

OTH 831: SELECT TOPICS IN OT PRACTICE

In this course, students examine select topics associated with contemporary occupational therapy practice. Course content will emphasize specialized or emerging practice settings. The course is augmented by expertise drawn from practicing clinicians and researchers both within and outside the field of occupational therapy. Students practice skills and apply knowledge to both current and future practice opportunities.

Credits: 3

Department: Occupational Therapy