary human populations.

202 Women, Gender, and Culture (3 s.h.)
Explores the relationship between gender, culture, and women’s status in communities around the world. Students will examine the relationship between “sex” and “gender,” evaluate cross-cultural variations of women’s roles and status, be exposed to differing constructions of gender and sexuality, and gain a greater appreciation of the influence of systems of power, such as race and colonialism, on women’s lives.

208 Medical Anthropology (3 s.h.)
Explores the ways in which culture influences the definition and treatment of diseases in communities around the world. Students will be exposed to such topics as the difference between disease and illness, the influence of disease on human populations throughout history, ethnomedicine, the relationship between culture and Western biomedicine, culture-bound syndromes, social suffering, and stigma.

212 Indigenous Peoples of North America (3 s.h.)
An introduction to the cultural diversity of North American indigenous peoples and the relationship between U.S. tribal communities and the federal government. Through readings that tie specific tribal communities to larger issues, we will explore the effects of federal policies on indigenous communities, sovereignty and land rights, Indian activism, and contemporary issues such as language revitalization, identity, and reservation poverty.

220 Language and Culture (3 s.h.)
Explores language, a uniquely human capability that makes us different from primates and other animals. Besides introducing students to the basic definitions of language, this course also examines the complex relations between language and other aspects of human behavior and thought. Students will explore the relationship of language to human evolution, culture, social context, identity, power, status, and gender.

227 People, Place and Culture (3 s.h.)
Combines perspectives from two closely related fields, human geography and cultural anthropology, to focus specifically on the relationships between people and the environments in which they live. The course will be organized around four learning nodes — people, places, flows, and maps — that each include more specific learning objectives. We will study how people — including culture, technology, settlement patterns, religion, and language — have been affected by, and continue to affect in turn, the places that we live. We will also study the flows of people, money, cultures, information and objects across space and time. In order to make sense of these global flows and spatial relationships, we will learn how to use and interpret maps.

244 Anthropology of Ritual and Symbol (3 s.h.)
Explores the role of symbols — religious, mythic, aesthetic, political, and economic — in social and cultural processes in communities around the world. Students will examine the definition and uses of symbols in all social contexts, including secular and religious rituals, focusing on what symbols and rituals can tell us about the cultures that produce them.

246 Anthropology and Art (3 s.h.)
Emphasizes art in contemporary small-scale societies (sometimes called ethnic art or “primitive art”) and includes a survey of aesthetic productions of major areas throughout the world (Australia, Africa, Oceania, and Native America). We read and discuss such issues as art and cultural identity, tourist arts, anonymity, authenticity, the question of universal aesthetic canons, exhibiting cultures, and the impact of globalization on these arts.

320 Theories of Culture (3 s.h.)
An introduction to the history of cultural anthropology. By reading important pieces of cultural anthropological literature, students will be exposed to the many ways anthropologists have defined “culture” and implemented those definitions in anthropological research. In addition, students will be introduced to significant ethical and philosophical trends within the field, especially as they relate to theories of culture and research design.

400 Senior Seminar (3 s.h.)
Students research a theme or issue of their choice, approved by their thesis supervisor. Students meet for one hour a week of class for directed research and thesis critique. The work culminates in one oral presentation and a finely written research paper, presented to all members of their thesis committee. A required course for the Anthropology/Sociology major.

Arabic
Nasser Alsaadun

Arabic Course Descriptions
101, 102 Beginning Arabic (4 s.h.)
This two-semester sequence is designed for those with little or no Arabic background. The course begins with the basics: learning the alphabet and sounds of Arabic language. Throughout the two semesters, students will develop a basic proficiency in writing, reading, listening, and speaking. 101 offered in the fall semester; 102 in spring semester.

151, 152 Intermediate Arabic (4 s.h.)
This two-semester sequence is designed to continue building the student’s proficiency in speaking, listening, reading, and writing Arabic. At the end of the course, students will have a basic understanding of Arabic and be able to carry on everyday conversations and read schedules, pamphlets, and other texts of moderate difficulty. 151 offered in the fall semester; 152 in spring semester.

Art and Art History
Marlena Hobson, department head

The Department of Art and Art History offers a major and a minor in Art History and a major and a minor in Studio Art. It supports a major in Arts Management with a visual arts emphasis (see that listing) and a minor in Historic Preservation (see that listing), in conjunction with the History Department.

Civic Engagement Opportunities
- Annual visual arts trips to Washington DC and New York City, open to the community
- Regular public lectures by prominent artists, art historians and art critics
- Five professional exhibitions a year in the college’s art gallery, open to the public
- Required or recommended internships through our academic majors
- Renaissance Studies in Italy, our biannual international studies program in art history
- The 11@250 Project, an ongoing series of studio-based workshops and exhibitions that explore issues of community, communication, and collaboration
- Varied collaborative projects that involve other organizations and institutions, including student exchange exhibitions with other colleges
- Art and art history faculty lectures and service at community organizations
- Exploring civic engagement through class projects and assignments

Studio Art
Jim Sconyers, Jr., studio art coordinator
Shay Clanton, Theresa Rollison, Nancy Ross, Paul Ryan, Martha Saunders

The studio art curriculum at Mary Baldwin promotes a process-oriented and creative practice of the language of visual form, where an emphasis is placed upon art making as a thoughtful exploration of ideas. Students learn the following: perceptual skills, analytical and critical competence, and technical skills related to specific media, the importance of process, creative problem solving, various means of artistic conceptualization, and the context of historical and contemporary art. Because of the importance of process and sequential learning in the visual arts, students desiring to major in studio art are encouraged to take foundation courses — ART 109, ART 110, ART 111, and one of the 100-level art history courses — during their freshman year. This will put them on the optimal learning track in the major. Students who plan to qualify for a teaching license with certification in art education should complete the studio art major. Courses specific to endorsement are listed at the end of the studio art courses.

Requirements for the Major in Studio Art
39 semester hours
Each area of emphasis requires the following courses in addition to the requirements listed below:
ART 109
ART 110
ART 111
One 200- or 300-level ARTH
Two of the following: ARTH 101, ARTH 102, or ARTH 103

Note: For studio art majors ART 305 and ART 310 do not fulfill the requirements in art history; however, they can be selected to fulfill the total semester hours required in the major. ART 305 is strongly recommended for Studio Art majors. With planning it is possible to have two areas of emphasis, which is recommended for students considering graduate school.

Studio Art Course Descriptions

109 Fundamentals of Art and Design I (3 s.h.)
Required for studio art majors. A practical exploration of the basic elements and principles of art and design. ART 109 and ART 110 establish a foundation for effective communication through the language of visual form. Problems are addressed primarily through black and white media. If possible, ART 109 should be taken before ART 110, but the two courses do not have to be taken sequentially. Materials fee.

110 Fundamentals of Art and Design II (3 s.h.)
Required for studio art majors. Color theory, color organization and an introduction to selected three dimensional design elements, aspects of sequential art and various processes of conceptualization. If possible, ART 109 should be taken before ART 110, but the two courses do not have to be taken sequentially. Materials fee.

111 Drawing I (3 s.h.)
Required for studio art majors. For students who have had little or no experience in art as well as those whose abilities have already been developed in high school programs. A basic-level course emphasizing perceptual skills of drawing, expressiveness and composition. Various media are explored. Materials fee.

112 Painting I (3 s.h.)
Drawing experience helpful but not required. An introduction to the basics of painting, emphasizing composition, value, and color. Materials fee.

113 Introduction to Watercolor (3 s.h.)
An exploration of traditional and experimental techniques in watercolor. Students will work from still life, the model, and the landscape. Materials fee.

114 Ceramics I (3 s.h.)
Basic instruction in clay through various hand building and wheel-throwing techniques and glazing options. Historical and contemporary perspectives on clay will be explored through different projects. Also included will be concepts of 3-D design as they pertain to the projects. Materials fee.

115 Photography I (3 s.h.)
An introduction to technical and aesthetic issues of black and white photography (silver-gelatine printing), with an emphasis on using the medium for personal and creative expression. Includes a series of assignments designed to increase understanding of basic camera operation, darkroom techniques, and artistic problem solving. Requires 35mm camera with manually adjustable aperture and shutter speed. Materials fee.

116 Pinhole Photography (3 s.h.)
The objective of this course is to build a foundation of knowledge about black and white pinhole photography as a creative artistic medium. Materials fee.

119 Introduction to Video Production (3 s.h.)
For course description, see FILM 119 in the Film listing.

120 Printmaking I (3 s.h.)
Designed as an introduction to materials and techniques. Emphasis is given to monotype, lithography, and intaglio. Digital photography techniques are also taught. Students gain a working knowledge of printmaking processes. Materials fee.

140 Materials as Metaphors (3 s.h.)
Students explore various ways that existing materials and objects — both artificial and natural — can be used to create narratives and/or metaphors. Whether the student is primarily interested in painting, drawing, printmaking, photography, or working three-dimensionally, the course will serve to expand her visual and conceptual vocabulary. Materials fee.

211 Drawing II (3 s.h.)
This course expands the student’s concept and practice of drawing. Representational and abstract subjects are explored, emphasizing perception, composition, and process. Figure drawing is covered as well as drawing with color and mixed media. Conceptual and critical skills are developed. *Prerequisite: ART 111 or permission of the instructor. Materials fee.

212 Painting II (3 s.h.)
Providing experience in painting from the still life and model, and exploring issues relating to abstraction, this course encourages further development of technical and critical skills. It also introduces the student to different painting languages. *Prerequisite: ART 112 or permission of instructor. Materials fee.

214 Ceramics II (3 s.h.)
Focus will be on continued growth on the potter’s wheel. Also included are projects in glaze-mixing and different firing techniques. Sculptural interpretation of projects is encouraged. In-depth look at certain periods of ceramic development. *Prerequisites: ART 110 and ART 114. Materials fee.

215 Photography II (3 s.h.)
The objective of this course is to build upon the student’s knowledge of black and white photography as a creative artistic medium. The course places equal emphasis on deepening understanding of photography as a medium with unique aesthetic and physical qualities as well as building technical proficiency. The course will consist of PowerPoint lectures, student presentations, class discussions and critiques, along with technical instruction. *Prerequisite: ART 115. Materials fee.

217 Fundamentals of Graphic Design I (3 s.h.)
This course expands the student’s concept and practice of graphic design. Visual literacy — both oral and written, or on a portfolio of studio work. Emphasis is placed on class discussion and on presentations, critiques and critiques, along with technical instruction.

218 Fundamentals of Graphic Design II (3 s.h.)
A continuation of ART 217, this course focuses on combining imagery with typography to create rich graphic artifacts. Students concentrate on manipulating the interpretation of their work. There is an emphasis on the history of design and contemporary professional ethics. *Prerequisites: ART 110 and ART 217. Materials fee and external hard drive (250 GB min).

220 Printmaking II (3 s.h.)
An introduction to the process and techniques of screen printing (silkscreen). *Prerequisite: ART 120 or permission of instructor. Materials fee.

277 Topics in Art (1-3 s.h.)
Topics courses focus on specialized methods or topics in art, such as theory, art criticism, media, intensive analysis of a specialized period of art history, or areas of interest beyond the usual scope of departmental course offerings. Enrollment is limited. Interests of the students and faculty determine the topic. Emphasis is placed on class discussion and on presentations, both oral and written, or on a portfolio of studio work.

305 Postmodernism and Contemporary Art (3 s.h.)
This course provides students with a general understanding of postmodernism and the visual art of their own era. Explores artists, ideas, and movements from the 1970s to the present, enables appreciation of the pluralistic, interdisciplinary, and complex nature of the contemporary art world. Assigned readings, discussion, student reports, slide lectures, films, field trips to museums and galleries. Designed for art majors and for others with an interest in contemporary culture. Note: For Studio Art majors, this course does not fulfill the requirements in Art History, but it can be selected to fulfill the total semester hours required in the major. *Prerequisite: ARTH 103 or permission of instructor.

310 Issues in Contemporary Art Criticism (3 s.h.)
This course examines significant ideas and issues in contemporary visual art theory and art criticism since the 1950s: formalism; modernism vs. postmodernism; pluralism; feminism and multiculturalism in the visual arts; deconstruction; and the end of the avant-garde. Selected essays by critics and theorists will be studied and discussed. Note: For Studio Art majors, this course does not fulfill the requirements in Art History, but it can be selected to fulfill the total semester hours required in the major. *Prerequisite: ARTH 103 or permission of instructor.

311 Drawing III (3 s.h.)
Attention is given to contemporary concepts and to helping the student develop an individual direction in drawing. Further development of technical and critical skills is encouraged. *Prerequisite: ART 211. Materials fee.

312 Painting III (3 s.h.)
The purpose of this course is to help the student begin to find her own artistic voice as a painter, as well as to continue developing technical, conceptual, and critical skills. *Prerequisite: ART 212. Materials fee.

314 Ceramics III (3 s.h.)
Students will explore a variety of advanced throwing and hand-building techniques, glaze formulation, and firing methods. Students will be encouraged to begin to develop a personal style, including sculptural expression. Students will participate in the operation of the ceramic studio in preparation for having their own studios. *Prerequisites: ART 112, and ART 214. Materials fee.

315 Photography III (3 s.h.)
This course provides a structured framework in which the student can pursue digital photography. The course consists of Photoshop workshops, traditional and alternative printing techniques, class discussions, and critique. *Prerequisite: ART 215 or permission of instructor. Materials fee.

317 Advanced Studies in Graphic Design I (3 s.h.)
This course helps the students’ abilities to achieve creative and aesthetic solutions to actual design problems while learning critical professional skills. Design for publication is taught through case study projects. There is an emphasis on pitching ideas, presentation skills, and collaborative processes. *Prerequisites: ART 111 and ART 218. Materials fee and external hard drive (250 GB min).

318 Advanced Studies in Graphic Design II (3 s.h.)
In this course, students refine their unique design point-of-view while preparing a portfolio and promotional kit for use upon graduation. Topical lectures expose students to important components of professional design. The semester concludes with a formal portfolio review featuring guest critics. *Prerequisite: ART 317. Materials fee and external hard drive (250 GB min).

320 Printmaking III (3 s.h.)
Designed to guide students toward a more independent course work structure. Exploration of expressive potential is emphasized. Students choose the printmaking processes they would like to pursue and create a cohesive suite of prints. Further development of technical and critical skills is encouraged. *Prerequisite: ART 220. Materials fee.

387 Internship(s) (3 s.h.)
Students are offered a variety of possibilities for hands-on experience in the fields of graphic design or arts management. Internships may occur either in or outside of Staunton. Experience will vary depending on the type of firm and the kinds of projects currently being produced in that firm. Arranged on an individual basis.

401 Senior Project in Painting (3 s.h.)
The senior project in studio art is regarded as the culmination of the major. Affording the opportunity for independent scholarship and creative work, the project is an important and exciting step that will help prepare the student for professional activity and/or graduate work. The student is expected to produce and present for exhibition a cohesive body of work that represents serious investigation of a theme or specific idea. May be repeated for credit. Materials fee.

403 Senior Project in Graphic Design (3 s.h.)
For course description, see ART 401. Materials fee.

404 Senior Project in Ceramics (3 s.h.)
For course description, see ART 401. Materials fee.

405 Senior Project in Drawing (3 s.h.)
For course description, see ART 401. Materials fee.

406 Senior Project in Printmaking (3 s.h.)
For course description, see ART 401. Materials fee.

407 Senior Project in Extended Media (3 s.h.)
For course description, see ART 401. Materials fee.

408 Senior Project in Photography (3 s.h.)
For course description, see ART 401. Materials fee.

Note: Directed Inquiries, teaching assistantships, and internships in studio art and studio art-related areas can be arranged individually.

Art Education Course Descriptions

It is strongly recommended that students planning a career in art education, in addition to fulfilling the requirements of their selected emphasis in the studio art major, extend their study with courses offering experience in different media, often required for art educators. For example, a student with a studio art major and a painting emphasis should also take ART 114, ART 214, ART 217, and perhaps ART 115.

125 Introduction to Art Education (3 s.h.)
The prospective teacher is introduced to theoretical concepts concerning the major developmental stages of children’s art. Practical art projects are included. This course is required for prospective teachers seeking the K–12 art education endorsement. Materials fee.

Art History

Sara James, coordinator
Marlena Hobson, Allan Moyé, Edmund Potter

The art history curriculum introduces students to historical inquiry, an understanding of the various styles and movements in art, theory of art, and the interpretation of art in the context of time, place, and purpose. Students learn terminology, research methods, develop skills in organization, critical and logical thinking, and writing, and learn that art of the past is relevant today.

Art History Course Descriptions

ARTH 101 Survey of Western Art: The Ancient World (3 s.h.)
Introductory slide-lecture survey course orients students to the principles of art, modes of expression and thematic content. The arts of the ancient world, prehistory through Byzantium, are considered in an historical context. Major monuments illustrate the influence of culture, social and religious organizations, and the events of history. ARTH 101, ARTH 102 and ARTH 103 may be taken in any sequence or in part.

ARTH 102 Survey of Western Art: Medieval and Renaissance Worlds (3 s.h.)
Introductory slide-lecture survey course orients the student to the principles of art, modes of expression and thematic content. Medieval and Renaissance art are considered in a historical context. Major monuments illustrate the influence of culture, social and religious organizations, and the events of history. ARTH 101, ARTH 102 and ARTH 103 may be taken in any sequence or in part.

ARTH 103 Survey of Western Art: The Modern World (3 s.h.)
Introductory slide-lecture survey course orients the student to the principles of art, modes of expression and thematic content. Baroque through Modern art (17th through 20th century) is considered in a historical context. Major monuments illustrate the influence of culture, social and religious organizations, and the events of history. ARTH 101, ARTH 102 and ARTH 103 may be taken in any sequence or in part.

ARTH 202 Early Renaissance Art in Italy (3 s.h.)
Art in the thirteenth through and fifteenth centuries in Italy developed from a rapidly evolving civilization that would lay the foundations for modern Western civilization: the rebirth of classicism and humanistic studies, and a greater interest in naturalism, scientific precision, and the dignity of mankind, apparent in the works of artists such as Giotto, Masaccio, Donatello, Piero della Francesca, Botticelli, and Brunelleschi. Art and civic, private, and religious projects are addressed in the context of patronage, religion, culture, politics, and shifts in artistic practices. Students develop critical skills through analysis and research. Alternates in spring semester with ARTH 203. Either course is a prerequisite for ARTH 343 (Renaissance Studies in Italy). Strongly recommended background: ARTH 102.

ARTH 203 High Renaissance Art in Italy (3 s.h.)
The quest for greater naturalism, classicism, and science in fifteenth and sixteenth century Italy culminated in the harmonious balance evident in the art and architecture of Leonardo, Raphael, Alberti Bramante, Michelangelo, Titian, and Palladio, and would influence all of Western civilization. Art and civic, private, and religious projects are addressed in the context of noble and papal patronage, humanistic studies, culture, politics, and the changing religious climate. Students develop critical skills through analysis and research. Alternates in spring semester with ARTH 202. Either course is a prerequisite for ARTH 343 (Renaissance Studies in Italy). Strongly recommended background: ARTH 102.

ARTH 204 Latin-American Art After Cortez (3 s.h.)
A survey of contemporary Latin-American art, its relationship to pre-Columbian aesthetics, and the encounter of indigenous art with European traditions from the Colonial through the Modern period.

ARTH 205 19th-Century Art (3 s.h.)
A study of important movements in the visual arts, from Neoclassicism to Post-Impressionism and Modernism. Recommended background: ARTH 103.

ARTH 206 History of Photography (3 s.h.)
A survey of the history and evolution of still photography and the consideration of photography as an art form.

ARTH 207 Art History Studies Abroad: Seminar (1 s.h.)
This course prepares the students for abroad programs. Students meet weekly at a mutually convenient time to help plan activities for the trip, settle on oral presentation topics, discuss assigned readings, contemporary culture, and issues of art and culture. The class is limited to, and required for, students who have been accepted into Renaissance Studies in Italy (ARTH 343) or Studies on Site (ARTH 210). Recommended background: ARTH 102. *Co-requisite: ARTH 202, ARTH 203, or another preparatory class.

ARTH 208 History of Furniture (3 s.h.)
An introductory survey of the history of world furniture from ancient to modern times. The student will be introduced to the historical development and stylistic evolution of furniture styles, forms, and characteristics within the context of Western Europe and the United States.

ARTH 209 Pre-Columbian Art and Architecture: from the Olmec to the Aztec (3 s.h.)
A survey of the art and architecture of the ancient civilizations of Pre-Columbian Mesoamerica, from the period of the Olmec through the Aztec empire. Students will study the ideology, artistic characteristics, and chronology of Pre-Columbian Mesoamerica.

210 Studies on Site (3 s.h.)
Students with strong background, love of art and/or history may apply for Studies on Site. A small group travels to study art in locations that vary from year to year. Group discussions, oral presentations, writing, flexibility and congeniality are important. Extra charge covers room, board, transportation, museum entrance fees, most meals. Applications due with deposit by November 1; notification of acceptance by November 10. *Prerequisites: Two relevant ARTH courses. ARTH 207 may be required to be taken simultaneously.

211, 311 Baroque Art: The 17th Century in Europe (3 s.h.)
An in-depth study of painting, sculpture, architecture, and urban planning of 17th-century Europe and the culture in which it thrived. The art will be studied in the context of political and religious movements, including the Counter Reformation and the rise of Protestantism, global exploration, scientific discoveries, and commercial trade. Students develop critical skills through analysis, both verbal and written, and through in-depth research projects. *Prerequisite: ARTH 102 or ARTH 103.

216, 316 Northern Renaissance Art (3 s.h.)
A study of painting, manuscript illumination, iconography, decorative arts, and architecture in the Netherlands, Flanders, France, Burgundy, Germany, and England in the 14th through the 16th centuries. Art is studied in the context of patronage, culture, humanism, events in Italy, and the onset of the Protestant Reformation. Students develop critical skills through analysis, and through research projects. ARTH 316 requires a larger research project. *Prerequisite: ARTH 102.

221 Women in the Visual Arts (3 s.h.)
Study of the role of selected women in the history and evolution of art from the medieval era to the present. Emphasis on art of the 19th and 20th centuries. Traditional and feminist perspectives will be examined. Recommended background: ARTH 103.

222 History of American Art and Architecture (3 s.h.)
A survey of the arts in America, including architecture, sculpture, and painting, from the Colonial period to the present. Cross listed as HIST 222.

226 Historic Preservation (3 s.h.)
For course description, see HISP 226 in the Historic Preservation listing.

232 Classical Art: Greece and Rome in Antiquity (3 s.h.)
An introduction to the painting, sculpture, decorative arts and crafts, architecture, and urban planning of Greece and Rome. Differences between civilizations, even cities, will be addressed, as well as the important continuities which tie the art together. The art will be studied in terms of its social, political and religious context. Recommended background: ARTH 101 or INT 213D.

234 Philosophy and the Arts (3 s.h.)
For course description, see PHIL 234 in the Philosophy listing.

238 The Age of Cathedrals East and West (3 s.h.)
This course traces medieval buildings and related arts in Western and Eastern Europe from the Age of Constantine through the Gothic period (300-1400 A.D.) Students learn the visual characteristics of medieval art, as well as an understanding of how works of art, especially ones for public use, reflect the aesthetic and social values of the societies that produced them. Recommended background: ARTH 102.

254 Film Analysis (3 s.h.)
For course description, see FILM 254 in the Film listing.

277 Topics in Art History (1-3 s.h.)
Topics courses focus on specialized methods or topics in art, such as theory, art criticism, media, intensive analysis of a specialized period of art history, or areas of interest beyond the usual scope of departmental course offerings.

302 Modern Art before 1945: From Cézanne to Gorky (3 s.h.)
This course examines the successive movements in the visual arts during the first half of the twentieth century. *Prerequisite: ARTH 103.

303 Modern Art after 1945: From Abstract Expressionism to Postmodernism (3 s.h.)
This course examines the history of western artists and movements from 1945 to 1970. Topics include the New York School, Postwar Europe, Pop Art, and Minimalism. *Prerequisite: ARTH 103.

314 Art in England (3 s.h.)
This course is a chronological, stylistic analysis of art, architecture, and book illumination, focusing especially on the art and architecture that Shakespeare and his contemporaries would have known. This course, taken for undergraduate credit, cross-lists with REN 607, for which there are additional requirements. *Prerequisite: ENG 208, HIST 241, or ARTH 102.

343 Renaissance Studies in Italy (3 s.h.)
Must enroll simultaneously in ARTH 207. Students with strong background and love of art and/or history may apply. They travel with a specialist to study art on site in Italy; itineraries vary. Group discussions, oral presentation skills, writing, flexibility, and congeniality are important. An extra charge covers room, board, transportation, museum entrance fees, most meals. Applications due with a deposit by November 1; notification of acceptance by November 10. *Prerequisites: 6 hours in ARTH including either ARTH 202 or ARTH 203, and either ART 102 or a course approved by the instructor.

400 Senior Project in Art History (3 s.h.)
A yearlong course, earning 1.5 semester hours per semester. In preparation for this course, art history and arts management students select a research project during the junior year that must be appropriate to the major and background of the individual student. The project must be approved by the art history faculty, and is carried out in fall and spring semesters of the senior year.
Arts Management
Art coordinator: Sara James
Music coordinator: Lise Keiter
Theatre coordinator: Theresa K. Southerington

The arts management major provides the student whose field of interest is art, music, or theatre with skills in management appropriate for positions in arts organizations or for graduate study in arts management.

Requirements for the Major in Arts Management
45 semester hours
BUAD 200
BUAD 208

Required courses for area of concentration, as noted below
One course in each of the other two concentrations

Note: ECON 102 is strongly recommended, especially for students planning to pursue graduate studies in business.

Concentration in Art
21 semester hours
Two of the following: ARTH 101, ARTH 102, or ARTH 103
Three ARTH courses at the 200 level or above
ARTM 340
INT 103
One course in studio art
ARTH 400

Note: ENG 251 Technical and Professional Writing is encouraged but not required.

Concentration in Music
21 semester hours
MUS 100
MUS 111
At least 12 semester hours of music electives, including at least two three-credit music courses at the 200 level
MUS 402

Note: A music minor is recommended for this concentration.

Concentration in Theatre
21 semester hours
THEA 114 or THEA 115
THEA 101 or THEA 208
One course in theatre literature or history
One course in theatre techniques
Two additional theatre courses
THEA 401

Arts Management Course Descriptions

340 Museum Studies (3 s.h.)
The course is designed to introduce the student in history or art history to the history, purpose, and operation of museums, based on the four functions that define a museum: acquisition, preservation, exhibition, and interpretation of objects. Introduction to museum governance, management, financing, including the not-for-profit status, personnel, public relations, auxiliary services, and ethics are also considered.

387, 388 Internship(s) (3 s.h.)
Students gain hands-on experience in museum work, arts organizations, and communications organizations on campus or in the area. Summer internships elsewhere are strongly encouraged. Students gain experience in areas such as museum work, public relations, exhibitions, researching, cataloging, and theatre operations. One internship is required; a second may be taken as an elective. Arranged individually.

400 Senior Project
For course description, see ARTH 400, THEA 401, or MUS 402 in its respective department listing.

Asian Studies
Daniel A. Métraux, department head
Rie Tanaka, Amy Miller

Asian Studies is an interdisciplinary major that emphasizes a broad cultural, political, economic, and historical perspective of Asia including the Middle East. Varied courses in related disciplines allow students to understand Asia as a part of the emerging global community. Students are strongly encouraged to participate in the college’s programs at Doshisha Women’s College in Kyoto, Japan for a semester each fall, or for a semester or more at Tokyo Jogakkan, Soka University or at Kansai Gaidai in Japan, Sungshin Women’s University in Seoul, Korea, or at another recognized institution in Asia. Language and Asian studies courses taken abroad may be included in the major.

Mary Baldwin College offers a major and a minor in Asian studies. Students may delve deeply into Japanese language and culture and study in Japan or elsewhere in Asia for as long as one academic year. Arabic and Japanese language courses can be found in their appropriate listings. There is no Japanese language major or minor.

Requirements for the Major in Asian Studies
38 semester hours
JPNS 151 and JPNS 152 or Arabic 151 and Arabic 152 or 6 s.h. of another Asian language at the intermediate level or above. See Note below.
AS 106
AS 212
ANTH 120
ANTH 220
AS 400

Students may substitute one of the following for the courses listed above: BUAD 305, ECON 253, ECON 254, INT 240, POLS 215, or AS 287/387
At least 3 s.h. academic credit for one of the following:
• Enroll in a recognized college in Asia for at least one semester
• Complete an internship in Asia or with an Asian company in the United States
• Participate in AS 200 or another approved study travel course in Asia

Senior Requirement: Satisfactory completion of AS 400.

Note: Students who are unable to study in Asia must take an additional Asian Studies or related course in consultation with the Department Chair.

Native speakers of an Asian language
A student may substitute another major Asian language for Japanese or Arabic by demonstrating competence in that language. However, a person who is a native speaker of an Asian language, or who has achieved at least an intermediate level knowledge of an Asian language, and who elects not to take at least six semester hours of an Asian language at Mary Baldwin College or elsewhere must take up to two additional courses or one additional course and an internship in Asia or with an Asian-related company in the U.S.

Requirements for the Minor in Asian Studies
21 semester hours
AS 106 or AS/REL 212
18 semester hours of Asian studies courses listed below
Not more than 6 s.h. earned in one of the following three activities:
• An internship in Japan or elsewhere in Asia
• An internship with an Asian company/organization in the United States
• Participate in AS 200, or another travel study course in Asia.

Civic Engagement Opportunities
• Internships with noted international scholars at the Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars
• Teaching practicum in elementary schools in New Zealand
• Local internships through our sister schools in Japan and Korea

Asian Studies Course Descriptions
106 Asian Civilizations (3 s.h.)
Survey history of East Asia, South Asia, and Southeast Asia from early 1600s to present.

200 Introduction to Asia (3 s.h.)
A three- to four-week travel study of historical and cultural sites in Japan, Korea, or elsewhere in Asia.

212 Asian Religions (3 s.h.)
A study of the historical religions and philosophies of India, China, and Japan. Cross listed as REL 212.

244 Modern Middle East (3 s.h.)
Modern political, economic, and cultural history of Middle East from 1800 to present. In-depth studies of Egypt, Israel-Palestine, Saudi Arabia, Iran, Iraq, Turkey, Pakistan, Afghanistan, and current “War on Terror.” Preceded by a brief study of Islamic and Jewish history civilizations.

246 Modern Japan (3 s.h.)
A study of Japanese cultural, political and economic history from the 19th century. Preceded by a brief introduction to its early history.

247 India and Pakistan (3 s.h.)
Political, economic, and cultural history of British India and India, Pakistan and neighboring regions since the late 1700s, preceded by a brief introduction to Hinduism and Islam.

248 Southeast Asia (3 s.h.)
Modern political, economic, and cultural history of SE Asia with an emphasis on Malaysia-Singapore, Vietnam, the Philippines, Burma, and Cambodia.

250 Traditional China (3 s.h.)
Study of Chinese culture and history through 1644.

251 Asian Women (3 s.h.)
Study of the social, cultural, political, and religious roles of Indian, Chinese, Korean, Middle Eastern, Southeast Asian and Japanese women past and present. Focus on degree of “choice” in the lives of Asian women.

253 Modern China (3 s.h.)
Chinese political, economic, and cultural history from the 17th century to the present with an emphasis on 20th-century developments. Emphasis also on Taiwan.

255 Survey of South Asian Art (3 s.h.)
This course covers the art, architecture, and culture of South Asia. Focus on India and its artistic tradition and its influence in Southeast Asia and the rest of the continent. Recommended background: AS/REL 212 and sophomore standing.

257 The Chinese Century? (3 s.h.)
A study of China’s recent transformation into a major economic and political power. Includes studies of contemporary Chinese society, foreign policy, politics, religion, and culture.

270 Australia and New Zealand (3 s.h.)
Comparative analysis of the history and cultures of Australia and New Zealand including native peoples. Cross listed as SOC 270.

275 Buddhism (3 s.h.)
A study of the teachings of the original Buddha and of the Hinayana (Theravada) and Mahayana schools of Buddhism, followed by analysis of the socio-political role of Buddhism in contemporary Asia. Cross listed as REL 275.

277 Colloquium (1–3 s.h.)
Colloquia are one-time special courses that focus on specialized areas or themes in Asian studies.
278 Hinduism (3 s.h.)
A general introduction to the many distinct yet interrelated religious traditions of South Asia that are labeled “Hinduism.” Study of the development of traditional Hinduism, its evolution in modern times and its socio-political role in contemporary Asia. Cross listed as REL 278.

287, 387 Internship (1–3 s.h.)
An internship in Japan or elsewhere in Asia, or with an Asian-related company or organization in the United States.

320 Peacemaking: Gandhi and Nonviolence (3 s.h.)
For course description, see PHIL 320 in the Philosophy listing.

400 Senior Requirement (3 s.h.)
A required course for Asian studies majors, who meet as a class to prepare individual research papers. Weekly sessions guide students through a step-by-step process from introduction of topic to completion of a 25–30 page paper. Students work in a seminar format, discussing as a group the weekly progress of each student.

BIOL 112
BIOL 222
BIOL 224
BIOL 245
BIOL 253 or BIOL 257
BIOL 381
One additional 300-level course
BIOL 400
BIOL 401
CHEM 121
CHEM 122
Additional courses in Biology to total 36 s.h.

Note: If BIOL 148 is used as an elective, BIOL 149 must accompany it, though they need not be taken concurrently.

Requirements for Bachelor of Science in Biology
50-52 semester hours
All of the requirements listed for the BA, plus the following:
Two 200 or 300 level MATH courses and one additional 200 level course applying quantitative reasoning to the sciences, such as PSYC 250.
Two 300-level biology courses in addition to BIOL 381

Senior Requirement: Successful completion of BIOL 381, BIOL 400 and BIOL 401, which includes an oral defense of a written thesis on an original research project.

Biomedical Science Emphasis
The biomedical science emphasis is an interdisciplinary program designed to prepare students for admission to professional schools in the medical sciences, graduate study in fields related to basic science research, or employment in the rapidly growing biotechnology and pharmaceutical industries.

Requirements for the Biomedical Science Emphasis
Minimum 50 semester hours
The requirements for the BA or BS in biology plus 16 elective semester hours selected from: CHEM 221, CHEM 222, PHYS 201, PHYS 202, BIOL 255, BIOL 261, BIOL 264, BIOL 265, BIOL 327, BIOL 328, BIOL 329, BIOL 352, BIOL 354, or BIOL 355
One of the following: ANTH 208, HCA 101, HCA/PHIL 230, HCA 245, HCA 250, PSYC 203, PSYC 210, PSYC 211, PSYC 305, PSYC 307, or SOC 260

Note: Students are encouraged to pursue internships in the biomedical sciences (BIOL 387).

Science Education Emphasis
The science education emphasis, added to a minor in education, prepares students for careers as science educators.

Requirements for the Science Education Emphasis
47 semester hours
The requirements for the BA in biology, including BIOL 257
One of the following: BIOL 141, BIOL 145 or BIOL 148 and BIOL 149, BIOL 150
One of the following: BIOL 253, BIOL 264, or BIOL 265
BIOL 380: serve as a teaching assistant in a lab science

Note: Students also should refer to the requirements for an education minor and for teacher licensure. For more information, see Education and Education — Teacher Licensure.

Requirements for the Minor in Biology
20 semester hours
BIOL 111 or BIOL 112
Three of the following: BIOL 222, BIOL 224, BIOL 245, BIOL 253, or BIOL 257
Additional courses in biology to total 20 semester hours.

Minor in Environmental Policy Analysis
Please see Environmental Policy Analysis

Civic Engagement Opportunities
• Civic engagement contracts with BIOL 151 and BIOL 264/265 by working in local clinics or health services.
• BIOL 145 involves students working with the City of Staunton on the Lewis Creek Watershed Advisory Council to monitor an impaired local waterway.

Biology Course Descriptions

100 The Living World (3 s.h.)
This is a course for non-majors. Students will seek answers to several questions: What should I eat? Why do we run? What do our genes do? How does what we do impact other species? This course will examine these themes through readings, videos, discussions, and oral presentations.
111 Principles of Biology (4 s.h.)
Lecture and lab. The biological sciences as a process of inquiry, with emphasis on general principles including biochemistry, photosynthesis, and cell respiration. Additionally there is an emphasis on genetics, molecular biology, and cell physiology. This course provides the foundation for all other biology courses and is the first course in a two part sequence with BIOL 112.

112 Diversity of Life (4 s.h.)
Lecture and lab. This course is intended to give students an introduction to the great diversity of life on Earth, with emphasis on the body plans, ecology, and evolutionary relationships among organisms. This is the second course in the introductory biology sequence which began with BIOL 111.

120 Nutrition for Health, Fitness, and Sport (3 s.h.)
For course description, see CHEM/BIOL 120 in the Chemistry listing.

141 Field Biology (4 s.h.)
Field course. A detailed study of the plant species growing in local habitats, focusing on how elevation, soils, microclimate, and ecological succession affect vegetation patterns of the region. Students who take this course should like to hike. Offered as needed.

142 Botany in the Field (4 s.h.)
Field course. A detailed study of the plant species growing in local habitats, focusing on how elevation, soils, microclimate, and ecological succession affect vegetation patterns of the region. Students who take this course should like to hike.

145 Freshwater Biology (4 s.h.)
Field and lab course. Two local streams will be studied as part of a long term project linking their chemistry with changes in their plant and animal communities. The emphasis will be on the collection and analysis of water quality data.

148 Environmental Issues (3 s.h.)
The goals of this course are to introduce students to the basic principles of ecology that underlie the major environmental issues of today. This course is particularly appropriate for students interested in the environment that are majoring in business administration, communication, education, and the social sciences. Requires BIOL 149 in order to count toward a Biology major.

149 Environmental Issues Lab (1 s.h.)
Lab course. Students work on a variety of projects dealing with population biology, community structure, and the monitoring of environmental pollution.

150 Field Ornithology (4 s.h.)
Field course. Students study the biology, ecology, and behavior of wild birds, learn to identify birds (by sight and sound) and participate in a bird-banding research project. The plight of neotropical migratory birds is emphasized.

151 Human Health and Disease (3 s.h.)
A study of the structure and function of the human body in order to understand how disease impacts the living world. The effects of disease on society are considered from the primary perspective of the biological sciences with context offered within health care management, the media, ethics, and economics.

211 Evolution (3 s.h.)
Evolution, the great unifying theory behind modern biology, is introduced with an emphasis on experimental evidence bearing on the modern synthesis of evolutionary theory and its bearing on topics such as disease, aging, and social behavior. *Prerequisite: BIOL 111. Alternate years.

222 Genetics (4 s.h.)
Lecture and lab. The study of genetic principles, including Mendelian inheritance and gene regulation, in a variety of different organisms. The ethical and practical implications of genetic research and the genetic basis of disease are focal points of the course. Students develop problem-solving ability and conduct genetic experiments using classical and molecular methods. *Prerequisite: BIOL 111.

224 Cell Biology (4 s.h.)
Lecture and lab. Cell structure and function including cell physiology, cell-cell signaling and the role of cells in development and cancer are presented along with basic biochemical concepts. The laboratory introduces the main techniques of cytochemistry, histology, enzymology, and tissue culture. *Prerequisite: BIOL 111.

230 Studies in Biology (3 s.h.)
These colloquia will focus on topics not included in regularly scheduled biology courses. Interests of the students and faculty will determine the subject.

245 Ecology (4 s.h.)
Lecture, lab and field course. Students study the relationships of living organisms with each other and their environments at the population, community, and ecosystem levels. The course includes a research weekend at the Duke University Marine Laboratory. *Prerequisite: BIOL 112. Alternate years.

250 Neotropical Ornithology (3 s.h.)
Study abroad. Neotropical ornithology introduces the diversity of birds, their scientific study, and conservation in both tropical and temperate settings. We visit the tropics during spring break and study migratory species in Virginia during a week of May Term. Differences between resident and migratory tropical birds introduce the concept of bias in our perception. Students achieve a solid foundation in bird biology, ecology, and behavior.

251 Exercise Testing and Training (3 s.h.)
Anatomy and physiology as it applies to exercise, especially exercise testing and exercise program planning. The course includes techniques for assessing blood pressure, resting heart rate, body composition, and muscular strength and endurance. Cross listed as PHE 251.

252 Biology of Women (3 s.h.)
This course examines female biology from the evolution of sex to reproduction to individual health. This course emphasizes female life stages and basic biological concepts relating to cells and heredity. Cross listed as WS/BIOL 232. Suggested background: BIOL 111 or 151.

253 Zoology (4 s.h.)
Lecture and lab. Introduction to the evolution of form and function of the major animal phyla with emphasis on observing ecological adaptations and unraveling evolutionary history through the use of contemporary taxonomic methods. The laboratory involves substantial dissection. *Prerequisite: BIOL 112. Alternate years.

255 Microbiology (4 s.h.)
Lecture and lab. The basic biology of bacteria and other microbes, with emphasis on metabolic diversity, the disease process, and microbial ecology. The laboratory introduces methods for microbial culture and identification through student-designed experiments. This course is required for students in the clinical laboratory science or master of science in nursing programs. *Prerequisites: BIOL 112, CHEM 121, CHEM 122. Alternate years.

257 Botany (4 s.h.)
Lecture and lab. A study of how different groups of plants have solved common environmental challenges including support, transport, defenses, reproductive strategies, and modes of specification. Laboratory work includes plant physiology experiments, preserved material, and field identification of local species and families. *Prerequisite: BIOL 112. Alternate years.

259 Horticulture (4 s.h.)
Lecture and lab. Covers horticulture as it relates to home landscaping, landscape maintenance, and gardening principles, including soils, composting, plant propagation, pests and disease. Labs will include field trips to local gardens and nurseries, use of garden design software, demonstrations of gardening techniques, and hands-on learning in the yard and garden. Offered as needed.

261 Epidemiology (3 s.h.)
For course description, see HCA 261 in the Health Care Administration listing.

264/265 Human Anatomy and Physiology I/II (4 s.h. each)
Lecture and lab. The study of the relationships between anatomical structure and physiological function of the human body. All systems of the human body are investigated through classroom discussion, dissection, and physiological analyses. These courses are appropriate for students seeking careers in the allied health sciences and as teachers. *Prerequisite: BIOL 111. Alternate years.

305 Physiological Psychology (3 s.h.)
For course description, see PSYC 305 in the Psychology listing.

324 Biochemistry I (3 s.h.)
For course description, see CHEM 324 in the Chemistry listing.

325 Biochemistry II (3 s.h.)
For course description, see CHEM 325 in the Chemistry listing.

326 Experimental Biochemistry (4 s.h.)
For course description, see CHEM 326 in the Chemistry listing.

327 Immunology (3 s.h.)
The physiology, cell biology, genetics, and health implications of the immune system, with emphasis on the experimental evidence and reasoning behind our current understanding. This course is required of students seeking to enter the clinical laboratory science program. *Prerequisite: BIOL 111. Alternate years.

328 Molecular Biology (3 s.h.)
Techniques of molecular biology are used to study topics ranging from cell-cell signaling to evolution and ecology; this course is taught as a journal club in which students select, present, and discuss a variety of current research papers using these techniques. *Prerequisite: BIOL 222. Alternate years.

329 Electron Microscopy (4 s.h.)
Laboratory course. The study of the theory and methodology required to use the transmission and scanning electron microscopes as specimens are prepared for viewing in the Transmission Electron Microscope (TEM) and the Scanning Electron Microscope (SEM). *Prerequisite: BIOL 111. Alternate years.

345 Conservation Biology (3 s.h.)
Conservation biology is the study of the diversity of life and its preservation. The course will cover biodiversity as an evolutionary result, a factor structuring ecological communities, and an environmental issue. The course will examine conservation biology in theory and in practice. *Prerequisite: BIOL 112 or permission of instructor. Alternate years.

352 Developmental Biology (4 s.h.)
Lecture and lab. Embryonic development is studied in a variety of organisms, from gamete production to ageing, with reading from the research literature and a focus on the main experimental approaches to development. In the laboratory, students select and carry out several experimental projects. *Prerequisite: BIOL 111. Alternate years.

354 Comparative Physiology (4 s.h.)
Lecture and lab. An examination of the common cellular mechanisms underlying many physiological processes using a comparative approach emphasizing functional strategies for solving physiological problems. The laboratory allows students to perform self-directed experiments, based in the primary literature, on a variety of organisms. *Prerequisite: BIOL 111. Alternate years.

355 Comparative Vertebrate Anatomy (4 s.h.)
An investigation of the connection between the form and the function of selected organ systems in representative vertebrates. The laboratory emphasizes evolutionary modifications seen in different animals, including lamprey, the dogfish, and the cat. *Prerequisite: BIOL 111. Alternate years.

361 Animal Behavior (4 s.h.)
Lecture, project, discussion, and lab. The comparative study of animal behavior from ecological and evolutionary points of view. Topics include innate and learned behavior as two poles of the entire spectrum of behavior, evolution of behavior patterns, social organization, sexual selection and female choice, and applications of ethology to human behavior. *Prerequisite: BIOL 111. Alternate years.
363 Primate Ecology (2 s.h.)
A comparative study of the behavior of primates from an ecological and evolutionary point of view. The seminar will focus on recent field studies on chimpanzees, gorillas, orangutans, and other primate species. Social organization, behavioral development, communication, and sexual behavior are some of the topics to be explored through discussion of readings and video sequences. Strongly recommended background: BIOL 361. Alternate years.

381 Junior Seminar (2 s.h.)
This seminar focuses on experimental design, scientific writing, data analysis, and development of a senior research topic. Required of all junior year biology majors. *Prerequisites: at least two of the biology core courses (BIOL 222, 224, 245, and 253 or 257) completed with a grade of C or better and overall GPA in biology of 2.0 or higher.

383 Advanced Study in Biology (2–3 s.h.)
Topics of mutual interest to a group of students and a professor are considered.

400 Senior Seminar (1 s.h.)
Students complete planning and begin experiments for the project designed during BIOL 381. Students meet in small groups to refine the research plan and write a research proposal for review by midterm, then participate in journal article presentations on relevant papers and lab meetings to report progress on experiments. *Prerequisite: BIOL 381.

401 Senior Research (2 s.h.)
Includes the experimental portion of the senior research project, combined with a lab meeting format in which to present results, including formal oral presentations of the project. The student prepares a written thesis and conducts an oral defense of it, and takes the Major Field Achievement Test in Biology.

Our goal is to prepare students to excel in the present and future work environment. We will provide them with an understanding of different business and organizational structures in the context of sustainable business principles and practices, and help them to gain a heightened understanding of social and environmental issues affecting local, national, and global communities. We will guide them in exploring what makes businesses and other types of organizations thrive in the long run, giving them the skills necessary to critically evaluate and execute business strategy in the real world. We will provide breadth and depth of knowledge through examining theory and practices from a strategic perspective in all functional areas of business. Ultimately students will truly understand the triple bottom line perspective and evaluation and will be prepared to apply this knowledge in their careers. Our students will learn what it means to be global citizens and will be shaped into change agents in their local communities and beyond. They will be life-long learners and will make significant contributions to any organization or community with which they are affiliated.

There are four major options offered through the Business Department at Mary Baldwin College: Business for a Sustainable Future, Business with an Accounting Emphasis, International Economics and Business, and Marketing Communication.

Bachelor of Arts in Business for a Sustainable Future
Students in our signature major, Business for a Sustainable Future, will be required to complete any minor offered at the College. Suitable minors within the Business department include the following: Management, Marketing, or Human Resource Management. Students also are encouraged to consider minors outside of the department based on their particular area/s of interest. Requirements for the three departmental minors as well as other minors across the College may be found in their own distinctive catalog listings (see alphabetized listing for all majors and minors). As an alternative to a required minor, students may choose to complete a second major.

meets the International learning outcome requirement.

Minor in Business
A Minor in Business is highly desirable in today’s fast-paced environment. The minor will provide valuable theoretical understanding and practical application exercises in the areas of management, marketing, accounting, and business law. Course work will also reflect the growing focus on sustainability practices and measures as a means to preserve our world. Students in any major across the college will benefit from pairing a business minor with other minors and majors. Students who are majoring in Business may not pursue this minor based on over-

Civic Engagement Opportunities
Students may take course learning into their communities to help organizations of all types with business-related activities.
As the College’s gateway for civic engagement and global engagement options, the Spencer Center provides faculty who will work with students to pair their interests with appropriate opportunities.

Business Course Descriptions

Note: The following courses are available only online: BUAD
211, BUAD 307, BUAD 311, BUAD 312, BUAD 314, BUAD
315, BUAD 316, BUAD 317, BUAD 318, BUAD 340, and BUAD 360.

100 Clean & Green: Business for a Sustainable Future (3 s.h.)
Introduces and focuses on the financial, social, environmental, ethical, and personal responsibilities that managers must take to create long-term sustainable businesses, including introduction to the triple bottom line perspective and evaluation.

200 Management Principles (3 s.h.)
Provides an overview of traditional management theory and practice and the growing literature on contemporary management. It also provides the student with opportunities to read about and examine real-life applications. Highlights the principles and practices of sustainable business management from both a strategic perspective and an application-oriented perspective. *Prerequisite: sophomore standing or permission of instructor.

202 Organizational Behavior & Interpersonal Communication (3 s.h.)
Focuses on critical aspects of organizational behavior and interpersonal communication. Covers topics such as systems theory, organizational culture and learning, and individual, team and group dynamics, as well as other vital areas such as conflict resolution and negotiation. Understanding of the centrality of communication in person-to-person relationships and recognition and acceptance of diversity are critical elements on a micro and macro level. Organizational leadership and change management are explored as elements of healthy and sustainable organizational cultures. Cross listed as COMM 202. *Prerequisite: BUAD 200 and sophomore standing.

208 Accounting Principles (3 s.h.)
Introduces students to financial statements and the concepts and transactions that underlie those statements. It focuses on understanding financial statements and the numbers that make up financial statements, giving students a rudimentary knowledge of debits and credits, an understanding of basic accounting principles, and a greater understanding of the relationships between the numbers. Will also examine the prevalence of corporate social responsibility annual reports.

209 Financial Decision Making (3 s.h.)
Provides an introduction to the concepts, problems, and applications of decision making as related to personal and corporate financial management. Specifically, the principles of time value of money, risk/return trade-off, stock and bond valuation, capital budgeting techniques and practices including cost/benefit analysis, capital structure, and working capital management are covered in the context of the triple bottom line.

210 Financial Accounting (3 s.h.)
Introduces the conceptual foundation of accounting and the fundamental techniques involved in the preparation of corporate financial statements. Includes the balance sheet, income statement, and retained earnings statement.

211 Managerial Accounting (3 s.h.)
Offered online only. The second semester of accounting principles designed for students planning to major in Business with an Accounting emphasis. Looks at financial accounting concepts/theories in greater depth and examines principles of managerial accounting. *Prerequisite: at least a ‘B’ in BUAD 210.

220 The Legal Environment of Business (3 s.h.)
This course is a basic introduction to legal concepts that affect businesses, employees, and individuals dealing with them. Topics covered include the legal system of the United States, constitutional and criminal law, torts, contracts, and agency law. Junior standing recommended.

221 The Legal Environment of Business II (3 s.h.)
This is a continuation of The Legal Environment of Business I. It introduces real, personal, and intellectual property; trusts and wills; general and limited partnerships; and corporations, including their formation, financial and management structures, and fundamental changes. In addition, federal and state business regulations in the areas of environmental law, bankruptcy, consumer protection, and employment law will be covered. *Prerequisite: BUAD 220.

222 Social Science Statistics (3 s.h.)
For course description, see INT 222 in the Interdisciplinary Studies listing.

230 Marketing Principles (3 s.h.)
This course introduces the basic principles of marketing, including marketing strategy, marketing communication, and the interaction between organizations and consumers. Emphasis will be on economic, social, cultural, and legal environments in which marketing occurs. Students gain understanding of traditional marketing concepts and current marketing thought, and practical experience through analytical and creative projects.

244 Investments (3 s.h.)
An introductory study of investment management covering cash equivalents, money markets, mutual funds, stocks, corporate bonds, government bonds, retirement plans and annuities, real estate, options, and futures, focusing on the individual investor. Investment strategies and risk and return are evaluated as well as techniques and procedures designed to aid in investment management. Course offered as needed. Optional field trip to NYC financial district at additional cost.

247 Globalization and Labor Issues (3 s.h.)
For course description, see ECON 247 in the Economics listing.

250 The Female Executive: Strategies in the Workplace (3 s.h.)
Examines the impact of women in key leadership roles, presenting how women establish and maintain effectiveness as managers and leaders. Provides a historical perspective on women’s culture and their changing roles. Topics include gender communication, leadership style development, political game playing, work and family integration, networking and mentoring, sexual harassment, perceived and real barriers to women’s job mobility, and professional development planning.

260 Personal Finance (3 s.h.)
Provides an overview of budgeting, financial record keeping, income tax planning, consumer credit, insurance considerations, factors involved in buying or renting a home, investment strategies, stock market analysis, and retirement planning. Concepts and proven guidelines for successful financial planning are combined with real world applications through readings, analysis of cases, and outside research. Offered as needed.

266 Social Trends and Their Impact on Business (3 s.h.)
Introduces students to the significance of sociocultural, political, and environmental trends and their impact on how business opportunities can grow or be hampered. Emphasizes a triple bottom line viewpoint while focusing on social trends such as the changing face of America, the Green movement, globalization, technology and communication upgrades, and changes in the workforce. Twenty hour service component required. Cross listed as INT 266.

270 Business and Government (3 s.h.)
For course description, see ECON 270 in the Economics listing.

287 Business & Civic Engagement Internship: Career Exploration (credit varies)
This level of internship provides the student with opportunities to observe and learn about job possibilities in an employment setting. A log of daily responsibilities and a written summary are required. *Prerequisite: permission of a business administration faculty member.

302 Managing Human Resources (3 s.h.)
Covers the design/purpose of human resource (HR) management systems and examines trends in a broader environment. Sustainable organizational culture requires appropriate design and implementation of HR policy. Studies HR planning and organizational competitiveness, global HRM, equal employment opportunity, job analysis and staffing, recruitment and selection, training and development, performance management and appraisal, compensation, employer rights, union/management relations, and characteristics of high-performance organizations. *Prerequisite: BUAD 200 or HCA 101.

305 Global Business (3 s.h.)
Studies issues involved in international business for firms of all sizes. As business has become global in nature, firms must focus on international business to remain competitive. Students preparing for a managerial career must understand the complexities and cultural aspects of international business. Class/Blackboard discussions, case analyses, and a semester project are required. *Prerequisite: BUAD 200 or instructor permission.

306 The Entrepreneur: Starting, Marketing & Managing a Small Business (3 s.h.)
Students participate in feasibility studies and potential development of a new venture involving creation, planning, assessment, development, startup, and operation. Includes feasibility assessment, business-plan development, and start-up preparation. Case studies will be used to build the skills required. *Prerequisites: BUAD 200, 208, and 230 or instructor permission.

307 Business and Society (3 s.h.)
Offered online only. This course explores how business processes have affected, and been affected by, social, cultural, political, and legal environments throughout history. Students gain understanding of current business trends and events, with emphasis on the broad cultural contexts in which they occur, through current readings, case analyses, and class/Blackboard discussions. *Prerequisite: sophomore standing.

310 Intermediate Accounting I (3 s.h.)
This is a further consideration of issues developed in accounting principles courses. Assignments focus on preparation and use of meaningful financial statements. Among topics considered are present value concepts, cash and marketable securities, receivables, inventory valuation, current liabilities, and long-term investments. *Prerequisite: At least a 'B' in BUAD 211 or instructor permission.

311 Intermediate Accounting II (3 s.h.)
Offered online only. A continuation of BUAD 310, this course includes topics such as intangible assets, long-term liabilities, stockholders' equity, retained earnings, dividends, and leases. *Prerequisite: BUAD 310.

312 Cost Accounting (3 s.h.)
Offered online only. Emphasis in this course, which is a continuation of managerial accounting topics, will be on the uses of accounting data for decision-making at all levels of managerial responsibility. This course concentrates on the managerial functions of accounting specifically related to cost structures. *Prerequisite: BUAD 211 or equivalent.

314 Tax Accounting (3 s.h.)
Offered online only. Focuses on the study of the principles of federal taxation and the concept of taxable income. The basic concepts of income taxation in the United States are examined with an emphasis on recognizing the tax consequences of business decisions. This is an elective course, which goes beyond the intermediate level, for students interested in pursuing a career in accounting. *Prerequisite: BUAD 211 or equivalent.

315 Accounting Information Systems (3 s.h.)

316 Advanced Accounting (3 s.h.)
Offered online only. This is an in-depth consideration of topics introduced in BUAD 311. Emphasis will be given to the principles of preparing consolidated financial statements. This is an elective course for students interested in pursuing a career in accounting. *Prerequisite: BUAD 311.

317 Accounting for Non-Profit and Government Organizations (3 s.h.)
Offered online only. Examines governmental organizations (county, state, federal), which differ significantly from business organizations and, accordingly, have a different set of standards in regard to accounting activity. Reviews accounting and reporting according to the Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB) including budgeting, proprietary funds, and revenue funds. In addition, not-for-profit entities are examined, particularly regarding accounting for hospitals and colleges/universities.
318 Auditing (3 s.h.)
Offered online only. Studies the types of audits and their purposes. Working papers, internal controls, accounting systems, and audit reports and programs will be studied, as well as auditing standards, professional ethics, and Securities and Exchange Commission audit requirements. This is an advanced-level accounting course for the student who is serious about a career in accounting and is preparing for the CPA exam. *Prerequisite: BUAD 310 or instructor permission.

330 Marketing Management (3 s.h.)
Studies both management and marketing to prepare students to manage personnel within a marketing department. Students read leading theory and practitioner articles about management, marketing, and strategic planning of marketing activities. Prerequisites: BUAD 200 and BUAD 230. Course offered as needed.

334 Multicultural Marketing in America (3 s.h.)
The U.S. is a mosaic of cultures and backgrounds, and this course will look at the impact these growing subcultures have on a diverse market environment. In addition to learning strategic applications of consumer/segment insights, students will be encouraged to reflect on current biases in advertising and other messaging, and through their analysis understand the ethics and social responsibility involved with marketing to the multicultural consumer.

336 Cross-Cultural & Global Marketing (3 s.h.)
Studies marketing concepts and decision making across cultures, both domestic and international. Emphasis on comparative differences in markets, marketing functions, and socio-economic and cultural differences between domestic and international marketing. *Prerequisite: BUAD 230.

338 Marketing Research (3 s.h.)
The study of the marketing research process, including design, methodology, analysis, and interpretation. Students gain understanding of both qualitative and quantitative methods as well as exposure to current technological research applications. Practical application comes through completion of consumer research projects. *Prerequisite: BUAD 230.

340 Financial Management (3 s.h.)
Offered online only. Studies the ways and means by which a corporation raises funds, uses financial resources, and evaluates the uses of funds. Sources of funds, asset management, financial planning, ratio analysis, and other techniques of evaluation are studied by means of problem solving and case analyses. *Prerequisites: At least a ‘C’ in BUAD 208, BUAD 211, ECON 101, and ECON 102.

350 Project Management for Sustainable Impact (3 s.h.)
Students learn the responsibilities and essential tools and techniques required to successfully plan, manage, control, and evaluate a project in a complex environment. Demonstrates how these approaches can be successfully applied in the development and management of a major project. Sustainability principles and practices will be studied and applied with a focus on environmental impact. *Prerequisite: junior standing or instructor permission.

360 Retail, Services, and Internet Marketing (3 s.h.)
Offered online only. Past, current, and developing trends in retailing, services marketing, and the Internet as a customer interface are examined in this course. Emphasis is on consumer interaction issues such as customer service, customer satisfaction, and experiential marketing. Practical application is provided through a retail/service consulting project. *Prerequisite: BUAD 230. Offered as needed.

362 Consumer Behavior (3 s.h.)
Explores the theories, principles, and current perspectives related to consumer behaviors, motivations, and experiences. Students gain understanding of cultural, socio-economic, self-concept, lifestyle, interpersonal, and perceptual factors in consumption. *Prerequisite: BUAD 230.

387 Business & Civic Engagement Internship: Professional Experience (credit varies)
Focuses on practical experience of a professional nature. It can be a valuable testing ground for possible career opportunities. It requires keeping a log of job responsibilities and writing a paper summarizing the experience and what was learned. This internship should be related to the student’s area of emphasis for the major.

395 Business Practicum (3 s.h.)
Gives students the opportunity to apply theory and skills learned in business courses to the practice of business. Begins with delivering a brief practicum proposal outline to the faculty mentor. Upon approval, student and mentor define the project’s timeline and its presentation. Projects MUST be approved in advance for fulfillment of the requirement. *Prerequisites: junior standing and faculty mentor approval.

400 Strategy and Sustainability in Business Decisions (3 s.h.)
Designed for students to develop conceptual and analytical skills needed by managers in organizations. Focuses on strategy and examines case studies in sustainability for many different types of enterprises. Emphasizes integration of business courses and should directly precede BUAD 401. Includes the strategic planning process, situational analysis, decision making in an uncertain environment, and effective implementation of a strategic plan, including organizational design and management. Covers a comprehensive case analysis process.
*Prerequisites: senior standing and completion of most pre-400 level major courses.

401 Business Senior Seminar (3 s.h.)
Students demonstrate understanding of the principles of the business curriculum through the application of accumulated business knowledge to one of the following options: develop a business plan with social and environmental results and impact; complete a social audit and critical analysis of an existing enterprise/industry using the Institute for Supply Management triple bottom line guidelines; or develop a social responsibility case study. Students present their findings orally and in writing for evaluation and critical review. *Prerequisites: BUAD 400 and senior standing.

Minor in Environmental Policy Analysis
Please see Environmental Policy Analysis

Civic Engagement Opportunities
Courses throughout the physical science curriculum discuss the relevance of scientific principles to public policy and social issues. Students lend their growing expertise to projects that examine exposure to lead and other heavy metals as well as the quality of local water. Students are encouraged, particularly through the local chapter of the American Chemical Society Student Affiliates, to engage local schools and organizations such as the Girl Scouts in hands-on experience with science and tutoring.
Chemistry Course Descriptions

100 Exploring the Physical World (3 s.h.)
*For course description, see PHYS/CHEM 100 in the Physics listing.

101 Forensic Chemistry (3 s.h.)
This course, intended for non-science majors, will examine selected topics in forensic science. Most of the analysis needed in forensic examinations requires the use of chemical analysis and we will learn about the tools and theories that are used in solving crimes. Topics may include toxicology, fingerprint analysis, fiber identification, blood typing and analysis, drug identification, and DNA profiling.

120 Nutrition for Health, Fitness and Sport (3 s.h.)
The study of nutrients and their effect on health, development, and performance. Topics include metabolism of nutrients, the relationship between energy intake and expenditure, metabolic disorders, nutrition and disease and supplements. Students will be able to evaluate their own energy intake and assess its effectiveness with their daily energy expenditure. Cross listed as BIOL 120.

121 General Chemistry I (4 s.h.)
The first of a two-course survey of the principles of chemistry appropriate for science majors. Topics include stoichiometry, the main classes of reactions, atomic and molecular structure, thermochemistry, and phase behavior. The associated lab elaborates on the material discussed in class and introduces laboratory techniques including the use of modern instrumentation. Algebra and high school chemistry are strongly recommended as background.

122 General Chemistry II (4 s.h.)
A continuation of General Chemistry I. Topics include ionic equilibria, chemical thermodynamics, chemical kinetics, electrochemistry, materials chemistry, the chemistry of main group elements and an introduction to biochemistry. The associated lab elaborates on the material discussed in class and introduces laboratory techniques and the use of modern chemical instrumentation. Prerequisite: CHEM 121.

151 Chemistry in the Kitchen (3 s.h.)
An introduction to the physical sciences using phenomena observed in the kitchen. Students will be introduced to the use of models and systematic observation to understand heat transfer, the origin of flavors, common chemical reactions, and so on.

157 Wilderness, Scientific Advance and American Culture (3 s.h.)
This course explores how a uniquely American culture emerged as its diverse components responded to the twin challenges of a sparsely populated wilderness and rapid scientific progress. Unique to the course is a set of experiences designed to deepen students’ understanding that the central task of science is to understand nature and the central task of technology is to cope with it. These experiences also sharpen the contrast between contemporary American life with its technological accoutrements and life without them.

221 Organic Chemistry I (4 s.h.)
A survey of organic chemistry; using the functional group approach, emphasizing the properties, stereochemistry, preparative methods, and reaction mechanisms of the following principal classes of organic compounds: alkanes, alkenes, alkynes, alkyl halides, and arenes. In the associated lab, students develop competence in organic synthetic work, and in analysis of their products using modern spectroscopic instrumentation. Prerequisite: CHEM 122.

222 Organic Chemistry II (4 s.h.)
This course continues the survey of organic chemistry started by CHEM 221 using a similar approach, and covering the alcohols, ethers, phenols, aldehydes, ketones, carboxylic acids, amines, proteins, lipids, and carbohydrates. Covers a broad spectrum of modern methods of organic synthesis and characterization. Student work is individualized and the design and execution of experiments is stressed. The course exposes the students to a wide variety of laboratory techniques and develops their judgment in choosing experimental methods. Prerequisite: CHEM 221.

230 Environmental Chemistry I (3 s.h.)
An introduction to the study of the environment and modern environmental problems in terms of chemical structures and reactions. Chemical principles of equilibrium, kinetics, and thermodynamics are used to help understand our changing environment. Topics include toxicological chemistry, aquatic chemistry, atmospheric chemistry, and green chemistry. Prerequisite: CHEM 122. Alternate years.

260 Introduction to Materials Science (3 s.h.)
Materials science encompasses the structure and composition, synthesis and processing, performance, and properties of materials. The focus of this course is a holistic introduction to the study of materials from the combined viewpoints of physics and chemistry. This is a survey course investigating topics including crystalline structure, band theory, defects, and electronic, optical, and thermal properties of materials. Cross listed as PHYS 260. Prerequisites: PHYS 202 and CHEM 221.

270 Undergraduate Research (1–3 s.h.)
Students do original research in accordance with ability and background under the guidance of a member of the faculty. Students are expected to devote 4 hours per week to the project for every credit hour. A written report will be submitted to the department each semester of enrollment. Cannot be used to meet elective course requirements for a major or minor in chemistry. May be repeated for credit. Total research credit to be used toward an undergraduate degree not to exceed 6 hours. Prerequisites: CHEM 122, consent of instructor and submission of a research contract to the department.

302 Inorganic Chemistry (3 s.h.)
Students will acquire an understanding of inorganic structures and reactions: the periodic properties of elements; molecular and crystal geometry; symmetry relationships; bonding theories; chemistry of selected representative and transition metal elements; contemporary applications in materials and bioinorganic chemistry. Prerequisite: CHEM 221, which may be taken concurrently. Alternate years.

311 Analytical Chemistry (4 s.h.)
Principles, techniques, and instruments used in quantitative chemical analysis. Principles of chemical equilibria, spectrophotometry, electrochemistry, and chromatography. Applications to gravimetric, titrimetric, spectrophotometric, chromatographic, and electrochemical analyses. *Prerequisite: CHEM 122.

321 Physical Chemistry I: Phenomenological and Statistical Thermodynamics (4 s.h.)
Physical chemistry is the branch of chemistry that establishes and develops the theoretical foundations of chemistry. This course begins with an essentially macroscopic perspective then describes the approach used to connect molecular properties to macroscopic phenomena. The associated laboratory gives student experience with physical measurements in chemistry including vacuum techniques, calorimetry, spectroscopic methods, and electrical measurements. CHEM 321 and CHEM 322 may be taken in either order. Cross listed as CHEM/PHYS 321. *Prerequisites: CHEM 122, MATH 212, PHYS 202. Alternate years.

322 Physical Chemistry II: Quantum Chemistry, Spectroscopy, and Kinetics (3 s.h.)
Atomic and molecular structure, spectroscopy, and chemical kinetics. CHEM 321 and CHEM 322 may be taken in either order. *Prerequisites: CHEM 122, MATH 212, and PHYS 202. Alternate years.

324 Biochemistry I (3 s.h.)
Studies of the major classes of biomolecules — proteins, carbohydrates, lipids, and nucleic acids — provide a structural and functional basis for the understanding of metabolism, energy production, and transfer of genetic information. Recommended background: BIOL 224 and CHEM 222. *Prerequisites: CHEM 221 and BIOL 222 or permission of instructor. Alternate years.

325 Biochemistry II (4 s.h.)
A continuation of the topics introduced in CHEM 324. The associated lab introduces students to techniques of protein purification, enzyme assays, and kinetics. Recommended background: BIOL 224 and CHEM 222. *Prerequisites: CHEM 221 and BIOL 222 or permission of instructor. Alternate years.

330 Environmental Chemistry II (3 s.h.)
An advanced study of environmental chemistry. Topics include chemical fate and transport, atmospheric photochemistry, and geochemistry. *Prerequisite: CHEM 230. Alternate years.

351 Advanced Lab (2 s.h.)
An integrated, problem-oriented introduction to contemporary instrumental methods in chemistry, the treatment of data, the use of the chemical literature, and presentation of results. *Prerequisites: CHEM 221 and concurrent enrollment in a 300-level chemistry lecture course.

360 Advanced Topics in Materials Science (3 s.h.)
This course offers a more rigorous examination of the core topics of Introduction to Materials Science. The theoretical basis for mechanical, thermal, magnetic, and optical properties of materials is examined. In addition, microstructures, composites, and nanostructures are examined. Cross listed as PHYS 360. *Prerequisites: PHYS 260, CHEM 321.

370 Undergraduate Research (1–3 s.h.)
Students do original research in accordance with ability and background under the guidance of a member of the faculty. Students are expected to devote 4 hours per week to the project for every credit hour. A written report will be submitted to the department each semester of enrollment. Cannot be used to meet elective course requirements for a major or minor in chemistry. May be repeated for credit. Total research credit to be used toward an undergraduate degree not to exceed 6 hours. *Prerequisites: CHEM 121, 122, 221, 222, concurrent enrollment in 350, consent of instructor and submission of a research contract to the department.

399 Special Topics in Chemistry (1–3 s.h.)
Students study topics in chemistry at a level beyond the discussion in regularly offered courses. Potential subjects include: molecular modeling, supramolecular and nanochemistry, bioanalytical chemistry, medicinal chemistry, group theory, and statistical mechanics. *Prerequisites: CHEM 221, 351, junior standing. Course offered as needed.

400, 401 Senior Research (2 s.h. each)
Seminar and independent research leading to the completion of a thesis required of majors in the senior year. The student, under supervision of staff members, experiences research as it is carried out in practical situations and presents findings orally and in writing. Satisfactory completion of the research project and the oral defense of the thesis fulfill the senior requirement for chemistry majors.

Civic Engagement
Steve Grande, coordinator
Bruce Dorries

The Leadership Studies minor with an emphasis on Community and Social Change is for motivated students in any field who are interested in social action and increasing their sense that individual intervention in community action is possible and consequential. The minor offers practical, analytical, and theoretical tools for leading and serving others to improve the quality of life of our communities from local to international.

Minor in Leadership Studies with an emphasis on Community and Social Change

Please see Leadership Studies, Community and Social Change

Note: the Minor in Civic Engagement has been replaced by the Minor in Leadership Studies with an emphasis on Community and Social Change.

Civic Engagement Course Descriptions

102 The Reflective Self in Community (1 s.h.)
Students will intentionally link a 1-4 credit course to a 25 hour community involvement project. Reflective activities, journals, reading and conversations will facilitate increased understanding of community membership, related societal issues, and the diverse backgrounds and perspectives of those offering and receiving service. Students must submit an approved Community Involvement Contract which identifies the course in which the credit will be attached (e.g. ECON 215).

271 Semester of Service Practicum (3 s.h.)
Students will use critical thinking to serve the local community approximately 10 hours per week. Students will connect their service experience to scholarly learning and gain a greater understanding of community and nonprofit leadership, social problems, social entrepreneurship, and active citizenship and develop an enhanced ability to articulate the cultural experiences of others. *This course must be taken concurrently with CE 271.

277 Assisting Local Food Programs (3 s.h.)
Students complete 30 hours of service-learning with local food programs such as the Food Bank and other food assistance providers throughout the Shenandoah Valley. Students will participate, reflect, and critically examine course content and service-learning experiences to better understand current issues related to food insecurity.

281 Civic Leadership and Social Entrepreneurism (3 s.h.)
By developing leadership and business skills, as well as nurturing compassion and a willingness to work for social, economic and environmental justice, this course empowers students with a few of the tools to manage organizations that serve others, provide jobs, build local wealth and contribute broadly to economic and community development. *This course must be taken concurrently with CE 271.

Clinical Laboratory Science
Lundy Pentz, coordinator

Clinical laboratory science is the allied health profession of those who perform the major laboratory diagnostic tests in hospitals, clinics, and research laboratories. Mary Baldwin College offers a major in clinical laboratory science in affiliation with local health care facilities such as Augusta Health Medical Center in Fishersville, MCV/VCU, Rockingham Memorial Hospital, and Roanoke Memorial Hospital (Carilion). Students complete all MBC graduation and requirements of the major on campus before beginning the clinical year at one of the affiliated schools. All partner hospitals are fully accredited, and their schools of clinical laboratory science are approved by the National Accrediting Agency for Clinical Laboratory Science (NAACLS). Upon completion of all Mary Baldwin College graduation requirements, including requirements for this major and the clinical year, the student graduates with a bachelor’s degree from Mary Baldwin College and a major in clinical laboratory science. See the Web site noted above for additional important details regarding the clinical year. Like other health professionals, the student must not only complete the degree requirements but also must pass the National Registry Examination. While our affiliates have an excellent record in preparing their students for these exams, students should understand that completion of academic requirements does not guarantee certification.

Requirements for the Major in Clinical Laboratory Science
77–83 semester hours, including the clinical year
Either an emphasis in biology with seven courses in biology and five courses in chemistry, or an emphasis in chemistry with seven courses in chemistry including at least one 300-level chemistry course and five courses in biology, and in either case including the following courses:
- BIOL 111
- BIOL 255
- BIOL 327
- CHEM 121
- CHEM 122
- CHEM 221
- CHEM 222
One course in mathematics
Successful completion of the clinical year
Additional courses to complete the first requirement, above, and the total semester hours

Note: Recommended courses: PHYS 201–202 and PSYC 250.

Clinical Laboratory Science Course Descriptions
386, 387 The Clinical Year (15 s.h., 18 s.h.)
The clinical year is a 12-month training period typically beginning in July, but varying among programs. Upon acceptance into a clinical training program, the student registers at Mary Baldwin College for CLS 386 (fall semester, 15 semester hours) and CLS 387 (spring semester, 18 semester hours). The clinical training program is conducted by an affiliated hospital; grading is only pass/no credit, and hospital officials are the sole arbiters of these grades.

Coaching and Exercise Leadership
Sharon Spalding, coordinator

The Coaching minor requires 20 hours of course work and a 1 credit internship. Students must complete CEL 220 Coaching Principles before the internship experience. The internship must be approved by the PHE discipline. Internship experiences can include coaching at the youth, club, scholastic or college level. For those students who wish to pursue personal training, athletic training, exercise science, physical therapy or occupational therapy, the internship can be completed in a job field that the student is considering. All internship experiences must be registered before the experience occurs.

- CEL 220
- CEL 245
- CHEM 120
- INT 287
- PHE 221
- PHE/BIO 251
- SGS/WS 245

Civic Engagement Opportunities
PHE/BIO 251 Exercise Testing and Training assists the MBC community with personal fitness plans during the May term it is offered. The Internship Experience required for the minor involves working with a local school sports team or a local club sport.

Coaching and Exercise Leadership Course Descriptions

220 Principles of Coaching (3 s.h.)
A course to present the foundational knowledge that is essential for coaching any sport. The course will present an overview of the exercise sciences related to coaching and teaching motor skills. The course will assist students in developing a coaching philosophy as well as providing principles, guidelines and tools that are essential to the coaching profession. Recommended for students in the coaching and exercise leadership minor or students who already assist with youth or scholastic sports. Successful completion of the course will lead to the coaching certification required in many states for high school scholastic coaches.

245 Motor Learning (3 s.h.)
Motor Learning will cover the analysis, instruction and rehabilitation of motor skills as related to a variety of individuals who possess different interests and abilities. The course will cover the stages of learning, skills classification, motivation and attention, effective instructions and demonstrations, practice schedules and effective feedback. This course is part of the coaching and exercise leadership minor, but may also be of interest to those students interested in graduate work in occupational or physical therapy.

Communication
Bruce Dorries, coordinator
Sarah Ludwig, Allan Moyé, Heather Ward

Communication study develops liberal arts-based communication skills, including oral presentation and writing, research, critical thinking, and media and visual literacy. It promotes effective and ethical practice by focusing on how people use messages to create meanings in different contexts, cultures, and media. Communication helps prepare students for work in a wide range of careers, graduate school, and for engagement in the global community.

Civic Engagement and International Experience
- Internships provide non-profit organizations and governmental offices with public relations, advertising, video production, writing, and editing. Examples: public relations work for LEARN (the local literacy council), special event preparation work for Riverfest, an environmental teach-in.
- Students conduct internships with local media, including WHSV-TV3, as well as the college’s Communications, Marketing, and Public Affairs department.
- Class projects require production of materials, including short documentaries, news releases, and advertising campaigns, for nonprofit organizations, such as Wild Virginia and Community Childcare Center.
- Seniors may choose a civic or global engagement focused thesis.

Communication Course Descriptions

100 Public Speaking (3 s.h.)
The theory and practice of public speaking in a variety of professional and social contexts, focusing on how public discourse can transform speakers and audiences by creating an environment for the open exchange of ideas, experiences, and opinions.

115 Mass Communication (3 s.h.)
An exploration of media culture includes the history, economic structures, and special issues associated with various media industries. Enhances media literacy and explores how culture influences and is influenced by media. Students are encouraged to become cultural critics of media.

119 Introduction to Video Production (3 s.h.)
For course description, see FILM 119 in the Film listing.

202 Organizational Behavior and Interpersonal Communication (3 s.h.)
For course description, see BUAD 202 in the Business listing.

212 Mass Media Law and Ethics (3 s.h.)
Students examine the dual judicial system in the U.S. and its effect on media, the protections of speech and press afforded by the First Amendment of the U.S. Constitution and on areas of civil and criminal law. Students practice recognizing and resolving ethical conflicts. Cross listed as POLS 212.
221 Mass Media Writing (3 s.h.)
An introduction to the basic principles of media writing, covering a variety of writing styles, including journalism and public relations. Provides practical experience in writing, editing, and meeting deadlines for Campus Comments, the MBC student newspaper.

222 Social Science Statistics (3 s.h.)
For course description, see INT 222 in the Interdisciplinary Studies listing.

229 Advanced Video Production (3 s.h.)
For course description, see FILM 229 in the Film listing.

237 Mediation: Theory and Practice (3 s.h.)
For course description, see REL 237 in the Religion listing.

240 Principles of Advertising (3 s.h.)
Examines the history, functions, practices, and criticism of advertising. Students learn the creative process of the profession, as well as ways to become more critical consumers of advertising messages. Includes community-service learning and a group project. Cross listed as MKTC 240. Recommended background: COMM 100.

254 Film Analysis (3 s.h.)
For course description, see FILM 254 in the Film listing.

260 Principles of Public Relations (3 s.h.)
The development and role of public relations and its centrality in democratic societies. Students learn practices of the profession, strategies and tactics, and how to implement a campaign. Includes the important role of research in public relations and related theory. Study of business and media writing and a community service-learning project on behalf of a nonprofit organization. Cross listed as MKTC 260. Recommended background: COMM 100.

264 Screenwriting (3 s.h.)
For course description, see FILM 264 in the Film listing.

275 Women and Film (3 s.h.)
For course description, see FILM 275 in the Film listing.

280 Intercultural Communication (3 s.h.)
Explores the mutual influences of aspects of culture: perception, histories, identity, language, nonverbal communication, conflict, behavior, media and the experience of daily life. Emphasizes awareness of oneself as a cultural being, tolerance for ambiguity, and the application of theory to practice.

300 Integrated Media and Marketing Campaigns (3 s.h.)
Course investigates a broad range of communication campaigns, with emphasis on integrated marketing and social media strategies and tactics. In addition to discussions and readings of case studies, class engages in community service learning, creating campaigns on behalf of nonprofit clients.

322 Special Topics in Communication (3 s.h.)
Focus on special topics not normally covered in other communication courses or not covered in sufficient depth. Individual student projects define or refine an aspect of the topic.

387 Internship in Communication (3–6 s.h.)
A communication-based, practical learning experience that bridges the academic and professional worlds. The student identifies the internship and negotiates the nature of her responsibilities with the supervising organization, which works with the supervising professors to evaluate the student’s performance. Internship-agreement contract must be finalized before a student begins working with an organization. The major is required to complete a three semester hour internship.

395 Communication Theory and Research (3 s.h.)
An examination of the discipline from rhetoric to interpersonal to mass communication. Includes both the classical theories of the discipline and those relevant in upper-division communication courses and possible graduate study, as well as in the work world beyond higher education. Focus on the basis for communication research and how to employ theory as a critical tool. The course helps prepare students for senior projects or theses. *Prerequisite: senior Communication major.

400 Senior Seminar (3 s.h.)
Practice in the conduct of a major independent research thesis demonstrating understanding of communication issues, theories, and skills, on a topic of student’s choice. Application of primary and secondary research or project to a selected issue associated with human and/or mass-mediated interaction. Theses and projects are presented in writing and orally to members of the department and the major. *Prerequisites: COMM 400 and senior status.

Mary Baldwin College and University of Virginia Dual Degree Program in Engineering or Computer Science
Mary Baldwin College students may participate in a dual degree program in engineering or computer science offered by the School of Engineering and Computer Science/Math at University of Virginia. Qualified students attend Mary Baldwin for three years. Then, based on their academic performance, they are accepted into the University of Virginia for two or more years of study, leading to a bachelor’s degree in computer science/mathematics from MBC and a master’s degree in engineering or computer science from UVA. Students interested in exploring this option should contact the coordinator, Dr. John Ong, during their first semester at Mary Baldwin.

Computer Science Course Descriptions

180 Fundamentals of Computer Systems (3 s.h.)
An introduction to the fundamentals of computer systems, digital logic, computer organization, operating systems, problem solving, data abstraction, data structures, and algorithms. Includes an introduction to a high-level programming language.

Note: Students with a strong background may begin their coursework with CS 205 – please see your advisor with questions.

205 Principles of Computer Programming (3 s.h.)
An introduction to computer programming using a high level, object-oriented programming language. Contents include program logic and algorithms, control structures, functions, input and output, arrays and files, and an introduction to object development. Emphasis is on program formulation and problem solving, as well as on modularity, style, and documentation. Students are required to complete a substantial number of programming assignments. *Prerequisite: CS 180, a Math SAT score of 550 or higher, or permission of the instructor.

207 Rapid Application Development (3 s.h.)
This course explores developing computer applications using application frameworks such as .NET and Ruby on Rails. Students will create graphical user interfaces using drag and drop techniques and handle events with languages such as Visual Basic or C#. Agile methods, prototyping, and spiraling development will be used to rapidly create sophisticated applications. *Prerequisite: CS 180 or permission of instructor, but CS 205 is recommended.

215 Data Structures and Software Engineering (3 s.h.)
A course treating data structures and abstract data types in the environment of software design, development, and maintenance. Includes the development of software projects that involve the design and implementation of complex data structures such as stacks, queues, linked lists, trees, and directed graphs. Software development tools and methods of maintenance, verification, and project management are included. *Prerequisite: CS 205.

220 Introduction to Databases (3 s.h.)
Database concepts in the areas of file systems and database models will be presented. Entity-relationship modeling, normalization forms, and SQL (Structured Query Language) will be used to apply design and implementation concepts. Object-oriented databases and class modeling will be explored. Includes a computer laboratory requirement in which students will use database software to construct, populate, query, and report data contained in various databases. *Prerequisite: CS 180 or permission of instructor.

230 Operating Systems (3 s.h.)
This course is an introduction to the functions of various microcomputer operating systems. After the history of operating systems is explored, the management of memory, processes, devices, and files as well as system security are studied. Students will be required to become proficient in the use of various microcomputer operating systems, including DOS, Windows, and Unix/Linux. *Prerequisite: CS 180 or CS 205.

300 Computer Organization and Architecture (3 s.h.)
A study of machine organization at a low level of abstraction, including computer structure, digital representation of numbers, arithmetic and logical operations, instruction representation, memory systems and memory addressing, input/output techniques, and a comparison of different architectures. Students are required to write and test a number of assembly language programs. *Prerequisite: CS 205 or permission of instructor.

370 Topics in Computer Systems (3 s.h.)
The study of computer information systems is dynamic, and the state-of-the-art has a very short life cycle. Technology is changing almost everything about the way we live and work. To prepare students for this environment, advanced study is offered around a current topic or professional resource. Extensive current literature reading and research assignments. *Prerequisites: two prior CS courses and permission of instructor.

387 Internship (credit varies)
A variety of field experiences, internships, and positions of responsibility may be undertaken for academic credit with the prior approval of a faculty sponsor. Internships provide students with practical experience in working with professionals in various career fields, and therefore are valuable testing grounds for possible future careers. *Prerequisites: junior or senior standing and permission of instructor.

402 Senior Project (3 s.h.)
The culminating academic experience for computer science/math majors. Students integrate the knowledge gained from their course work and their liberal arts study and experience as they develop a software development project, a database project, dynamic website, or an academic research paper. Students present their project in both written and oral formats throughout the semester to project sponsors, supervising faculty, and department peers. *Prerequisites: senior status or MATH 400 or MATH 401.

Gordon Bowen, Daniel Stuhlsatz, John Wells, coordinators
Robert Farley, Jr., Douglas Davis, Sarah Ludwig, Jane Pietrowski, Robert Robinson, Carey Usher

Criminal Justice provides students with a thorough knowledge of crime, criminal behavior, the police and courts, law and society, and theories of crime through offerings within the disciplines of Political Science, Sociology and other disciplines related to this field of study. The major also contains a strong applied component which offers students the opportunity to learn about the criminal justice system by taking courses such as police procedure, crime scene investigation, forensics, corrections and judicial procedures. In addition, students will be offered internships in which they will work with crime agencies and police departments.

Requirements for the Major in Criminal Justice

Senior Requirements: INT 222, POLS/ECON 301 or SOC 320, CJ 387 (CJ 387 will first be offered during the 2012-2013 academic year), and CJ 401 (CJ 401 will first be offered during the 2012-2013 academic year).

Criminal Justice Course Descriptions
100 Introduction to Criminal Justice (3 s.h.)
This course provides a general overview of the social creation of crime and of social responses to crime. Students analyze the social circumstances that produce crime in diverse societies and cultures. They also study a variety of legal and law enforcement systems that define and control crime. This course focuses on the perspectives of all those involved in the production of crime and on the critical analysis of those perspectives.

215 Criminal Investigations (3 s.h.)
This course covers the fundamentals of criminal investigation including the gathering of investigative information from victims and witnesses, the search and recording of crime scenes, and the principles involved in collecting and preserving physical evidence. There is a strong emphasis on investigative policies, procedures, and practices that are necessary and essential to secure the truth within today’s legal climate.

387 Senior Internship (6 s.h.)
This course is one of two fulfilling the criminal justice senior requirement. The senior internship offers students a field experience in one of a wide range of Criminal Justice professions. Students keep a journal and work with their advisor in order to benefit as much as possible from this opportunity. Ideally, the internship provides data that can be analyzed and developed as part of the senior thesis.

401 Senior Seminar (3 s.h.)
This course is one of two fulfilling the criminal justice senior requirement. Students in the senior seminar will conduct research on a topic in criminal justice and write a thesis using criminal justice theory and analytical methodology in order to better understand the research. Ideally, the thesis analyzes and develops data collected from the senior internship.

Note: Directed inquiries, teaching assistantships, and internships in criminal justice can be arranged on an individual basis.

Honors Credit
Honor Scholars who are comfortable with calculus may take ECON 101 and/or ECON 102 for Honors credit. Please see Professors Klein or Diduch for details. Econ 210 and Econ 250 are offered for honors credit and are open only to global honor scholars.

Civic Engagement Opportunities
Courses provide important tools for analysis of social problems. Courses include issues like root causes and possible responses to poverty, education, health care, the environment, women’s labor market participation, the impact of international trade on workers in developed and developing countries, and immigration. ECON 215, PHIL 140, and SOC 282, among others include service learning components. Relevant internships can be arranged.

Economics Course Descriptions

101 Principles of Microeconomics (3 s.h.)
Economics is the study of scarcity and choice in response to incentives. Students learn how economists analyze choices, how markets determine prices and quantities exchanged, and how individuals and businesses make optimal decisions. Students gain skills in cost-benefit analysis, the process of logical thought behind basic economic models, using graphs as analytical tools, and interpreting articles on markets and decision-making.

102 Principles of International and Macroeconomics (3 s.h.)
Students learn how economists measure economic performance, how national economies function and how to analyze national and international economic government policies. Students learn basic economic theories of international trade and finance and explore controversies surrounding exchange rates. Students learn the advantages and disadvantages of specialization and discuss how trade policy can be seen as beneficial or harmful to development. *Prerequisite: ECON 101.

150 Experimental Economics (3 s.h.)
Through highly interactive games and experiments, students participate in market decision-making, bargaining, and auctions, analyze experimental results, and determine whether models predict actual behavior. Students learn models of supply and demand, market structure, public goods, and basic techniques of game theory.

203 Intermediate Microeconomic Theory (3 s.h.)
This course presents the analytical methods of consumer choice theory and the theory of the firm, including the use of indifference curves and budget constraints, welfare analysis of perfectly competitive markets, cost minimization, applications of game theory, implications of market structure for profit and output, and the impact of government policies on decisions of consumers and businesses. *Prerequisite: ECON 101.

204 Intermediate Macroeconomic Theory (3 s.h.)
This course examines the phenomena of unemployment, inflation, economic growth and the business cycle. In each case, measurement, trends, patterns, forecasts, and theories will be studied. The course develops the foundations of classical and Keynesian economic theory and then applies these theories to government policy. *Prerequisites: ECON 101 and ECON 102.

210 Food, Population, and Technology (3 s.h.)
An honors colloquium that explores how societies’ wealth, well-being, and culture are interwoven with population density and food production and distribution. Students read historical, anthropological, and economic studies to examine stages of development in agricultural production, cross-cultural comparisons of food consumption, factory-farming versus organic farming, solutions to world hunger. Research papers and field trips complement seminar discussions on food and population policies. *Prerequisite: Global Honor Scholar status.

215 Poverty, Inequality, and Welfare (3 s.h.)
This course focuses on methods of defining and examining the extent of income inequality and poverty in the United States and engages in the public policy debates surrounding such issues as welfare reform, discrimination and labor market difficulties of low-skilled workers. Students gain the critical thinking skills necessary to assess poverty programs and policies.

221 Economic History of the US (3 s.h.)
This course is designed to analyze the growth and development of the US economy since colonial times. Students will be expected to understand the major economic changes of the last 300 years and how and why these changes occurred. Students explore topics including the causes of regional specialization, the effects of technological progress, institutional influences, the economic role of women, and the consequences of government policy. The course may require field trips to industrial and agricultural sites. Cross listed as HIST 221.

222 Social Science Statistics (3 s.h.)
For course description, see INT 222 in the Interdisciplinary Studies listing.

225 Money and Banking (3 s.h.)
Students examine the structure of financial markets, the determinants of interest rates, bank management, and the history of banking and the Federal Reserve system. Students study current financial news, markets, and trends. *Prerequisites: ECON 101 and ECON 102.

232 Topics in Economic Development (3 s.h.)
This seminar critically examines the goals of economic development, measurements and indicators of progress and growth for less developed countries, and policies directed toward development (including the concept of sustainable development). We discuss progress in achieving the Millennium Development Goals and policy options for agriculture, education, women’s...
247 Globalization and Labor Issues (3 s.h.)
This course addresses the concerns of workers on a global scale: how changes in international trade, business practices and national economic policies affect employment, wages, unionization, child labor, and immigration. Students discuss the determinants of labor demand and supply, the benefits and costs of education and job training, and the impact of low wages in developing economies on developed country wages. Cross listed as BUAD 247. *Prerequisites: ECON 101 and ECON 102.

250 Economics, Science, and Literature of Seasonal Rhythms (3 s.h.)
An honors colloquium that explores yearly seasonal rhythms of nature and commerce through a variety of means: designing sundials, studying calendars of different cultures, and reading ancient texts, scientific reports, and literature. Students should be receptive to the blending of scientific observation, geometry, quantitative reasoning, and humanist sensitivity that the course intends to cultivate. *Prerequisites: Math 150 or higher-level math and Honor Scholar status.

253 International Trade (3 s.h.)
This course examines the importance of, the size of, and the directions in foreign trade within the world economy. Gains from trade, trade theory and policy, and barriers to trade will be studied. Class discussions focus on current issues in world trade. Students complete a series of research papers on the international exchange of one particular commodity. Writing emphasis. *Prerequisites: ECON 101 and ECON 102.

254 International Finance (3 s.h.)
This course examines the finance of international trade and investment and the channels and institutions of world capital flows. Focus will be on models of exchange rate systems, international policy coordination and the changing roles of the IMF and the World Bank, and the growth of international debt. Students follow international financial events and discuss current policy issues. *Prerequisites: ECON 101 and ECON 102.

270 Business and Government (3 s.h.)
This course examines economic theory that defines the role of government intervention in business, the history of government intervention, the role of innovation. Students study a series of antitrust cases. The course focuses on U.S. government policy, an assessment of policy, the behavior of firms, and the response of individuals and society within a global context. Cross listed as BUAD 270. *Prerequisite: ECON 101.

272 Environmental Policy (3 s.h.)
Environmental issues are at the forefront of many policy discussions today. Economic theory provides useful and important tools for analyzing and comparing public policy options to global warming, resource use in developing countries, allocation of scarce water resources. Students learn the tools to recognize and analyze environmental externalities, learn and evaluate the use and effectiveness of cost-benefit analysis and discuss current and potential policy alternatives. *Prerequisite: Econ 101.

277 Economics Colloquium (3 s.h.)
This course provides the opportunity for the extensive study of a special topic in which students have expressed particular interest. The topic will change each time the course is offered. In recent years, topics have included social science research on the Internet; economic transition from socialism to capitalism; and environmental policy.

280 Women and Economics (3 s.h.)
Explores the sexual division of labor, the value of women’s work, and the economics of gender and race through anthropological, economic, and historical studies on women’s status in other cultures. For the US examines theories and data on the career/family tradeoff, and recent changes in labor force participation, fertility rates, marital status, poverty rates, and gender differentials in income. Requirements satisfied: writing emphasis, and women’s studies. Cross listed as WS 280.

301 Advanced Data Analysis (3 s.h.)
Applied statistics builds on social science statistics. Students use data, theoretical models, and statistical techniques to explore relationships between variables, use computer graphics and exploratory data analysis to examine economic, social, and financial data. Technical topics include index numbers, forecasting, time series analysis, regression, correlation. Research projects involve data collection, statistical analysis, and interpretation of results. Cross listed as POLS 301. *Prerequisite: INT 222.

320 Economics and Finance of Health Care Systems (3 s.h.)
For course description, see HCA 320 in the Health Care Administration listing.

325 Economic Policy Seminar (3 s.h.)
Students analyze issues and policies most in the news, focusing on five or six areas of critical economic policy debate. Recent topics: economics of crime prevention, professional sports, low-income housing, inflation policy, social security reform, and NAFTA. Policy applications of economic principles are examined and critiqued through class discussions, journal writing, and a series of essays. *Prerequisites: ECON 101, ECON 102, and one additional ECON course.

395/396 Topics in Economic Theory I and II (2 s.h. each)
Topics in Economic Theory allows advanced economics students to engage in discussions of important discoveries, controversies and analyses of interest to professional economists. Students will read academic journal articles and books that have led to significant developments in economic theory. Students will be responsible for leading class discussions of the readings.

401 Senior Project (3 s.h.)
The Senior Project requires the economics major to design and implement a major independent research project on a topic of interest to the student. The project draws on a student’s mastery of economic theory and quantitative reasoning and results in two written and oral presentations. The student is expected to discuss an appropriate research topic with economics faculty before the beginning of the course.

A five year option allows students to complete a Bachelor of Arts (BA), a Master of Arts in teaching (MAT), and teacher licensure. For more information, visit the website at www.mbc.edu/mat/bamat.php.

The Following Licenses are Available

- Elementary education (kindergarten through sixth grade)
- Middle and secondary education (in a teaching subject)
- Elementary education plus special education
- Middle and secondary education plus special education.

Please see Education — Teacher Licensure, for more information and course requirements.

Accreditation

The Teacher Education Program at Mary Baldwin College is approved and accredited by the Virginia Department of Education and by the Teacher Education Accreditation Council (TEAC) for a period of five years from March 2008 to March 2013. This accreditation certifies that the forenamed professional education program has provided evidence that the program adheres to TEAC’s quality principles.

Application for Admission to Teacher Education Program

Students in the college for women must apply to the Teacher Education Committee for acceptance into the Teacher Education Program during the second semester of the junior year. Application forms are available in the Teacher Education Office.

To be accepted for the teacher education program students must:

- Have a minimum overall GPA of 2.5
- Have a GPA of 3.0 on professional studies courses
- Submit a completed application form
- Submit recommendation forms from one education and two non-education faculty members
- Submit a one-page, typed writing sample (topic provided on the application form)
- Submit a record documenting experience working with children or young people
- Possess suitable personality traits such as character, dependability, emotional stability, interpersonal skills, and temperament, as evidenced by faculty and practicum teachers
- Submit score for Math portion of Praxis I. Students who have not passed the Praxis I Math portion, but meet all other program requirements, may be accepted. They will be presented with options to strengthen weak areas.

Periodic reappraisal of teacher candidates will be made as students progress through the program.

ADP undergraduate students are admitted to the Teacher Education Program through the degree plan process. Students planning to teach meet with their advisors to document course work and requirements needed for teacher licensure.

Students who have a bachelor’s degree may apply for admission into the Teacher Education Program through the Post Baccalaureate Teacher Licensure Program. These students follow the same admission procedure as undergraduates and are evaluated on the same criteria.

In the event that a student has been convicted of a felony, and/or had a teaching license revoked by another state, if all other admission requirements have been met and after the Teacher Education Committee has favorably reviewed the application, the student will petition the state, through the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, for an exemption to the felony and license revocation clauses of the Department of Education regulations. The Teacher Education Committee may conditionally admit the person to the Teacher Education program, allowing her/him to take classes; however, the individual will be prohibited from student teaching until the exemption has been approved by the state.
Education Course Descriptions

110 Practicum in Education (3 s.h.)
This course is designed to provide students who are contemplating teaching as a career to acquire early and varied experiences in area school classrooms. Students will meet several afternoons with their practicum supervisor for the practicum seminar. A minimum of 90 hours will be spent in the classroom. Students must complete this course prior to the senior year.

111 Practicum in Special Education (3 s.h.)
This course is designed to give students who are contemplating a career in special education an opportunity to observe and assist teachers in the classroom. Students will complete a 40-hour practicum.

115 Foundations of Education (3 s.h.)
The goals of this introductory course are: to acquaint students with the philosophical schools of thought in education and with prominent educators whose contributions have shaped educational theory and practice; and to enhance students’ skills in reading, writing, thinking, and discussing critically and analytically.

120 Understanding Exceptional Individuals (3 s.h.)
This course is about exceptional children and youth with learning and/or behavior problems, or who are gifted and talented, or who have physical disabilities. The course is a study of the field of special education and the exceptional individuals.

125 Introduction to Art Education (3 s.h.)
For course description, see ART 125 in the Art and Art History, Art Education listing.

157 Computer Technology for Teachers (3 s.h.)
This online course prepares teachers to use computer technology within the classroom to enhance, augment, and enlarge opportunities for learning. Offered as needed to ADP students.

205 Characteristics of Exceptionality (3 s.h.)
Students demonstrate knowledge of definitions, characteristics, and learning and behavior support needs of children and youth with disabilities, including learning disabilities, emotional disturbance, mental retardation, developmental delay, autism, traumatic brain injury, attention deficit disorders, other health impairments, and multiple disabilities, among others. They develop understanding of normal patterns of development (physical, psychomotor, cognitive, linguistic, social, emotional) and educational implications of various disabilities.

215 Foundations and Legal Issues of Special Education (3 s.h.)
Prospective teachers learn the foundation for educating students with disabilities, including: historical perspectives, theories and philosophies, and current trends in the field of special education. They develop an understanding and application of legal aspects and regulatory requirements associated with the identification, education and evaluations of disabled students. Emphasizes ability to analyze ethical issues and to apply accepted standards of professional behavior.

218 Transitioning in the Special Education Environment (1 s.h.)
This course is a requirement for students who are seeking teacher licensure with an endorsement in Special Education. Focus will be on development of skills and knowledge in preparation for working with parents and families to provide postsecondary transitions as well as transitions while in school, case management, consultation and collaboration. Emphasis will be on transition planning in the IEP — Individualized Education Plan, transition system delivery, independent living skills, career development, community resources, available agencies, self-advocacy, guardianship, and implementation of interagency agreements for successful transitioning to employment and self-sustainment. Students will develop an understanding of the best practices in transitioning, the Model of Transition Pathways, transition assessment, Federal Legislation, transition provisions in IDEA 2004, NCLB 2001, and alignment of transition with Standards-Based Education. Participants will learn how to become a transition leader for their students when they are a Special Education teacher, and they will know how to improve transition outcomes during the school years as well as postsecondary for youth with disabilities and for youth placed at risk.

250 Teaching the Gifted Student (2 s.h.)
Students participate in peer teaching, simulations, independent study, and discussions. Through these experiences, the students demonstrate their knowledge of the curriculum and skills in adjusting to meet the special needs of gifted learners.

260 Multicultural Education (3 s.h.)
This course provides prospective teachers an understanding of how the increasing diversity of the American population has influenced life in public school classrooms. Students will study characteristics of various cultural and ethnic groups which make up the school population today and will demonstrate understanding of the potential impact of those characteristics on student learning and achievement.

300 Elementary School Methods and Practicum (4 s.h.)
Conceptualizes the teacher as one who makes and carries out decisions about curriculum and instruction, based on principles of teaching and learning. Instructional planning and classroom management are emphasized. A field experience in a PK-6 classroom integrates theory with practice. Prerequisite for ED382; should be taken the semester before student teaching, if possible.

305 Classroom Management and Collaboration in Special Education Setting (3 s.h.)
Prospective teachers learn classroom and behavior management techniques and individual interventions, develop skills required to collaborate with regular education colleagues and with families of students with disabilities, learn and practice skills in consultation, case management, and collaboration needed to assist and support students and families in successful transitions within the K-12 school system and beyond. Required 30 hour practicum in a secondary (Grades 6-12) setting.

310 Middle and Secondary Methods and Practicum (4 s.h.)
Experience with methods and materials for grades 6-12. They demonstrate knowledge and skills in setting goals and objectives, unit and lesson planning, varying teaching techniques, classroom management, individualizing instruction, measuring and evaluating learning, selecting teaching materials, using multimedia, and developing an effective teaching style and confidence in speaking. Course is prerequisite for ED 383 and ED 384; should be taken in fall, senior year.
315 Differentiated Strategies in Instruction and Assessment for Special Education (4 s.h.)
Students learn service delivery models, curriculum, instruction of students with disabilities, and skills for application. Includes alternative ways to teach content, curriculum adaptation and modification, strategies for integration of students with disabilities with non-disabled peers, uses of technology in learning. Examines procedures to develop, provide, and evaluate instruction consistent with students’ individual needs: procedures for screening, prereferral, referral, eligibility determination. Considers factors that may influence assessment findings, related ethical issues, application of results to guide development of individual education plans. Required 30 hour practicum.

323 Language Acquisition and Reading I (3 s.h.)
This course will develop in beginning elementary teachers a thorough understanding of the complex nature of language acquisition and literacy, including but not limited to phonemic awareness, concept of print, phonics, vocabulary development, and comprehension. Students will investigate formal and informal diagnostic measures, instructional procedures, and corrective strategies for varied reading difficulties. Students will develop knowledge of reading and writing processes, compelling theories of reading and writing pedagogy including strategies for working with English language learners. Students will become familiar with criteria for identifying excellence in children’s literature and elements of a balanced literacy program which includes a variety of literature and independent reading.

324 Language Acquisition and Reading II and Practicum (4 s.h.)
Learning to read and write is a developmental process that can be systematically advanced through the use of specific instructional strategies. This course will provide beginning elementary teachers the knowledge and skills required to recognize, assess, and respond to children’s learning needs as emerging readers and writers. Student will examine various strategies including but not limited to word study, phonics, vocabulary, and spelling designed to accelerate progress in children who encounter reading difficulties. Students will also explore learning opportunities for children who are moving along in the reading continuum more rapidly than their classmates. Strategies for drawing children into literature and utilizing authentic children’s books in reading instruction are included. Students will field test literacy strategies introduced in the ED 323/324 sequence in a 30-hour practicum placement in the semester in which they are enrolled in ED 324.

325 Classroom Behavior Management (3 s.h.)
This course presents behavioral, cognitive, and psycho-educational theories along with behavior management strategies and positive behavior intervention plans. Emphasis will include current research on behavior management in the classroom for grades K-12, cognitive restructuring for the social cognitive approach, and current practices. Participants will learn strategies for student use in self motivation behavior pattern changes which will motivate them to remain in control of their own positive behavior. Focus will be on teaching students to perceive situations in an appropriate manner which will change their thought patterns regarding social situations and assist them in becoming efficient problem solvers. This focus views students as change agents whereby teachers guide them to manage their own behavior change as well as their own behavior patterns. Research has shown that these strategies have significant impact on interpersonal conflicts within the educational setting. Students will examine the structure of effectively managed whole group classrooms as well as individual behavior management and the development of social behaviors. Response measures will be presented for use in data analysis for behavior management within the classroom. Participants will development a behavior management plan for their classroom which incorporates management plans needed for individual students as they utilize skills for enhancing a supportive learning environment.

350 Content Area Reading (3 s.h.)
This course requires students to examine research and instructional subject on high school students and adults. Students design experiences that examine uses of content area texts capitalizing on critical reading and writing. Course participants will field test all activities described and studied in this course.

Student Teaching
Students who are admitted to the Teacher Education Program are eligible to apply for student teaching during their final semester.

Requirements for Admission to Student Teaching:
• full admission to the teacher education program and continue to meet requirements
• application for student teaching prior to the published deadline
• satisfactory completion of a 90 hour practicum experience in local public schools
• documentation of successful field experiences
• suitability for teaching as demonstrated in course work and field experiences
• overall GPA of 2.5 or higher
• minimum GPA of 3.0 in professional studies courses
• submit scores on Praxis I Math
• a passing score on the Virginia Communication and Literary assessment
• demonstrated personal and professional qualities, including responsibility, effective communication, enthusiasm, resourcefulness, flexibility, and professional behavior

Note: Approval for student teaching does not necessarily mean licensure approval. Candidates for licensure must demonstrate successful student teaching experience, an overall 2.5 GPA, and 3.0 GPA on professional studies courses. Elementary Education students must take Praxis I Math and pass Praxis II, pass the Virginia Communication and Literary Assessment (VCLA), and pass the Virginia Reading Assessment (VRA). Secondary Education students must take Praxis I Math and pass Praxis II if available, and pass the Virginia Communication and Literary Assessment (VCLA).

Student Teaching Courses (12 s.h. each)
One semester working directly with students in a classroom on a full-time basis under the direction of a classroom teacher and college supervisor. Student teachers may not work, take courses, or participate in varsity sports. Application must be made the semester prior to student teaching. *Prerequisite for ED 382 is ED 300. Prerequisite for ED 383 and ED 384 is ED 310.

382 Elementary Education (PK–6)
383 Middle Education (6–8)
384 Secondary Education (6–12)
385 Student Teaching in Art (PK–12)
389 Student Teaching in Foreign Language (PK–12)
391 Student Teaching in Theatre (PK–12)
392 Student Teaching in Music Education (PK–12)

386 Student Teaching Seminar (1–3 s.h.)
Seminar is held in conjunction with student teaching. This experience allows students to discuss and examine critical issues related to student teaching. Spring semester only for RCW students.

Education — Teacher Licensure
Lowell Lemons, Co-Chair Education Department, James McCrory, Director of Teacher Education and Co-Chair Education Department
Tiffany Barber, Karen Dorgan

There are multiple paths to teacher licensure for students at Mary Baldwin College, and they are outlined below.

Undergraduate students preparing to teach must complete all requirements for the BA or BS, complete a major in one of the disciplines or an interdisciplinary major, and meet professional studies requirements and additional requirements particular to the area of licensure.

Students pursuing their undergraduate degree should minor in Education and meet all additional requirements for licensure. Students may also minor in Education without pursuing licensure. There are additional options for individuals who already hold a baccalaureate degree and for those who wish to obtain their undergraduate degree, master’s, and licensure in five years.

Students pursuing Elementary Education Licensure are encouraged to pursue the American Studies major with an emphasis in American Studies for Educators (see American Studies, American Studies for Educators). Students seeking licensure to teach at the secondary level must major in the area in which they intend to teach (see details below).

Requirements for licensure are approved by the State Department of Education. Due to the multiple requirements, this program should not be attempted by students who plan to graduate from college in less than four years. All students enrolled in the program must devote their final semester entirely to student teaching.

Through the Post Baccalaureate Teacher Licensure Program, students who already have a bachelor’s degree can pursue initial licensure. Students seeking both licensure and a graduate degree do so through the Master of Arts in Teaching program. For more information, see the Graduate Teacher Education listing in the Graduate Programs section of this catalog.

Accreditation
The Teacher Education Program at Mary Baldwin College is approved and accredited by the Virginia Department of Education and by the Teacher Education Accreditation Council (TEAC) for a period of five years from March 2008 to March 2013. This accreditation certifies that the forenamed professional education program has provided evidence that the program adheres to TEAC’s quality principles.

Requirements for Approval for Teacher Licensure
• demonstrated successful student teaching experience
• overall 2.5 GPA
• 3.0 GPA on professional studies course work
• submit Math score on Praxis I
• passing score on Praxis II
• passing score on Virginia Communication and Literary Assessment (VCLA)
• for elementary education licensure only, the Reading for Virginia Educators (RVE)
• professional studies and teaching area requirements approved by the Virginia Department of Education (see below).

Computer Technology Competency
Technology competencies are embedded in the courses leading to teacher licensure through a variety of demonstrations, applications, and projects.

The Following Licenses are Available
• Elementary education (kindergarten through sixth grade)
• Middle and secondary education (in a teaching subject)
• Elementary education plus special education
• Middle and secondary education plus special education.

For additional information contact the Education Department at 540-887-7298

Elementary Education Licensure (PK–6)

Requirements
• a major in an appropriate area
• a minor in education at the elementary level
• liberal arts course requirements:
  * English (6 credit hours)
    ENG 102 Intermediate Composition (required)
  * One additional course in literature from among:
    ENG 111 Introduction to Literature

English Course Descriptions

100 Basic Composition (3 s.h.)
Required of freshmen who, on evidence of high school record and SAT scores, show need for practice in critical reading and writing. Objective is competence in reading analytically and writing essays that meet standards of organization, logical development, sentence structure, grammar, spelling, and punctuation. Emphasis on extensive composition and revision.

101 Intermediate Composition: PEG (3 s.h.)
For first-year students in the Program for the Exceptionally Gifted, integrating composition and literature. Varied readings provide topics for discussion and writing assignments. Instruction and practice in the writing process, focusing on the college-level essay and critical thinking. Introduction to research techniques and review of grammar and mechanics, focusing on major errors and issues of style. Grade of B- or better exempts a student from ENG 102.

102 Intermediate Composition (3 s.h.)
Required for graduation. Designed to improve writing, critical thinking and ability to read carefully. Classes devoted to discussing student essays and texts by professional writers, emphasizing discussion and the writing process. Students write six-eight essays or equivalent and revise at least two.

103 English as a Second Language I: Basic Composition (3 s.h.)
Prepares ESL students for academic writing, with emphasis on analytical reading and on writing short essays that meet standards of organization, logical development, sentence structure, grammar, spelling and punctuation. Emphasis on extensive composition and revision. Students taking 103 in fall should expect to take either ENG 104 or ENG 102 in spring.

111 Introduction to Literature (3 s.h.)
Provides an introduction to close reading of poetry, fiction, and drama. Through class discussion and regular writing assignments students will gain an understanding and appreciation of literary genre. The course will also involve discussion and writing about how the elements of each genre — including setting, plot, imagery, sound, and rhythm — contribute to the meaning and effect of a literary work.

202 Advanced Composition (3 s.h.)
Develops proficiency in writing prose nonfiction with sophistication and voice, through reading of selected nonfiction works; stylistic exercises; and frequent writing, peer review, and revision. *Prerequisite: ENG 101, ENG 102, or ENG 111.

203 Children’s Literature before 1900 (3 s.h.)
Study of representative works through the Golden Age, including folktales in translation; poetry from Mother Goose to Lear; and works such as Alice’s Adventures in Wonderland, Little Women, The Adventures of Tom Sawyer, Treasure Island, Pinocchio, and Arabian Nights. Emphasis on history of children’s literature and analysis of individual works. *Prerequisite: ENG 101, ENG 102, or ENG 111.

204 Children’s Literature after 1900 (3 s.h.)
Study of representative works after 1900, including poetry, short fiction, picture books, novels such as The Wizard of Oz, The Wind in the Willows, The Secret Garden, Charlotte’s Web, and translated fiction in a variety of genres. Emphasis on history of children’s literature and analysis of individual works. *Prerequisite: ENG 101, ENG 102, or ENG 111.

208 British Literature before 1780 (3 s.h.)
Works of major British writers, both men and women, from the Anglo-Saxons to 1780. Develops skill in analyzing and comparing works and in communicating ideas in discussion and short essays. Literary texts are also discussed in relation to their cultural and historical contexts, and students develop an understanding of differing genres. *Prerequisite: ENG 101, ENG 102, or ENG 111.

209 British Literature after 1780 (3 s.h.)
Continuation of ENG 208. Study works of major British writers, both men and women, from 1780 to the late 20th century. *Prerequisite: ENG 101, ENG 102, or ENG 111.

216 Introduction to Shakespeare (3 s.h.)
Discussion/performance course focusing on examples of comedy, history, and tragedy, each considered from the dramatic, poetic, and theatrical perspectives, with some attention given to historical background and characteristics and development of Shakespeare’s art. Cross listed as ENG/THEA 216. *Prerequisite: ENG 101, ENG 102, or ENG 111.

217 Great Plays (3 s.h.)
For course description, see THEA 217 in the Theatre listing.

220 American Literature: Colonial to Romantic (3 s.h.)
Study of representative selections, including writers such as Bradstreet, Poe, Emerson, Melville, Hawthorne, Thoreau and Whitman. Develop skill in reading, understanding, and writing about works and gain confidence in the give-and-take of discussion. Literary merit, importance in the development of American literary themes and ideas, and power to elicit response from the modern reader will dictate selection of readings. *Prerequisite: ENG 101, ENG 102, or ENG 111.

221 American Literature: Realism to Present (3 s.h.)
A continuation of ENG 220 above. Representative selections from late 19th and 20th centuries are studied, including works by Chopin, James, Eliot, Frost, Stevens, and Hughes. Literary merit, importance in the development of American literary themes and ideas, and power to elicit response from the modern reader will dictate selection of readings. *Prerequisite: ENG 101, ENG 102, or ENG 111.

225 18th-Century British Literature (3 s.h.)
Introduction to literature and culture of a period of enormous literary innovation, including the rise of the novel and the woman writer. Texts often focus on issues of public concern: sex and marriage, education, crime and punishment, slavery and abolition, human rights. Develops understanding of how literature and culture contribute to this period, whilst speaking to issues of enduring relevance. Authors include Behn, Defoe, Pope, Swift, Burney, and lesser-known writers. *Prerequisite: ENG 101, ENG 102, or ENG 111.

227 The 18th-Century British Novel (3 s.h.)
Introduction to major novels. Develops detailed knowledge of the works as the basis for critical reflection and for understanding of the novel in its many forms. Attention to these early novels’ involvement in cultural debates about class, gender, domesticity and national identity. *Prerequisite: ENG 101, ENG 102, or ENG 111.

228 The 19th-Century British Novel (3 s.h.)
Introduction to five major novels, with attention to their social and historical background. Introduces key critical approaches to 19th-century fiction and explores ways in which the novels intervene in topics of enormous cultural importance such as politics, poverty, the position of women, and evolutionary theory. *Prerequisite: ENG 101, ENG 102, or ENG 111.
231 Romantic Literature (3 s.h.)
Brings together readings from the “Big Six” male Romantic poets (Blake, Wordsworth, Coleridge, Keats, Shelley and Byron) and discusses readings from a host of important women writers and lesser-known men, to construct a dynamic survey of this creative and revolutionary period. *Prerequisite: ENG 101, ENG 102, or ENG 111.

235 Women’s Writing (3 s.h.)
Selected writings of authors of the English-speaking world from the Middle Ages through the 20th century. Many readings are short selections, but several novels will be read. Students’ journals record responses to readings, including what these women writers say about marriage, women’s education, legal rights and social roles, and how the experiences of women affect us as modern women or men. *Prerequisite: ENG 101, ENG 102, or ENG 111.

236 Victorian Literature (3 s.h.)
Focusing on a sequence of inter-related themes — faith and doubt, men and women, self and society, past and present — this course will include readings in poetry, short fiction, and controversial essays, to develop an understanding of this complex and tormented era. *Prerequisite: ENG 101, ENG 102, or ENG 111.

244 Autobiography (3 s.h.)
Introduction to autobiography as a literary genre. Through reading and analyzing works, students develop a greater understanding of this genre’s range and of various writers’ responses to critical issues raised by autobiography: To what degree does a text recount a life? Create a life? How do form and style contribute to self-representation? *Prerequisite: ENG 101, ENG 102, or ENG 111.

246 The Crafting of Fiction (3 s.h.)
Introduction to basic elements of fiction writing, including characterization, plot, and point of view. In-class exercises, frequent writing assignments, and readings in contemporary fiction. Also introduces the writing workshop method of analysis and critique. *Prerequisite: ENG 101, ENG 102, or ENG 111.

247 The Crafting of Poetry (3 s.h.)
Introduction to basic elements of poetry writing, including persona, rhyme, rhythm, and meter. Through in-class exercises, frequent writing assignments, and readings in contemporary poetry, students develop strategies and skills for creating and developing formal and free-verse poetry. Also introduces the writing workshop method of analysis and critique. *Prerequisite: ENG 101, ENG 102, or ENG 111.

251 Technical and Professional Writing (3 s.h.)
Practice, drafting, and revising professional documents. Case studies examine common genres of writing in communities and workplaces: instructions, letters, memos, reports, proposals. One objective is to simulate the processes of writing in professional settings. Students gain appreciation for the interacting demands of content, audience, and structure and learn to use writing time more effectively. *Prerequisites: ENG 101, ENG 102, or ENG 111 and at least sophomore status, or permission of instructor.

264 African-American Literature (3 s.h.)
This course will focus on 20th-century African-American fiction, poetry, and essays. Through discussion, journal entries, and essays, students will develop skill in analyzing and comparing literary works and will consider contexts for African-American writing. *Prerequisite: ENG 101, ENG 102, or ENG 111.

268/368 Histories and Theories of Writing and Rhetoric (3 s.h.)
Introductory survey of high points in the Western tradition of writing and rhetoric, including ancient Greece and Rome and the rise of English rhetoric during the Renaissance. The course also provides attention to evolving assumptions about text and authorship from the Enlightenment through the 20th century, with a speculative look forward. *Prerequisite: ENG 101, ENG 102, or ENG 111.

270 Teaching Writing: An Introduction to Theory and Practice (3 s.h.)
Introduction to the major developments in the history of writing instruction in the U.S. as well as composition studies and writing pedagogy. Students will practice collaborative writing and research, and, through observation and practice in MBC’s Writing Center, gain first-hand experience assisting student writers across the curriculum. Students who complete this course and meet additional requirements may apply to work in the College’s Writing Center. *Prerequisite: ENG 101, ENG 102, or ENG 111.

310 Chaucer (3 s.h.)
A study of the Canterbury Tales and other selected texts. Students read the Middle English text. No background in Middle English is assumed. Students also learn about the political, religious, and intellectual background of the 14th century. Strongly recommended: ENG 208. *Prerequisite: one 200-level literature course or permission of instructor.

315 Tudor-Stuart Drama (3 s.h.)
A discussion course studying six to eight plays written between 1580 and 1640, including texts by Marlowe, Jonson, and Webster. The plays are studied in chronological order so that the student will gain some understanding of the development of the drama of the period. Cross listed as THEA 315. *Prerequisite: one 200-level literature course or permission of instructor.

320 Renaissance Literature (3 s.h.)
Renaissance Literature is a study of non-dramatic English poetry and prose from Thomas Wyatt through John Milton. This discussion course will cover the major authors of the mid-sixteenth through the mid-seventeenth centuries and will provide an overview of several minor writers of the period. Students will be introduced to the literary theories pertinent to study of the period, primarily New Historicism and Cultural Studies, and will write research papers on topics of their choice. *Prerequisite: one 200-level literature course or permission of instructor.

333 Modern Fiction (3 s.h.)
A survey of major novels and selected short stories by modern and contemporary writers, including Hemingway, Faulkner, O’Connor, and Woolf. Attention given to the works’ reflection of 20th-century culture and themes, and to shifts in 20th-century aesthetics. Emphasizes techniques of reading and writing about fiction. *Prerequisite: ENG 101, ENG 102, or ENG 111.

334 Modern Poetry (3 s.h.)
A survey of poetry in the twentieth century. The greatest amount of time will be devoted to the poetry between World War I and World War II. Largely discussion-based, the course will also provide opportunities for student research on individually-designed projects. *Prerequisite: ENG 101, ENG 102, or ENG 111.

346 The Writing of Fiction (3 s.h.)
Emphasizes the process and craft of fiction writing. Classes are designed as workshops and divided between periods of writing and periods of reading and discussing each other’s work. *Prerequisite: ENG 246 or permission of instructor.

347 The Writing of Poetry (3 s.h.)
Emphasizes the process and craft of poetry writing. Classes are designed as workshops and divided between periods of writing and periods of reading and discussing each other’s work. *Prerequisite: ENG 247 or permission of instructor.

375 Special Topics in Language and Literature (3 s.h.)
Intensive study of a literary or English language subject, such as the work of one or two major authors, a recurring literary or rhetorical theme, a genre, or a critical problem. Topics and instructors will vary.

400 Major Seminar (3 s.h.)
Students will learn about and evaluate the various theoretical approaches that may be used to analyze literary texts. They will also develop their research expertise within their chosen area of interest, in order to produce a research proposal and annotated bibliography. Once this proposal is approved, they will write either a research paper (4,000-6,000 words excluding notes and bibliography) or a themed critical portfolio of three shorter papers (1,500-2,000 words each excluding notes and bibliography), culminating in a formal presentation and defense. *Prerequisites: senior standing and at least a 2.0 GPA in English major courses.

Note: Directed inquiries, teaching assistantships, and internships in English can be arranged on an individual basis.

Environmental Policy Analysis
Gordon Bowen, Paul Callo, Catherine Ferris McPherson, Jane Pietrowski, Joseph Sprangel, and Karl Zachary, coordinators

For decades, people have asked the question, “Are there limits to growth?” Can people continue to consume more and more of the earth’s resources indefinitely? As we increase our consumption, can the earth continue to process or absorb the byproducts of our production? Answers to these questions and the understanding of how to address them require knowledge of science, economics, political science and business. Strong, sustainable solutions to environmental problems require critical thinking — an interdisciplinary skill — combined with deep, specific knowledge of the problem — a major-based skill. At Mary Baldwin College, students with an Environmental Policy Analysis minor are expected to acquire the knowledge and skills necessary to undertake competent, complex problem-solving in a major that has an important connection to environmental problem-solving.

Film

Allan Moyé, coordinator

Film study emphasizes cinema as art form, media industry, and social artifact. It integrates courses from many disciplines to provide cultural, historical and aesthetic means to think about and create visual media. Students choose one of two tracks: Film studies emphasizes critical, aesthetic, theoretical and philosophical approaches, while film production emphasizes practice through courses in photography, scriptwriting, video production, and theater production, for students who want to create movies, or study photojournalism, or narrative photography, and/or use video/film as a fine art. Students interested in film as part of their major may want to explore an emphasis in film offered through MBC’s Theater department. Those who wish to design an independent major in film should discuss the possibility with their advisors and the director of the film minor.

Civic Engagement Opportunities

Special topics in film and filmmaking include:

• Documenting May Term trips to El Salvador in conjunction with artist/activist Claudia Bernardi of the Walls of Hope organization.
• Documenting local topics of human interest.
• Required or recommended internships at area television, radio stations or video production companies.
• Video taping campus and local events of importance.
• Opportunities to attend national and international film festivals as a student intern.
• Creating Public Service Announcements for campus broadcast.
• Exploring civic engagement through class projects, group and individual assignments.

Film Course Descriptions

119 Introduction to Video Production (3 s.h.)
Fundamental, practical, and theoretical approach to video production. Emphasizes camera operation and composition, nonlinear editing and principles of editing (using FinalCut Pro), and related audio. Projects vary to emphasize broadcasting, documentary, narrative filmmaking, and various forms of artistic expression. Cross listed as COMM 119 and THEA 119.

229 Advanced Video Production (3 s.h.)
The art and theories of visual storytelling through narrative, documentary, and creative self-expression. Projects are oriented toward basic scripting, shooting, editing, and multiple-camera studio events for MBC TV. Cross listed as COMM 229 and THEA 229. *Prerequisite: FILM 119 or permission of the instructor.

254 Film Analysis (3 s.h.)
A critical framework for watching and analyzing popular and critically acclaimed films by examining dramatic, visual, and technical elements, and by studying the art and history of great filmmakers. Screenings each week of important silent, classic, international and modern films. Cross listed as ARTH 254 and COMM 254.

264 Screenwriting (3 s.h.)
Theory and practice of screenwriting, including concept, research, writing, revisions, and presentation. Analysis of successful scripts to discover appropriate styles and methods of writing. Workshop development of scripts emphasizing dramatic narrative for television and film. Cross listed as COMM 264 and THEA 264.

275 Women and Film (3 s.h.)
An exploration of issues of representation and spectatorship relating to women and film from the 1920s to the present from a feminist and a critical studies perspective. Examines Hollywood, independent and international cinema with an emphasis on women directors and filmmakers. Includes varied genres of film and their production and reception in their specific social contexts. Cross listed as COMM 275.

333 Film Theory and Criticism (3 s.h.)
An overview of the major theoretical and critical approaches to film as a complex cultural medium. Weekly viewings and discussion of historical, international, independent, and short films. Focuses on film as art and expression by examining work of great classic, independent and international filmmakers. Cross listed as THEA 333.

Requirements for the Minor in French
18 semester hours
FREN 201
FREN 202
Four courses beyond FREN 152, excluding FREN 141, FREN 170, and FREN 225

Note: FREN 205, FREN 230, and FREN 255 are strongly encouraged.

Civic and International Engagement Opportunities
- May Term study travel abroad
- Study abroad for a semester or year
- Volunteer work in non-profit organizations
- Internships
- Students abroad are required to learn about the social, cultural, and political reality of the target country, thus getting involved with the civic life of their host country.

French Course Descriptions

101, 102 Beginning French (4 s.h.)
Designed for those with little or no French. Through exercises, dialogues, skits, and controlled and creative writing, the student will develop a basic proficiency in speaking, listening, reading and writing.

141 Francophone Literature in Translation (3 s.h.)
Literary study of a selection of French language works in translation. Topics will vary, and may focus on first-person narratives, genre studies, or other forms. Literary works will represent France and other French-speaking regions of the world. The course is conducted in English.

151, 152 Intermediate French (4 s.h.)
Continues to build the student’s proficiency using exercises, dialogues, skits, and controlled and creative writing. At the end of the course, students will have a basic understanding of French and be able to carry on everyday conversations, read schedules, pamphlets, and other texts of moderate difficulty, and write fluently and accurately about everyday topics. Students with more than four years of French may NOT take French 151 or 152.

153 La Révolution Française (1 s.h.)
Designed for students enrolled in HIST 243 who want to pursue a project related to the French Revolution. Students choose and research a topic of interest—songs of the Revolution or ceramics containing Revolutionary images—and share the results in class discussion. *Co-requisite: HIST 243. Pre-requisite: FREN 152 or equivalent. Conducted in French.

154 French Play in Performance (3 s.h.)
Together, the class will read, study and stage a short, contemporary French play, performed at the end of May Term as the final exercise in the course. Class time will be spent discussing, then rehearsing, building, etc., in preparation for the performance. *Prerequisite: FREN 152 or equivalent.

170 Francophone Women Writers (3 s.h.)
This survey course of modern francophone women’s literature, conducted in English, includes works from North and Sub-Saharan Africa, the Caribbean, and Canada. Major themes of the course are the search for identity and the role of language and writing in discovering and/or asserting cultural and gender identities.

201 Introduction to French Culture (3 s.h.)
For students who have studied French for four or more years in high school or for two years in college. Develops the principles of written and oral argumentation through analysis of issues in contemporary French and Francophone culture and builds French-language skills in reading, writing, listening, and speaking. Includes systematic grammar review.

202 Introduction to Francophone Cultures (3 s.h.)
Introduction to French-speaking areas of the world including Québec, the Caribbean and Northern and Western Africa. Through literature, current events, and multi-media sources, students explore major Francophone regions and progress to an advanced level of performance in reading, writing, listening, and speaking. Also continues review of grammatical structures begun in French 201. *Prerequisite: French 201 or equivalent.
203 Everyday French (3 s.h.)
Study Abroad. A total immersion experience in language learning. Students participating will complete a home stay with a French family, taking meals with them, engaging in the life of their community, and documenting experiences in a journal. Must be taken P/NC.

205 Writing in French (3 s.h.)
Students gain intensive practice in writing French. Frequent writing assignments and analysis of short French texts will allow students to increase grammatical and idiomatic precision and to develop awareness of stylistics. Students will develop a personal style by keeping a journal and by writing short essays, and descriptive passages, and a short research paper. *Prerequisite: FREN 202 or permission of the instructor.

220 French Across the Curriculum (1 s.h.)
This course must be linked to another course in English, chosen in consultation with faculty. The student works with culturally authentic French material (articles, chapters, websites, film, etc.) related to the content course in English, thus allowing the student to apply her French training to another field of study. Must be taken P/NC.

225 Francophone Literature and Film (3 s.h.)
Study of translated novels and films from Francophone areas of the world (Québec, North and West Africa, and the Caribbean) that concern the making or undoing of individual and cultural identity. Some of the contexts to be studied that contribute to the formation of identity are interactions of colonizer and colonized, male and female, and child and adult.

230 Contemporary French Culture (3 s.h.)
Designed to provide the student with basic knowledge of the geography and political and social structures of contemporary France, and to acquaint her with issues of concern to the French today. *Prerequisite: FREN 152 or equivalent.

241, 242 Readings in French (3 s.h. each)
Each semester a different theme, author, or genre is treated. The course aims (1) to facilitate an appreciation and understanding of texts in French; (2) to increase linguistic competence; (3) to improve ability to read critically. The courses are conducted entirely in French. If the content changes, students may take these courses more than once. *Prerequisite: FREN 202 or equivalent.

251 A Survey of French Civilization (3 s.h.)
Survey of the masterpieces of French literature, in the context of other manifestations of contemporaneous culture: architecture, painting, music, the history of great events and daily life. The course aims to develop understanding and appreciation of French civilization, sharpen language skills, and study the impact of such factors as gender and class on culture. *Prerequisite: FREN 202 or equivalent.

255 May Term in France (3 s.h.)
Study Abroad. Students will spend three weeks in Paris studying French theatre and attending performances. Field trips and walking tours, including trips to monuments, museums, gardens, and châteaux. Cross listed as THEA 255. *Prerequisite: Intermediate FREN 152. Additional charge for this course beyond MBC tuition.

262 The Role of Women in French Culture (3 s.h.)
Women have been important but often ignored in the social, political, religious and artistic life of France. This course enhances the student’s understanding of French history and culture by examining the contributions of women in these fields and the conditions and status of women in, the 19th and 20th centuries. *Prerequisite: FREN 202 or equivalent. Conducted in French.

400 Senior Seminar (3 s.h.)
Required for all senior French and French-combined majors. Students pursue research on a theme or issue approved by the French faculty. Faculty direct the research projects during weekly meetings. Students present their research in English to the French and Spanish faculty and majors. The work culminates in a formal oral presentation and a research paper in French.

Health Care Administration Course Descriptions

101 Introduction to Health Care Administration (3 s.h.)
This course introduces the nature, organization and functions of the continuum of health services found in the U.S. health care system. Includes general management principles and practices as found in health care organizations. Analyzes the nature and role of health policy. Reviews the roles of providers, managers, and consumers. Current issues explored.

125 Introduction to Public Health (3 s.h.)
An introduction to the mission, functions, ethics, and scope of public health at local, state, national, and global levels; includes individual rights vs. population health; health promotion and disease prevention; and the interdisciplinary nature of the public health and its workforce. Emphasis on achievements in public health and contemporary applications such as chronic diseases, infant and maternal health, tobacco and obesity control, mental health, and homeland/global security. Alternate years.

222 Social Science Statistics (3 s.h.)
For course description, see INT 222 in the Interdisciplinary Studies listing.

225 Public Health Issues (3 s.h.)
Analysis of contemporary public health issues with a focus on outbreaks (infectious and non-infectious) and outbreak investigation using a case study approach; infectious diseases including diagnostic clinical procedures, emerging infectious diseases, antibiotic resistance, and the use of vaccines. Critical analysis of evidence and sources of information includes use of peer-reviewed journals and discussion/analysis of current events using Morbidity and Mortality Weekly Reports and CDC resources. Alternate years.

230 Medical and Health Care Ethics (3 s.h.)
This course provides an introduction to basic and intermediate principles and theories of ethics, especially as they are relevant to medicine and health care. These principles and theories are applied to current issues in medicine and health care, including: caregiver obligations and patients’ rights; informed consent; medical experimentation; genetic engineering; death and dying; access to health care; allocation of health resources; social justice and health care policy. Cross listed as PHIL 230.

235 Women’s Health Care Issues (3 s.h.)
This course focuses on reading, discussion, and writing about selected current issues in women’s health such as gender and racial/ethnic differences, evaluation of internet health sources, use of narrative in health and illness, communicating women’s health knowledge to the general public, global vs. U.S. women’s health, women and clinical trials, sexually transmitted diseases, menstrual suppression, cardiovascular disease, and other selected diseases/disorders related to women. Alternate years.

240 Long-Term Care Administration (3 s.h.)
The historical development of long-term care and the role of health policy. Analysis of the parts played by long term care facilities, nursing homes, home health organizations, continuing care retirement communities, and organizations that deal with chronic health care concerns. Issues include medical, organizational, legal, financial, human resources, and communication. Holistic approach covers physical, mental, and social well-being. Tours/analyses of long-term care facilities included. Alternate years.

245 Health Care Policy, Politics, and Law (3 s.h.)
Analysis of the factors that shape health care policy in the U.S., including public policy and various types of health care policies, government structures and institutions responsible for making health policy, important actors in the health reform debate, and their strategies to influence policy. The stages of the policy process are exemplified in case studies of several significant health care policies, and health care law is reviewed. Cross listed as POLS 245.

250 Global Health Care (3 s.h.)
Much can be learned about the U.S. health care system by comparing it to the operation of other countries’ systems. Canada, the United Kingdom, Germany, Japan, and Australia are among the countries that are explored. Includes review of health issues facing the international community (e.g., AIDS, public health, etc.). Alternate years.

255 History of International Health and Development (3 s.h.)
This course examines the history of western efforts to improve health in the “developing world,” from nineteenth century origins in colonial health and tropic medicine, to twentieth century concerns of international health — including disease eradication, primary health care, population, and child survival — to current efforts in global health such as HIV/AIDS and immunization. A parallel history of organizations (Rockefeller Foundation, UN, WHO, World Bank) highlights political, economic, and cultural assumptions that shape ideas and practices associated with international health and development.

261 Epidemiology (3 s.h.)
The fundamentals of distribution and determinants of health and disease in populations. Epidemiology is applied to formulation/assessment of health care and public health management decisions since it is the basic science of public health and it utilizes principles of the scientific method. Epidemiology includes applications to: morbidity and mortality, and disease prevention and wellness, as well as, disease transmission, diagnostic and screening tests, population studies and study design, and determination of causation. Includes evaluation of peer-reviewed journal articles for study design and proper conclusions and recognition of study limitations and potential biases. Cross listed as BIOL 261. Alternate years.

277 Colloquium (3 s.h.)
Special topics dealing with current issues facing health care administration.

287 Internship (3 s.h.)
Off-campus experiential learning on an exploratory basis in health care facilities and health related organizations. Community service/benefit component required. Placement through the Health Care Administration Program. Forms must be submitted at registration. *Prerequisites: HCA 101 and sophomore HCA major status. Must be taken P/NC.

310 Health Care Strategic Management (3 s.h.)
Course focuses on a variety of methods utilized in the organization of health care facilities and the delivery of services. The nature of planning is analyzed with particular attention paid to health policy, strategic thinking and management, including internal and external environmental assessments. Organizational behavior in analyzed in depth including leadership aspects. Course focuses on managing change, as seen in health reform efforts, the influence of payment systems, and technological and scientific innovations. Case studies used extensively. Alternate years.

320 Economics and Finance of Health Care Systems (3 s.h.)
Investigation of the factors and forces at work in setting health care costs and impacts of those costs. Analysis of demand and supply concerns, reimbursement systems, insurance, Medicare, Medicaid, governmental regulations, legal issues, accessibility, budgeting processes and planning, and human resource concerns. Health care financial management tools and techniques are presented and used. Cross listed as ECON 320. *Prerequisites: ECON 101 and BUAD 208, or permission of instructor. Alternate years.

330 Managed Care (3 s.h.)
Analysis of the nature and operations of health insurance in the United States, including purposes of the various plans (HMO, IPA, IPO, MSO, PSN, etc.) and how they work. Offers provider, manager and consumer perspectives. Analysis of the integration of health care delivery systems and financial aspects, including funding principles and practices, systems of reimbursement, and the role of health information technology. Examines public policy initiatives. *Prerequisite: HCA 320. Alternate years.

387 Internship (credit varies)
Off-campus pre-professional experiential learning in health care facilities and related organizations. Projects are under the supervision of a qualified professional on-site as well as a health care administration faculty member. Community service/benefit component required. Placement through the Health Care Administration Program. Forms must be submitted at registration. *Prerequisites: junior or senior HCA major status. Must be taken P/NC.

401 Senior Seminar (3 s.h.)
The capstone course for the HCA major. Synthesizes material from the entire curriculum. Focus on health care administrators as professionals. Classroom material is integrated with experiential learning through a major research project. This is the last course taken in the program by HCA majors. *Prerequisites: SOC 320 and senior HCA major status.
Historic Preservation
Mary Hill Cole, coordinator
Edmund Potter

An historic preservation minor introduces students to basic principles and techniques of historic preservation. It provides historical and academic background to understand major architectural styles and their connection with cultural history from the time of their development. Staunton’s sophisticated and successful historic preservation movement provides a good laboratory setting.

HIST 101
HIST 102
HIST 111
HIST 400
And six additional courses in history

Note: HPUB 230 and HISP 226 may count toward the history major. Students must complete HIST 101, HIST 102, HIST 111, and HIST 112 before enrolling in HIST 400.

Senior Requirement: Students fulfill the senior requirement by successful completion of HIST 400

Requirements for the Minor in History
21 semester hours in history
HIST 101
HIST 102

HIST 112
Three of the 200- or 300-level history courses

Note: The department urges history majors to complete foreign language study through the intermediate level.

Virginia Program at Oxford University
The History and English departments co-sponsor the Virginia Program at Oxford. Working with British tutors in courses devoted to Tudor-Stuart England, students can earn 3 s.h. of history credit and 3 s.h. of English credit that count toward the history and English majors and minors. History majors are urged to apply to this program. For more information, see Dr. Mary Hill Cole.

Civic Engagement Opportunities
Students may develop their historical skills by working as interns in local museums, arts organizations, and historical societies. Other opportunities for civic engagement include working with MBC History faculty on oral history projects in the local community, and serving as a Changemaker Student Research Archivist. For their civic engagement in HPUB 230, HPUB 300, and HISP 226, students may receive community service credit in the common curriculum.

This course offers historical back-
Introduction to the African Diaspora (3 s.h.)
A survey of British history from the Glorious Revolution to the present. Topics include the power of the landed elite, party rivalries, imperial expansion, the role of women in politics and industry, and British cultural myths. This course offers an historical background for courses in English literature.

The French Revolution (3 s.h.)
An intensive study of the first six years of the French Revolution, 1789–1794. Explores major events and figures; economic, social, political, and intellectual conditions; and interpretations of the accomplishments of the era. No knowledge of French language is required; however, students who do their research in French can receive credit toward the French major. A key component of the course is participation in all discussions and projects.

Europe in the Twentieth Century, 1900–1939 (3 s.h.)
A study of Europe from the early twentieth century to the outbreak of the Second World War. Topics include the Great War and Russian Revolution, women’s movements, sexuality and gender relations, the rise of fascism, the Spanish Civil War, and appeasement. Exploring European culture through foreign-language films is a key component of the course.

Modern Europe, 1939–Present (3 s.h.)
A study of Europe from the beginning of the Second World War to the present. Topics include World War II and the Holocaust, the development of the Cold War, women’s movements and culture wars, European relations with the superpowers, the revolutions of 1989, and German reunification. Exploring European culture through foreign films in English is a key component of the course.

The History of Russia (3 s.h.)
A survey of the Russian state from its Kievan origins to the present. Topics include Peter the Great’s westernization program, the expansion of the Muscovite state under Catherine the Great, the Russian Revolution, Lenin and Stalin, communism and the current crises within the former Soviet Union.

Introduction to the African Diaspora (3 s.h.)
A survey course that will investigate the dispersal of African peoples to Europe, the Caribbean, and the Americas since ancient times. We will explore the processes of acculturation and resistance among people of African descent and the connections and relationships between Africa and the rest of the world. Major themes include race and culture, the Mediterranean and Atlantic Slave Trades, African Liberation, and interactions between diasporic Blacks and Africans.

Survey of African-American History to 1877 (3 s.h.)
This course presents a chronological survey of principal events in African-American History to 1877, with particular focus on development of the slave trade and slavery and how Blacks experienced, and responded to, this “peculiar institution.” The course critically analyzes decisive political, social, and cultural events specific to African-American History through the examination of primary and secondary sources, through class discussion and in-depth writing assignments.

Survey of African-American History from 1877 (3 s.h.)
This course presents a chronological survey of the history of African-Americans from 1877 to the present with emphasis on the following topics: The Rise of American Apartheid, The Harlem Renaissance, and The Civil Rights Movement. The course critically analyzes decisive political, social, and cultural events specific to African-American History through the examination of primary and secondary sources, through class discussion, and in-depth writing assignments.

History of the Harlem Renaissance (3 s.h.)
This course surveys the cultural, political, literary, and artistic activities and celebrated figures from the Harlem Renaissance era, late 1910s to mid 1930s. We will analyze the unprecedented artistic outpouring of this era; how politicians, civil rights activists, writers, artists, musicians, and ordinary people explore the character of the “New Negro”; and the implications of race, gender, and skin color. This course will use primary source documents, documentaries and music to study this era.

European Women’s History from 1700 (3 s.h.)
In this seminar style course, we examine women’s lives in the workplace, at home, in the professions, and in politics. Topics include laws governing marriage and property, relations within the family, the dynamics of class, women’s sexuality, gender roles, and education. *Prerequisite: one of HIST 102, HIST 242, HIST 246, HIST 247; or permission of instructor.

History of the Civil Rights Movement (3 s.h.)
The struggle for African Americans to enjoy the rights of United States’ citizens has been an arduous battle waged in the face of systematic racism and domestic terrorism. This course analyzes the history of the American Civil Rights Movement (1940-1965) placing emphasis on the following: The involvement of ordinary citizens; the centrality of religion in the movement; decisive events and personalities; tactics; and consequences of the contemporary civil rights movement. This course will use primary source documents, documentaries and music in order to study this important protest movement.

Senior Seminar (3 s.h.)
An examination of the method of historical analysis and its specific application to a research problem. Students prepare and defend their senior history seminar paper during the course. Research theme varies from year to year. *Prerequisites: HIST 101, HIST 102, HIST 111, HIST 112. Students must have a minimum GPA of 2.0 in history courses before enrolling in HIST 400.

Note: Directed inquiries, teaching assistantships and internships in history can be arranged on an individual basis.
History — Public
Amy Tillerson, coordinator
Edmund Potter

The Public History minor, offered in conjunction with the Woodrow Wilson Presidential Library, prepares students for professional careers at museums, presidential libraries, historic birthplaces, volunteer organizations, professional non-profits such as The National Trust for Historic Preservation, and government agencies like The National Park Service and The National Archives and Records Administration. Public historians also work as consultants, write commissioned histories, and research and direct film, radio, and television productions.

Requirements for the Minor in Public History
24 semester hours
Four of the following: ARTM 340, HPUB 230, HPUB 300, HPUB 287, or HPUB 387
Two of the following: HIST 202, HIST 203, HIST 211, HIST 212, HIST 213, HIST 214, HIST 216, HIST 265 or HIST 266

Public History Course Descriptions

230 Introduction to Public History (3 s.h.)
The practice of history in museums, archives, business, media, parks, historical societies, and government agencies, including theoretical and practical issues confronting public historians today. Readings and guest lecturers address questions of audience and authority in collecting and presenting history. Students explore the relationship between history and national, communal, and personal memory and the role politics can play in public history.

300 Special Topics in Public History (3 s.h.)
Special Topics in Public History is a seminar course that focuses on an aspect of the field of public history. Students learn how to apply the research, analysis, and writing skills of a historian to develop and complete a project which can benefit an audience outside of traditional academia.

287, 387 Internship (3 s.h.)
Internships consist of 150 hours of practice in such areas as cultural resource management, cultural tourism research, curatorial services and material culture, digital history, educational programming, exhibit design, historical interpretation, and management of archives. In addition to their other activities, students keep a journal of their work experiences. Students may work at Woodrow Wilson Presidential Library or other organizations in Staunton or elsewhere.

Human Resource Management
Dan Dowdy, coordinator
Claire Kent

Human Resource Management (HRM) focuses on the recruitment and management of an enterprise’s greatest resource — its human capital. It is the organizational function that deals with issues related to people such as compensation, hiring, performance management, organization development, safety, wellness, benefits, employee motivation, communication, administration, and training. In order to maximize organizational effectiveness, human potential — individuals’ capabilities, time, and talents — must be managed. Human resource management works to ensure that employees are able to meet the organization’s goals.

If you think your career path may lead you into leadership or organizational development, then the Human Resource Management minor may be the ideal supplement to your liberal arts or business major. The curriculum provides students with a thorough understanding of human resource management theory and practice and allows them the opportunity to select specific courses of interest based on their career goals and objectives.

Interdisciplinary Studies
Courses within interdisciplinary studies derive their literature and methodologies from more than one discipline.

Interdisciplinary Course Descriptions

101 MBC 101: Introduction to College (1 s.h.)
A successful transition to college is the result of academic readiness, self-efficacy, and responsible connection to and participation in the MBC Community. This course encourages students to use resources at the college in an informed and intentional manner to foster productive relationships, to support academic success, and to facilitate understanding of the value of an education at MBC. First-year students take this course during fall semester.

102 MBC 102: An Investigation of the Arts (1 s.h.)
This course introduces first-year Honors and PEG students to the liberal arts, using Shakespeare as an integrating theme.

103 MBC 103: An Investigation of the Sciences (1 s.h.)
This course introduces first-year Honors and PEG students to the sciences, using historical development of ideas in mathematics and the sciences as an integrating theme.

103 Information Literacy (1 s.h.)
This course will develop the research and critical thinking skills necessary for academic success. Information literacy is a set of abilities used to recognize when information is needed and then how to locate, evaluate and use it effectively. Topics covered include: focusing topics, finding various information resources, and issues surrounding the use of information. Skills learned are common to all disciplines.

118 Managing Life's Challenges (3 s.h.)
Integration of socio-cultural, intellectual, emotional, spiritual, psychological and physical dimensions of management and personal growth frame the topic structures for this course. Students will leave the course with an arsenal of techniques for coping with life’s challenges, both as college students and as they prepare for their future as global and civic citizens.

130 Introduction to American Culture (3 s.h.)
Survey of the history and culture of the United States designed specifically for international students. Students will receive a broad history of the American nation since the colonial period with a focus on such key episodes as the pattern of settlement, growth of a new culture, the meaning of the Revolution, the causes and meaning of the Civil War, the industrial revolution of the late 1800s, America’s emergence as a world power, the civil rights movement and other modern developments.

150 Creating Community: Human Rights and the Arts (3 s.h.)
MBC students will design and implement community-based projects created in partnership with the needs, desires, and proposals of the inhabitants of Perquin El Salvador. Students will be encouraged to work in the areas of art discourse, art practice, and other fields of expertise and studies according to the economic limitations, history and realities of the region. Course is taught by Marlena Hobson and Artist-in-Residence Claudia Bernardi. Offered in May Term.

200 Resident Assistant Training (3 s.h.)
The resident assistant’s role as a peer counselor in the college residence halls is facilitated through sessions in student development theory, values clarification, women’s health issues, sexuality, crisis intervention counseling, alcohol and drug concerns of college students, leadership training, small group communications, conflict mediation, and basic counseling skills. Required for all first-year resident assistants.

213 Bailey Colloquium (3 s.h.)
The Bailey Colloquium is a small interdisciplinary honors seminar that counts toward the Honors Degree. It is open to Honor Scholars; other strong students may be admitted at the discretion of the professor. The colloquium fosters creativity and independent thinking. Topics vary.

222 Social Science Statistics (3 s.h.)
Students learn how to correctly interpret data tables, download data from online databases, manipulate the data in a spreadsheet, and analyze social science and business data with Excel, SPSS, and Systat statistical software. Through an understanding of sampling, distributions, and summary statistics, students acquire the means to understand and evaluate quantitative reasoning in corporate, government, and news reports. Cross listed as BUAD/COMM/ECON/HCA/POLS 222. *Prerequisite: College algebra, its equivalent, or a higher level mathematics course.

230 History and Theories of Leadership (3 s.h.)
Students develop a broad knowledge of leadership. They explore the origins of study of leadership and analyze and apply leadership theories. Students examine leadership styles and investigate differences among leaders that might be attributable to gender. They place leadership in cultural and historical contexts, become familiar with outstanding women and men, and analyze their lives using leadership principles and theories.

240 Québec and Canada (3 s.h.)
Analysis of the historical and social development of francophone culture in Canada and political/social/cultural relations between Francophone and Anglophone Canadians from the late 1600s to the present. Emphasizes the development of cultural assimilation in a very multicultural society; focuses on the rise of modern Québec nationalism, the Quiet Revolution, and the question of Québec’s place in contemporary Canada. Also emphasizes the Asian experience in Canada.

258 Globalization and Its Impact on World Affairs (3 s.h.)
Introduction to the concept of globalization and its economic and political impact on selected countries and regions.

266 Social Trends and Their Impact on Business (3 s.h.)
Introduces students to the significance of sociocultural, political, and environmental trends and their impact on how business opportunities can grow or be hampered. Emphasizes a triple bottom line viewpoint while focusing on social trends such as the changing face of America, the Green movement, globalization, technology and communication upgrades, and changes in the workforce. Twenty hour service component required. Cross listed as BUAD 266.

287, 387 Internship (credit varies)
Internships provide practical experiences in working with professionals in field experiences and positions of responsibility on campus under the supervision of a faculty sponsor.

330, 331 The Practice of Leadership Seminar (3 s.h.)
Students complete a comprehensive self-assessment of their leadership styles, skills, and values and develop goals for their continuing education and training. In the second part of the course, students apply their knowledge of leadership to the practice of leadership in a group and an organization.

Students learn to read, write, and speak Japanese through the intermediate level, or beyond through individual tutorials. There is no major or minor in Japanese; students interested in Japanese Studies should see the Asian Studies section in this Catalog for information on major and minor offerings.

Japanese Course Descriptions

101, 102 Beginning Japanese (4 s.h.)
An introduction to the Japanese language with emphasis on understanding, speaking, reading, and writing. Students will be introduced to the kana writing system as well as elementary Chinese characters (kanji). Students must register for a special conversation class attached to each course. JPNS 101 offered in the fall semester; JPNS 102 in spring semester.

151, 152 Intermediate Japanese (4 s.h.)
Students continue to develop skills of reading, writing, and speaking of Japanese. Students must register for a special conversation class attached to each course. *Prerequisites: JPNS 101, JPNS 102. JPNS 151 offered in the fall semester; JPNS 152 in spring semester.

290, 390 Advanced Japanese (3 s.h.)
Advanced grammar, reading, writing, and speaking of Japanese. Offered on a tutorial basis.

Latin-American Studies
Ivy Arbulú, Coordinator
Gordon Bowen, Maria Lena Hobson, Brenci Patiño

Latin America is an important geo-political and cultural area of the world. In the Latin-American studies minor, students will study the region from different perspectives: politics, culture, history, art, economics, literature, and language. This minor gives students an opportunity to specialize and focus on Latin America in a coherent and directed way.

Civic Engagement Opportunities
Latin American Studies students, in coordination with the Spencer Center for Civic Engagement, can volunteer locally or abroad. Students can act as translators assisting the children and families of Migrant Workers in the region with their integration into American life — helping children with their homework and parents with translating any communication.
sent by the schools. Students can also choose among many volunteering programs in the Latin American country of their choice — an important and enriching experience that will enhance the student’s CV notably.

Leadership Studies
Brenda Bryant, coordinator

Leadership Studies is a multidisciplinary minor combining theoretical and applied coursework in a variety of organizational contexts. The Business emphasis is designed for students who are entrepreneurs, future heads of non-profits, and organization leaders. The emphasis on Community and Social Change is for motivated students in any field who are interested in social action and increasing their sense that individual intervention in community action is possible and consequential. The military leadership emphasis is for VWIL students who will commission into the one of the armed services.

In each case the experience focuses on organizational leadership and specific leadership skills of both student and employer.

Management
Joe Sprangel, coordinator
Dan Dowdy, Claire Kent

Management focuses on getting people together to accomplish desired goals, and includes the functions of planning, organizing, staffing, leading, and controlling. It also encompasses the deployment and use of human resources, financial resources, technological resources, and natural resources. At Mary Baldwin, we approach this discipline with an eye towards creating a sustainable business culture, while giving students a well-rounded view of basic management principles. A minor in Management will give students from across the college community the tools to see the business world in an entirely new way. Students who are completing a Business for a Sustainable Future major can also add a Management minor to build on knowledge and skills in this area of focus.

Note: Students majoring in Business for a Sustainable Future and minoring in Management need to select their courses carefully in order to avoid more than a two-course overlap between a major and minor.

Marketing
Claire Kent and Catherine Ferris McPherson, coordinators
Bruce Dorries, Janet Ewing

Marketing is defined by the American Marketing Association as the activity, set of institutions, and processes for creating, communicating, delivering, and exchanging offerings that have value for customers, clients, partners, and society at large. Marketing practice tends to be seen as a creative industry, which includes research, advertising, distribution, and selling. At Mary Baldwin, students will view the marketing function through the lens of sustainability and creating ethical and socially responsible business practices.

The importance of marketing oneself or one’s business cannot be underestimated, and the marketing minor allows students across the college to add this important skill set to any major they may choose to pursue, including business. This exciting curriculum will focus on the theory and practice of marketing, and its importance to any industry or organization.

Marketing Communication
Claire Kent and Catherine Ferris McPherson, coordinators
Bruce Dorries, Janet Ewing

As competition in the U.S. and the global marketplace in both the profit and nonprofit arenas have heightened in recent years, the importance of marketing and communication as essential disciplines has increased as well. Among many critical issues facing marketers today are pressures in the global marketplace, sweeping changes in technology and information systems that have altered the ways in which organizations distribute their products and communicate with their customers, the shift from mass marketing to relationship marketing with the resulting array of market segments and subcultures and the continued opportunities and challenges posed by issues of social responsibility and ethics. Organizations have been mandated by consumers and other stakeholders to include sustainability and the triple bottom line approach as decision making tools in their operations and in the products they sell and the services they provide.

Marketing Communication Course Descriptions

230 Marketing Principles (3 s.h.)
This course introduces the basic principles of marketing, including marketing strategy, marketing communication, and the interaction between organizations and consumers. Emphasis will be on economic, social, cultural, and legal environments in which marketing occurs. Students gain understanding of traditional marketing concepts and current marketing thought, and practical experience through analytical and creative projects.

240 Principles of Advertising (3 s.h.)
For course description, see COMM/MKTC 240 in the Communications listing.

260 Principles of Public Relations (3 s.h.)
For course description, see COMM/MKTC 260 in the Communications listing.

336 Cross-Cultural & Global Marketing (3 s.h.)
Studies marketing concepts and decision making across cultures, both domestic and international. Emphasis on comparative differences in markets, marketing functions, and socio-economic and cultural differences between domestic and international marketing. *Prerequisite: BUAD 230.

338 Marketing Research (3 s.h.)
The study of the marketing research process, including design, methodology, analysis, and interpretation. Students gain understanding of both qualitative and quantitative methods as well as exposure to current technological research applications. Practical application comes through completion of consumer research projects. *Prerequisite: BUAD 230.

362 Consumer Behavior (3 s.h.)
Explores the theories, principles, and current perspectives related to consumer behaviors, motivations, and experiences. Students gain understanding of cultural, socio-economic, self-concept, lifestyle, interpersonal, and perceptual factors in consumption. *Prerequisite: BUAD 230.

387 Marketing Communication Internship (3 s.h.)
Focuses on practical experience of a professional nature. It can be a valuable testing ground for possible career opportunities. Student, professor, and supervisor at the internship site will negotiate terms and expected outcomes of the internship experience. Log and summary paper will be standard requirements, along with other deliverables as specified by the professor and supervisor.

400 Integrated Promotional & Brand Strategy — Senior Experience (3 s.h.)
In this capstone course, taken the final year, a student chooses to conduct a review and analysis of customer communication components and branding strategies, or develop a comprehensive integrated marketing communication campaign. Both involve research, planning, execution, evaluation, and formal presentation or event, with the primary goal of generating a professional-quality, comprehensive sample of a student’s capabilities to include in a portfolio for potential employers.

401 Senior Project Implementation and Critique (1–3 s.h.)
The design of the senior experience may require more than one semester for the student to complete a project/event through the implementation stage. Students may request during the planning and scheduling stage to extend to a second semester for the purpose of implementation and critique. *Prerequisites: senior standing and permission of instructor.

Mathematics Course Descriptions

130 Basic Mathematical Concepts (3 s.h.)
This course is a review of basic mathematical concepts. It is not open to any student who has scored 480 or higher on the MATH SAT, scored 19 or higher on the MATH ACT or passed a college level math course. MATH 130 does not fulfill the quantitative reasoning requirement of the Common Curriculum.

150 College Algebra (3 s.h.)
Students are provided with a background in algebra appropriate for the application of mathematics to disciplines and for further study in mathematics. Topics include equations and inequalities, functions and graphs, polynomial and rational functions, exponential and logarithmic functions, and systems of equations. Emphasis is on logical analysis, deductive reasoning, and problem solving. This course is open to students who have scored 480 or higher on the MATH SAT, scored 19 or higher on the MATH ACT, have passed the MATH 130 Exemption Exam, or have passed MATH 130.

155 Mathematics for Prospective Elementary School Teachers I (3 s.h.)
This course is designed for those who wish to become elementary school teachers. Discrete probability, descriptive statistics, geometry, numeration, measurement, algebra, and applications to science are covered. It includes both content and process knowledge. The emphasis is on building diverse mathematical reasoning and problem-solving skills. Virginia mathematics SOL for grades K-6 addressed. *Prerequisite:
157 Mathematics for Prospective Elementary School Teachers II
(3 s.h.)
The primary goal of this course is to introduce students to Euclidian geometry, axiomatics, and deductive reasoning.
Emphasis will be on open exploration, conjectural inductivism, visualization, analysis, and informal deduction. Educational software like Geometer’s Sketchpad will be used to conduct computer investigations. *Prerequisite: MSAT 480 or MATH 130, or a Q course. Spring semester.

171 Precalculus with Trigonometry (3 s.h.)
Algebraic, trigonometric, logarithmic and exponential functions are explored. The main emphasis will be on developing trigonometric functions and their properties, since they play an indispensable role in the modeling of physical phenomena and in the study of calculus. Included is a Derive software project on modeling and problem solving. *Prerequisite: MATH 150 or equivalent.

211, 212 Introduction to Calculus and Analytic Geometry I, II
(4 s.h. each)
MATH 211 is required for mathematics majors and recommended for majors in the sciences and economics. We treat the basic concepts of differential calculus and its applications including limits, continuity, differentiation, the chain rule, the mean-value theorem, optimization problems, antiderivatives, and the fundamental theorem of calculus. MATH 212 develops the concept of the definite integral and its applications. Integration of transcendental functions, integration techniques, L’Hopital’s Rule, and improper integrals are covered. *Prerequisite: MATH 171.

221 History of Mathematics (3 s.h.)
This mathematics course reflects the college’s emphasis on global awareness. Mathematics has a fascinating history, interwoven with striking personalities and outstanding achievements and contributions from many different countries throughout the world. We address the development of mathematical ideas from a historical perspective as well as the scientific, humanistic, and global import of the subject. *Prerequisite: MATH 211. Alternate years.

231 Discrete Mathematical Structures (3 s.h.)
This is an introduction to techniques of theoretical mathematics. We will explore logic, truth tables, deductive proof and the principle of mathematical induction. Algorithms, algebraic structures, discrete probability, counting methods, relations, and graph theory are also covered. Some of the topics have substantial application to computer science. *Prerequisite: MATH 211. Fall semester.

233 Statistical Methods and Theory I (3 s.h.)
An introduction to applied statistics and theory. Topics include measures of central tendency, discrete and continuous random variables, Normal distributions, Binomial distributions, sampling distributions and the Central Limit Theorem, probability, correlation and regression, producing data from sampling and experiments, hypothesis testing using the z, t, chi-square, and F distributions, confidence intervals, and analysis of variance. The statistical software package SPSS will be used to illustrate the material presented. *Prerequisite: a ‘B’ in INT 222, PSYC 250, or MATH 211. Alternate years.

234 Statistical Methods and Theory II (3 s.h.)
A second course in applied statistics and theory. Topics include analysis of variance, multiple linear regression, and nonparametric statistical methods. The statistical software package SPSS will be used to illustrate the material presented. *Prerequisite: MATH 233. (Offered as needed.)

252 Problem Solving Seminar (3 s.h.)
Students are presented with quantitative problems and asked to find methods of solution. They present those methods informally to the seminar group. Some real-world problems from business or industry are considered. Content varies from year to year. *Prerequisites: MATH 212, MATH 231. Offered as needed.

301 Multivariable Calculus I (3 s.h.)
Indeterminate forms, improper integrals, differential equations, infinite series, polar coordinates, parametric equations, vectors and vector-valued functions are studied. Derive, a symbolic computer algebra system, will be used to explore a variety of nonroutine problems. *Prerequisites: MATH 211 and 212. Fall semester.

302 Multivariable Calculus II (3 s.h.)
Vector-valued functions, functions of several variables, partial differentiation, chain rules, directional derivative and gradient, applications of extrema, multiple integrals, vector fields, line integrals and Green’s Theorem are studied. Derive, a symbolic computer algebra system, is used. *Prerequisite: MATH 301. Spring semester.

304 Numerical Analysis and Computing (3 s.h.)
This course surveys the techniques and algorithms of numerical computing, numerical solution of algebraic equations and differential equations, interpolation, approximation, and iteration theory, numerical differentiation and numerical integration, error analysis, stability and convergence of solutions. The computer algebra system Maple is used. *Prerequisite: MATH 301. Alternate years.

306 Ordinary Differential Equations (3 s.h.)
This is the study of the theory and methods of initial value problems of first and second order equations as well as systems of first order linear equations with constant coefficients. Methods such as integrating factors, undetermined coefficients, variation of parameters and the linearization of nonlinear problems will be covered. Uniqueness and existence questions will be discussed. Differential equations is a powerful modeling tool and can be applied to diverse areas of study including environmental and population studies, radioactive decay, fluid flow, epidemiology and much of engineering. Students will be required to make a presentation in their area of interest. *Prerequisite: MATH 212 or equivalent. Spring semester, alternate years.

311 Probability and Distribution Theory (3 s.h.)
Sample-point and event-composition methods for calculating the probability of an event; Bayes’ rule; the binomial, geometric, hypergeometric and Poisson probability distributions; mathematical expectations; moment-generating functions; Tchebysheff’s theorem; continuous random variables and their probability distributions; multivariate probability distributions; and functions of random variables. This course is recommended for students planning to work in industry. *Prerequisite: MATH 211 and 212. Offered as needed.

312 Mathematical Statistics (3 s.h.)
A combination of theoretical and applied statistics on the following topics is explored. Point and interval estimation; hypothesis testing using the z, t, chi-square and F distributions; regression and correlation; analysis of variance; contingency table analysis; Shewhart control charts, measurement system evaluation, and process capability studies. This course is recommended for students planning to work in industry. *Prerequisite: MATH 211. Offered as needed.

322 Linear Algebra (3 s.h.)
This class develops the theory of vector spaces and its underlying relevance to matrices and systems of linear equations. Topics include the vector space \( \mathbb{R}^n \), abstract vector spaces, elementary operations and systems of linear equations, linear transformations, and eigenvectors and eigenvalues. Emphasis is on providing a bridge from the intuitive developments of lower level courses to the more rigorous abstract courses in mathematics. All students will be required to make a presentation on an application area. *Prerequisite: MATH 211 and 231. Spring semester, alternate years.

341 Modern Geometry (3 s.h.)
Euclidean geometry, non-Euclidean geometry, projective geometry, and the abstract axiomatic method are studied. This course is strongly recommended for students planning to teach mathematics. It also provides an excellent background for graduate study in mathematics. *Prerequisite: MATH 231. Offered as needed.

370 Colloquium in Mathematics (3 s.h.)
Selected topics in higher-level mathematics are offered which are not among our regular courses. The list below reflects the knowledge and expertise of the current faculty and are typical courses in an undergraduate curriculum. The colloquium is also used to introduce students to potential research areas. Topics include: Abstract Algebra II, Real Analysis II, Topology, Statistical Methods and Theory II, Complex Analysis, Elementary Numerical Analysis, Mathematical Modeling, Partial Differential Equations, Women in Mathematics, Mathematics Pedagogy, Introduction to Functional Analysis, Partially Ordered Groups, Graph Theory, and Engineering Mathematics. Alternate years.

400 Abstract Algebra I or Real Analysis I (3 s.h. each)
MATH 400 alternates between abstract algebra one year and real analysis the next. Both courses develop mathematical maturity through the use of intuition, deductive logic and mathematical analysis. Abstract algebra studies the structures of axiomatic mathematical systems such as groups, rings and fields. Real analysis develops the mathematical techniques necessary to understand the real line as well as functions on the reals. MATH 400 may be repeated for credit and all students who plan to attend graduate school in Mathematics must take both courses. *Prerequisite: MATH 302 and MATH 322. Fall semester.

401 Senior Seminar (3 s.h.)
MATH 401 provides the structure under which students complete their senior research projects. Students must sign up for 1 s.h. of Senior Seminar in the fall and 2 s.h. of Senior Seminar in the spring of their senior year. Each student completes a faculty-approved research project, writes a senior paper based on the results, and presents the results to the mathematics faculty. The student is required to write a paper and pass an oral examination on the theory related to her research area, as well as propose her research project in the fall. She will perform her research in the spring semester, and defend her senior research project paper when done. This requirement applies to Adult Degree Program students as well. *Prerequisite: MATH 400.

Note: Directed inquiries, teaching assistantships, and internships are arranged on an individual basis. Internships and teaching assistantships may include service-oriented work in the community for fulfilling civic engagement requirements.

Mathematics — Applied
John Ong, coordinator

The four year program in Applied Mathematics (Option A)
Students who are interested in the intersection of mathematics with another discipline at the college should choose this option.

Requirements for the Bachelor of Science in Applied Mathematics (Option A)
MATH 211
MATH 212
MATH 231
MATH 233
MATH 301
MATH 302
MATH 304
MATH 306
MATH 400
PHYS 201
PHYS 202
CS 205

A minor in a discipline of interest. (Common disciplines include Biology, Chemistry, Physics, Business, Economics, Sociology, Philosophy, and Art and Literature, although most disciplines are possible.)

Note: MATH 401 in this applied mathematics program consists of an in-depth study of mathematics in the student’s chosen minor. The committee formed for evaluating the student’s senior project must include both the mathematics faculty and a member of the faculty from the minor discipline.

MBC-UVA dual degree program in Engineering (Option B)
Mary Baldwin College students may elect to participate in a dual degree program in engineering or in computer science offered by the School of Engineering and Applied Science at the University of Virginia. Qualified students attend Mary Baldwin for three years and then, based on their academic performance, are accepted into the University of Virginia for two or more years of study, leading to a Bachelor of Science degree in applied mathematics from Mary Baldwin College and a master’s degree in engineering or computer science from the University of Virginia. Interested students should contact Dr. Ong during their first semester at the College, and must sign up and complete the Calculus and Physics sequence during their freshmen year.

Requirements for Applied Mathematics (Option B)
MATH 211
MATH 212
MATH 231
MATH 233
MATH 301
MATH 302
MATH 304
MATH 306
MATH 322
PHYS 201
PHYS 202
CS 205

Plus 30 semester hours of transferred coursework, approved by the School of Engineering at the University of Virginia.

Note: MATH 401 in this applied mathematics program consists of a study of partial differential equations, or a comparable area of mathematics as applied to an engineering problem. The student will present her faculty-approved math 401 project in the spring of her third (last) year at the College. It is recommended that each student in the program complete an internship or a summer course in engineering.

Military Science (U.S. Army ROTC)

MBC offers the Military Science curriculum through the U.S. Army ROTC program conducted at Virginia Military Institute. The first two years of the program are open to eligible freshmen and sophomores. Participation at the junior and senior level is limited to VWIL students and other students with Army ROTC advanced level contracts.

Military Science Course Descriptions

109 Foundations of Officership (1 s.h.)
U.S. Army orientation information and individual military skills are stressed.

110 Introduction to Leadership (1 s.h.)
Initial instructions in land navigation and military history.

209 Individual Leadership (1 s.h.)
Covers the intermediate level in the Leadership Development Program for the Army ROTC program. *Prerequisites: MS 109 and MS110.

210 Leadership and Teamwork (1 s.h.)
Cadets continue leadership development and transition to the advanced course; emphasis is placed on individual and team building.

309 Leadership and Problem Solving (2 s.h.)
Emphasis is placed on leadership applications and effective planning and organizational skills. *Concurrent enrollment in either MS 319 or MS 350 is required.

310 Leadership and Ethics (2 s.h.)
A continuation of MS 309. Cadets are trained on basic officer skills, including preparation of map overlays, the principles of war, and how to conduct an After Action Review. *Concurrent enrollment in MS 320 or MS 351 required.

319, 320 MS Lab (No credit)
Focuses on individual and small unit tactics skills. *Concurrent enrollment in MS 309 or MS 310 is required.

409 Leadership and Management (2 s.h.)
This begins the transition of the cadet to an officer. Emphasis is on roles and duties of the 2nd lieutenant. *Concurrent enrollment in MS 419 or MS 450 is required.

410 Officership (2 s.h.)
Completes the transition of the student to an officer, culminating in her commissioning. Primary focus of the course is to provide the Advanced Camp graduates instruction in the planning, organizing, training, and leadership development necessary to lead a platoon. *Concurrent enrollment in either MS 420 or MS 451 required.

419, 420 Military Science Lab (No credit)
Practical applications of subjects taught in MS 409 and MS 410. *Concurrent enrollment in MS 409 or 410 is required.

Ministry
Katherine Low, chaplain, director

Minor in Ministry
The Ministry minor is offered through two tracks: one for students preparing for Christian religious vocations and one for students from non-Christian or no religious tradition.

Requirements for students preparing for Christian religious vocations
21–23 semester hours
REL 101
REL 102
REL 130
REL 221 or REL 231
REL 222
Two of the following: HIST/REL 204, REL 237, PHIL 102, ANTH 120, or ANTH 244

Requirements for students from non-Christian or no religious tradition
21–23 semester hours
REL 101 and/or REL 102
REL 130
AS/REL 212 or AS/REL 275
REL 222 or REL 277
Remaining hours for the minor may be chosen from: ANTH 120, REL 202, REL 213, REL 221, REL 231, or REL 232.
Note: Other courses appropriate for the major and/or to the career plans of the student may be chosen and substituted for the above with the approval of the director. Directed inquiries and teaching assistantships are available on an individual basis.

Carpenter Preparation for Ministry Program
This unique program provides a bridge between the intellectual rigor of the classroom and the living of faith in the world. The program is not only for those students preparing for a religious vocation, but for those with any major or career plans who are interested in integrating faith and life. Both internships and volunteer opportunities are also available.

Carpenter Quest Program
Conducted by the chaplain as part of the Carpenter Preparation for Ministry Program, this unique program helps students integrate religious commitment, intellectual development, and service. The program includes two years of spiritual direction, academic courses, and enrichment activities that support individual efforts to make sense of life, learning, and faith. Students may apply to Quest during, or after completing, their freshman year.

Music
Lise Keiter, department head
Robert Allen, Sharon Barnes, Elise Blake, Elizabeth Brightbill, Beth Cantrell, Jolene Flory, Pamela Fox, , Lacey Johnson, Eloise
Kornicke, Rachel Quagliariello, Elizabeth Roberts, Humberto
Sales, Melissa Sumner, David Tate

The music department offers a major and a minor, as well as intrductory courses and electives for more casual music enthusiasts. In all its offerings, the department is committed to the exploration of music within the context of the liberal arts.
Vocal, keyboard, and selected instrumental instruction is available to all students at beginning, intermediate, and advanced levels. The Mary Baldwin College Choir has an active schedule and is open to all students by audition, as are other vocal and instrumental ensembles.

Requirements for the Major in Music
33–36 semester hours
MUS 100
MUS 111
MUS 112
MUS 211
MUS 212
MUS 315
MUS 316
MUS 400
Emphasis requirements (see below)

Note: All music majors must pass the piano proficiency test (see piano department for details). Music majors are expected to attend on-campus recitals.

Music Literature and History Emphasis
All core requirements for the major in music
At least two additional courses at the 300-level
MUS 402
MUS 106 or MUS 108 for a minimum of four semesters

A minimum of two semesters of Applied Lessons

Music Performance Emphasis
All core requirements for the major in music
A formal audition by the end of the sophomore year Applied Lessons on the primary instrument or voice for a minium of six semesters
MUS 401
Concentration requirements (see below)

Note: MUS 301 is recommended for students who wish to pursue graduate study

Piano concentration:
MUS 106 (at least two semesters)
MUS 210 (at least one semester)
MUS 323

Voice concentration:
MUS 106 (each semester after they have declared the music major)
MUS 141
One year of a foreign language

Note: Students with an instrumental concentration should consult the department about specific requirements.

Requirements for the Minor in Music
20–23 s.h.
MUS 100
MUS 111
MUS 112
Concentration requirements (see below)

General Concentration
All core requirements for the minor in music
At least two three-credit courses at the 200- or 300-level
A minimum of four semesters of Applied Lessons, MUS 106, and/or MUS 108

Music Literature Concentration
All core requirements for the minor in music
Four three-credit courses at the 200- or 300-level (two of these must be courses other than MUS 211, MUS 212, and
MUS 217)

Performance Concentration
All core requirements for the minor in music
A formal audition by spring semester of the sophomore year
A minimum of six credit hours of Applied Lessons
MUS 302
At least two additional three-credit courses at the 200- or 300-level

Minor in Music Education (Vocal/Choral Pk–12)
All students who wish to be licensed to teach music in the public schools, grades pre-K–12, must have a major in music (with a performance emphasis or music history and literature emphasis). In addition to emphasis requirements, they must complete the following:
MUS 310
Music Course Descriptions

MUS 311
- Fundamentals of Music (3 s.h.)
- An introduction to the structure of tonal music intended for the student with little or no formal musical training. Some attention will be given to keyboard proficiency and training in aural skills. This course is recommended for teacher licensure or for students who wish to take MUS 111.

PSYC 210
- PSYC 211
- ED 110
- ED 115
- ED 120
- ED 386
- ED 392
- Minimum of one year of piano
- Minimum of one year of voice
- Minimum of six semesters of choir
- Additional piano proficiency requirements

Civic Engagement Opportunities
- Performing in the community, as part of one of the music department's ensembles
- Being involved in area schools, through the Music Education Program
- Sharing talents with the community, through the Senior Project.

Music Course Descriptions

100 Introduction to Listening (3 s.h.)
A general introduction to western music from Gregorian Chant to the 21st century, designed to refine the student's listening skills and pleasure. Emphasis will fall on guided analytical listening to selected works by major composers. No previous musical experience is expected.

101 Beginning Voice Class (1 s.h.)
The rudiments of singing — how to begin to build your voice — will be offered for those students who have an interest in strengthening their vocal ability, perhaps with the goal of further applied study. Students must be enrolled in the Mary Baldwin College Choir in the term in which this course is taken. Intended for students with no prior vocal study. Course fee.

102 Beginning Piano Class (1 s.h.)
This course introduces students to the basics of reading music and playing the piano. It is taught in a piano laboratory environment and is intended for those who have no keyboard background. Students with prior piano study should consult Professor Keiter about taking a different course. Course fee.

103 Beginning Guitar Class (1 s.h.)
This course introduces students to the basics of reading music and playing the guitar. It is intended for those who have no guitar background. (Students with prior guitar experience should consult the instructor about taking a different course.) Course fee.

105 Fundamentals of Music (3 s.h.)
An introduction to the structure of tonal music intended for the student with little or no formal musical training. Some attention will be given to keyboard proficiency and training in aural skills. This course is recommended for teacher licensure or for students who wish to take MUS 111.

106 Mary Baldwin College Choir (1 s.h.)
The choir activities include a spring tour and occasional concerts with area men’s choruses. Can be repeated for credit.

108 Chamber Music Ensembles (credit varies)
Admission by audition. Can be repeated for credit. Ensembles include Baldwin Charm, Bella Voce, Flute Ensemble, String Ensemble, and chamber groups. Singers for Baldwin Charm and Bella Voce are selected by audition from the Mary Baldwin College Choir. Choir membership is a requirement for participation in either small vocal ensemble.

111, 112 Music Theory I and II (4 s.h. each)
These courses examine the role of harmonic material in tonal music, viewed in several ways: harmonization exercises, analysis, and short compositions. There is a lab component, which will emphasize aural skills and sightsinging. Required for the major or minor in music. "Prerequisite: Familiarity with notation of pitch and rhythm and/or MUS 105.

Applied Lessons (1–2 s.h.)
Individual voice, piano, and selected instrumental lessons are available to all students, on a space available basis, regardless of present level of ability and prior music experience. Pre-approved music majors and minors take Primary Applied Lessons (200-level, two credits, and 60-minute lessons). Most other students should take Elective Applied Lessons (100-level, one credit, 30-minute lessons). Students with questions about their status should consult the music department. Fees: 12, 30-minute lessons, $230; 12, 60-minute lessons, $450. Reduced fee for approved music majors or minors: 12, 30-minute lessons, $130; 12, 60-minute lessons, $195. Students should consult their teachers about which course is appropriate for them.

120, 260 Applied Piano (credit varies)

121, 261 Applied Voice (credit varies)
Priority for Applied Voice will be given first to music majors or minors and then to students registered for MUS 106 (Mary Baldwin College Choir). All students in Applied Voice are required to enroll in MUS 106.

122, 262 Applied Organ (credit varies)
Available at beginner/intermediate or advanced levels. Note that beginner/intermediate level assumes intermediate level of piano skills. Organ lessons are taught off-campus.

123, 263 Applied Violin (credit varies)

124, 264 Applied Flute (credit varies)

125, 265 Applied Cello (credit varies)

125B, 265B Applied Bass (credit varies)

126, 266 Applied Clarinet (credit varies)

127, 267 Applied Guitar (credit varies)

128, 268 Applied Viola (credit varies)

129, 269 Applied Harp (credit varies)

130, 270 Applied Bassoon (credit varies)

141 Diction for Singers (2 s.h.)
The course will include the application of the International Phonetic Alphabet, mainly to the study of Italian, English, German, and French song literature. There will be a brief study of its application to Spanish and Latin texts. Diction problems applicable to all song literature will be discussed.

151 History of Jazz (3 s.h.)
An examination of jazz as both a musical and sociological phenomenon; we will focus on the musical developments that resulted in jazz, the major jazz styles from New Orleans to the present, and musicians who have strongly influenced these styles.

152 Rock Music (3 s.h.)
A survey of the history of rock from its roots in rhythm and blues to present-day developments. Major stylistic trends and the contribution of such early artists as Elvis Presley, Chuck Berry, the Beatles, and the Rolling Stones will receive equal attention. No previous musical experience is expected.

153 American Folk Music (3 s.h.)
This course traces the development of American oral-tradition music, beginning with the earliest British ballads. Various surviving song-types examined include blues, ‘30s dust-bowl ballads, and ’60s protest songs. The recorded era is also closely scrutinized, from early hillbilly artists to the mid-century folk revival.

200, 300 Topics in Music History (credit varies)
One or more course topics will be chosen from such areas as: J. S. Bach, the Art Song, Music in Vienna, Music in London, Wagner operas, World Music, and Chamber Music Literature. *Prerequisite: permission of instructor.

210 Accompanying (1 s.h.)
This course is for piano students. Each student will accompany voice or instrumental students in a performance. *Prerequisites: advanced piano skills and permission of instructor.

211, 212 Music Theory III and IV (3 s.h. each)
These courses are a continuation of MUS 111–112. Students will develop analytical techniques appropriate for the major styles and genres of western music, from Gregorian chant to the present, with attention as well to the historical and cultural foundation of these techniques. Focus will be on analysis projects, composition, and aural skills. Required for music majors. *Prerequisite: MUS 112 or permission of instructor.

217 Choral Conducting (3 s.h.)
Choral conducting is the choreography of sound. In addition, it is the art of teaching and communicating through verbal and gestural technique. The major goal of this course is to secure for the student the fundamental skills necessary for success as a conductor and teacher. Required for Music Education students.

218, 318 Women in Music (3 s.h.)
This course will examine the rich history of women’s involvement with music as composers, performers, listeners, patrons, critics, and objects of musical representation. While we will mainly focus on western civilization, we will also consider examples drawn from non-western cultures. This course includes consideration of popular music and artists.

223, 323 Piano Literature (3 s.h. each)
A survey of the music, history, and performance technique of the piano from the Baroque to the 21st century. Individual works will be selected for listening, discussion and limited analysis. Emphasis will be on both live and recorded performances. Reading knowledge of music required. *Recommended background: MUS 100.

224, 324 The Symphony (3 s.h. each)
A study of the symphony from Haydn to Stravinsky, emphasizing evolution of musical style and development of the orchestra as a performing medium. Additional composers may include Mozart, Beethoven, Schumann, Brahms, Mahler, Prokofiev, and Tchaikovsky.

225, 325 Beethoven (3 s.h. each)
The life and musical style of Ludwig van Beethoven: an intensive study of works in four genres (piano sonata, concerto, string quartet, symphony) that mark his evolution through three style periods (classic, heroic, late). *Recommended background: MUS 100.

226, 326 Music and the Theatre (3 s.h. each)
An introduction to the opera and related theatre music from their origins to the 21st century. Well known operas by Mozart, Rossini, Verdi, Wagner, Puccini, and Strauss will be treated in lectures, recordings, and videotapes. If possible, a field trip to hear an operatic performance will be scheduled. *Recommended background: MUS 100.

229, 329 Music in the Romantic Era (3 s.h. each)
A study of the major styles in European music from the death of Beethoven through the end of the 19th century: the German art song, short piano pieces from Schubert to Brahms, the rise of the virtuoso (Chopin and Liszt), “music of the future” — the new directions of Wagner, and the rise of Nationalism (Dvorak and Tchaikovsky). *Recommended background: MUS 100.

230, 330 20th-Century Music (3 s.h. each)
The major styles and issues in European and American music from Debussy to the present — a full spectrum of the sounds of the 20th century. Composers to be studied will include Schoenberg, Stravinsky, Bartok, Berg, Ives, and Prokofiev. *Recommended background: MUS 100.

301 Junior Recital (1 s.h.)
The Junior Recital is a half-recital (25–35 minutes) that music majors with performance emphasis present in their junior year. Students should consult the “Guide to Recitals.” *Prerequisite: MUS 112 or permission of instructor.

302 Minor Recital (1 s.h.)
The Minor Recital is a half-recital (25–35 minutes) that music minors with performance concentration present in their junior or senior year. Students should consult the “Guide to Recitals.” *Prerequisite: Students must have passed their minor audition and have at least junior standing.

310 Music Education in the Elementary School (3 s.h.)
This course will give students a foundation for teaching music at the elementary level. Observation and participation in public school classrooms will be arranged to integrate teaching theory and practice. The course will introduce standard methods and materials appropriate for teaching general and vocal/choral music, including Orff and Kodaly systems, recorder, and autoharp. *Prerequisite: Sophomore standing.
311 Music Education in the Secondary School (3 s.h.)
This course will give students a foundation for teaching music at the middle and high school levels. Observation and participation in public school classrooms will be arranged to integrate teaching theory and practice. This course is directed toward the vocal music educator and will cover choral direction methods, materials, and strategies. *Prerequisite: Sophomore standing.

315 History of Western Music to 1700 (3 s.h.)
A survey of western music from antiquity to the Baroque. The major emphasis will be on aural recognition of the various musical styles current during the Medieval, Renaissance, and Baroque eras. Required for Music majors. *Prerequisite: MUS 100.

316 History of Western Music from 1700 to the Present (3 s.h.)
A survey of western music from the late Baroque to the present. As in MUS 315, primary emphasis will be on aural recognition of the major styles of the last 400 years. Required for Music majors. *Prerequisite: MUS 100.

400 Senior Seminar (3 s.h.)
Music majors must take the Major Field Achievement Test. This seminar will focus on selective review for this examination, along with several 1–2 page papers and short oral reports.

401 Senior Recital (3 s.h.)
The Senior Recital is a full recital (40–55 minutes) that majors with performance emphasis present in their senior year. Students should consult the “Guide to Recitals.” *Prerequisite: Students must have passed the major audition and have senior standing.

402 Senior Thesis (3 s.h.)
The senior thesis affords students the opportunity to conduct a large-scale, independent research project. This will include a proposal, bibliography and literature review (due in the preceding term), a 30-page thesis (at least one component of which must discuss or analyze music), and a final oral presentation.

Note: Directed inquiries, teaching assistantships, and internships in music can be arranged on an individual basis.

Naval Science
(U.S. Navy and U.S. Marine Corps ROTC)

MBC offers the naval science curriculum, with Marine Corps option, through the U.S. Navy and Marine Corps ROTC program conducted at Virginia Military Institute. Participation is limited to students in Virginia Women’s Institute for Leadership at MBC.

Naval Science Course Descriptions

101 Introduction to Naval Science (1 s.h.)
A general introduction to sea power and the Naval Services. Emphasis is placed on the mission, organization, regulations and broad warfare components of the Navy and Marine Corps.

102 Sea Power and Maritime Affairs (1 s.h.)
Continues the general concepts and history of sea power, implementation of sea power as an instrument of national policy and a study of the U.S. Naval strategy.

203 Leadership and Management (1 s.h.)
Introduction to the principles of Naval leadership, management and command.

205 Navigation (Navy Option) (2 s.h.)
Provides a comprehensive study of the theory, principles and procedures of ship navigation and coastal piloting. *Must concurrently register for either NS 211 or MS 350.

206 Evolution of Warfare I (Marine Option) (1 s.h.)
Explores the nature of warfare throughout Western history.

211 Navigation Lab for NS 205 (Navy Option) (No credit)
For students seeking a commission in the Navy. *Concurrent enrollment in NS 205 required.

303 Amphibious Warfare I (Marine Option) (2 s.h.)
Historical survey of the projection of sea power ashore. *Must concurrently register for either NS 313 or MS 350.

304 Amphibious Warfare II (Marine Option) (2 s.h.)
Continuation of NS 303. *Must concurrently register for either NS 314 or MS 351.

308 Naval Engineering (1 s.h.)
Familiarizes students with the types, structures and purpose of Navy ships.

309 Naval Weapons Systems (Navy and Marine Option) (2 s.h.)
Covers the principles of Naval weapons systems, including the integration of Marine Corps combat elements with a Navy Battle Group. *Must concurrently register for either NS 315, NS 413, or MS 450.

313 Amphibious Warfare I Lab for NS 303 (Marine Option) (No credit)
For students seeking a commission in the Marine Corps. Emphasizes preparation for NROTC Officer Candidate School at Quantico, Virginia. *Concurrent enrollment in NS 303 is required.

314 Amphibious Warfare II Lab for NS 304 (Marine Option) (No credit)
For students seeking a commission in the Marine Corps. *Concurrent enrollment in NS 304 required.

315 Navy Leadership Lab I for NS 309 (Navy Option) (No credit)
For students seeking a commission in the Navy. *Concurrent enrollment in NS 309 is required.

402 Leadership and Ethics (Navy and Marine Option) (2 s.h.)
Seminar on leadership principles and management techniques as they apply to the duties and responsibilities of junior officers. *Must concurrently register for NS 412, NS 414, or MS 451.

408 Naval Operations and Seamanship (Navy Option) (2 s.h.)
Comprehensive study of the theory, principles and procedures of naval operations. *Must concurrently register for either NS 411 or LS 450.

411 Naval Operations Lab for NS 408 (Navy Option) (2 s.h.)
For students seeking a commission in the Navy. *Concurrent enrollment in NS 408 is required.

412 Navy Leadership Lab II for NS 402 (Navy Option) (No credit)
For students seeking a commission in the Navy. *Concurrent enrollment in NS 402 is required.

413 Marine Leadership Lab I for NS 309 (Marine Option) (No credit)
For students seeking a commission in the Marine Corps. *Concurrent enrollment in NS 403 is required.

414 Marine Leadership Lab II for NS 402 (Marine Option) (No credit)
For students seeking a commission in the Marine Corps. *Concurrent enrollment in NS 402 is required.

Peacemaking & Conflict Resolution
Roderic Owen, coordinator

Students interested in issues and perspectives revolving around the themes of difference, diversity, and multiculturalism and in the skills and techniques emerging from mediation, conflict resolution, and non-violence may pursue a multi-disciplinary minor in Peacemaking and Conflict Resolution. Requirements encourage cross-disciplinary study, a combination of theory and praxis, and (when possible) integration with the student’s major. This minor complements an academic major in any number of different liberal arts and pre-professional areas while also enriching students’ participation in various programs including Quest Interfaith, Spencer Global Citizens, and VWIL.

Requirements for the Minor in Peacemaking and Conflict Resolution
21 semester hours
Three of the following: COMM 280, PSYC 221, REL/COMM 237, or PHIL/REL 320
Three of the following (no more than two from any one department): ANTH 120, ANTH 202, AS 212, AS 251, AS 275, BIOL 148, BUAD/COMM 202, ECON 215, ECON 272, ECON 280, HIST 266, HIST 365, INT/ART 150, PHIL 232, PHIL 235, REL 130, REL 202, REL 203, REL 221, REL 232, REL 234, POLS 209, POLS 221, POLS 310, PSYC 216, PSYC 218, SOC 112, SOC 240, SOC 248, SOC 262, and SOC 264
Either a faculty-approved 3 s.h. internship (see note below) or one of the following: CE 271, PHIL 140, POLS 235, SOC 282, or REL 310

Note: The internship must have a mediation/conflict resolution or a community-service emphasis and be registered under one of the following departments: Civic Engagement, Communication, Philosophy and Religion, Political Science, Psychology, or Sociology.

Philosophy
James Gilman, department head
Kenneth Beals, Roderic Owen, Edward Scott

MBC offers a major and a minor in philosophy, and a major combining philosophy and religion. Some students develop independent majors, combining philosophy with other disciplines such as English, history, psychology, or political science.

Requirements for the Major in Philosophy
34 semester hours
PHIL 101
PHIL 201
PHIL 202
PHIL 400
PHIL 401
Five additional courses in Philosophy
One year of a foreign language

Requirements for the Major in Philosophy/Religion
34 semester hours
PHIL 103
PHIL 201 or PHIL 202
One philosophy course at the 300-level
REL 101 or REL 102
REL 202 or AS/REL 212
One religion course at the 300 level
REL 400 or PHIL 400
REL 401 or PHIL 401
Additional courses to total 34 s.h.

Requirements for the Minor in Philosophy
21 semester hours
PHIL 101
PHIL 103
PHIL 201 or PHIL 202
Additional courses to total 21 s.h.

Note: The following Philosophy courses may be taken at the 300 level: PHIL 201, PHIL 202, PHIL 203, PHIL 211, PHIL 232, and PHIL 234.

Civic Engagement Opportunities
• Civic engagement component in PHIL 140 Community and Service Learning
• Many programs and events jointly sponsored by Religion and Philosophy, such as Black Baby Doll Day, Martin Luther King Jr. Candlelight March and Memorial Service, Kwanzaa, others
• Black History Month events: Oratorical Contest with community participation, Gospel Extravaganza, Praise House Service, Peace and World Religions Lecture
• Participation in Habitat for Humanity and Amnesty International
• Internship opportunities: Katrina Relief, mediation and conflict resolution
• International civic engagement: South Africa, India, Greece, and work with native Americans
Philosophy Course Descriptions

101 Introduction to Philosophy (3 s.h.)
Involves the activity of philosophizing by practicing skills and methods of philosophical inquiry and critical analysis. Issues examined include free will and determinism, ethical decision-making, theories of knowledge, the existence of God, political philosophy, and theories of human nature.

102 Introduction to Ethics (3 s.h.)
Course provides theoretical tools for ethical decision-making; examines basic concepts of ethical decision-making and several theories including those of Plato, Aristotle, Kant, Mill and Bentham. Application is made to contemporary moral issues.

103 Introduction to Logic (3 s.h.)
Acquaints the student with basic terminology and develops her analytic and logical reasoning abilities. Topics include distinctions between truth and validity, induction and deduction, recognizing fallacies, testing the validity of arguments in concrete situations, and understanding the importance of logic for the sciences.

110 Ethical Issues in Business (3 s.h.)
A philosophical introduction to ethical inquiry and moral judgments in corporate and business contexts. Ethical issues include advertising, profit margins, environmental responsibility, and worker’s rights, and moral issues in business that concerns the student.

140 Community and Service Learning (3 s.h.)
Students encounter practical community needs and goals, develop skills in critical thinking and problem solving, and reflect on the relationship between theory and practice. They explore their commitment to community-oriented values, practice skills that enhance citizenship, and learn how to care for those in need. Combined course and internship includes hands-on experience in an approved community agency or religious or humanitarian organization, and critical reading, discussion, and written reflection about service work. Students make connections between personal and professional goals, their roles as liberal arts students, and their evolving commitment.

201 Greek and Medieval Philosophy (3 s.h.)
Retraces the original steps taken by the philosophical imagination in the history of metaphysics; includes a careful interpretation of seminal works determinative for the unfolding of that history, with particular attention to the play of logos and the formation of metaphor for expressing thought and being. Related themes include the existence of God, theories of ethics, refutation of skepticism, and the nature of persons.

202 Modern Philosophy (3 s.h.)
An inquiry into the intellectual origins of modern thought, the rise of modern science and its development to the 19th century. Students examine issues regarding human knowledge and the nature of reality. Philosophers include Bacon, Hobbes, Descartes, Leibniz, Spinoza, Locke, Hume, Kant, and Hegel. This course is relevant to the study of history, literature, science, and political science.

203 The Literature and Thought of Existentialism (3 s.h.)
Explores the growth of existentialism as a major modern literary and philosophical movement. Besides philosophical literature, the student reads novels, poetry, and drama selected from the works of Kierkegaard, Nietzsche, Dostoyevsky, Heidegger, Sartre, Camus, Hesse, Kafka, Tillich, and Buber.
*Prerequisite: one Philosophy course or one English literature course.

211 Modern Political Thought (3 s.h.)
Inquiry into the origins and development of modern political theories, especially democracy, communism, and fascism. Students will examine ideas and values underlying these theories, including modern conceptions of freedom, equality, individualism, social contract, and sovereignty. Readings include works of thinkers such as Machiavelli, Hobbes, Locke, Rousseau, Marx, Mussolini, Hitler, and Rawls.*Prerequisite: one Philosophy or Political Science course.

230 Medical and Health Care Ethics (3 s.h.)
For course description, see HCA 230 in the Health Care Administration listing.

231 Contemporary Feminism and Gender Studies (3 s.h.)
For course description, see WS 200 in the Women’s Studies listing.

232 African-American Thought (3 s.h.)
Focuses on various intellectual resources created by African Americans in response to a series of crises that shaped their history. Students explore these responses as modes of black consciousness and culture and as viable options for the American experience. Includes discussion of issues such as freedom, voice, community, history, worship, literature, and music as expressions of black experience.

234 Philosophy and the Arts (3 s.h.)
This course examines perennial questions concerning beauty in art and nature, the attribution of value, the relation of aesthetic judgment and imagination to cognition and moral duty, and the implications of these questions for inquiries in related disciplines, i.e. linguistics, psychoanalysis, and religious studies. A primary theme will be the truth-value of aesthetic objects and their ontological status as expressive entities or “spiritual objects.” Cross listed as ARTH 234.

235 Ethics, Community, and Leadership (3 s.h.)
Students learn about the moral dimensions of leadership and develop a critical understanding of the ethical relationships among character, leadership style and skills, community values, and the aims of leadership. Students examine the nature and function of leadership in the context of humanitarian causes, advancement of social justice, and the peaceful conflict resolution. Includes analysis of major forms of moral reasoning and of classic leadership case studies. Required for the Leadership Studies minor.

254 Celtic Britain (3 s.h.)
Who are the Celtic peoples of Britain? What does it mean “to be Celtic?” How have elements of this tradition survived? Introduction to Celtic culture, especially literary/poetic traditions, construction of cultural identity. Several classes prepare for May Term travel, offer context for the place, role, contribution of the Celts to British/Irish history and culture, contemporary Celtic poetry, debates about multiculturalism, politics of identity and recognition. Destinations vary: Wales, Scotland, and Ireland.

277 Studies in Philosophy (3 s.h.)
Topics not included in regularly scheduled philosophy courses. Interests of students and faculty determine the subject matter.

301 Contemporary Analytic Philosophy (3 s.h.)
Studies the analytic tradition in contemporary philosophy with readings selected from the writings of philosophers such as Moore, Russell, Wittgenstein, and Ayer. Issues include the nature of realism, sense data and sensations, meaning and reference, the nature of language, and principles of verification and falsification. *Prerequisite: any other philosophy course.

305 Science, Religion, and the Search for Meaning (3 s.h.)
An Honors inquiry into the domains and methods of the sciences and religion. Introduces methodologies of Western science in their historical, philosophical, religious, and institutional contexts. A parallel examination of theological thought focuses on models of inquiry, views of nature, language and symbols, and the relationship between the divine and the natural. Modern cosmology, human genetic engineering, and developments in quantum physics are topics for examining the interactions between religion and science. Cross listed as REL 305.

306 Morality: Human Nature and Nurture (3 s.h.)
For course description, see PSYC 306 in the Psychology listing.

320 Peacemaking: Gandhi and Nonviolence (3 s.h.)
An examination of the life, writings, and ideals of Mahatma Gandhi and those influenced by him who are powerful contemporary advocates of nonviolent social change. Topics include the emergence of peace activism and peace studies and their roots in the philosophy of non-violent social change; sources of violent conflict; alternatives to violence; and cultural models of conflict management and transformation that aim at resolving conflict in non-violent ways. Cross listed as REL 320 and AS 320.

390 Directed Inquiry
The student and supervising faculty member undertake an advanced study of a selected topic in philosophy.

400 Major Colloquium (2 s.h.)
Students participate in a community of peer and faculty scholars, for the purpose of developing independent research, writing, and oral communication skills. Each year the colloquium focuses on a different selected topic.

401 Senior Thesis (2 s.h.)
Each major completes an independent research project of her choice, meeting regularly and working closely with a faculty advisor. Each student presents and defends her senior thesis before a faculty member.

Note: Directed inquiries, teaching assistantships, and internships in philosophy are available on an individual basis.

Physical and Health Education
Irene Sarnelle, department head
Lynda Alanko, Charles Angersbach, Patricia Davis, Sheree Kiser, Sharon Spalding, John Stuart, Paul Yee

The combined program of physical and health education educates through movement, cognitive development, and social experiences. The program emphasis is the acquisition of physical skills, which contribute to the development of healthful lifestyles and leisure-time pursuits. MBC students must complete one class from PHE 100 through 123 or PHE 221, as well as two classes from PHE 137 through PHE 193, for a total of at least two credit hours. In addition to the basic instructional program in physical education, the department offers a minor in Coaching and Exercise Leadership.

Minor in Coaching and Exercise Leadership
Please see Coaching and Exercise Leadership

Physical and Health Education Course Descriptions

100 Fitness (1 s.h.)
Topics include assessment and design of a personal fitness and nutrition plan. Students examine wellness as it pertains to quality of life. Suggested for freshmen and sophomores.

101 Advanced Fitness (1 s.h.)
Extensive fitness testing and morning exercise sessions are part of this course (required for VWIL freshmen). Current health issues will also be addressed.

102 Topics in Principles of Health (1 s.h.)
This course will cover current content related to specific topics in the Principles of Health. See the current course offerings list for the most up-to-date topic offering.

122 Stress Management (1 s.h.)
Students will be engaged in self-examination of personal stressors. Emphasis will be given to techniques for reduction of stress, as well as the construction of a personal stress management plan.

123 Consumer Health (1 s.h.)
Provides the student with knowledge and skills to become a wise consumer of health products and services.

137 Outdoor Recreation: Leadership Challenge Program (.5 s.h.)
Experiential activities that encourage individual challenge, team building, communication, and trust. *Prerequisite: VWIL student.

139 Topics in Principles of Dance and Health-Related Fitness (.5 s.h.)
This course will cover current content related to specific topics in the Principles of Dance and Health-Related Fitness. See the current course offerings list for the most up-to-date topic offering.
140 Yoga (.5 s.h.)
Instruction in basic techniques of yoga.

141 Aerobics (.5 s.h.)
Instruction and participation in various types of aerobic.

142 Weight Training (.5 s.h.)
Instruction in basic techniques of weight training.

143 Fitness Walking (.5 s.h.)
Instruction in basic techniques of fitness walking. May include use of Nordic walking poles.

144A Beginning Ballet (.5 s.h.)
Instruction in beginning level ballet. Leotard and slippers required. Students must provide own transportation.

144B Intermediate Ballet (.5 s.h.)
Instruction in intermediate level ballet skills. Leotard and slippers required. Consult the physical education department for fees. Students must provide own transportation. *Prerequisite: one year of ballet instruction after age 10, PHE 144A, or permission of instructor.

144C Advanced Ballet (.5 s.h.)
Instruction in advanced level ballet skills. Leotard and slippers required. Consult the physical education department for fees. Students must provide own transportation. *Prerequisite: three or more years of ballet instruction after age 10, PHE 144B, or permission of instructor.

146 Modern Dance (.5 s.h.)
Instruction in the basic techniques of modern dance.

147 Historical Dance (.5 s.h.)
Instruction in historical dance movement with emphasis on American and European social dance from the 16th to 20th centuries.

148 Ballroom Dance (.5 s.h.)
Introduction to basic ballroom dance skills including: steps, styling, leading and following for American and Latin ballroom dance forms.

149 Folk Dance (.5 s.h.)
Instruction and participation in folk dances primarily from European and Middle Eastern countries.

150 Performance Dance Group (1 s.h.)
Introduction to group dance experiences through rehearsal, performance, dance technique training and technical practice. In fall, the group presents a dance program. In spring, the group presents a historical dance program or a historical ball. The group presents programs and conducts dance workshops for schools and community groups. Course may be repeated for credit. *Prerequisite: permission of instructor.

155 Independent Activity (.5 s.h.)
Activities to suit individual students with special needs or those who wish to do an advanced activity not offered on campus. *Prerequisite: permission of instructor.

167 Outdoor Recreation: VWIL Wilderness (1 s.h.)
Provides knowledge, experience, and skills in outdoor adventures as a part of the VWIL orientation. *Prerequisite: VWIL student.

170 Racquetball (.5 s.h.)
Instruction in basic skills, rules, and strategies of racquetball for the beginner. Equipment is available.

171 Tennis (.5 s.h.)
Instruction in basic skills, rules, and strategies of tennis for the beginner. Equipment is available.

172 Golf (.5 s.h.)
Instruction in basic skills and rules of golf for the beginner. Equipment is available.

173 Fencing (.5 s.h.)
Instruction in basic skills, rules, and strategies of bouting for the beginner. Equipment is available.

174 Self-Defense (.5 s.h.)
Instruction in basic techniques of self-defense.

175 Karate (.5 s.h.)
Instruction in basic techniques of karate.

176 Outdoor Recreation (.5 s.h.)
Provides physical activity through participation in outdoor recreational activities.

177 Colloquium (credit varies)
Review current course offerings list for subject matter.

179 Horseback Riding (.5 s.h.)
Instruction in basic horsemanship and horseback riding necessary to begin the safe and successful sport of riding. Beginning through advanced level lessons offered. Consult the physical education department for fees. Students must provide own transportation.

180 Scuba (1 s.h.)
Instruction in the knowledge and the skills necessary to dive safely and enjoy the aquatic environment. Successful completion earns the student international certification (PADI). Consult the physical education department for fees. Students must provide own transportation.

181 Skiing/Snowboarding (.5 s.h.)
Instruction in basic techniques of skiing/snowboarding. Consult the physical education department for fees. Students must provide own transportation.

182 Ice Skating (.5 s.h.)
Instruction in basic techniques of ice skating. Consult the physical education department for fees. Students must provide own transportation.

183 Indoor Recreation (.5 s.h.)
Promotes physical activity through the skills and knowledge in indoor recreational activities.
185 Independent Activity (.5 s.h.)
Activities to suit individual students with special needs or those who wish to do an advanced activity not offered on campus.
Prerequisite: permission of instructor.

189 Topics in Principles of Motor Skill and Sport-Related Fitness (.5 s.h.)
Provides content related to specific topics in the Principles of Motor Skill and Sport-Related Fitness. See the current course offerings list for the most up-to-date topic offering.

190 Fall Athletic Sports (.5 s.h.)
Varsity Athletes in soccer, volleyball, and field hockey may enroll.

191 Winter Athletic Sports (.5 s.h.)
Varsity athletes in basketball may enroll.

192 Spring Athletic Sports (.5 s.h.)
Varsity athletes in tennis and softball may enroll.

193 Advanced Fencing (1 s.h.)
Provides skill development in the student’s chosen weapon (foil or épée). Students are expected to compete intercollegiately as a part of the class. Prerequisite: PHED 173.

221 Emergency Health Care (2 s.h.)
Provides knowledge and practical experience for emergency health care procedures. American Red Cross Certification

251 Exercise Testing and Training (3 s.h.)
This course covers the essentials needed to assess all components of physical fitness and how to design exercise programs for different populations. Basic exercise physiology is covered in the course. Students will learn assessment techniques and how to interpret results to plan effective conditioning programs for those wishing to improve their fitness or to train for sports activities. Cross listed as BIOL 251.

Physics
Nadine Gergel-Hackett, Karl Zachary

Mary Baldwin College offers a minor in Physics and a major in collaboration with our consortium school, Washington & Lee University in Lexington, Virginia.

Requirements for the Major in Physics
35 semester hours
PHYS 201
PHYS 202
PHYS 209
PHYS 210
CHEM/PHYS 321
Optics*
Electricity and Magnetism*
Newtonian Mechanics*
Quantum Mechanics*
One of the following lab courses: PHYS 207, Laboratory Computer Applications*, Nuclear Physics*
PHYS 400 or PHYS 401
MATH 301

Note: Students may substitute Physics courses at Washington and Lee for PHYS/ CHEM 260 and CHEM/PHYS 321. Please see your advisor for more information.

Civic Engagement Opportunities
• Courses throughout the physical science curriculum discuss the relevance of scientific principles to public policy and social issues.
• Students lend their growing expertise to projects that examine exposure to lead and other heavy metals as well as the quality of local water.
• Students are encouraged, particularly through the local chapner of the American Chemical Society Student Affiliates, to engage local schools and organizations such as the Girl Scouts in hands-on experience with science and tutoring.

Physics Course Descriptions
100 Exploring the Physical World (3 s.h.)
This is a course for students who like to learn by doing; hands-on activities linking core chemistry and physics principles to the real-world are emphasized. The objectives of the course are to give an appreciation of the process and content of physical science and to provide experience in learning by the inquiry method. Topics are selected based on general interest and appropriateness for early and middle education. Cross listed as

CHEM 100.

131 Introduction to Astronomy (3 s.h.)
A descriptive survey of astronomical observations and conceptual models for non-science majors through readings, discussions, and observations. Students will develop a basic understanding of the structure and properties of the earth, moon, planets, sun, and stars based on simple physical concepts and astronomical models. This course assumes no previous background in college science or mathematics.

201, 202 General Physics I, II (4 s.h. each)
A foundation for further study in physics, biology, chemistry, and pre-medicine. Topics include the phenomena of classical mechanics, wave motion and sound, fluids, electricity, magnetism, and light, each developed from first principles, often historic discoveries. Equations for physical laws use algebra, trigonometry, plane geometry, and calculus, as appropriate.
Laboratories provide direct familiarity with natural phenomen. Recommended background: high school physics.
Prerequisites: MATH 211–212, which may be taken concurrently.
207 Electrical Circuits (4 s.h.)
This self-paced laboratory course covers basic introductory level circuits, including basic DC Circuits, Ohm’s Law and Kirchhoff’s Rules, Resistance, Thevenin and Norton Equivalents, Op-Amps, and transient circuits. *Prerequisites: PHYS 201 and PHYS 202.

209 Experimental Modern Physics (3 s.h.)
Experimental Modern Physics is a laboratory/lecture course that explores the groundbreaking ideas of modern physics. Through a combination of computer simulations and laboratory experiments, students will explore topics such as Einstein’s Theory of Special Relativity, quantization of mass and charge, atomic structure and nuclear decay. *Prerequisites: PHYS 201 and 202.

210 Modern Physics (3 s.h.)
This course introduces students to the special theory of relativity and quantum mechanics. Topics include atomic structure, wave properties of matter, the hydrogen atom, many-electron atoms, and statistical physics. *Prerequisites: PHYS 201 and PHYS 202.

260 Introduction to Materials Science (3 s.h.)
Materials science encompasses the structure and composition, synthesis and processing, performance, and properties of materials. This survey provides a holistic introduction from the combined viewpoints of physics and chemistry. Topics: crystalline structure, band theory, defects, and electronic, optical, and thermal properties of materials. Cross listed as CHEM 260. *Prerequisites: PHYS 202 and CHEM 221.

321 Physical Chemistry I: Thermodynamics, Statistical Thermodynamics, and Kinetics (3 s.h.)
For course description, see CHEM 321 in the Chemistry listing.

360 Advanced Topics in Materials Science (3 s.h.)
This course offers a more rigorous examination of the core topics of Introduction to Materials Science. The theoretical basis for mechanical, thermal, magnetic, and optical properties of materials is examined. In addition, microstructures, composites, and nanostructures are examined. Cross listed as CHEM 360. *Prerequisite: PHYS 260.

400, 401 Senior Research (2 s.h. each)
Seminars and independent research leading to the completion of a thesis required of majors in the senior year. The student, under supervision of staff members, experiences research as it is carried out in practical situations and presents findings orally and in writing. Satisfactory completion of the research project and the oral defense of the thesis fulfill the senior requirement for physics majors.

Note: Directed inquiries, teaching assistantships, and internships in physics are available on an individual basis.

Requirements for the Major in Political Science
36 semester hours
One American government course: POLS 100, POLS 101, POLS 203, POLS 205, POLS 213, POLS 210, POLS 260, POLS 300, POLS 321, or POLS 322
One comparative government course: POLS 111, POLS 215, POLS 216, or POLS 249
One international relations course: POLS 128, POLS 221, POLS 310, or POLS 311
One political theory course: PHIL 201, PHIL 202, PHIL 211 or PHIL 235
One senior project/thesis: POLS 400A or 400B
Additional courses in Political Science to total 36 s.h.

Senior Requirement: Satisfactory completion of POLS 400 A or B.

Requirements for the Minor in Political Science
18 semester hours
One American government courses: POLS 100, POLS 101, POLS 203, POLS 205, POLS 210, POLS 213, POLS 260, POLS 300, POLS 321, or POLS 322
One comparative government course: POLS 111, POLS 215, POLS 216, or POLS 249
One international relations course: POLS 128, POLS 221, POLS 310, or POLS 311
Three additional Political Science courses

Minor in Environmental Policy Analysis
Please see Environmental Policy Analysis

Civic Engagement Opportunities
- Civic engagement contracts associated with any course in political science
- POLS 235: Politics, Policy, and Community Service
- Political science internships approved by the political science faculty supervisor
- Study abroad for academic credit through student participation in issues of public concern and reflection on the public issues encountered
- Senior projects in political science designed to emphasize civic engagement

Political Science Course Descriptions
100 Introduction to American Government and Politics (3 s.h.)
Students are introduced to political science by studying the U.S. Constitution, major institutions, political processes (elections and lobbying), and political behavior.

101 Introduction to Public Administration (3 s.h.)
This course introduces students to the management of governmental organizations. The theory and practice of public agencies will be reviewed to see just how government actually “works.” Functions such as planning, organizing, communicating, and budgeting will be reviewed. One area of special interest is emergency management, especially as public health is concerned.

111 Comparative Politics (3 s.h.)
Students examine challenges to democratic government by studying the domestic politics of several non-U.S. political systems. Particular attention is paid to social foundations of government. The status of the individual and the rights of minorities provide themes for learning about the distinction between democratic and non-democratic political systems.

128 U.S. Foreign Policy (3 s.h.)
Students study the institutions and events that have shaped the relations of the United States with the rest of the world. Diplomatic, covert, and military techniques used to maximize U.S. national interests are addressed in the period since 1945.

200 State and Local Government (3 s.h.)
Students examine the regional political units in the U.S. federal system, their relationships with each other and with the national government. The course focuses on the contemporary functions of state and local governments and their role in managing diversity among competing social, political, and judicial pressures.

203 The U.S. Congress (3 s.h.)
Students examine the historical origins and contemporary operation of the United States Congress, including the nature of congressional campaigns, institutional differences in leadership and process between the House and Senate, and executive-legislative relations in domestic, budget, and foreign policy arenas. Students participate in a congressional simulation, experiencing all stages of the legislative process as they play the roles of members of Congress, interest group representatives, and constituents.

205 Political Parties and Interest Groups (3 s.h.)
Students examine the nature of political parties and interest groups and the role they play in American politics, including analysis of platforms, purposes, strategies and influence in elections and policymaking. Students engage in writing assignments, hands-on experiments, group exercises, and oral presentations, including a mock political convention.

209 Women and Politics (3 s.h.)
Students examine the roles and influences of women in politics and the effect of politics upon their status and life choices. Students analyze gender differences in patterns of political participation, including voting, working in campaigns, running for public office, serving as elected officials, and participating in various kinds of interest groups.

210 Judicial Process (3 s.h.)
Students examine the functions of law and its sources. The structure of the federal and state court systems in the United States, the roles of lawyers, the methods for selecting and removing judges, trial and appellate procedures for both criminal and civil cases, judicial decision-making, and the limits on judicial power will be covered.

212 Mass Media Law and Ethics (3 s.h.)
Students examine the dual judicial system in the U.S. and its effect on media, the protections of speech and press afforded by the First Amendment of the U.S. Constitution in areas of civil and criminal law. Students practice recognizing and resolving ethical conflicts. Cross listed as COMM 212.

213 The U.S. Presidency (3 s.h.)
Students examine the origins and evolution of the role of president and of the executive offices of the presidency. Constitutional foundations, key influences on the growth of the modern presidency, and contemporary trends are analyzed.

215 Politics in the Third World (3 s.h.)
This course studies political problems in the nations outside the affluent North of the globe. The political options of democratic, military, and single party forms are analyzed.

216 Politics of Russia and Eastern Europe (3 s.h.)
This course studies the modern political experiences of the peoples of Russia and selected East-Central European states. Special emphasis is given to the communist era and to the problems of democratization since the end of communism. (Offered online only.)

221 International Relations (3 s.h.)
This is the basic course in which students apply tools of systematic study to relations among the actors in the international system: states, international organizations, and non-state actors (e.g., terrorist groups). The sources of states' behavior, including ideological and strategic motivations, are studied. The ways in which the global set of states operates as a system also are analyzed. *Prerequisite: POLS 128.

222 Social Science Statistics (3 s.h.)
For course description, see INT 222 in the Interdisciplinary Studies listing.

234 Religion, Politics and Public Policy (3 s.h.)
For course description, see REL 234 in the Religion listing.

235 Politics, Policy, and Community Service (3 s.h.)
Students examine theories of policymaking, political participation, public opinion, and civic engagement, through readings and class discussion, while experiencing public policymaking in action through community service and/or an internship.

245 Health Care Policy and Politics (3 s.h.)
For course description, see HCA 245 in the Health Care Administration listing.

249 Latin American Politics (3 s.h.)
A study of political patterns in Latin America. Revolutionary socialism, military dictatorships, and emerging democratic patterns of government and politics are examined. Argentina, Mexico, and selected additional nations are analyzed, with an emphasis on the politics of national development since 1950.

260 Public Policy (3 s.h.)
This course explains the nature of public policy and analyzes stages in its making, including problem identification and policy agenda, formulation, adoption, implementation, and evaluation. Case studies in varied policy areas will show how the process actually works, i.e., what the results of policy look like in the real world. Leadership roles of individuals, groups, and institutions will be reviewed in depth.

277 Colloquium (3 s.h.)
These courses look into subjects best covered in intensive group study experiences. Core readings and seminar discussions form common experiences for the group, and individual projects refine understanding. Offered as needed.
300 Political Behavior (3 s.h.)
Students investigate determinants of political behavior, including political socialization, group differences, political efficacy, and civic engagement. They develop skills in empirical analysis as they measure and analyze public opinion and voting behavior.

301 Advanced Data Analysis (3 s.h.)
For course description, see ECON 301 in the Economics listing.

310 International Organizations (3 s.h.)
This course studies attempts to control and influence the behavior of states. Major attempts to order the international system (League of Nations, United Nations) are reviewed. Regional international bodies are also examined. *Prerequisite: POLS 221.

311 Terrorism and Counter-Terrorism (3 s.h.)
This course studies modern terrorism with special attention paid to terrorism arising from the Middle East region. The choices and consequences of various counter-terrorism policies of the United States and other states are studied to bring practical dimensions of the problem into focus.

321 Constitutional Law I: Structure and Powers (3 s.h.)
This course is a case-method study of the significant decisions of the U.S. Supreme Court that define judicial, presidential, and congressional powers and their limits. Federalism and administrative power also will be examined.

322 Constitutional Law II: Civil Rights and Liberties (3 s.h.)
A case-method study of the U.S. Supreme Court decisions in the areas of First Amendment freedoms of speech, press, and religion. Constitutional protections in criminal law, the right to privacy and equal protection will be examined. *Prerequisite: POLS 321 or permission of the instructor.

400A, 400B Senior Seminar in Political Science (3 s.h.)
Seniors majoring in political science or international relations, or who include this discipline in an independent major, must enroll in this course and complete an acceptable senior thesis on a major independent research project. Political Science majors writing their theses in American politics enroll in section A; International Relations majors and Political Science majors writing their theses in international or comparative politics enroll in section B.

Psychology

Core requirements:
PSYC 101
PSYC 150
PSYC 210 or PSYC 211
PSYC 220
PSYC 241 or PSYC/BIOL 305
PSYC 212 or 310
PSYC 250
PSYC 360
PSYC 401
Four additional courses selected from SOC 254 or any psychology course excluding those on the core list above, PSYC 287, PSYC 387, and PSYC 380. At least one of the elective courses must emphasize social psychology, (e.g. PSYC 111, SOC 254 or colloquium approved by the department head).
Majors must take a standardized achievement test in psychology during their senior year

Requirements for the Bachelor of Science in Psychology
All of the requirements listed for the BA, plus the following:
Two mathematics courses at the 200 level or above.
One additional lab science course at the 200 level
Senior Requirement: Satisfactory completion of PSYC 401

Requirements for the Psychology/Sociology Major
42 semester hours
PSYC 101
PSYC 150
PSYC 220
PSYC 230
PSYC 360
PSYC 401

SOC 110
SOC 200
SOC 248
SOC 254
One other 200 level SOC course (SOC 225 is suggested)
One of the following: PSYC 210, PSYC 211, or PSYC 311
One of the following: PSYC 203, PSYC 205, or PSYC 232

Requirements for the Sociology/Psychology Major
Please see Sociology, Sociology/Psychology

Requirements for the Minor in Psychology
18-20 semester hours, with at least 3 semester hours at the 300+ level
One of the following: PSYC 101 or 111
One of the following PSYC 210, 211 or 214
One of the following PSYC 220, 250 or 302
One of the following PSYC 203, 205, 213 or 231
One of the following PSYC 212, 305, 307, 310 or PSYC/BIOL 305
AND one other psychology course (3-4 hrs.) of the student’s choice, excluding PSYC 287, PSYC 387, and PSYC 380.

Emphasis Areas
Child Psychology:
Majors who plan an elementary teaching license, a career in child care, or to enter a graduate program in developmental psychology, educational psychology, or a related field should take: PSYC 203, PSYC 210, PSYC 302, and PSYC 310. PSYC 232 is also recommended.
Mental Health Work:
Students who plan to work in a mental health setting or enter a graduate program in clinical or counseling psychology or a related field should take: PSYC 203, PSYC 205, PSYC 213, PSYC 231, PSYC 302, and an internship in mental health.

Personnel Work:
Majors who plan for entry-level positions in personnel work or to enter a graduate program in industrial/organizational psychology should take: PSYC 205, PSYC 231, PSYC 245, PSYC 302, BUAD 100, BUAD 200, BUAD 202, BUAD 302, and an internship in personnel work during May Term of the senior year.

Physical/Occupational Therapy:
Students interested in graduate studies in physical or occupational therapy should take: PSYC 213, PSYC 303, PSYC 310, BIOL 111, BIOL 251, BIOL 264, BIOL 265, and an internship in a PT or OT setting.

Elder Care:
Students interested in working with the elderly or graduate work in gerontology should take: PSYC 111, PSYC 212, PSYC 307, PSYC 311, BIOL 151, HCA 240, SOWK 124, and an internship in an elder care setting. SOC 205 is also recommended.

Civic Engagement and International Opportunities
- Long-established internships and volunteer opportunities with agencies such as Western State Hospital, Woodrow Wilson Rehabilitation Center, and area service agencies
- Extra credit for meaningful volunteer efforts outside the classroom
- Psychology classes sponsor and communicate with impoverished children in Kenya, Honduras, and Brazil

Psychology Courses

101 Introduction to Psychology as a Natural Science (4 s.h.)
A course with a required laboratory applied component emphasizing the experimental method as a procedure for discovering the principles of behavior and mental processes. Subject areas include psychobiology, sensation and perception, consciousness, learning and memory, motivation, emotion, and stress. Weekly labs enable students to explore a wide variety of psychological phenomena by replicating classic experiments and collecting and analyzing behavioral data.

111 Introduction to Psychology as a Social Science (3 s.h.)
This course is designed to introduce students to the study of psychology as a social science. Content areas: the major theoretical approaches to the study of psychology, developmental processes, stress, intelligence and its assessment, personality and its assessment, abnormal psychology, therapy, and social influences on behavior.

150 Survival Skills for the Psychology Major (1 s.h.)
Required for declared psychology majors. The course fosters an understanding of the career field and the acquisition of the basic learning and professional skills necessary to succeed in the field. Topics include vocational assessment, tools for academic success, writing a literature review and an empirical paper, occupational choices, and preparing for and applying to graduate school.

203 Abnormal Psychology (3 s.h.)
A study of the major forms of abnormal behavior focusing on adult psychopathology. Topics include the definition and history of abnormal behavior, research methods, current theoretical perspectives classification, symptomatology and treatment of mental disorders, psychological health. Of special interest to prospective human service workers, including social workers, counselors, and teachers. *Prerequisite: PSYC 101 or PSYC 111.

205 Techniques of Counseling and Psychotherapy (3 s.h.)
An overview of current approaches to counseling and psychotherapy including psychodynamic, phenomenological, behavioral, cognitive, and feminist orientations, and family therapy and therapy with children. Ethical and multicultural issues pertaining to therapy are also considered. Of special interest to prospective human service workers, including mental health workers, social workers, teachers, and personnel workers. *Prerequisite: PSYC 101 or PSYC 111.

210 Child Psychology (3 s.h.)
Examines cognitive, socio-emotional, language, and gender development from infancy through late childhood from different theoretical perspectives. Environmental and biological influences on children’s behavior are considered. Implications for parents, teachers, and others who work with children are discussed.

211 Adolescent Psychology (3 s.h.)
This course focuses on the neurological, socio-emotional, cognitive, and transitional aspects of adolescent development. Topics include identity formation; sexuality; work and leisure; and family, peer, and school influences on development. Students learn how culture, generation, gender roles, and other psychological factors affect adolescent behavior.

212 Fundamentals of Human Memory and Cognition (3 s.h.)
This course provides an introduction to the operations of the human mind. Students will learn about how we take in information from our environment and make sense of it, how we store and retrieve information in memory, how we manipulate information and knowledge for problem-solving and communication, the nature of consciousness, and other topics.

213 Applied Behavior Analysis (3 s.h.)
Procedures for treating a variety of problems, ranging from personal behavior problems to abnormal behavior will be considered. Students will learn to design, conduct, and evaluate programs for behavior change for themselves and others. Considers procedures for establishing desirable behaviors and eliminating or reducing undesirable behaviors, maladaptive anxiety, and other unwanted emotions.

214 Psychology of Women (3 s.h.)
This course takes a psychosocial developmental feminist approach to understanding psychological and social phenomena that pertain to women. We will examine theoretical perspectives... on women’s psychology; cultural and societal images of women; women in adolescence, young adulthood, midlife, and late adulthood; and issues of relationships, lifestyles, sexuality, parenting, family, and work. Includes opportunity for community activism that benefits girls and women.

218 Psychology of Relationships (3 s.h.)
This course discusses and evaluates recent data, emphasizing heterosexual relationships, but including data on other intrapersonal and family relationships. It focuses on how relationships have evolved and the adaptive significance of the roles of the individuals within them. Examines the psychological principles that result in different behavioral strategies in response to changing societal demands, and addresses principles that underlie adaptive, destructive, and abnormal behaviors within relationships. Alternate years.

220 Experimental Psychology (4 s.h.)
Lecture/laboratory course focuses on why and how experiments are conducted in psychology. Students learn how to critically evaluate published psychological research, design and conduct experiments, use computers for statistical analysis of results. Uses significant research to investigate variables, methods, problems peculiar to psychological research. In lab students participate in data collection, design and conduct experiments, analyze results with computer-generated statistics. *Prerequisite: PSYC 101.

231 Psychology of Personality (3 s.h.)
This course introduces each of the major theories of personality: psychoanalytic, phenomenological, biological, behavioral, social learning, humanistic, existential, and positive. Each is critically examined with respect to its ability to explain human nature and generate strategies for assessing and modifying personality. Considers findings relating to conflict, stress, aggression, self-concept, and multicultural influences on personality. *Prerequisite: PSYC 101 or PSYC 111.

232 Educational Psychology (3 s.h.)
The application of psychological principles and theories to educational settings, including elementary, middle, and secondary schools, colleges, and other institutions (e.g., businesses and industries) in which education or training is a goal. Students will learn how to write educational objectives, analyze learning tasks, devise instructional strategies for accomplishing educational objectives, and evaluate the outcomes of such strategies.

241 Sensation and Perception (3 s.h.)
Introduces principles of sensation and their involvement in our perception of the world. Examines all sensory systems as to how they translate physical stimuli into information useful for processing by the brain. Investigates roles of experience, context, attribution, and other perceptual variables in the interpretation of these stimuli. Personally conducted and computer generated demonstrations involving sensation and perception phenomena allow students to experience principles firsthand. *Prerequisite: PSYC 101, BIOL 111 or BIOL 151, or permission of Instructor.

245 Industrial/Organizational Psychology (3 s.h.)
Students survey topics related to industrial and organizational psychology, including motivation, job satisfaction and values, groups in organizations, decision-making, leadership, job analysis and evaluation, and models and methods of employee selection. The requirements cover theory and conceptual information as well as practical applications. Alternate years.

248 Forensic Psychology (3 s.h.)
Application of psychological principles and research to legal issues. This course addresses police training in interrogation, profile generation, and how to deal with special victims. Trial issues such as pre-trial publicity effects, jury composition, and assisting lawyers with their presentation and cross-examination techniques are addressed. Special attention to how the legal system influences and is influenced by race, ethnic, religious, and cultural differences. Alternate years.

250 Behavioral Statistics (3 s.h.)
Required of all psychology majors. Overview of the basic concepts and principles of parametric and non-parametric statistics and how they are used in the behavioral sciences. Students learn to conduct statistical tests on data sets and to thoughtfully critique the conclusions of others. Topics include descriptive and inferential statistics, probability, correlation, linear regression, the z-test, the t-test, analysis of variance, and chi-square. Strongly recommended background: PYC 220. *Prerequisite: MATH 150 or equivalent.

287 Internship: Career Exploration in Psychology (1–3 s.h.)
This course provides the opportunity to observe and participate with professionals performing psychology-related jobs in widely varied employment settings. Students must apply for an internship to a member of the psychology faculty who will serve as the supervisor. The two negotiate the terms of the internship with the on-site supervisor.

302 Psychological Testing (3 s.h.)
An examination of the basic principles of psychological assessment and a critical survey of the instruments used in schools, clinics, and hospitals, including intelligence, aptitude, achievement, vocational interest, and personality tests. Practice is given in administering, scoring, and interpreting representative tests. *Prerequisite: PSYC 220 or PSYC 250. Alternate years.

305 Physiological Psychology (3 s.h.)
Current concepts regarding the relationship between brain function and behavior. Includes the gross anatomical characteristics of the nervous system, functional characteristics of neurons, research techniques used in neurophysiology, and the functional role of the nervous system with respect to arousal, pain, sensory processes, sleep, sexual behavior, brain disorders, emotion, learning, and motivation. Cross listed as BIOL 305. *Prerequisites: PSYC 101 and three semester hours in biology or permission of the instructor. Alternate years.

306 Human Morality: Nature and Nurture (3 s.h.)
This Honors colloquium focuses on the cross-disciplinary debate about the implications of research in evolutionary psychology, neuroscience and social sciences for our understanding of human morality. Students will move beyond the classic nature vs. nurture debates to understand newly merging models of the complex interaction between evolutionary accounts of human morality and diverse perspectives in ethical theory. Cross listed as PHIL 306. Alternate years.
307 Drugs and Behavior (3 s.h.)
Examines drugs and their effects on human and animal behavior, with particular emphasis on the neural mechanisms underlying drug actions. Topics include the current clinical uses of drugs, drug abuse, addiction, and the effects of drugs on motivation, memory, and learning. Drugs studied include alcohol, antidepressants, antipsychotics, barbiturates, hallucinogens, narcotics, sedatives, and stimulants. *Prerequisite: PSYC 101, BIOL 111 or 151 or permission of Instructor. Alternate years.

310 Psychology of Learning and Behavior (3 s.h.)
A study of the basic processes of classical, operant, and vicarious conditioning as they relate to animal and human behavior. Attention is also given to biological constraints on learning. Relevance of the concepts and principles of learning and behavior for understanding human behavior is emphasized throughout. *Prerequisite: junior or senior standing.

311 Psychology of Adult Development (3 s.h.)
This course is an advanced developmental psychology seminar, focusing on psychosocial, cognitive, and physiological development and issues of young adulthood, midlife, and late adulthood, with an emphasis on women. Students will critique traditional theories and perspectives on adulthood and apply contemporary feminist theory and research. Topics include research methodology; work and retirement; intimate relationships, family, friendships, and caregiving; physical changes and sexuality; cognitive functioning and intelligence; identity, generativity, and integrity. *Prerequisite: PSYC 210 or PSYC 211.

360 History and Systems of Psychology (3 s.h.)
This course for senior psychology majors examines the historical antecedents of contemporary psychology and the major systems of psychology from 1850 to the present. Emphasis is placed on the historical development leading to currently held positions on topic areas including development, learning, motivation, sensation, perception, and cognition. An oral presentation is videotaped and critiqued for presentation skills.

387 Internship: Professional Experience in Psychology (2-3 s.h.)
Culminates a student's preparation for entry level employment in a psychology-related career by providing practical experience working with professionals in a chosen career specialty. Students work closely with a faculty member and negotiate the terms of the internship with the on-site supervisor. Credit is awarded on the basis of three semester hours per 150 hours of observation. Must be taken P/NC.

401 Senior Thesis (3 s.h.)
In the senior thesis students integrate their learning in the major by conducting a large-scale exercise under the mentorship of a psychology faculty member: either a data collection project or a comprehensive literature search of primary sources on a contemporary topic in psychology with a written critical analysis of the data. All students make a formal oral presentation of their results and present a final written thesis. Students who do not have a B average in Psych 220 and 250 must take the critical analysis option. *Prerequisites: PSYC 220 and PSYC 250.

Note: Directed inquiries for courses not regularly taught and teaching assistantships in psychology can be arranged on an individual basis.

Public Health
Steven Mosher, director
Paul Davis-Olwell, Eileen Hinks
Public health involves the study of population health, including protection and improvement of community health at local, national, and global levels. The public health minor introduces students to the wide variety of public health fields including administration and policy, community health and education, epidemiology and biostatistics, and medical and public health research.

Civic Engagement Opportunities

- Four courses include a civic engagement component: REL 130 Faith, Life, and Service; REL 221 Christian Faith, Peace, and Justice; REL 232 African American Religion; REL 310 Community and Practice.
- Quest: Spiritual Exploration Program
- Programs sponsored by Religion and Philosophy including Black Baby Doll Day; Martin Luther King Jr. Candlelight March and Memorial Service, Kwanzaa, others
- Black History Month events: Oratorical Contest with community participation, Gospel Extravaganza, Praise House Service; Peace and World Religions Lecture
- Participation in Habitat for Humanity and Amnesty International
- Internship opportunities: Katrina Relief, mediation and conflict resolution
- International civic engagement: South Africa, India, Greece

Religion Course Descriptions

101 Hebrew Scriptures (Old Testament) (3 s.h.)
Introduction to the historical and cultural background of Hebrew scripture. Students are introduced to the historical-critical method of study. The Biblical texts are approached from the perspectives of the history, faith, and theology of Ancient Israel, from Abraham to the return from exile.

102 Christian Scripture (New Testament) (3 s.h.)
The formation and content of the New Testament are the focus, with special emphasis on developing the student’s ability to interpret texts in the synoptic gospels. This study includes the history of the early church and some of its leaders, especially the Apostle Paul.

130 Faith, Life, and Service (3 s.h.)
Focuses on the relationship between life, work, and faith. Students examine the interaction between American culture and religion. Through reading, discussion and guest lecturers, they gain an appreciation for the differing ways in which individuals and communities put together faith and respond to the world.

202 Judaism, Christianity, and Islam (3 s.h.)
A study of the historical religions of the Middle East and West: Judaism, Christianity, and Islam. Along with an analysis of the beliefs, practices, and history of each tradition, a comparative analysis is undertaken.

203 History of Christian Thought (3 s.h.)
Introduces basic ideas and history of the Christian tradition. Traces the emergence of orthodoxy from a context of theological conflicts, and examines ways in which one contemporary theological movement, liberation theology, interprets and applies these ideas.

204 Religion in America (3 s.h.)
For course description, see HIST/REL 204 in the History listing.

212 Asian Religions (3 s.h.)
For course description, see AS 212 in the Asian Studies listing.

213 Islam (3 s.h.)
An exploration of the fastest growing religion in the world. Seeks to undermine stereotypical images and misimpressions of Islam and to present an accurate account of who Muslims are, what their faith teaches, and the relationships between doctrine and practice, and social, political and economic systems. International focus: students learn about culturally diverse forms of Islam and analyze a contemporary religious issue in the Islamic world. Offered as needed.

221 Christian Faith, Peace, and Justice (3 s.h.)
Examines the relationship among justice, mercy, and peace in the context of biblical tradition and Christian ethics. Through readings and discussion, these moral values are applied to contemporary issues: race, the environment, war and peace, poverty and wealth. Also focuses on Christian leaders, such as Mother Teresa and Martin Luther King Jr., whose lives distinguished themselves in terms of justice, mercy, and peace.

222 Internship in Ministry (credit varies)
Students work with faculty and pastors to learn and practice the basics of pastoral care, counseling, and ministry. *Prerequisite: permission of instructor. Offered as needed.

231 Women and Religion (3 s.h.)
A study of the role and treatment of women focusing primarily on the Judeo-Christian tradition. Beginning with the biblical texts, the study looks at both traditional and feminist interpretation of scriptures concerning the “place of women.” Issues include biblical imagery for God, the ordination of women, and inclusive religious language.

232 African-American Religion (3 s.h.)
Focuses on the African origin and African-American recreations of religions and sects. Special emphasis on the liturgical and homiletical (preaching) traditions of black women and men, and the role of the slave church as a catalyst for civil rights in the contemporary black church. Examines the evolution of womanist and black theological critiques and the counter challenge of the black Muslim movement.

234 Religion, Politics and Public Policy (3 s.h.)
Focuses on the point at which religion in America interacts with politics and public policy. Topics include religion and politics in American history; interpretations of the religious clauses of the first amendment, including Supreme Court cases, and the political activity and policies of religious interest groups, including the Roman Catholic Church, Evangelicals, African-American churches and Mainline Protestant traditions.

237 Mediation: Theory and Practice (3 s.h.)
Students explore both the theory and process of mediation and conflict resolution. Through readings, discussions, cases, and role playing, they develop skills necessary for being effective mediators. Cross listed as COMM 237.
275 Buddhism (3 s.h.)
For course description, see AS 275 in the Asian Studies listing.

277 Studies in Religion (credit varies)
Topics not included in regularly scheduled religion courses. Interests of students and faculty determine the subject matter.

278 Hinduism (3 s.h.)
For course description, see AS 278 in the Asian Studies listing.

284 Sociology of Religion (3 s.h.)
For course description, see SOC 284 in the Sociology listing.

305 Science, Religion, and the Search for Meaning (Honors Colloquium) (3 s.h.)
For course description, see PHIL 305 in the Philosophy listing.

310 Community and Practice (3 s.h.)
Students engage in a hands-on experience that requires direct involvement with established institutions known for shaping African-American life and culture — e.g., the African-American faith community, service organizations, civic offices/programs, and schools. Students dialogue with community members (in their own voices) to establish a depository of historical witness that supplements and authenticates the formal study of African-American life and culture.

320 Peacemaking: Gandhi and Nonviolence (3 s.h.)
An examination of the life, writings, and ideals of Mahatma Gandhi and those influenced by him who are powerful contemporary advocates of nonviolent social change. Topics include the emergence of peace activism and peace studies and their roots in the philosophy of non-violent social change; sources of violent conflict; alternatives to violence; and cultural models of conflict management and transformation that aim at resolving conflict in non-violent ways. Cross listed as PHIL 320 and AS 320.

355 Greek Myth and Religion (3 s.h.)
Examines the myths and religious beliefs, practices, and institutions of the ancients Greeks. Primary sources for doing so include Hesiod, Homer, and Greek dramatists and poets. This course also examines theories of interpreting myth and the influence of Greek myth and religion in Western culture, literature, art, and music. *Prerequisite: sophomore standing.

390 Directed Inquiry (credit varies)
The student and supervising faculty member undertake an advanced study of a selected topic in religion.

400 Major Colloquium (2 s.h.)
Students participate in a community of peer and faculty scholars, for the purpose of developing independent research, writing, and oral communication skills. Each year the colloquium focuses on a different selected topic.

401 Senior Thesis (2 s.h.)
Each major completes an independent research project of her choice, meeting regularly and working closely with a faculty advisor. Each student presents and defends her senior thesis before a faculty committee.

Renaissance Studies
Ralph Cohen, Mary Hill Cole, Sara James, Sarah Kennedy, Terry Southerington

Renaissance Studies introduces students to historical inquiry; an understanding of the various artistic and literary styles and movements of the Renaissance; and the interpretation of art, literature, philosophy, and political theory in the context of time and place. Students acquire knowledge of terminology, research methods, and library reference tools. They also develop skills in organization, critical and logical thinking, and strong writing. The requirements in the major assure that the students will be introduced to the breadth as well as depth of the subject matter.

Requirements for the Major in Renaissance Studies
36 semester hours
REN 100
ENG/THEA 216
HIST 238
ENG 320

Five of the following: ARTH 211, ARTH 314, ENG 315, ARTH 343, ENG 390, HIST 390, or SPAN 325

Students may take up to six elective hours in the following graduate courses, with permission from the Director of the MLitt/MFA program and the instructor: REN 510, REN 520, REN 540, REN 550, REN 554, REN 557, REN 630, or REN 675

Civic Engagement Opportunities
• Lectures, performances, internships and other opportunities at the American Shakespeare Center
• Annual visual arts trips to Washington DC and New York City, open to the community
• Regular public lectures by prominent scholars, writers, critics, directors, and performers
• College sponsored and planned International studies program in theatre, literature, and/or art history
• Explore civic engagement through class projects and assignments
• The Spencer Center for civic engagement and global engagement and the Sena Center will work with students to pair their interests with appropriate opportunities and internships

Renaissance Studies Course Description
100 Defining the Renaissance (3 s.h.)
Defining the Renaissance provides a survey of the history, art, literature, and science of the period. Daily activities will range from lectures and discussions to field trips and presentations, and students will learn about major authors and events of fourteenth- through seventeenth-century Europe. Special attention will be given to the development of Renaissance drama and the complex cultural functions of the stage, many of which we will study through performances at the Blackfriars Playhouse.

400 Senior Seminar (3 s.h.)
REN 400 is the capstone course for seniors majoring in Renaissance Studies. Interdisciplinary in nature, the course will require students to develop an independent project in consultation with at least three members of the Renaissance Studies faculty, complete a research paper of 6000-9000 words, and defend the thesis in an oral presentation to a committee of three faculty members from different disciplines.

Sexuality and Gender Studies
Kathy McCleaf, coordinator
Carey Usher, John Wells

Studies in gender and sexuality range from theoretical to practical, from institutional to individual, and from policy to practice. Students will explore the multiple dimensions of sexuality and gender framed in biological, psychological, and sociocultural analyses. An investigation of this field of study will be useful for students entering into multiple disciplines such as sociology, psychology, and education as well as pre-professional programs such as health care and social work. The interdisciplinary minor in sexuality and gender studies, grounded in the social sciences, offers students an opportunity to examine the field of sexuality and gender through a bio-psycho-sociocultural perspective. Students interested in declaring an Independent major in Sexuality and Gender Studies should contact Dr. McCleaf.

Civic Engagement Opportunities
SGS 226: Culture and Wellness and CE 277: Assisting Local Food Programs, taught by Dr. McCleaf, provide students opportunities for civic engagement and applications to better understand class and gender. Students receive 3 credit hours attributed to CE when participating in CE 277 and may contract for CE hours in SGS 226 beyond what is required in the course.

Sexuality and Gender Course Descriptions

215, 315 Topics in Sexuality and Gender Studies (3 s.h.)
Special topics in sexuality and gender studies include but are not limited to studies in masculinities, bisexuality, sexual consumerism, research issues and methods in sexuality and gender studies, sexuality and the schools, constructions of sexual minority male and female cultures, religion and sexuality, ethnicity and sexuality. This course may count as an elective towards the completion of a major in Sociology.

226 Culture and Wellness: Understanding Access (3 s.h.)
Students examine intersections of ethnicity, gender, sexuality, ability and class as it impacts access to wellness. Beginning qualitative research and practical experience with a local Global Information System will engage students in an examination of community stratification relative to food security and economic resources. This course counts as a select elective towards the completion of a major in Sociology.

245 Gender and Sport (3 s.h.)
Conversations will guide class explorations regarding current and historical performance, participation, and politics in sport relative to gender, sexual orientation, class and race. Special emphasis will be placed on women’s sport experience. Cross listed as WS 245.

261 Sexual Minorities (3 s.h.)
Students examine sexual minority culture. Lesbian, gay, bisexual and transpersons' experiences will be explored utilizing an interdisciplinary approach. Discussion topics will include civil rights, access to education, ethnicity, religion, health and other bio-psycho-social cultural issues. Course work will include understanding and reflecting on our heterocentric culture while examining select theories in sexual identity development, gender variance and sexual orientation. This course counts as an elective towards the completion of a major in Sociology or a major in Anthropology/Sociology.

263 Dimensions of Human Sexuality (3 s.h.)
Students are provided opportunities to develop a level of sexual literacy. Scholarly inquiry will aid personal decisions regarding sexuality while building awareness of the institutional and cultural factors that affect policy and cultural ideologies relative to gender and sexuality. Research efforts that apply critical examination skills will be honed as students explore topics such as intimacy, assertiveness, internet dating and sexual consumerism

318 Trans Communities (3 s.h.)
Students are provided with an opportunity to explore and better understand those identified (by self or by other) with a gender variance outside of the binary constructs of male and female. An examination of the history, biology, theory, and psycho-social-cultural ideologies that frame the lives of this subset of sexual minorities will guide the student’s reading, discussion and research. This course counts as an elective in the Sociology major. *Prerequisite: SGS 263 or SGS 261 or instructor permission.

338 Theories in Sexuality and Gender Studies (3 s.h.)
Students are provided an opportunity to examine select theoretical frames that inform the study of sexuality and gender. Beginning with a variety of readings in gender, LGBT and queer theories, students will discuss and research scholarly works and engage in discourse about the intersections and contributions of each as they inform the field of sexuality and gender studies. This course counts as a select elective towards the completion of a major in Sociology. *Prerequisite: SGS 263 or SGS 261 or instructor permission.
Social Work

Mary Clay Thomas, program director
Guari Rai, Doris Dodson

Students interested in social work may receive professional training by majoring in social work. This major requires a sequence of courses as described in the Social Work section below, including supervised field instruction in a social service agency. This internship, for 15 s.h. credit, provides an opportunity to develop and translate theoretical concepts into professional practice.

275 Social Welfare Policy (3 s.h.)
Describes and analyzes policies and services rendered by local, state, regional, national, and international agencies and policy implications for social work practice. Students prepare to advocate for social policy changes designed to improve social conditions, promote social justice, and empower at risk populations. *Prerequisite: POLS 100.

287/387 Social Work Field Observation (3 s.h.)
Through affiliation with a social service agency, students observe the nature of the client-worker relationship. Perceptual orientation and descriptive skills are emphasized through varied levels of observation. Internship requires placement for a minimum of 120 contact hours on a scheduled basis. Group supervision is also required. *Prerequisites: SOWK 153 and SOWK 156.

307 School Social Work (3 s.h.)
Teaches students the skills and knowledge needed to work in a school setting as a social worker. With an emphasis on planning, assessment and successful interventions, students learn theoretical framework as applied in a school setting. Students also learn the value of interdisciplinary team planning, models of service delivery, program planning and the value of community resources.

317 Social Work Research (3 s.h.)
Designed to increase knowledge of research as a tool for social work practice. Students acquire basic skills and knowledge to utilize existing social research for practice-related decision making and the capacity to carry out systematic methods of inquiry in their practice setting. *Prerequisite: INT 222.

335 Human Behavior and Social Environment II (3 s.h.)
Provides basic framework for creating and organizing knowledge of human behavior and social environment, along with social systems, lifespan and strengths approaches acquired in HBSE I, to understand group organizational and community systems. Special attention given to the impact of human diversity, discrimination, and oppression in the context of groups, organizations, and communities.

353 Social Work with Diverse Populations (3 s.h.)
Provides understanding of and sensitization toward cultural diversity, racism, gender issues, and heterosexism in the context of social work practice and policy. Personal values toward racial, cultural, gender, and heterosexism are explored and discussed in the context of social work values and practice.

355 Social Work Practice I (3 s.h.)
Assists students in developing knowledge and skills to work with individuals. Experiential techniques are employed to aid in integration of theory and practice. Many of the videotapes, class exercises, case studies, and role plays focus on the implications of cultural diversity and include application to vulnerable populations.

365 Social Work Practice II (3 s.h.)
Assists students in developing knowledge and skills to work with families and groups. Experiential techniques are employed to aid in integration of theory and practice. Many of the videotapes, class exercises, case studies, and role plays focus on the many implications of cultural diversity and include application to vulnerable populations.

375 Social Work Practice III (3 s.h.)
Assists students in developing the knowledge base necessary for understanding the contemporary American community, its structure, politics, its growth and/or decline, and roles and functions of various human service agencies and organizations within the community. Additional focus on how people can empower themselves for the purpose of improving the overall quality of life in communities.

387 Social Work Field Observation (3 s.h.)
For course description, see SOWK 287/387.

400 Field Instruction in Social Work (15 s.h.)
Supervised field instruction in a social service agency provides seniors opportunities to acquire knowledge and skills in social work practice. The field work requires a semester block placement, five days a week, 8 hours per day, for a minimum of 450 contact hours on a scheduled basis. An integrating seminar is also required. *Prerequisites: Completion of the social work required curriculum with a minimum grade of ‘C’ in each course.

Sociology
John Wells, department head
Daniel Stuhlsatz, Carey Usher, Bob Robinson

Sociology involves application of scientific principles and procedures to understand and solve the problems of social groups, organizations, and institutions. Many sociologists are involved in research; others manage; some teach. Though specific areas of expertise and abilities vary, sociologists command an arsenal of skills, knowledge, and experience that can be put to good use in an increasingly complex social world.

Sociology Course Descriptions

100 General Sociology (3 s.h.)
Designed to introduce the unique perspective of the sociologist through readings, discussions, and lectures as well as observations focused on the everyday social world. Deviant behavior, social class, and globalization are some of the more specific topics.

110 Sociology of the Family (3 s.h.)
Acquaints student with the field of marriage and family from a sociological perspective. Focuses include mate selection, dating, premarital sex, the marriage contract, parenthood, communal living, and divorce. Alternate years.
112 Social Problems (3 s.h.)
Focus on theory of social problems, critically formulated and applied to tensions within society such as those stemming from population, war, centralized power, environmental issues, race relations, poverty, gender inequality, sexual issues, drug addictions, family relations, and health care. Course includes a service component.

200 Drugs and Society (3 s.h.)
Acquaints student with the relationship among drug use, the individual, and society at large. Topics covered include regulation of narcotics and dangerous drugs; drugs, crime, and violence; drugs and sports; tranquilizers and depressants; and marijuana, cocaine, and the use of LSD.

205 Death and Dying (3 s.h.)
Topics covered through reading, discussion, and lecture are: concepts of death, death rites of other cultures, experiences of death, preparing for death, and contemporary attitudes toward death. Recommended background: SOC 100. Alternate years.

210 Prisons and Punishment (3 s.h.)
Major philosophies of punishment and related history of prisons. Develops understanding of justification for punishment and how American prison systems do and do not reflect these justifications. *Prerequisite: SOC 233 or permission of instructor.

214 Sociology of Popular Culture (3 s.h.)
Acquaints student with study of popular culture in America with a focus upon sociological significance of such cultural products as television, radio, magazines, and popular music.

222 Social Science Statistics (3 s.h.)
For course description, see INT 222 in the Interdisciplinary Studies listing.

225 Sex Roles and Male-Female Relationships (3 s.h.)
Examines nature and dynamics of male/female relationships. Traditional notions of masculinity and femininity and changing sex role identities in modern society are analyzed. Focuses upon socialization process, theoretical attempts to explain sex role division, and biographical case studies of men and women.

232 Deviant Behavior (3 s.h.)
This course will survey social theories that have been developed about deviant, non-conformist, behavior, and will survey a selection of the many studies that have been conducted on this topic. The student will learn how deviance is socially constructed when members of a society or group define the actions of others as being outside the boundaries of normative, approved, behavior. Reactions by those in power emphasize these boundaries, and these reactions are a major force defining the culture of a society. Classical sociological theorists often considered the creation of deviance as fundamental to the creation of integrated groups and societies. Time has only reinforced the validity of their insight. Offered online only. ADP course.

233 The Criminal Justice System (3 s.h.)
Considers various elements of criminal justice system in an historical and cultural context. Functions of police, courts, lawyers, jails, bail, and prisons are examined as they relate to the assigning of the label of either juvenile delinquent or crimi-nal. Theories of crime will be studied to understand criminal behavior and reactions to it. Strongly recommended background: a 100-level sociology course.

236 Men and Society (3 s.h.)
Acquaints the student with men’s studies using sociological perspective in examination of portrayal of men in films. Students will understand male socialization process and development of personality in a changing society.

240 Community and Urban Sociology (3 s.h.)
Examines relationships between humans and place and their effects on community from a sociological 145 perspective. Students become acquainted with ecological and socio-spatial perspectives regarding origins of urbanization, and social and psychological consequences of the urban environment. Recommended background: SOC 100. Alternate years.

248 Social Inequality (3 s.h.)
General survey course in social stratification. Topics include social inequality based on social class, race/ethnicity, gender, sexual orientation, age and disability, drawing on a variety of theoretical approaches. Focus is on the United States, but significant attention is also given to a broad range of societies. Strongly recommended background: a 100 level sociology course.

254 Social Psychology (3 s.h.)
Examines the individual in a changing society and the dynamic relationship between the person and society at large. In addition, a wide range of topics will be covered including personality development, the evolutionary setting of human behavior, perception, symbolic communication, drug addiction, madness, social control, deviant subcultures, and the effects of prolonged isolation.

260 Medical Sociology (3 s.h.)
Examines health/illness issues as they relate to societal conditions and social identities. Specific topics include social factors and health, the medicalization of life, the interrelationships of health and various social institutions, the health care delivery “system” in the United States, and selected ethical issues in medicine. Alternate years.

262 Environmental Sociology (3 s.h.)
Considers social dimensions of environmental issues, including social creation of environmental “problems” and “solutions,” and political, economic and legal debates and actions that address these issues. Analysis relies on a wide range of theoretical ideas. The geographic scope of the course is global.

264 Social Movements (3 s.h.)
Analyzes organized, enduring, collective actions called social movements and counter-movements by studying social context, organizational networks, resource mobilization, collective identity, group solidarity, and leadership of social movements.

270 Australia and New Zealand (3 s.h.)
For course description, see AS 270 in the Asian Studies listing.

282 Community Service and Society (3 s.h.)
Development of the sociological perspective through field work in community service. Four parts to this service experience in-
284 Sociology of Religion (3 s.h.)
Examines diversity of religious expression in human history, and major religious traditions in our world today. Much of the course focuses on the United States and includes discussion of religious affiliation and organization, religiosity and conversion, social issues, political-economy, and social inequality. Cross listed as REL 284.

287 Internship: Career Exploration (credit varies)
Provides students with the opportunity to observe sociology-related occupational possibilities in actual employment settings. A maximum of 9 s.h. of internship credit will count toward the Sociology major. *Prerequisite: permission of a member of sociology faculty.

300 Sociological Theory (3 s.h.)
This course is designed to acquaint students with the general development of sociological theory from its earliest foundations to the modern era. The nature of theories and the historical context of the writers will be explored in detail by focusing upon abstract concepts, propositions, major events and individual biographies. Some of the theories and theorists include Marxism, Durkheim, Weber, Structural-Functionalism, Symbolic Interactionism, Feminism, and W.E.B. Du Bois. Furthermore, students will write one standard sociological research paper on a special topic in sociology using one or more of the theories covered in class to explain the issue or problem. *Prerequisite: SOC 100.

320 Research Methods (3 s.h.)
Designed to teach nature and techniques of research process. Students learn to use theory in formulating hypotheses, ways in which to collect data, and methods for analysis of data. Course covers survey research, qualitative field research, classical experiments, and unobtrusive methods. Recommended: senior standing. Highly recommended: INT 222. *Prerequisites: SOC 300 and permission of the instructor.

Spanish Course Descriptions
101, 102 Beginning Spanish (4 s.h. each)
An introductory course designed to teach the student the basics of Spanish language. The goal of this two-semester sequence is to develop basic proficiency in Spanish in the four skills: listening, speaking, writing, and reading. For students who have never studied Spanish before or have taken only one year of Spanish in high school. Students with more than two years of Spanish may NOT take Spanish 101 or 102.

150 Spanish Conversation (3 s.h.)
Study Abroad. The student who is at an early stage of language study concentrates on the development of communication skills in everyday situations. Extensive use will be made of videos and audio tapes. Class conducted in Spanish.

151, 152 Intermediate Spanish (4 s.h. each)
This two-semester sequence continues to develop the student’s proficiency in Spanish language, enabling students to communicate successfully in everyday situations. They will also build on their reading and writing skills. For students who have taken two or three years of Spanish in high school. Students with more than three years of Spanish may NOT take Spanish 151 or 152. *Prerequisite: SPAN 102 or equivalent.

201 Advanced Spanish (3 s.h.)
Intensive grammar review and amplification of knowledge of grammatical principles enable the student to achieve greater accuracy and idiomatic flavor in the use of oral and written language. Particular emphasis is given to developing reading and writing skills. Regular practice in controlled and free conversation. *Prerequisite: SPAN 152 or equivalent.

204 Business Spanish (3 s.h.)
Study of the language, documents, and formats used in common business contexts. Students will also develop an understanding of cultural-based behaviors that govern commercial interactions in the Spanish speaking world.

205 Spanish Composition (3 s.h.)
A writing course designed to develop the student’s ability to write critical essays in Spanish. Special attention is given to developing strategies for planning, developing, and organizing a scholarly writing assignment from the first to the final draft. *Prerequisite: SPAN 201 or permission of Instructor.

210 Advanced Spanish Conversation (3 s.h.)
Study Abroad. Intensive oral training designed to help the student achieve more sophisticated expression in Spanish, along with good pronunciation and intonation and a reasonable degree of speed. *Prerequisite: SPAN 152 or the equivalent.

215 Let’s Talk About Movies/Hablemos de Cine (3 s.h.)
A conversation course for students interested in improving their speaking and listening skills. We will watch a selection of Latin American and Spanish movies and discuss the language and cultural issues presented. The movies also provide an excellent example of natural language in context. Students will develop techniques for understanding oral language, will learn to identify different regional accents, and will acquire advanced level speaking skill. *Prerequisite: SPAN 152.

216 Women Writers in Spanish (3 s.h.)
This course focuses on the works of outstanding women writers from Spain and Latin America. We will study the tradition of women’s writing in Spanish language: What are its characteristics? Who are the founding/canonical authors of this tradition? How do contemporary writers relate to this tradition? The texts will be treated analytically, we will analyze form, structure, and rhetorical strategies. *Prerequisite: SPAN 205 or the equivalent.

218 May Term Abroad (3 s.h.)
Study Abroad. Students spend the May Term abroad, where they live with native families while attending language and culture classes taught by native professors. With an MBC director, students visit museums and monuments of artistic and historic interest. All travel and other expenses abroad are in addition to the MBC tuition already paid for the semester. Provides a total immersion experience. *Prerequisite: permission of instructor.

227 U.S. Latino Literature and Culture (3 s.h.)
Students learn about the main Latino communities in the United States: Chicanos, Puerto Ricans, and Cuban Americans, and read and discuss fictional and non-fictional texts from these Latino groups. They also watch several movies that explore the experience of Latino life in the US. Taught in English. Students who wish to count this course for the major or minor are required to write their term essay in Spanish.

232 Topics in Hispanic Culture (3 s.h.)
This course explores the political, cultural and social relations between Spain and Latin America through the study of historical, cultural, and literary texts, and of films that deal with this transatlantic subject. In order to do this, we will analyze a wide variety of cultural expressions: movies, music, art, web pages, and religious celebrations, among others. *Prerequisite: SPAN 205. Fall semester.

241 Topics in Hispanic Literature (3 s.h.)
The topic dealt with during the semester is selected to accord with the interests and needs of the students enrolled. It may be an entire period in Spanish or Latin-American literature, a literary movement, a specific work or author. Class taught in Spanish. *Prerequisite: permission of instructor.

246 Approaches to Hispanic Literature (3 s.h.)
Introduction to literary analysis through close readings and interpretation of representative works by major Latin American and Spanish writers. Students will learn to identify texts of different genres, and will become acquainted with the styles of the different periods of Hispanic literary history. Throughout the course, the students will acquire the appropriate vocabulary and the critical skills that will allow them to write critical essays and comment on what a text says and how it says it. *Prerequisite: SPAN 205 or permission of the instructor.

324 Contemporary Latin-American Fiction (3 s.h.)
We will read novels and short stories of contemporary Latin American writers. Through reading these works, as well as critical texts, students acquire an understanding of the development of Latin-American narrative and insight into important aspects of Latin-American culture. *Prerequisite: SPAN 205.

325 Spanish Literature of the Golden Age (3 s.h.)
The literary works in poetry, prose, and theatre of the 16th and 17th centuries play a pivotal role in Hispanic literature and culture; their study is fundamental to understanding the literary tradition of Spanish language. Students will acquire insight into important aspects of the Spanish Renaissance and Baroque. *Prerequisite: SPAN 205.

400 Senior Seminar (3 s.h.)
A required course for all Spanish and Spanish combined majors. Students pursue research on a theme or issue of their choice approved by their thesis supervisor. Throughout the semester, students give three oral presentations of their work, which will be evaluated. The work culminates in an oral presentation and a research paper in Spanish.

The responsibilities of scene and lighting designers and the steps involved in the design and communication of ideas through drafting, model building, lighting plots, and hands-on experience in MBC productions. Drafting supplies needed. Alternate years.

152 Stagecraft (3 s.h.)
Methods of construction, painting, and handling of the basic elements of scenery. Projects include a set of working drawings for one setting and laboratory work in the college’s scenery shop. Drafting supplies needed. No previous experience required. Alternate years.

153 Stage Management (3 s.h.)
Students develop and practice the duties and skills of the stage manager in facilitating and organizing a show from planning through auditions, rehearsals, performances, tours, and strikes. Special emphasis on the stage manager’s role in a group process, as a problem solver, and as a morale officer. Alternate years.

154 Stage Makeup (2 s.h.)
Design, planning, and execution of makeup for the stage, including period makeup and hairstyles, character makeup, and old-age makeup. Alternate years.

156 Stage Costume (3 s.h.)
Basic hand and machine stitches, garment construction, color and fabric, pattern drafting, period research, and costume rendering. Laboratory work in the costume shop and individually-designed construction projects. Alternate years.

208 London Theatre (3 s.h.)
Study-travel in London and to Stratford-upon-Avon. Course fee includes air transportation from Washington DC, hotel, theatre tickets, and all scheduled performances and activities. The course must be taken P/NC and may be repeated for credit. *Prerequisite: Application by November 1 and permission of instructor. Alternate years.

210 Problems in Production (credit varies)
Directed experience in acting, directing, or production in the Mary Baldwin College Theatre. In May Term, working conditions approximate those of the professional theatre, as enrolled students work full time. The course may be repeated for credit. *Prerequisites: Course work or experience at MBC in the area of specialization and permission of instructor; no permission required for May Term.

211 Theatre in the Community (credit varies)
Supervised experience in acting, designing, stage management, producing, or directing in the community. Students are encouraged to propose work in theatre communities beyond the Staunton-Augusta region and to propose additional work that meets the criteria for global citizenship experience. *Prerequisites: Course work or experience at MBC in area of specialization and permission of instructor.

216 Introduction to Shakespeare (3 s.h.)
For course description, see ENG 216 in the English listing.

217 Continental Renaissance Drama (3 s.h.)
Comparative study of great plays of the non-English Renaissance. *Prerequisite: THEA 114.

218 Renaissance Drama in Context (3 s.h.)
Selected plays of Shakespeare’s European contemporaries as blueprints for performance. Focus on actors and troupes, playing places, material resources, and historical, economic, and theatrical conditions for which the plays were written. In groups, students analyze a play of their choice and research and present a historical reconstruction of a performance. *Prerequisite: THEA 114. Alternate years.

219 Women in Theatre and Drama (3 s.h.)
Students analyze a range of dramas by and about women and study women’s contributions to the theatre from earliest times. They examine changes in women’s life roles, reflected in plays from the Greeks to the present. Each student reviews new plays and makes recommendations for performance in MBC Theatre. Students master a systematic method of play analysis and develop skills in theatre history. Alternate years.

221 Acting II (3 s.h.)
Emphasis on scene work, monologues, and audition pieces. A field trip to a professional production (approximate cost $35) may be required. *Prerequisite: THEA 121.

229 Advanced Video Production (3 s.h.)
For course description, see FILM 229 in the Film listing.

250 Playwriting I (3 s.h.)
Through writing exercises, students learn the fundamentals of writing for the stage: character creation, dramatic structure, dialogue, theatrical perspective. The final exam is to formally submit a completed and properly formatted final draft of a short play demonstrating understanding of the principles discussed. Students will be expected to read their work in class and to participate in supportive and constructive criticism of each other’s work. Alternate years.

255 May Term in France (3 s.h.)
For course description, see FREN 255 in the French listing.

264 Screenwriting (3 s.h.)
For course description, see FILM 264 in the Film listing.

270 African-American Theatre (3 s.h.)
An overview of African-American theatre history. Students will read and discuss significant works while developing their original presentations reflecting their studies. Alternate years.
277 Colloquium (3 s.h.)
Focused, intensive study of a special topic, announced annually.

301, 302, 303, 304 Topics in Theatre (1 s.h. each)
A two year sequence covering topics valuable to theatre majors including play readings, workshops in audition, resumes, graduate school application, guest lectures etc. Three of the four required for majors. Open to other students with permission of department chair.

315 Tudor-Stuart Drama (3 s.h.)
For course description, see ENG 315 in the English listing.

321 Acting III (3 s.h.)
This course allows students accomplished in acting to concentrate on their own areas of difficulty or experience with specific emphasis on portfolio and audition. A field trip (approximate cost, $35) to view a professional production may be required. This course may be repeated for credit. *Prerequisite: permission of instructor. Alternate years.

323 Directing Methods (2 s.h.)
The director’s responsibilities and practices in play selection and analysis, casting, planning and coordination of technical elements, and conducting rehearsals and performances. Focus on academic and community theatre. Previous MBC acting and technical experience is required. Students who enroll in this course are expected to take THEA 324. *Prerequisite: permission of instructor. Alternate years.

324 Directing Practicum (3 s.h.)
Supervised directing experience. Each student casts and rehearses a one-act play and forms a concerted whole of the play text, actors, and production elements. Public performance constitutes the final exam. The course may be repeated for credit. *Prerequisites: THEA 323 and permission of instructor. Alternate years.

333 Film Theory and Criticism (3 s.h.)
For course description, see FILM 333 in the Film listing.

400 Seminar (3 s.h.)
Final course for theatre majors. It provides a formal introduction to Western theatre history, proceeding weekly through dramatic periods from Classical Greek to early 20th century, through a series of paper projects. Required of the theatre major; open to other students by permission of the instructor. *Prerequisite: senior standing.

401 Senior Project (3 s.h.)
Students demonstrate their ability to apply their skills and knowledge to the work of the theatre, present and defend a written analysis of their work and experience, and evaluate their work against their contract goals and professional standards. *Prerequisites: senior status and permission of instructor.

Note: Directed inquiries, teaching assistantships, and internships in theatre can be arranged on an individual basis.

ECON 101
ECON 215
SOC 248
INT 222
One of the following: ECON 210, ECON 247, or ECON 280
One of the following: POLS 209, PHIL 102, PHIL 235, PHIL 320, POLS 245, POLS 260, PSYC 221, REL 130, REL 221, SOC 112, or SOC 240
One three-credit service learning experience

Women’s Studies
Martha Walker, program director

Women’s Studies is a minor program at Mary Baldwin College. Students wishing to major in women’s studies may talk to their advisors or the director about designing an independent major in women’s studies.

Requirements for the Minor in Women’s Studies
21 semester hours
WS 100
WS 200
Three of the following: ANTH 202, ARTH 221, AS 251, BIOL/WS 252, BUAD 250, ECON/WS 280, FREN 262, HCA 235, HIST 203, HIST 346, MUS 218, MUS 318, WS 200/PHIL 231, POLS 209, PSYC 214, REL 231, SOC 225, SPAN 216, THEA 219, or WS 245
Not more than two of the following: HIST 213, HIST 277, MUS 151, MUS 152, PSYC 210, PSYC 211, REL 202, SOC 110, or THEA 115

Civic Engagement Opportunities
Co-curricular civic engagement opportunities are available to WS minors through a variety of women-focused community service organizations in the Staunton area. Students may also arrange service-based internships in the field. Consult the director or the Spencer Center for more information.

Women’s Studies Course Descriptions
100 Focus on Women: An Introduction to Women’s Studies (3 s.h.)
Examines the interdisciplinary nature of the field as well as its applications in non-academic contexts. What are the aims of women’s studies and how are they put into practice?

200 Contemporary Feminisms and Gender Studies (3 s.h.)
Why is any attempt to define one monolithic vision of feminism inadequate? Explores contemporary topics in women’s studies and feminist theory as it examines various models of feminism.
Compares and contrasts principles of Marxist, psychoanalytic, essentialist, radical, and liberal feminism and analyzes ways these ideologies enter into dialogue and debate with one another. Traces evolution of feminist thought and articulation of Queer Theory as structures from which current thinking on gender studies develops. Cross listed as PHIL 231. *Prerequisite: WS 100 or permission of instructor.

245 Gender and Sport (3 s.h.)
For course description, see SGS 245 in the Sexuality and Gender Studies listing.

252 Biology of Women (3 s.h.)
For course description, see BIOL 252 in the Biology listing.

277 Colloquium (credit varies)
A one-time only special course, offered on an occasional basis.

280 Women and Economics (3 s.h.)
For course description, see ECON 280 in the Economics listing.

Note: Directed Inquiries, teaching assistantships, and internships in women’s studies can be arranged on an individual basis.
GRADUATE TEACHER EDUCATION
Rachel Potter, Director
Irving Driscoll, James Harrington, Gayle Hefty, Tamra Willis, Alice Waddell

The Mary Baldwin teacher is . . . an inquiring and reflective learner, a well-educated professional who brings forth the best in all students.

We support this by . . .
modeling and encouraging inquiry and reflection, integrating theory, practice and liberal arts, and providing opportunities for individual exploration within a collaborative environment.

Graduate Teacher Education at Mary Baldwin College
Mary Baldwin College offers two unique graduate programs for teachers and prospective teachers. The Master of Arts in Teaching (MAT) balances liberal arts courses with professional studies, and includes requirements for initial teacher licensure, while the Master of Education (MEd) program flexibly addresses the needs of teachers who are already licensed and other educators whose careers don’t require a teaching license. The MEd also offers emphasis options in Environment-Based Learning, Leadership, Special Education, and Gifted Education.

Both programs are nonresidential and are available on MBC’s Staunton campus and at our regional centers in Charlottesville, Richmond, and Roanoke. Note that the MEd focus on Environment-Based Education has a summer component offered on the historic Staunton Campus. Courses for both programs are offered throughout the calendar year, including a full complement of courses during the summer.

Accreditation
Mary Baldwin College’s Teacher Education Program is accredited by the Teacher Education Accreditation Council (TEAC). This accreditation certifies that Mary Baldwin College’s professional education program has provided evidence that it adheres to TEAC’s quality principles.

Admission
All students who matriculate at Mary Baldwin College agree to abide by the rules, regulations, and standards set by the college. The college will offer the MAT or MEd to those who meet the established standards. Students who seek the MAT or MEd must be admitted to the graduate program. They are eligible for financial aid services. The Declarations section of this catalog states Mary Baldwin’s policies on nondiscrimination, student privacy rights, and other important provisions.

Special Students
Persons who possess bachelor’s degrees from accredited institutions are eligible to enroll in Graduate Teacher Education courses as special students. No financial aid services are provided to special students. Teachers seeking re-certification credits may enroll as special students. Students enrolled as undergraduates or postgraduate teacher licensure (PBTL) students at Mary Baldwin College may be permitted to take up to two Graduate Teacher Education (GTE) courses as special students. They must receive permission from the GTE director with support from their academic advisor.

Admission Requirements for the MAT
- A bachelor’s degree from a regionally accredited institution.
- Adequate general education course work. For students seeking an initial teaching license, a transcript review will determine adequate background in the arts, humanities, natural and social sciences, mathematics and English.
- An academic major in the arts and sciences or an appropriate discipline (or interdisciplinary major).
- College algebra and English composition or the equivalent. Adequate coursework in World and U.S. history, and science in two different discipline areas.
- Minimum 3.0 (B) average in last 60 semester hours.
- Correct, fluent written and spoken English. Non-native English speakers must submit a TOEFL score of 600 or above.
- MAT applicants must provide Praxis I scores or the SAT/ACT equivalents. The Virginia Communication and Literacy Assessment (VCLA) plus Praxis I math can also be used for this requirement. Students who do not provide Passing Praxis I scores or the SAT/ACT equivalent may be admitted as conditional students to the MAT program and work with their advisors for opportunities to address any deficit areas in basic communication skills.

Admission Requirements for the MEd
- A bachelor’s degree from a regionally accredited institution.
- Adequate general education course work. For students seeking an add-on endorsement to their licenses, transcript review will determine adequate background for the program.
- An academic major in the arts and sciences or an appropriate discipline (or interdisciplinary major).
- Minimum 3.0 (B) average in last 60 semester hours.

Admission Process
Applicants to the Graduate Teacher Education Program
(GTE) must submit the following to the GTE Office at Mary Baldwin College:
- Application for admission/enrollment
- Official transcripts of all post-secondary work
- MAT applicants must provide Praxis I scores or qualifying SAT/ACT, VCLA/Praxis I Math scores
- Two letters of reference from professional educators (including higher education faculty and administrators) and/or employers, public school faculty and administrators who have observed/supervised the applicant in instructional, tutoring, training or guidance roles
- A goal-statement essay
- Application fee

Note: An interview is suggested and may be required.

Admission Decisions
Admissions decisions are made by the Graduate Teacher Educational Policies Committee. The Director of Graduate Teacher Education informs applicants, in writing, of their admission status and the date of the next orientation. Applicants are advised at the time of their admission regarding any additional undergraduate course requirements that must be fulfilled as conditions of enrollment. Any individual may be denied admission to the Graduate Teacher Education program for the following reasons:
- Attempting to obtain admission by fraudulent means or through misrepresentation of material facts
- Falsification of records or documents
- Conviction of any felony
- Conviction of any misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, sexual offense, drug distribution, or physical injury
- Failure to meet stated program admission requirements.

Full Admission
Students who meet all admissions requirements are admitted to the GTE program as fully admitted degree seeking students.

Conditional Admission
Students whose GPAs are below 3.0 may be considered for conditional admission on the basis of strong evidence that they can succeed in a graduate teacher preparation program that requires maintenance of a 3.0 GPA. Students who do not provide Passing Praxis I scores or the SAT/ACT, VCLA/Math Praxis I equivalent, may be admitted as conditional students to the MAT program and work with their advisors for opportunities to address any deficit areas in the basic communication skills.

Conditionally admitted students are permitted to enroll in up to three GTE courses to establish program-based evidence of their ability to perform in a graduate program. Conditionally admitted students must achieve a minimum 3.0 GPA in all graduate work and complete all other admissions requirements in order to be considered for full admission. In general, conditional admission status does not continue for more than three successive semesters.

Moving from Conditional to Full Admission Status
The program director monitors the progress of conditionally admitted students at the end of each semester. Course grades, course instructors’ assessment of students’ writing and speaking skills, and professional qualities evaluations are considered in this review. The director informs students and their academic advisors in writing regarding their status:
- continued conditional admission
- admission to full degree-seeking status, or
- dismissal.

Transfer Credit
The Graduate Teacher Education (GTE) program may accept up to six hours of transfer credit from another accredited graduate program. GTE will consider such transfer only if all the following conditions are met:
- The GTE director determines on the basis of catalog and course materials submitted by the student that the course content is identifiable with the aims and philosophies of the GTE curriculum.
- The credit was earned in a regionally accredited graduate program.
- The credit was earned no earlier than three calendar years before the student’s admission to the program.

Transfers are not grounds for refund of tuition or fees.

Orientation
Students are required to participate in an orientation prior to enrollment. New students receive notice of orientation in their admission letters.

Advising
Each graduate student is assigned an advisor who is a member of the graduate faculty. The advisor assists the student in making course selections, meeting competency requirements, enrolling and participating in Professional Development Institutes, and preparing for the final project. The advisor reviews academic progress and performance related to professional qualities standards. He or she may make recommendations concerning a student’s status to the graduate faculty, committees, and administration on request or as necessary.
Tuition and Fees 2011–2012
Tuition for all courses in the GTE program is $455 per semester hour.
In addition, the following fees apply:
Application $40
Re-Enrollment $50 (See Requirement for Continuous Enrollment below)
Technology and Library fee $50/semester
Graduation $100

Financial Aid
Mary Baldwin makes every effort to assist students who need to obtain funding for education. Students should contact the Office of Financial Aid and Student Campus Employment at the time of application. To qualify for aid, students must be accepted in the GTE Program (not special students), meet registration deadlines each semester, and make satisfactory academic progress in the work attempted. Aid is awarded pending approvals of federal and state agencies.

Academic Policies
Academic policies applicable to Graduate Teacher Education students are published in this catalog. Other statements of program policies are maintained in the program director’s office. Policies may be amended at any time by the graduate faculty, who determine the date at which amended policies become effective. The completion requirements for each student are those in effect on the date of first enrollment as a fully-accepted, continuously enrolled, degree-seeking student. Students are required to report address, e-mail, and telephone number changes to the registrar and to the program director. Students may petition for exemption from academic policies. The request form includes the recommendation of the student’s advisor. Petitions are granted only for cause, and only with the approval of the GTE Faculty Policies Committee. A petition for exemption from or modification of a completion requirement may be granted only by the graduate faculty.

Honor System
The provisions of the college’s Honor System apply to GTE students. Students are responsible for understanding the provisions of the Honor System and seeking information from professors as to the application of the Honor Code to course activities.

Code of Conduct
The provisions of the college’s Code of Conduct apply to GTE students.

Moral and Ethical Responsibility
GTE students may not engage in behavior or actions that endanger themselves or others, either while on MBC’s property or while engaged in a program or activity connected with the college and/or its programs. Students are required to comply with professional standards of schools in which they engage in practicum or research, intern, student teaching, or other activities connected with the college and/or its programs.

Copyright Policy
The college enforces all provisions of copyright law. Students are responsible to inform themselves of the law, particularly with respect to copying.

Research on Human Subjects
Federal, state, and college policies regarding research on human subjects apply to all research involving MBC students, faculty, or staff as researchers or as subjects, including research undertaken in the GTE program.

Requirement for Continuous Enrollment, Leave of Absence
Students are expected to remain enrolled continuously from the date of their initial registration for courses until completion of the degree. However, because of family emergencies or special situations, students may need to stop registering for new course work for a semester or two. The decision to do so should be made by the student in consultation with the advisor. A student who does not enroll in new work in any semester, including the summer session, must pay a re-enrollment fee of $50. Students who do not enroll in GTE courses for three consecutive sessions (or one calendar year) are considered “inactive” and no longer receive mailings from the GTE...
Inactive students who wish to re-enter the program should indicate so in writing to the GTE director. Records of inactive students who wish to re-enter the program are reviewed for reactivation. Certain conditions may be set for re-entry into the program: e.g., if program requirements have changed during the time students were on inactive status, they may have to meet the new requirements.

Add-Drop Procedures
A graduate student may drop a course without penalty prior to the second meeting of the class. A course may be dropped for medical or providential reasons at any time, upon approval of the director. The program director in consultation with the teaching team determines the student’s final course grade when the course is dropped after the official drop period. A student may add a course prior to the second meeting of the course. Please see the Tuition and Financial Aid section of this catalog for the proration policy concerning tuition refunds.

Auditing Courses
The instructor approves audits on a space available basis. Students who audit courses are expected to meet all reading and oral discussion requirements for the course. Full tuition applies to audited courses.

Sequence of Courses
Each GTE student’s advisor recommends a sequence of courses which takes into account the student’s preparation and educational needs.

Course Enrollment Priorities
GTE students are enrolled in courses according to the following priorities: candidates for the MAT or MEd first, followed by fully admitted degree-seeking MAT or MEd students, conditional students, and special students.

Contact Hours
The syllabus of each graduate course includes a schedule of class contact hours required for the course. The syllabus includes goals, requirements, assignments, and attendance and grading policies, as well as criteria for evaluating students’ writing and speaking skills.

Grades
The grading symbols used by the college’s GTE program are as follows:
- A excellent
- A-, B+ very good
- B good
- B- competent
- C minimum passing
- F failing

Grade point equivalents are:
- A = 4.0
- A- = 3.7
- B+ = 3.3
- B = 3.0
- B- = 2.7
- C = 2.0
- F = 0

A Minimum 3.0 GPA is required to earn a graduate degree at Mary Baldwin College. The grade point average is determined by dividing the total grade points earned by the total semester hours credit attempted in the GTE program. Transfer courses are not included in the GPA.

Examinations, Incompletes, Grade Reports, Grade Changes
The determination of whether students are required to take final examinations is the sole province of the instructors of each course. Similarly, they determine when and the circumstances under which the examination is to be completed, as well as the weight of the examination in determining course grades. These guidelines as well as other course requirements are provided to students in the course syllabus at the first class meeting. Official grade reports, including cumulative averages, are distributed after the conclusion of the fall semester and the May term, and at the conclusion of the summer session. The report distributed following the May term will include work completed during the spring semester. A temporary symbol of “I” (for Incomplete) may be given at the end of a course if, for reasons beyond the student’s control, the student is unable to complete the work. An incomplete is given upon the recommendation of the teaching team and the approval of the GTE Director and the Dean of Adult and Graduate Studies. Work must be completed by the end of the next semester. In unusual circumstances, such as prolonged illness, the program director and dean may extend the time. If the work is not completed within the time specified when the Incomplete is granted, or within the explicitly authorized extended time, a grade of “F” is recorded. Students make initial requests for a grade change to the teaching team of the course. Students must initiate the grade change request/contest within one week of the distribution of the official grade report for the course. The teaching team then communicates in writing its recommendation to the GTE program director and the registrar. This procedure must be completed by the end of the semester following the semester in which the course was taken.

A student who wishes to contest a grade submits the reasons in writing to the program director and the dean of the college. A committee consisting of the dean, program director, teaching team whose grade is being contested, and two other graduate faculty members will review the case and approve or disapprove the change.

Academic Progress

Degree-seeking GTE students are required to maintain a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.0 in GTE work to remain in good standing and to graduate from the program. No more than one “C” may be counted on the student’s records. To maintain degree-seeking status in the program, students must repeat any other courses in which they receive a grade of “C” or lower. The original grade is not removed from the permanent record, but the lower grade is removed from the GPA calculation. Repeated work must be done at MBC. In order to be recommended by Mary Baldwin College’s MAT or MEd program to the Commonwealth of Virginia for an initial teaching license or for an additional endorsement on an existing license, a student must earn a letter grade of “B” or better in ED 609 and/or ED 610 (Student Teaching). A student whose GPA falls below 3.0 at the end of any semester is placed on warning. At the end of the second semester during which a student’s GPA is below 3.0, the student’s record is reviewed by the GTE Educational Policies Committee, which may place the student on probation for a stated period, attach conditions to the probation, or dismiss the student. To be removed from probation or to complete the degree, a student must fulfill any conditions attached to the probation.

A student who has been dismissed for academic reasons may, after one calendar year, reapply for admission to the degree program. The GTE Educational Policies Committee will review the student’s application for readmission as well as the applicant’s previous performance and the reasons for dismissal; the committee may request additional information from the applicant and his/her references, and from other relevant professional and educational sources. The director communicates the GTE Educational Policies Committee’s decision to the applicant.

Admission to Candidacy

To determine whether students are making satisfactory progress toward the degree, the GTE Policies Committee evaluates the progress of each student in the MAT who has completed 18 semester hours. Also included in this review are the professional qualities evaluations.

Prior to each student’s admission to candidacy status, instructors of all courses except Student Teaching and Seminar rate as satisfactory or unsatisfactory the student’s performance in the Professional Qualities components of the course, separately. The criteria for the ratings are provided in each course syllabus. Students who meet the following standards are admitted to candidacy automatically:

- Total GPA of 3.3
- No course grade lower than 3.0
- No unsatisfactory ratings of oral or written English
- No pattern of “concern” ratings on professional qualities evaluations.

Professional Qualities Evaluation

Graduate faculty advisors and the program director review all students’ professional qualities evaluations and course grades at the end of each semester. If in their judgment a pattern of concern about professional qualities from either the course or practicum evaluations is evident, both the students and their academic advisors are notified in writing. Advisors and/or the program director may request a review by the GTE Policies Committee. The request for review may be accompanied by a recommendation to the committee that the student be placed on warning or probation. The GTE Educational Policies Committee reviews the student’s file and determines what his/her continuing status should be and what conditions are placed on the student, or whether the student should be dismissed.

Master of Arts in Teaching (MAT)

Overview

The Master of Arts in Teaching (MAT) is designed to offer realistic, practical preparation for enriched classroom teaching through a balanced program of liberal arts and professional studies. All courses are team-taught by graduate faculty members and classroom teachers who serve as “teaching partners.” Courses throughout the 39–45 semester hour program focus on inquiry—the processes by which students and teachers ask questions, study, and learn about human experience. Program coursework includes requirements for pre-K–6 and 6–8 teacher initial licensure. Students also can earn initial K–12 licensure to work with special education students in the General Curriculum settings. Those who hold a valid teaching license can earn add-on endorsements in Gifted Education and Special Education for pre-K–12 settings. To be recommended for teacher licensure, students must complete all relevant program requirements and receive the MAT degree. Students may opt to complete Virginia Department of Education licensure requirements in advance of the full MAT degree. In the Licensure First option, students complete licensure requirements, seek employment, and then return to complete the remaining master’s degree requirements. The program offers close contact with faculty members and advisors and extensive observation and hands-on experience in the classroom.

Practicum Requirement

The practicum experience is designed for MAT students who are preparing to teach as a career. Students have the opportunity to observe and assist teachers in the classroom, and to discuss their experiences with the instructor and other students. Students are required to complete 140 clock hours of practicum experience. MAT students become familiar with the dynamic culture of schools and classrooms and their curricula, teaching strategies, and their organizational and management features. MAT students learn more from the practicum experience if they actively assist in the classroom. The student should confer with the cooperating teacher regarding graduate course assignments to be completed in the practicum and plan how the MAT course assignments can best be accomplished. In practicum, students work under the supervision of an experienced teacher and begin to apply the knowledge and skills gained in MAT courses in the context of today’s classrooms. The practicum requirement also includes completion of a practicum journal, documenting the student’s actual time in the classroom (clock hour form) as well as activities and reflections upon the classroom experiences. Students should refer to the “Practicum Guidelines Handbook” for additional information on this requirement.

Requirements for the Master of Arts in Teaching

Required courses:
- IN 601 Inquiry in Mathematics
- IN 603 Inquiry in Social Sciences
- IN 605 Inquiry in Natural Sciences
- IN 607 Inquiry in Humanities
- IN 609 Inquiry in the Arts
- ED 601 Inquiry into Human Growth, Development, and Diversity
- ED 602 Meaning and Purpose: The Foundations of Education
- ED 603 Thoughtful Assessment of Students
- ED 605 An Integrated Approach to Language Arts
- ED 606 An Inquiry Approach to Teaching Reading and Writing in the Content Area
- ED 607 Instructional Strategies for Inquiry-based Classrooms
- ED 625 Classroom and Behavior Management

Student teaching sequence:
- ED 609 Student Teaching/Internship (6 s.h.)
- ED 611 Seminar (2 s.h.)
- ED 613 Reflective Synthesis Project (1 s.h.)

For students who are already licensed:
- IN 630 Methods of Professional Inquiry and ED 612 Professional Development Project (3 s.h.)

Additional requirements:
- Participation in four Professional Development Institutes
- Minimum GPA of 3.0 in program
- To be recommended for licensure, students must earn a B or better in Student Teaching

- Satisfactory oral and written language skills
- Satisfactory performance on professional qualities standards
- Participation in required student and program evaluations
- Passing scores on standardized tests required by the Commonwealth of Virginia: Praxis II, VCLA, and for elementary and special education only, VRA. Students already licensed to teach are exempt from this requirement.
- Demonstration of technology competency by completion of the Computer Competency checklist.

Master of Education (MEd)

Overview
The MEd is a professional degree designed for those who seek advanced study in education. The program is intended for teachers who are already licensed or individuals who are pursuing careers that do not require teacher licensure.

The degree consists of 33 graduate semester hours, focused on a common set of 15 credit hours, and followed by an area of emphasis of the student’s choice. The areas of emphasis are:
- Leadership
- Environment Based Learning
- Special Education (with add-on licensure option)
- Gifted Education (with add-on licensure option)

Requirements for the Master of Education
33 semester hours (All courses 3 s.h. unless noted.)

- IN 627 Contemporary Learning Theory for Diverse Learners
- IN 629 Leadership in Education
- IN 630 Methods of Professional Inquiry
- ED 631 Technologies to Advance Learning
- ED 632 Integrated Research Module

And completion of one of the following areas of emphasis:

Leadership Emphasis
- IN 628 Public Policy and Community Relations in Education
- IN 631 Curriculum Development and Design
- IN 632 Education Law
- IN 633 Assessment and Planning for Instructional Improvement

Two additional graduate courses approved by the advisor.

(Some courses may require the director’s approval.)
Environment-Based Learning Emphasis
IN 626 Environment-Based Learning
IN 634 The Intersection of Life and Land: Issue-driven Investigations
ED 620 The Outdoor Classroom: EBL Program Development, Implementation, and Evaluation
Two additional Environment-Based Learning courses
One additional 3 s.h. graduate course approved by the advisor.

Special Education Emphasis
IN 620 Inquiry in the Legal and Political Processes of Exceptionality
ED 622 An Integrated Approach to Exceptionality
ED 624 An Integrated Approach to Differentiated Curriculum and Instruction
ED 625 Classroom and Behavioral Management: Theory and Practice
ED 616 Field Experience in Special Education
One additional 3 s.h. graduate course approved by the advisor.

NOTE: Students seeking an add-on endorsement in special education are required to complete the three specified Professional Development Institutes that address the State Special Education licensure competencies.

Gifted Education Emphasis
ED 603 Thoughtful Assessment
ED 615 Gifted Education Field Experience (1 s.h.)
ED 622 An Integrated Approach to Exceptionality
ED 623 Advanced Studies of Gifted Learners
ED 624 An Inquiry Approach to Differentiated Curriculum and Instruction
Two additional 3 s.h. graduate courses approved by the advisor.

Inquiry (IN) Course Descriptions

IN 577 Special Topics in Graduate Study (Credit varies)
On an occasional basis, this course is offered to a student(s) to explore topics related to graduate education.

IN 601 Inquiry In Mathematics (3 s.h.)
Students develop mathematical habits of mind and: (1) communicate mathematical ideas effectively through mathematical terminology and symbols and oral and written expression, and translate mathematical ideas from concrete to abstract and vice versa; (2) solve non-routine problems through experimentation and common methods of reasoning (deduction, induction, analogy); and (3) communicate the value of mathematics to their students, and the role of mathematics in the history of civilization. Included are number systems and theory, estimation, measurement, geometry, graph theory, probability and statistics.
*Prerequisite: College Algebra.

IN 603 Inquiry in Social Science (3 s.h.)
Questions social scientists ask about the human experience, institutions and interactions, and the methods of inquiry used to investigate those questions are studied. Conceptual themes include economic development, geography, political systems in both US and global historical and contemporary contexts. The range of understandings and skills K-12 students should develop when participating in these investigations are explored. The course cultivates a conceptual framework for graduate students to plan and teach social sciences.

IN 605 Inquiry in Natural Science (3 s.h.)
Students investigate the nature of science and processes for acquiring scientific knowledge. Biological and physical sciences are explored through readings, discussions, activities and investigations. Guided discovery of teaching science, involving hands-on experiments and active-learning techniques, emphasizes the learning and teaching of science. Class activities use multimedia technology. Students learn to develop activities and create an integrated unit appropriate to their grade level interest, based on effective teaching/learning techniques and strategies.

IN 607 Inquiry in the Humanities (3 s.h.)
Student knowledge of culture’s legacy of creative endeavor utilizes materials from philosophy, literature (including literature for children), and history for exploring human creativity and developing the capacity for aesthetic judgment. Students learn to examine their own beliefs, respond to literature, discuss controversial topics, and communicate complex ideas. Writing and communication skills are strengthened, and the practice of intellectual inquiry while offering experience in designing instructional strategies for K-12 learners is modeled.

IN 609 Inquiry in the Arts (3 s.h.)
Students understand and interpret both visual and performing arts using formal and contextual analysis. Presents understanding and appreciating art (1) as formal constructions in which meaning resides in selection and arrangement of materials or processes particular to the art form, and (2) as the expressions of cultures, eras and makers with distinctive qualities of mind and spirit, and distinctive interpretations of the nature and experience of humankind. The nature of creativity, goals of arts education, and integrating arts across the curriculum are emphasized.

IN 620 Inquiry into the Legal And Political Processes of Exceptionality (3 s.h.)
Historical and current foundations for legal and regulatory requirements influencing educational programs for students with a wide range of exceptionalities are explored. The Individuals with Disabilities Education Improvement Act (IDEA), Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act, the Javits Act, the Americans with Disabilities Act, the Virginia Comprehensive Services Act and No Child Left Behind are considered. Current regulations governing special education, including disciplinary policies, alternative placements along the continuum, rights and responsibilities of students, parents, teachers, and schools are examined. Communication and leadership skills needed for case management, consultation, collaboration, conflict resolution/mediation, and professional decision-making used for IEP planning and transitioning students into adulthood are studied. Students consider their leadership abilities in becoming effective advocates and committed, ethical, and persuasive leaders in the field, honoring the dynamics of culture and family pertinent to educating exceptional students.
IN 623 Assessment and Planning for Instructional Improvement (3 s.h.)
This course emphasizes variables related to both short and long-term planning as well as assessment of curricular programs. Using a variety of assessment tools, students will learn how to analyze data and make informed decisions for program evaluation and classroom instruction. Discussions will also include the use of both quantitative and qualitative data in planning new curricular programs.

IN 626 Environment Based Learning (3 s.h.)
This course prepares educators to integrate problem-based themes of the local community into the K-12 curriculum. Using the complex interconnections of the natural and built environments, educators from rural to urban schools learn to facilitate investigations of real-world issues from a variety of perspectives: historical, scientific, socio-cultural, economic, and personal. Using environment-based learning (EBL) to teach state and national standards is emphasized.

IN 627 Contemporary Learning Theory for Diverse Learners (3 s.h.)
This course applies contemporary brain theory research to a wide range of diversity present in today’s schools. This course covers the role of challenge, perception, patterning, and spatial memory and the total physiology as part of learning. The underlying concept that each brain is unique provides the fundamental concepts of differentiated curriculum.

IN 628 Public Policy in Education and Community Relations In Education (3 s.h.)
This course examines the influence of political and social constructs that affect decisions relative to education in both public and private schools, including home schooling. Emphasis is placed on the role of public education in the greater community. Using current legislative issues at state and federal levels, the students will consider the impact of public policy on effective schools.

IN 629 Leadership in Education (3 s.h.)
This course is designed to prepare students to be effective teacher leaders in their schools. It will focus on leadership styles, funding strategies, mediation strategies, and other issues related to empowering teachers to become school leaders.

IN 630 Methods of Professional Inquiry (3 s.h.)
This course will prepare students to conduct scholarly research through a wide variety of resources. Using both primary and secondary documents, students will learn how to search traditional and contemporary media documents. Further, students will learn how to formulate a thesis and appropriately document supporting evidence through literature reviews and research methodologies.

IN 631 Curriculum Development and Design (3 s.h.)
This course offers a critical analysis of the K-12 curriculum from a variety of disciplinary perspectives. It will include a review of historical developments, an analysis of pressures affecting curriculum change and status, an examination of curriculum-making issues, and a consideration of current trends in curriculum design and practice.

IN 632 Education Law (3 s.h.)
A study of the relevant legal principles that affect the operation, organization, and administration of schools in Virginia and the United States, students examine how judicial interpretation of common, statutory, and constitutional law influences educational policy making. This course assists teachers and others in related professions to gain knowledge about legal issues to help them effectively perform professional duties.

IN 634 The Intersection of Life and Land: Issue-Driven Investigations (3 s.h.)
This course is designed as a model of the environment-based learning process. Educators will participate in an investigation of a local socio/environmental issue, focusing on the integrated relationship of environment to people and culture. The investigations will involve field trips, studies of history, literature, ecological principles, and cultural connections, and discussions of strategies for implementing EBL projects with K-12 students.

Professional (ED) Course Descriptions

ED 510 Practicum (.5 s.h.)
The practicum experience is designed for MAT students who are preparing to teach. This experience provides them with an opportunity to observe and assist teachers in the classroom, and to understand the ethical issues and the practice of accepted standards of professional behavior.

ED 590 Graduate Writing Seminar (1 s.h.)
This course is intended for students who are identified (or who self-identify) as needing assistance in developing appropriate graduate-level writing skills. Instruction is individualized and based on diagnosis of writing samples. Topics include: sentence structure, parts, patterns and choices, elements of style, the writing process, essay construction, development of professional “voice,” conventions of form and format and documentation and attribution.

ED 601 Inquiry into Human Growth, Development, and Diversity (3 s.h.)
Normal patterns of human development during the K-12 school years, including the theoretical, pragmatic and complex nature of language acquisition, and socio-emotional well being of K-12 students are studied. Variations in physical, socio-cultural, ethnic, religious in the contexts of schools, families (e.g. the effects of daycare and divorce), and society, as a whole, are studied through difference and similarities. Developmental patterns for at-risk populations, students with disabilities and identified gifted students as related to age, level of involvement and effect on learning are examined. Intervention strategies grounded in current research will focus on successful learning for K-12 students.

ED 602 Meaning and Purpose: The Foundations of Education (3 s.h.)
Historical, philosophical, and sociological foundations underlying the role of education in the United States are studied. Contemporary issues such as multicultural understanding, citizenship, moral education, and critical thinking are examined.
ED 603 Thoughtful Assessment (3 s.h.)
Methods of assessing student learning are discussed. Emphasis will be placed on the centrality of accurate assessment in designing learning approaches for groups of diverse learners. Current trends and issues in assessment, such as standardized tests, high-stakes testing, and school accountability will be discussed.

ED 605 An Integrated Approach to Language Arts (3 s.h.)
Students learn effective language arts instruction of reading and writing and how to regard the language arts (reading, writing, speaking, listening, and literature study) as an integrated whole, including research and theory for instructing students with special needs. Students investigate reading disability and interventions. Explores a balanced approach to teaching reading, writing, listening, and speaking. Emphasizes federal policy regarding effective reading instruction through phonemic awareness, phonics, fluency, vocabulary, and comprehension, as well as current assessment practices for differentiation to meet learner’s developmental and educational needs, and developmental stages of spelling and vocabulary development are emphasized. Examines flexible grouping, small group instruction, collaborative planning, reflective practice, the domains of teaching writing, including composing, written expression, usage and mechanics, and the writing process of planning, drafting, revising, editing, and sharing.

ED 606 An Inquiry Approach to Teaching Reading and Writing in the Content Area (3 s.h.)
Explores reading to comprehend and learning with text, whether printed or digital, and how teachers assist in these processes, including the complex nature of language acquisition and reading and their impact on content comprehension. Addresses fostering appreciation for a wide variety of literature, methods for determining independent reading levels, and examines basic reading skills (such as phonemic awareness, understanding of sound/symbol relationships, phonics instruction, syllables, phonemes, morphemes, decoding skills, and word attack skills) and their influence on students’ ability to comprehend content area curriculum. Addresses assessment of students’ comprehension strategies and creating instructional procedures. Understanding narrative and expository texts used in sciences, social sciences and humanities builds a repertoire of instructional strategies, including questioning, summarizing and retelling skills, and strategies in literal, interpretive, critical, and evaluative comprehension to help K-12 students learn independently.

ED 607 Instructional Strategies for Inquiry-Based Classrooms (3 s.h.)
Students develop pedagogical skills in the areas of classroom management, differentiating instructional goals and objectives, writing lesson and unit plans, and assessing student progress. Graduate students develop a range of instructional options from which to choose when working in heterogeneous classrooms. Using current standards of learning (SOLs), curriculum criteria, and scoring rubrics, students focus on the learning tasks by planning effective lessons and developing criteria, assessments and tests appropriate to the children’s interests and levels of development.

ED 608 Field Experience for Elementary or Special Education Add-On Endorsement (3 s.h.)
This is a 150 clock hour classroom experience for licensed teachers seeking to add-on an endorsement in either Elementary or Special Education for the General Curriculum. Students receive mentored practice in planning, instructing and assessing student learning. In addition, they develop an understanding of the ethical issues and the practice of accepted standards of professional behavior and legal factors applied to exceptional students in the general curriculum.

ED 609 Student Teaching: Elementary (6 s.h.)
A (minimum) 12-week classroom placement requires full classroom teacher responsibility for a minimum of five consecutive weeks, and accumulates a total of 300 hours with a minimum of 150 clock hours of direct instruction within the grade level range of the endorsement area sought. Students receive mentored practice in planning, instructing and assessing student learning, as well as the ethical issues and accepted standards of professional behavior.

ED 610 Student Teaching: Middle Grades (6 s.h.)
A (minimum) 12-week classroom placement requires full classroom teacher responsibility for a minimum of five consecutive weeks, a total of 300 hours with a minimum of 150 of direct instruction.

ED 611 Seminar (2 s.h.)
Students explore with peers the insights and understandings they gain in the Student Teaching (ED609/610/614) or Professional Development Project (ED612). During the seminar students critically analyze their own teaching through written and oral presentations. *Prerequisite: IN 630.

ED 612 Professional Development Project (3 s.h.)
In lieu of student teaching, students choose among options for their professional development: a classroom research project, a supervision project, or a self-designed project. The project is planned with the student’s advisor and presented to a committee of three from the graduate faculty. *Prerequisite: IN 630.

ED 613 Reflective Synthesis Project (1 s.h.)
In a final paper graduating students reflect on and analyze their entire MAT experience, including course work, practica, and student teaching. They synthesize their understanding of what it means to be an inquiring teacher, both conceptually and practically, who cultivates inquiry in K-12 students. *ED 613 is to be taken concurrently with ED 609/610/614 or ED 612.

ED 614 Student Teaching: Special Education or the General Curriculum (6 s.h.)
A 12-week (minimum) classroom placement requires full classroom teacher responsibility for a minimum of five consecutive weeks, and accumulates a total of 300 hours with a minimum of 150 clock hours of direct instruction. Students receive mentored practice in ethical issues, accepted standards of professional behavior, planning, instructing and assessing student learning. Addresses assessment, evaluation, differentiated instruction, best practices, and technology to promote K-12 student learning within the scope and sequence of the general curriculum while addressing individualized needs and implementing IEPs.

ED 615 Gifted Education Field Experience (1 s.h.)
For certified teachers seeking an add-on endorsement in Gifted Education, this practicum/field experience includes 45 instructional hours of successful teaching experience with gifted students in a heterogeneously grouped (mixed ability) classroom or a homogeneously grouped (single ability) classroom. Students receive mentored practice in planning, instructing and assessing student learning, developing an understanding of ethical issues and accepted standards of professional behavior.

ED 616 Nature Journaling Across The Curriculum (3 s.h.)
Educators study a variety of journaling techniques and artistic media for observing and documenting the natural world, through illustrations, painting, photographs, print material and personal/professional writing. Included are strategies for improving the artistic, written and reflective abilities of K-12 students and using the outdoors around the school and community as sites for nature journaling.

ED 623 Advanced Studies of Gifted Learners (3 s.h.)
With historical background in gifted education, students develop a deep understanding and appreciation for the cognitive, social, and emotional characteristics of gifted learners and skills in meeting associated educational needs of these gifted learners. Multiple perspectives on intelligence are discussed with current issues in the field of gifted education, including: alternative approaches to identification for special populations of gifted learners and meeting needs of gifted learners with multiple exceptionalities. Advocacy skills for gifted, identification, holistic assessment, appropriate models and strategies, alternative programs and options in delivering appropriate services are emphasized.

ED 624 An Inquiry Approach to Differentiated Curriculum and Instruction (3 s.h.)
Recognizing that students in today's classrooms are widely diverse, attention is given to the scope and sequence of the general education curriculum (including the Standards of Learning and the state accountability system) and to strategies to promote successful integration of students with disabilities with their non-disabled peers. Included: the use of technology to support learning, strategies to develop, provide and evaluate instruction consistent with students' individual needs (including educational implications of various disabilities). Diverse learning needs for all students, including exceptional learners, through curriculum development and differentiation, skill development plans, individual assessment strategies, and flexible planning and grouping strategies are studied. Environmental factors, connections among conceptual, curricular and social/emotional issues, effective strategies for working collaboratively with professionals, parents/families and students in and with other school settings are addressed.

ED 625 Classroom And Behavioral Management: Theory And Practice (3 s.h.)
Theories and practices associated with establishing, implementing, and maintaining classroom and behavioral management procedures are emphasized, along with preventing behavior problems and modifying classroom environments to enhance student learning. Response to Intervention theory (RTI) and strategies are included. Participants develop and analyze specific techniques to increase positive behavior and decrease inappropriate behavior that affects learning. Methods of behavioral/environmental assessment are addressed.

ED 626 Chesapeake Classrooms (3 s.h.)
Educators choose from any of the five-day Chesapeake Classroom summer sessions offered by the Chesapeake Bay Foundation and complete the MBC requirements. Chesapeake Classrooms equips educators with the knowledge, skills, and confidence to include the environment in the K-12 curriculum and involve students in outdoor learning. Educators explore the watershed and examine the connection between land-use and water quality through hands-on, standards-based investigations and action projects.

ED 627 Collaboration and Transitions for Exceptional Students
(3 s.h.)
Understanding the educational process of transitions from childhood to adulthood for exceptional students, including develling independent living skills, pre-vocational and career skills, self-advocacy/self-determination skills, and pursuit of post-secondary education is studied with legal and regulatory components related to transition planning within the IEP, including the provision of transition services and effective models of instruction for secondary transition. Strategies to develop and foster family and professional partnerships honoring diversity and culture, while emphasizing the role of collaborative planning in the preparation and delivery of developmentally appropriate services for exceptional learners is explored through collaboration with all stakeholders — students, families, teachers, related service providers, paraprofessionals, and other school staff — to develop communication and leadership skills conducive to implementing quality student programs.

ED 631 Technologies to Advance Learning (3 s.h.)
The application of contemporary technologies to advance teaching and learning is studied. Students explore a wide variety of media and technological resources develop learning plans that demonstrate an understanding and application of the course objectives.

ED 632 Integrated Research (6 s.h.)
Students work with their advisors to identify an issue and develop a thesis for research. Through comprehensive scholarly study, the student presents conclusions that offer innovation or resolution to their research question to a faculty panel. *Prereqtute: IN 630.
MASTER OF LETTERS/MASTER OF FINE ARTS IN SHAKESPEARE AND PERFORMANCE

Paul D. Menzer, director; Julie D. Fox, assistant director
Ralph Alan Cohen, executive director, American Shakespeare Center
Matt Davies, Mary Hill Cole, Colleen Kelly, Janna Segal, Terry Southerington

Shakespeare and Performance at MBC

Overview
Mary Baldwin College, in partnership with the American Shakespeare Center, offers the degree of Master of Letters (MLitt), leading to the terminal degree of Master of Fine Arts (MFA). The program is non-residential and open to qualified men and women. Offers of admission are extended to the strongest candidates. Firmly grounded in the liberal arts tradition, the program offers a combination of stagecraft and scholarship, with interdisciplinary emphasis on acting, directing, dramaturgy, and teaching. Study proceeds from a common group of required courses, ensuring mastery of Shakespeare and his plays and the world and theatre in which he worked. Many classes follow the traditional semester format; others have a modular format lasting several weeks, or are held on weekends and during the summer months. Each student works closely with the faculty and with a faculty advisor on the Mary Baldwin campus, and courses combine traditional academic scholarship with practical experience. All students have access to the American Shakespeare Center’s Blackfriars Playhouse, the only modern reconstruction in the world of Shakespeare’s Blackfriars. Resident faculty instruction is augmented with internationally recognized visiting scholars and artists.

Admission
All students who matriculate into the Mary Baldwin College Shakespeare and Performance (SAP) program agree to abide by the rules, regulations, and standards set by the college. Students who seek the MLitt and MFA are eligible for financial aid services. The Declarations section of this catalog states Mary Baldwin’s policies on non-discrimination, student privacy rights, and other important provisions.

Note for prospective teachers: Post Baccalaureate Teacher Licensure (PBTL) is offered through the academic outreach program of MBC’s Adult Degree Program. It is not part of the SAP program. Students also can earn initial Virginia Licensure in K-12 Theatre or Secondary English through the MBC Master of Arts in Teaching program.

Admission Requirements
- Admission will be limited to the most qualified applicants
- Bachelor’s degree from an accredited institution
- An academic major in the arts and sciences or other appropriate discipline (or interdisciplinary major)
- Minimum 3.0 GPA in the last sixty hours of college work
- Correct, fluent, written and spoken English. Nonnative English speakers must submit a TOEFL score of 600 or above.
- General GRE scores (including minimum Verbal score of 550, Writing, 5.0)
- An interview (campus or phone) and/or audition with the SAP Admissions Committee.

Admission Process
Applicants to the SAP program must submit the following to the Office of Graduate Admissions at Mary Baldwin College:
- Application for admission
- Official transcript of all post-secondary work
- Two letters of reference from professional educators, employers, or those who have observed professional work
- A goal statement of approximately 500 words
- GRE scores: minimum Verbal score 550, Writing 5.0
- The application fee
Selected candidates will be invited for an interview or an audition, whichever is appropriate. Admissions decisions are made by the SAP Admissions Committee. The program director will inform applicants, in writing, of their admission status. Any person may be denied admission to the SAP program for the following reasons:
- Attempting to obtain admission by fraudulent means or through misrepresentation of material facts
- Falsification of records or documents
- Conviction of any felony
- Conviction of any misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, sexual offense, drug distribution, or physical injury.

Full Admission
Full admission to the MLitt program as degree-seeking candidates will be offered to the most qualified applicants who meet all admissions requirements. Those who complete the MLitt may be approved as candidates for the MFA (see Master of Fine Arts below).

Conditional Admission

In rare cases a student may be admitted on a conditional basis, requiring, for example, specific work to be completed early in the student’s career in the program, or the maintenance of a specific GPA during the first semester or academic year. In accepting the student, the program director will inform the student of the conditions under which the student is accepted and the time allowed for the fulfillment of those conditions.

Transition from Conditional to Full Acceptance

The program director will monitor any conditional student, reporting to the SAP Educational Policy Committee on the student’s academic progress at the end of each semester. Within two weeks of that review, the program director will inform the student in writing of the committee’s recommendations regarding the student’s continuation in the program, admission to full degree-seeking status, or requesting the student to withdraw from the program.

Five Year BA/MLitt Option

Undergraduate theatre students at MBC may elect to apply to the SAP program through a 3-2 option that allows selected students to receive the Bachelor of Arts degree in theatre and Master of Letters degree in Shakespeare and Performance in five academic years. For more details, see Undergraduate Offerings, Theater.

Orientation

New students are required to participate in an orientation just prior to the start of the fall term. Successful applicants receive notice of the orientation dates in summer of the year they will matriculate in the fall term.

Advising

On entering the program, each student is assigned an advisor who is a member of the SAP faculty. The advisor is a general resource person for the program. In practice, however, students usually gravitate towards the faculty member most qualified to advise them on their research interests and, as they select their final degree project, towards the person likely to advise their thesis. All students should feel free to consult the program director, or any faculty member, at any time.

Transfer Credit

A student may present no more than six semester hours of graduate credit for transfer on approval by the program director, who grants that approval on a case by case basis. Courses may be presented only if graded “B” or better. Transfer credit is awarded only if ALL the following conditions are met:

- The SAP director determines on the basis of catalog and course materials submitted by the student that the course content is equivalent to an MBC course.
- The credit was earned in an accredited graduate program.
- The credit was earned no earlier than three calendar years prior to the student’s admission to the program.

Note: Because MBC’s SAP program is, by its nature, different from many other English and theatre graduate programs, program transcripts are accompanied by a “key” noting course similarities to more standard English and theatre courses. In advance of enrollment, students are responsible for determining whether courses taken in the program can be transferred to another graduate program or will satisfy credential requirements the student intends to meet. After the course drop deadlines, a determination that courses are not transferable is not grounds for refund of tuition or fees. The program neither accepts nor offers credit toward the Master of Letters degree for out-of-class learning through prior learning credit, correspondence courses, independent study, learning contracts, or credit by examination.

Invitational Post-Baccalaureate Portfolio Option

Students with a master’s degree, extensive graduate work, or extraordinary professional experience may be invited to present a Post-Baccalaureate Portfolio. The program director, in consultation with faculty, will review the portfolio, and may grant 15-18 semester hours of credit, allowing the applicant to proceed towards completion of the Master of Fine Arts degree requirements within an abbreviated timeframe. The Post-Baccalaureate Portfolio should provide a detailed account of relevant course work or professional experience and how it relates to analogous courses in the SAP graduate catalog. (Certain courses are exempt from consideration for prior credit.)

Granted credit hours and course credit for work at Mary Baldwin College must total 54 credit hours for completion of the MFA. In other words, students granted 15-18 hours of prior credit must complete a minimum of 36 hours in the SAP program. A post-Baccalaureate student must complete all non-exempt MLitt required courses and complete the requirements for the MFA degree, including the MFA thesis. If a Post-Baccalaureate Portfolio applicant is deemed eligible for fewer than fifteen granted credits, he or she will be advised to proceed with the standard MLitt/MFA academic program, with a possibility for award of transfer credits.

Special Students

Individuals who possess a bachelor’s degree from an accredited institution are eligible to enroll in courses as special students. Special students must meet the entry standards for the graduate program and should apply to the MBC Office of Admissions. No financial aid services are provided to special students. Students currently enrolled as undergraduates or graduates or post-graduate teacher certification students at Mary Baldwin College may be permitted to take up to two MLitt courses as special students. They must receive permission from the program director to do so. A GPA of 3.0 is normally required.

Academic Policies
Academic policies applicable to MLitt and MFA students are published in this catalog. Other statements of program policies are maintained in the program director’s office and/or published in the SAP Student Handbook. Policies may be amended at any time by the graduate faculty, who determine the date at which amended policies become effective.

Exemption From Policy
Students may petition for exemption from academic policies. Petitions are granted only for cause and only with the approval of the SAP Educational Policy Committee. A petition for exemption from or modification of a completion requirement may be granted only by the SAP faculty and the program director.

Requirement for Continuing Enrollment
Degree-seeking SAP students are required to remain continuously enrolled from the date of their initial registration for courses until completion of the degree. A student who does not enroll in new work in any semester must pay a re-enrollment fee of $50. All enrolled students and those who have paid the re-enrollment fee are eligible to use college facilities and to receive such services as e-mail accounts, advising, Learning Skills and Writing Center assistance, and career counseling. MLitt and MFA students completing their projects or theses who have satisfied all other course requirements for the degree (including REN 700 and REN 800) must maintain their enrollment by registering for REN 701 or REN 801 during each additional semester. They are eligible to use college facilities and to receive the same services as enrolled and re-enrolled students. Please see also Tuition and Fees.

Time Limit for Completion
Students seeking the MLitt degree are required to complete the program within five and a half calendar years from the date of initial registration; the limit for the MFA degree is seven years from the date of initial registration.

Application for Graduation
Students who expect to complete degree requirements must be enrolled in the semester or summer term in which they intend to graduate. They must apply for graduation to the SAP program director by the end of the second week of the term in which they expect to graduate.

Grading
The grading symbols used by the college’s SAP program are:
A Distinguished 4.0
A- Excellent 3.7
B+ Good 3.3
B Competent 3.0
B- Minimum passing 2.7
C Unacceptable work 2.0
F Failing 0
NR No grade reported (temporary)
CR Credit awarded
NC No credit awarded
I Incomplete (temporary)
WP Withdrawn passing
WF Withdrawn failing

Pass/No Credit Grading Option
MLitt/MFA faculty may elect to offer a course with the Pass/No Credit grading option; however, students may not choose to take a regular, graded course for Pass/No Credit.

Academic Progress
The program director reviews each student’s academic record after each semester to determine whether students are making satisfactory progress towards the degree. The degree completion requirements for each student are those in effect on the date of first enrollment as a degree-seeking student.

Academic Standing
To remain in good academic standing, degree-seeking SAP students are required to maintain a 3.0 cumulative GPA. A student not in good standing may be placed on probation or asked to withdraw from the program. All students are responsible for monitoring their own progress towards the degree and in each of their courses. Where they are experiencing academic difficulties, they should consult the relevant faculty to decide what remedial measures need to be taken. They are expected to know and understand the specific requirements for their degree. To ensure their own compliance with those requirements, they should consult frequently with their advisor or the program director.

Probation
The program director may place students on probation if their cumulative GPA falls below 3.0 or if their current GPA falls below 3.0 for two consecutive semesters. The program director and/or the instructor may apply special academic conditions to probation. Probation is lifted only when the cumulative GPA has reached a minimum of 3.0 and when all special conditions have been met.

Dismissal
The program director, in consultation with the Dean of Adult and Graduate Studies and the student’s instructors, may require a student’s withdrawal from the program: if, after one semester on probation, the cumulative GPA remains below a 3.0 or when other conditions attached to the probation have not been met; if, in any semester, the current GPA falls below 2.5; if the student receives a C or an F in any course, irrespective of the number of credit hours awarded for that course.

Leave of Absence, Withdrawal
Students may request a Leave of Absence by completing a form available on the program web site.
- Students who re-enroll within one year of the withdrawal date pay no re-enrollment fee.
- Students who re-enroll after one year from the withdrawal date must pay a re-enrollment fee.
- Transcripts cannot be released until all financial obligations have been met.

Students should consult with the Business Office and the Office of Financial Aid regarding these matters. Students who withdraw from the program must notify the director in writing. Prorated tuition refunds, if any, are given consistent with college policy.

Syllabi, Examinations
The syllabus of each graduate course includes a schedule of class contact hours required, goals, requirements, assignments, and attendance and grading policies. The determination of whether students will be required to take a final examination is the sole province of the instructor of each course. Similarly, the instructor will determine when and the circumstances under which the examination is to be completed, and the weight of the examination in determining course grades. These guidelines are provided in the syllabus at the first class meeting.

Add/Drop
A graduate student may drop a course without penalty prior to the third meeting of the class. For a one-week intensive course, or a class that meets once weekly or less often, the deadline is prior to the second meeting of the class. A course may be dropped for medical or providential reasons at any time, upon approval of the director. The program director in consultation with the instructor will determine the student’s final course grade when the course is dropped after the official drop period. A student may add a course prior to the second meeting of the course, or at any time with the permission of the instructor.

Grade Reports, Incompletes, Grade Changes
Official grade reports, including cumulative averages, will be distributed after the conclusion of the fall semester and the May term, and at the conclusion of the summer session. The report distributed following the May term will include work completed during the spring semester.

A temporary symbol of “I” (for Incomplete) may be given at the end of a course if, for reasons beyond the student’s control, the student is unable to complete the work. An incomplete will be is given upon the recommendation of the instructor and the approval of the program director. Work must be completed by the end of the next semester. In unusual circumstances, such as prolonged illness, the program director and dean may extend the time. If the work is not completed within the time specified when the Incomplete is granted, or within the explicitly authorized extended time, a grade of “F” will be recorded.

Students requesting a grade change must make such requests initially to the instructor of the course. Students must initiate the grade change request/contest within one week of the distribution of the official grade report for the course. The instructor will then communicate in writing a recommendation to the SAP program director and the registrar. This procedure must be completed by the end of the semester following the semester in which the course was taken. If a student wishes to contest a grade, the reasons must be submitted in writing to the program director and dean of graduate studies. A committee consisting of the dean, program director, instructor whose grade is being contested, and two other graduate faculty members will review the case and approve or disapprove the change.

Course Enrollment Priorities
SAP students are enrolled in courses according to the following priorities: first fully admitted degree-seeking MLitt or MFA students, according to seniority in the program, followed by conditionally admitted students and special students in that order.

Auditing Courses
Students may audit one SAP graduate course during their pursuit of the MLitt/MFA degree(s). The student will not be charged for the course and will not receive credit. The course will appear on the student transcript with the designation “AU” in place of a grade. Permission to audit a class is solely at the discretion of the instructor, as are the terms of the audit with respect to student participation and work.

MBC-SAP Attendance Policy
Every SAP faculty member (both resident and adjunct) is responsible for developing his or her own attendance policy and publishing it on his or her own syllabus. Every SAP student is responsible for requesting an excused absence from a faculty member in advance. Legitimate medical absences are exempted from attendance policies, though extended or multiple absences may necessitate the student withdrawing or taking an “Incomplete” in the course.

Tuition and Fees 2011–2012
Tuition for courses in the SAP program is $750 per credit hour for all students. In addition, the following fees apply:
- Application fee $40
- Library and Technology fee $50 per semester
- MLitt Production annual fee, $50
- MFA Production annual fee, $100
- Re-Enrollment (if absent) $50
- MLitt Commencement fee, $100 in semester of graduation
- MFA Commencement fee $100 in semester of graduation

Financial Aid
Financial aid is available to SAP students. In general, students must be at least half-time (5 or more credit hours per semester) to receive financial aid. While there are very few grant opportunities available for graduate students through the federal or state governments, most students are eligible for Federal Stafford Loans to assist with tuition and living expenses.

Some Possible Financial Aid Opportunities
- Federal Stafford Loans
- Veteran’s benefits for those who qualify
- Private sources: www.fastweb.com or www.scholarships.com
- Tuition-reimbursement programs. These are available to employees of cities, counties, states, and private corporations. Contact your employer for details.
- Scholarships and Assistantships, as awarded through the admission process to the SAP program. Each year the program distributes a good number of merit scholarships in the form of course tuition waivers for three-to-six semester hours. These awards are posted on students’ tuition invoices and deducted from the balance due.
- The SAP program also hires six graduate assistants each year who receive a tuition waiver for 6 s.h. of credit plus an annual stipend that is distributed as twelve monthly checks on the 25th of each month, beginning in September. In addition, the program awards several Federal Work-Study positions that require students to work approximately 7.5 hours per week for $8.25/hour. All assistants must complete and submit monthly timesheets.
- MLitt/MFA students also may apply for Teaching Assistantships available in the theatre, English, and communication departments of the Residential College for Women. TAs teach one class in exchange for a 3 s.h. tuition waiver.
- Students in the SAP program generally find part-time jobs in the Staunton area, to help reduce the amount of loan money needed for living expenses.

Methods of Tuition Payment
- VISA, Mastercard, and personal checks
- Pay up front each semester or set up a convenient monthly payment plan.
- Tuition is deducted from loan amounts and checks for the balance are distributed to students the second week of classes. Students sign for and pick up checks from the MBC Business Office on the ground floor of the Administration Building.

For more information, contact the Financial Aid Office at (540) 887-7323.

Honor Code and Code of Conduct
The provisions of the college’s Honor System apply to SAP students, who are responsible for understanding the provisions of the Honor System and for seeking information from professors as to the application of the Honor Code to course activities. The provisions of the college’s Code of Conduct apply to SAP students.

Copyright Policy
The college enforces all provisions of copyright law. Students are responsible for informing themselves about copyright laws, particularly with respect to copying materials.

Research on Human Subjects
Federal, state, and college policies regarding research on human subjects apply to all research involving MBC students, faculty, or staff as researchers or as subjects, including research undertaken in the SAP program. Students whose thesis work involves people other than themselves must consult with staff in the MBC Sponsored Programs office.

Moral and Ethical Responsibility
SAP students may not engage in behaviors or actions that endanger themselves or others, either while on MBC’s property or while engaged in a program or activity connected with the college and/or its programs. Students are required to comply with professional standards of schools in which they engage in research, internship work, teaching, or other activities connected with the college and/or its programs.

Master of Letters in Shakespeare and Performance (MLitt)

Requirements for the Master of Letters Degree (MLitt)

36 semester hours including:
(Minimum GPA of 3.0 is required)
REN 500 Shakespeare 3 s.h.
REN 501 Research Methods 1 s.h.
REN 510 Shakespeare and Textual Culture 3 s.h.
REN 520 Tudor-Stuart History or REN 550 Social History of Early Modern England 3 s.h.
REN 530 The Language of Performance 3 s.h.
REN 531 Performance of the Language 3 s.h.
REN 551 Shakespeare Pedagogy 3 s.h.
REN 553 Directing I 3 s.h.
REN 670 Dramaturgy 3 s.h.
REN 700 MLitt Thesis Project 3 s.h.
Eight s.h. of elective credit to complete degree total of 36 s.h.

Note: Minimum GPA of 3.3 is required for admission to the MFA program.

The MLitt Thesis Project

All candidates for the MLitt degree must complete REN 700, the Thesis Project for the MLitt degree. MLitt students may enroll for the project after they have completed 18 s.h. of coursework. The project must be approved by the program director and regularly supervised by a member of the program faculty. See MLitt and MFA Thesis Proposals, below.

The Project consists of:
• a thesis,
• a staged presentation in support of the thesis,
• and an oral defense before an examining panel of at least two faculty members.

Note: REN 700 credit is awarded for the work leading to completion of the thesis project. However, the project is assessed separately, and its successful completion determines the award or withholding of the degree. For full details of the final project and its administration, students should consult their Student Handbook and Thesis Proposals and Enrollment on the next page.

Progress towards the MLitt degree normally requires an enrollment of at least nine hours per semester. However, students receiving financial aid should ensure that they maintain the minimum enrollment for aid, usually nine hours per semester. Typically, students complete the MLitt degree in two years. Please see Requirements for Continuing Enrollment, Time Limit for Completion, and Tuition and fees.

Master of Fine Arts in Shakespeare and Performance (MFA)

The Master of Fine Arts (MFA) degree is the terminal degree in practical theatre. Admission is not automatic, and applications for the MFA program should be made during the fall semester of the year in which the MLitt graduation is expected. An interview/audition with MFA faculty is required. Acceptances granted to students in the final year of their MLitt studies are conditional on the successful completion of that degree.

Note: An upgraded SAP MFA curriculum will launch in the Fall of 2012. Following is a description for this degree’s upcoming new direction.

A Preview of the Master of Fine Arts Degree for Fall 2012

Upon completion of their MLitt requirements, students admitted to the MFA degree will embark upon a 36 s.h. thesis project called “Company.” The twelve-month (June to May) degree is an immersive, collaborative experience during which students rotate through the program’s four core competencies (teaching, acting, directing, dramaturgy) while producing and performing a repertory of plays. Course work will be modular, allowing for flexibility of scheduling and instruction. The experience culminates in a festival presentation of all of the Company’s shows. In addition to fulfilling all evaluated components of the program, students will produce an assessed piece of writing in collaboration with their fellow MFA students.

Requirements for the Master of Fine Arts Degree (MFA) for 2011-12

The MFA Degree Project
All MFA candidates must complete REN 800, Thesis Project for the MFA. The project must be approved by the program director and regularly supervised by a member of the program faculty.

The final project consists of:
- a thesis
- a staged performance in support of or exemplifying the thesis, and
- a one-hour oral defense before two or more examiners.

Note: Credit is awarded for the course REN 800, but the project is assessed separately and its completion determines the award or withholding of the degree. For details of the final project and its administration, and for variations in its requirements, see description for REN 800 in the following list of courses. Students should also consult their MFA thesis supervisor, the Student Handbook, and Thesis Proposals and Enrollment below. Please also see Tuition and Fees, Continuing Enrollment, and Time Limit for Completion.

MLitt/MFA Course Descriptions

REN 500 Shakespeare (3 s.h.)
This course designs to make all holders of the degree fully conversant with the fundamentals of Shakespeare, including the major themes and narratives of his plays and poems, the basics of prosody, early English staging, the main issues of textual transmission, and the facts surrounding the life of the author. *Required for MLitt core; must be taken in first fall term.

REN 501 Research Methods (1 s.h.)
This course introduces students to basic methods of research into early English drama, particularly in service of the MLitt degree thesis. Students also learn conventions of academic writing as needed. Assignments derive in part from components of the research paper required for REN 500. *Required for MLitt core; must be taken in first fall term.

REN 510 Shakespeare and Textual Culture (3 s.h.)
This course introduces students to basic terms and methods of critical bibliography with an emphasis on contemporary theories of textual studies. Students focus on the composition, transmission, printing, and editing of early modern dramatic scripts. *Required for MLitt core. Offered annually.

REN 520 Tudor-Stuart History (3 s.h.)
This course explores the politics, religions, and cultural developments in England from 1460 to 1660. The course focuses on the dynastic turmoil of the late fifteenth century, the Reformation and its impact, the concept of personal monarchy, the lives and courts of Elizabeth I and James I, and the English Civil War. *Required option for MLitt core. Offered annually.

REN 530 The Language of Performance (3 s.h.)
This course examines the language tools that Shakespeare and his fellow playwrights used to convey meaning to an audience. Students study the mechanics of scanning verse before exploring in detail the ways in which these playwrights used verse forms and rhetoric to guide actors in performance. Students also learn to read both explicit and implicit stage directions in the text. *Required for MLitt core; must be taken in first fall term.

REN 531 Performance of the Language (3 s.h.)
Students will explore how semantic and linguistic structure informs performance and how, in turn, performance enlivens language. This course furthers the examination of textual devices such as scansion, rhetoric, and rhyme by integrating them with vocal, physical, and emotional components of perfor-ance. Special attention is given to the theatrical importance of actor-audience interaction. *Prerequisite: REN 530. Required for MLitt core; must be taken in first spring term.

REN 540 Early English Drama and Theatre History (3 s.h.)
This course stresses the institutional and commercial auspices of early English drama — its place, its space, and its occasions — against the backdrop of major developments in theatre history.
*Elective for students who have not completed a theatre history survey course. Offered annually.

REN 550 Social History of Early Modern England (3 s.h.)
This course takes a topical approach to exploring significant aspects of daily life in England between 1460 and 1660. Topics include the structures of power and authority, family life, the roles of women and men, urban and rural life, popular religion, and ritual. *Required for MFA dramaturgy emphasis; can fulfill MLitt core requirement. Offered annually.

REN 551 Shakespeare Pedagogy (3 s.h.)
This course focuses on ways to teach dramatic literature, particularly Shakespeare, through performance in class. Students learn how to turn a classroom into a laboratory for the exploration of a play. The course offers future teachers both theoretical and practical knowledge of how students learn through their own performance and that of others. *Required for MLitt core. Offered annually.

REN 553 Directing I (3 s.h.)
Students develop a vision for a play based in the text and on the playing conventions of the Blackfriars stage. Course work includes readings, discussions of known directors of Shakespeare, their views on “true” to the text, cutting, and period issues.
Also covered are practical considerations of casting, blocking, scheduling and running rehearsals. Features conversations with visiting actors, directors, and scholars. Final project includes a paper and a directed scene on the Blackfriars stage. *Required for MLitt core. Offered in Fall term.

REN 554 Shakespeare’s Theatre (3 s.h.)
This course provides an in-depth study of the architecture and theatrical conventions of Shakespeare’s theatre. Among the subjects covered are architecture and design of theatre spaces, organization of acting companies, acting conventions, composition and configurations of audiences, and pacing and presentation of plays. *Required for MFA directing and dramaturgy emphases. Offered as needed.

REN 555 Voice (3 s.h.)
This course builds on warm-up, breathing, resonance, articulation and text work to give actors vocal range, endurance, and melody. Text work includes poetry, improvisation, group exploration of language, and the performance of monologues.
*Required for MFA acting emphasis. Offered annually.

REN 556 The Body in Performance (3 s.h.)
A critical examination and physical exploration of principles of movement: time, space, balance, grace, and harmony. Students learn the importance of these principles in human expression and theatrical performance. Focuses on self expression, range of motion, group dynamics, character transformation. Special attention to the significance of body language in the early modern period and application of movement principles to early modern dramatic texts. *Fulfills MFA acting requirement. Offered anually.

REN 557 Shakespeare’s Contemporaries (3 s.h.)
This course examines the work of playwrights in the Eliza-abethan and Jacobean periods. Concentrating on the textual ambience in which these playwrights wrote, the course will provide students with a greater understanding of the issues of influence, intertextuality, and notions of “originality” in the work of Shakespeare and his contemporaries. *Required for MFA dramaturgy emphasis. Offered as needed.

REN 577 Special Topic Colloquium courses (1–3 s.h.)

REN 587 Shakespeare Pedagogy Internship (3–6 s.h.)
Instructional strategies internship for prospective teachers, actors, dramaturges, or directors. Students explore instructional strategies in varied settings, including college classrooms, high school classrooms, and/or educational departments of professional theatres. Interns work with teachers and students in each setting, and discuss their experiences with the instructor and other students. Credit varies; approximately 50 hours of work equivalent to 1 s.h. *Elective to follow REN 551. Approval of faculty internship supervisor is required. Offered every term.
Not recommended for first-year students until summer.

Note: Internship credit of 1-6 semester hours can count towards the total number of hours required for graduation. Any internship hours above 6 require special approval from the program director. See Student Handbook for more detailed information about internships and approval forms.

REN 590 Directed Inquiry for the MLitt Degree (1–6 s.h.)
Independent inquiry directed by a faculty member on a topic relevant to the MLitt student’s program and/or thesis. A directed inquiry is strongly recommended for all students in the summer or semester prior to the MLitt thesis project. *Approval of faculty supervisor and program director is required.
Offered every term.

REN 603 Studio (3 s.h.)
A company of student actors, directors, teachers, and dramaturges work together to devise an original performance piece based on, inspired by, or using an extant early modern text.

*Prerequisites: REN 530, REN 531. Offered as needed.

REN 605 Performance on the Blackfriars Stage (3 s.h.)
Working with ASC actors, students explore the particular dynamics required of performers at the Blackfriars Playhouse. Through one-on-one training and scene work, students develop the physical and vocal tools demanded by the Blackfriars’ particular playhouse environment. Offered in May Term.

REN 607 Early English Art and Architecture (3 s.h.)
A chronological, stylistic analysis of art, architecture, book illumination, visual culture, and connoisseurship in England from medieval beginnings until the death of Shakespeare. Students explore the sources for art made in England and that imported from the continent. Course emphasizes unique qualities of art in England. Special focus on art and architecture that Shakespeare and his contemporaries would have known. Cross listed as ARTH 314. *Either REN 607, 608, or 609 is required for MFA dramaturgy emphasis. Offered alternate years.

REN 608 Shakespeare and Music (3 s.h.)
Through listening and score reading students learn songs and music associated with original performances of Shakespeare’s plays and those from later periods. Emphasizes music resources. Students also learn about instruments of the 16th century and appropriate modern substitutions, and study Renaissance music and music reading skills by playing the recorder. No prior music knowledge is required, but a review of basic skills — treble clef note names and rhythm — before class begins would be helpful. *Either REN 607, 608, or 609 is required for MFA dramaturgy emphasis. Offered alternate years.

REN 609 Social and Theatrical Dance in the Renaissance (3 s.h.)
This course focuses on the social function of dance in the Renaissance and its interconnection with societal manners and behavior. Also examined will be the dramatic use of the discourse of dance to further plot and reveal character. Students will learn to recognize the metaphorical use of dance in dramatic texts as well as reconstruct and perform dances based on manuals of the period. Emphasis is placed on country and court dances as well as dances of symbolism and ritual. *Either REN 607, 608, or 609 is required for MFA dramaturgy emphasis. Offered alternate years.

REN 620 Audience Studies (3 s.h.)
This course explores the relationship between audiences and performance, looking in unique depth at the psychology of audiences, at an audience’s needs and expectations, at the ways in which dramatists include (or exclude) an audience, and at the uses (and abuses) of a visible audience. Using the resources of the Blackfriars stage and performances, prospective directors gain practical experience in the care and handling of audiences. Offered as needed.

REN 630 Visual Design on the Early Modern Stage (3 s.h.)
This course challenges students to examine and explore — in the absence of sets — visually exciting stage action and pictures through the use of movement, blocking, props, and costumes. Special attention is given to the stage pictures that Shakespeare and his contemporaries wrote into the plays. Students consider the importance of visual variety and discover the dramatic potential in a range of staging devices such as crowd scenes and balcony scenes. *Required for MFA directing emphasis. Offered in Fall term.

REN 640 Combat (3 s.h.)
Students focus on performing stage combat that is both safe and dramatically effective. The course offers a physical vocabulary in one or more techniques: unarmed, single sword, rapier & dagger, broadsword, quarterstaff, or knife. At the discretion of the instructor, students can qualify for Skills Proficiency Testing with the Society of American Fight Directors on the last day of class. This course may be taken more than once, as different weapon proficiencies are featured, cyclically. *Fulfills MFA acting requirement. Offered twice annually (Fall or Spring and Summer).

REN 650 Directing II (3 s.h.)
Further explores the art of directing with emphasis on the early modern stage, culminating in practical experience before an audience. *Required for MFA directing emphasis. Offered annually.

REN 660 Acting for the Early Modern Stage (3 s.h.)
This course continues the work normally included in an acting class, but stresses acting for the Shakespearean stage. Students experiment with a range of acting techniques from the most traditional to the most contemporary, but always with a view to the architecture and audience environment of Shakespeare’s theatre. Scene work culminates in practical experience before an audience. *Strongly suggested prerequisites: REN 530, 531, 555, and 556. Required for MFA acting emphasis. Offered in Fall term.

REN 665 Careers in the Professional Theatre (3 s.h.)
This course focuses on the organization and working conditions of the professional theatre and practical skills for those seeking careers in teaching or the professional theatre: auditioning and interviewing techniques, unions, resume writing, and other skills required to apply for professional work. *Required for acting and directing MFA emphases. Offered annually.

REN 670 Dramaturgy (3 s.h.)
A graduate seminar for MLitt/MFA students on Production and Institutional Dramaturgy. Topics include: text preparation, pre-production and rehearsal work related to issues of design, direction, and performance; script evaluation, translation and adaptation; formulation of artistic policy; program and study notes; and plans for audience discussion and outreach activities. *Required for MLitt core. Offered annually.

REN 675 Early Modern Costume (3 s.h.)
Students research contemporary records, museum pieces, and portraiture; learn play analysis from the costumer’s point of view; prepare costume dramaturgy reports; design costumes for characters from an early modern play; and learn and practice early modern construction techniques. Students also work closely with actors in the annual MFA acting production. *Required for MFA dramaturgy emphasis. Offered alternate years in Spring term.

REN 680 Gender and Performance: Theory and Practice (3 s.h.)
Examines theories of gender as performance and theories of gender in performance to develop critical tools for understanding social construction of gender in theater. English Renaissance cross-dressing of boy actors to play women’s roles grounds performance analysis and discussion. Also considers other theatrical practices, including the contemporary. Helpful to students who want background in critical theory before continuing to a doctoral program. Offered occasionally.

REN 682 Playwriting (3 s.h.)
This course combines an historical focus on the playwriting culture of early modern England with practical experience creating plays within the period’s theatrical conventions. Stresses collaboration in both its historical and practical emphases. *Required for MFA dramaturgy emphasis. Offered annually or as needed.

REN 686 Clown (3 s.h.)
Students in this performance-based class investigate the internal logic of the clown mind and the clown’s external physical characteristics. Students engage in exercises, improvisations, drills, and scene work to explore these concepts. Clown history, make-up, a brief overview of Mask, the art of physical comedy, and intellectual and physical exploration of ‘What is Funny’ will be covered. A willingness to publicly make a fool out of oneself while supporting others in that artistic risk is mandatory. Elective course. Generally offered alternate summers.

REN 687 Internship (1–6 s.h.)
A number of internships are regularly available at the American Shakespeare Center, with priority given to students completing the MFA requirement. Students may seek internships with other organizations. Credit varies, with approximately 50 hours of work equivalent to 1 s.h. of credit. 1–6 s.h. of internship credit can count towards the total number of hours required for graduation. Any internship hours above 6 require special approval from the program director. See Student Handbook for more detailed information about internships and approval forms. *Required for the MFA. Approval of faculty internship supervisor is required. Offered every term. Not recommended for first year students until summer.

REN 690 Directed Inquiry for the MFA Degree (1–3 s.h.)
Independent inquiry directed by a faculty member on a topic relevant to the student’s program and/or thesis. *Approval of faculty supervisor and program director is required. Offered every term.

REN 695 Thesis Symposium (3 s.h.)
The symposium prepares students to plan, research, write, present, and defend his or her MLitt thesis. The course begins with a consideration of the aims, kinds, purpose, audience, and scope of theses and includes analysis of pre-existing student theses. Ultimately, the objective of the short course is for each student, through workshops and one-on-one work with the instructor, to produce a thesis prospectus and bibliography. Elective course. Offered in May Term.

REN 700 Thesis Project for the MLitt (3 s.h.)
The MLitt thesis is an individually designed project with written and practical components. *Strongly recommended prerequisite: REN 590. Approval of faculty supervisor and program director is required. Offered every term.

REN 701 MLitt Thesis Extension (0 s.h.)
Students who need more time to complete the MLitt thesis project must register for this extension. REN 701 does not appear on academic transcripts once REN 700 is complete. Offered every term. $75 fee.

REN 710 Advanced Acting for the Early Modern Stage (3 s.h.)
Further develops the actor’s verbal, physical, and imaginative storytelling skills. Using varied texts from the Renaissance canon, actors discover ways to deepen their connection to a character’s physical and spoken acts and develop a better understanding of their relationship to a visible audience. Incorporating techniques based on teachings of Stanislavski and Laban, the course explores varied approaches to classical texts. *Prerequisite: REN 660. Required for MFA acting emphasis. Offered in Fall term.

REN 720 Directing III (3 s.h.)
This course aims to help directors develop their abilities as creative artists and passionate storytellers. Directors choose scenes to rehearse in and outside of class; and using a cast of student actors, directors employ text analysis, develop actor coaching techniques, and explore varied approaches to performance. Group discussions address process as well as product. *Required for MFA directing emphasis. Offered in Fall term.

REN 800 Thesis Project for the MFA (3–6 s.h.)
*Strongly recommended prerequisite: REN 690. Approval of faculty supervisor and program director is required. Offered every term

  Acting Emphasis (6 s.h.)
MFA degree candidates rehearse and perform a full length early modern play that is generally presented in March, in consecutive weeks (Sun-Mon and Mon-Tues). The focus of the written thesis is the documentation of the acting process and product.

  Directing Emphasis (6 s.h.)
MFA degree candidates cast, rehearse, and direct actors for a 90-minute production that is generally presented twice during program thesis festivals and is sometimes toured to other venues. The focus of the written thesis is the documentation of the directing process and product.

  Dramaturgy Emphasis (3 s.h.)
MFA degree candidates, in consultation with their project supervisor, prepare and produce a thesis consisting of three significant pieces of dramaturgical research for use in professional and/or academic theatre.

REN 801 MFA Thesis Extension (0 s.h.)
Students who need more time to complete the MFA thesis project must register for this extension. REN 801 does not appear on academic transcripts once REN 800 is complete. Offered every term. $75 fee.

UNIFORM STUDENT GRIEVANCE POLICY

Approved by Executive Staff, May 2009

1) The Ombuds Officers (i.e., first point of contact) for students who wish to explore the possibility of filing a complaint or lodging a grievance at Mary Baldwin College are:
   a) The dean of adult and graduate programs for matters dealing with academic programs and coursework.
   b) The associate vice president for student affairs for matters dealing with student life, residence life, extra-curricular programs, and other issues not involving academic programs and coursework.

2) Grievances involving academic programs, faculty, and coursework:
   a) Grade Appeals: The dean of adult and graduate programs will explain the college’s grade appeal policy (see Grade changes, p. 23), guide the student in following the established procedure and, if the appeal is not resolved, refer the matter to the vice president for academic affairs and dean of the college.
   b) Complaints about Faculty Members: The department head will hear the student’s concern and determine an appropriate course of action. In most cases, this course of action will consist of one or more of the following: mediation, counseling, referral to the school chair or to the dean, submission of a written statement to the school chair and the dean, or resolution with no further action.
   c) Other Academic Complaints and Grievances: The dean of adult and graduate programs will hear the student’s concern and determine an appropriate course of action. In most cases, this course of action will consist of one or more of the following: mediation, counseling, referral to the dean, submission of a written statement to the dean, or resolution with no action.

3) Grievances involving admissions, student life, and extra-curricular programs:
   a) Student Senate: Every student has the option of referring issues and concerns to the Student Senate through her Senator. She should consult her Hall President to determine if the issue or concern is appropriately referred to that body.
   b) Complaints about a Staff Member: An associate vice president for Student Life will hear the student’s concern and determine an appropriate course of action. In most cases, this course of action will consist of one or more of the following: mediation, counseling, referral to the dean of students, submission of a written statement to the dean, or resolution with no action.
   c) Other Complaints and Grievances: An associate vice president for Student Life will hear the student’s concern and determine an appropriate course of action. In most cases, this course of action will consist of one or more of the following: mediation, counseling, referral to the dean of students, submission of a written statement to the dean, or resolution with no action.

4) For grievances about aspects of college policy or procedure not falling into either of the above categories, the student complaint is forwarded from the staff recipient of the complaint to the Executive Staff member responsible for the area of concern. That person attempts to resolve the complaint to the student’s satisfaction. For example, a complaint about food that initially was submitted to the food service director would go to the vice president for business and finance. The responsible executive staff member will report steps taken to the complainant within 90 days of receiving the complaint.

5) If grievances cannot be resolved in the above manner:
   a) The complainant may present a written appeal to the president of the institution. Such an appeal will not be received unless the complainant documents that he or she has gone through the step, above.
   b) If the president receives the appeal, she will, at her sole discretion, determine whether or not further intervention is necessary and take whatever steps she feels are appropriate. The president will report steps taken to the complainant within 90 days of receiving the complaint.
   c) If the complainant has proceeded through all the steps leading through 5(b) above, he/she has exhausted all possibilities of internal intervention to resolve the issue.

6) If the complainant feels that his/her complaint involves a violation of accreditation standards:
   a) The complainant may file a written complaint to the Commission on Colleges of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools. That complaint must follow the protocol established by the Commission on Colleges in its policy, “Complaint Procedures for the Commission or its Accredited Institutions.”
   b) The protocol for filing complaints and the required forms may be obtained from the Commission’s web site (www.sacscoc.org) or from the institution’s accreditation liaison, currently Dr. Lewis Askegaard, office of the registrar.

Grievance Policy for Students with Disabilities

1. Student with a documented disability takes a Confidential Memo to his/her instructor to request accommodations.
2. If a student is dissatisfied with the accommodations at any time during the academic term, the student consults with the director of the Learning Skills Center.
3. The student talks with his/her instructor; the director of the Learning Skills Center will meet with the student and instructor if requested by either the instructor or the
If the student is unsatisfied with the committee's decision, the student shall pursue steps 5 and/or 6 of the Uniform Student Grievance Policy.

Disabilities Committee
Director of the Learning Skills Center
Dean of the College
Registrar
Director of Counseling and Psychological Services
Education Department Faculty Member
Vice-President of Business and Finance
